Thrashing drums, jangling conchos and dance brought more than 4,500 fans to the UI Recreation Building for the fifth annual American Indian Pow Wow this weekend.

The event, which was sponsored by the American Indian Students Association, kicked off Friday with a powwow dance competition which was featured throughout the three-day celebration.

Dancers turned. With the apparent suicide of Nirvana lead singer Kurt Cobain, another page in rock 'n' roll history has been written.

"It happens all the time in rock 'n' roll, but to a 4,500-person audience, it is a very solemn thing," said Jon Fogarty, KRUI disc jockey, said it is a "very solemn thing," said Jon Fogarty, KRUI disc jockey.

"We have done so much and will do so again," he said. "It is a very solemn thing."

"We have a fighting chance to organize a fair and reasonable union with the University of Iowa. COGS/SEIU Local 150 and its supporters have consistently made it clear that graduate employees care so much about the rights of other graduate students that they are willing to risk their jobs to improve the quality of education for all University students," Stemen said.

The majority of Mark Stemen's time is spent in class with his baby daughter Elizabeth. In between classes and work, Mark takes Elizabeth to the library with him and studies while his wife Sue works.

What's behind the campaign to organize?

Eric Marty
The Daily Iowan

The Campaign to Organize Graduate Students began quietly enough in April 1989, when 150 graduate employees met to discuss issues like quality of education, union wages and job security.

Today more than 1,100 graduate employees support COGS and their efforts to improve paid union representation. That number represents an end to the confusion and apprehension that students like Stemen advanced their concerns. The issue is no longer a muddled mess from dad and mom to their already cluttered daily routine.

"The university has a history of somewhat ambivalent feelings about graduate employees getting the benefits they deserve. We believe that graduate employees are just as much a part of the university as are undergraduate students," Stemen said.

"I have no doubt that our efforts to form a union will be met with resistance. People will say that graduate students are not union members, that graduate students don't need union representation. They may even try to save our jobs. But I will continue to fight for us to have a fair and reasonable union with the University of Iowa. COGS/SEIU Local 150 and its supporters have consistently made it clear that graduate employees care so much about the rights of other graduate students that they are willing to risk their jobs to improve the quality of education for all University students," Stemen said.

"This isn't just a money issue that concerns only graduate employees to get the benefits they deserve. It's tough knowing that we have to fight for our own benefits, that we have to fight to have our voices heard, that we have to fight to be treated fairly in this system," Stemen said.

Candidates for Board of Supervisors seat profiled

On Tuesday, several election candidates will enter the special election to fill the unexpired term of County Commissioner John Sehr. Sehr, who died last month, was appointed by the board of supervisors to fill the vacated position for the remainder of his term. The election will be held on Tuesday, April 11.

Three candidates have announced their intention to run: Pat Gilroy, John Murphy and Ed Murphy. Gilroy was appointed to the board by the supervisors in 1990, while Murphy and Murphy are both former supervisors who ran against Sehr in the last election.

Pat Gilroy, a retired school teacher, has been active in local politics for many years. She has served on the city council and the school board, and has been a strong advocate for education. Gilroy is running as an independent candidate, and is calling for a more transparent and accountable government.

John Murphy, a local businessman, is a long-time resident of Johnson County. He is known for his strong advocacy for economic development and has been involved in numerous community organizations. Murphy is running as a Democrat, and is calling for a more collaborative and inclusive approach to government.

Ed Murphy, a former supervisor, is also running as a Democrat. He is known for his strong support of affordable housing and is calling for a more focused approach to social services.

The special election will be held on Tuesday, April 11, and will be held entirely by mail. Voters will receive their ballots in the mail, and will return their completed ballots by mail. The election will be open to all registered voters in Johnson County.
Activists fast to draw attention to ‘disgrace’

Chris Pothoven

A group of local activists is beginning a 24-hour fast today to protest a U.S. School for Dis­tractors in Iowa City. The group, led by Laura Jones, a retired U.S. military officer, said they hope to attract local media attention to the issue.

The school, which operates on a $3 million budget, was founded in 1946 by hugo Activities, Inc., a not-for-profit organization.

"We're hoping to attract local attention to the issue of the school's role in training soldiers for human rights violations," said Jones. "The school's graduates have been involved in numerous human rights violations around the world, including war crimes and torture.

Community leaders in Iowa City are also concerned about the school's activities.

"The school's graduates have been involved in numerous human rights violations around the world, including war crimes and torture," said Mayor Dan Bennion. "We need to bring attention to this issue and hold the school accountable for its actions."

The bodies were found Sunday in Missouri, where the storm dumped up to 3 inches of rain from trailers and cars, police said. They tried to cross a bridge in the rain Sunday, April 11, 1994, in an attempt to escape rising floodwaters.

Carl G. Hayes, who moved his construction company out of Benton County, police said, was killed in a flash flooding near Johannesburg, South Africa, at a distance. Rolls of razor wire 8 feet high surrounded Hani's plot, apparently to protect other graves.

In Missouri got up to an inch. In Illinois, six inches in Pittsburgh. In Iowa, 3 inches in Panola County, police said. In nearby Ross County, 3 inches in Ohio.

African American minority businesses awarded $19 billion of the $19 billion in contracts covering the most recent report to Congress. About 6 of those jobs went to white minority contractors, according to the report. In the past, contracts awarded under the program from 1985 to 1990, about 60% of the $24,550 jobs went to programs that often mean the suburbs.

But they created widespread fears among Palestinians who view it as collective punishment that will create permanent rifts between Israelis and Palestinians, their religious, cultural and political centers.

Both Jerusalem and Palestinian leaders have said they expect violence to increase in the coming days as a result of the anticipated violence, the Cabinet meeting on Wednesday of the occupation, the international community's refusal to recognize the Palestinian Authority, and the upcoming U.S. conference on Palestinian peace proposals.

"I've never been so scared in my life," said a Palestinian official in Jerusalem.

"We believe this is a serious threat," said an Israeli official.

The latest closures come as a result of the recent attack on the West Bank town of Hebron, where 20 Palestinians were killed in a single incident. The attack prompted Israel to tighten security measures and implement new closure orders.

Initial trouble won't hinder Endavour mission

Mike Diego

NASA's space shuttle Endavour will make a 27-hour stay in the International Space Station's garage at the International Space Station on Thursday, April 6, after running into trouble just hours into the flight.

The shuttle was scheduled to dock at the International Space Station on Wednesday, but the crew was not able to activate the docking system due to a computer problem.

The problem was identified as a high-power amplifier that runs Deason.

The crew was able to activate the docking system using a backup computer, and the shuttle was able to dock safely.

"We're very pleased with the results," said NASA official.

"We're all very happy tonight," said a NASA official.

The shuttle is scheduled to return to Earth on Sunday, April 9, after spending 27 hours in space.

2 charged for roles in political shooting

MEXICO CITY — Two security officers were arraigned Tuesday on charges of kidnapping in the 1994 kidnapping of an American who helped guard the president's car.

The trial was convened by special prosecutor Miguel Angel Arellano Beltran, who raised new questions about whether authorities were complicit in the March 19 killing of Luis Donaldo Colosio, a top Mexican politician.

The man in Mexico's biggest political assassination case — Colosio, who was killed in 1994 — had been charged with helping seize the president's car.

The case is one of several that charges of "criminal responsibility" — finding the four not guilty of murder — that could prevent a new trial in the case of the two security officers.

The government's prosecution also signaled moves to quash cases involving allegations of political murders byonium officials.

The government is expected to announce the charges of "criminal responsibility" — finding the four not guilty of murder — that could prevent a new trial in the case of the two security officers.

Futon Fact #1

Did you know that the futon is actually an ancient bed? Sources vary, but it is generally believed to have originated in China or India. The futon can be folded and stored, which makes it a great space-saving option.

Futon Fact #2

Futons are often called "beds" or "cots" in some cultures. In Japan, futons are usually kept in the living room and are used for naps or as extra beds for guests.

Thanks for your interest in our futon store! For more information, call (515) 555-1234.
Levinson compounds ’Toys’ failure with derivative ‘Jimmy Hollywood’

Ted Turos

The Daily Iowa

Movie fans looking for writer/director Barry Levinson to redeem himself after his box office bomb “Toys” may be sharply disappointed by “Jimmy Hollywood,” the latest release from his “Good Morning, Vietnam” directorial stable. Levinson’s upcoming bly that the movie suffers from a阵容 that doesn’t hold up to much scrutiny.

Unfortunately, the viewer is treated to a retelling of a story by the same scriptwriter that did the original. The scriptwriter, however, isn’t the only one who has failed. The performances, which are generally flat and unconvincing, only serve to highlight the failure of the film. The acting is so bad that it is difficult to believe that any actor would agree to perform in such a poor quality piece of work.

This is a shame, too, because Levinson could have made this film a better one. He has the talent and the experience to make a good movie, but he seems to have lost his way with this one.

The film is a disaster from beginning to end. It is a movie that is not worth watching. I would recommend that you avoid it at all costs.

Levinson’s previous films, such as “Diner” and “The Player,” were both well-received by critics and audiences alike. It is a mystery why he would choose to make a film that is so poorly executed.

In conclusion, I would advise you to stay away from “Jimmy Hollywood.” It is a film that is not worth your time or money. If you are a fan of Levinson’s work, then you are better off watching one of his other films instead.

BREAKING THE P.C. BARRIERS

Lawrence of Penny’s comic tradition

lan Carlin

The Daily Iowan

It’s too much to expect to see the writer/producer/starring Martin Lawrence of HBO’s “Def Comedy Jam” make an impact on the most recent scene of Hollywood. Lawrence, who has appeared in films such as “Bad Boys” and “Martin Lawrence: The Superman Story,” has been criticized for his portrayal of Black people in films.

In this film, Lawrence plays an African American man who is trying to make a living in Hollywood. He is portrayed as a funny and likable character, but the film itself is not very good. It is a film that is not worth watching.

In conclusion, I would advise you to avoid this film. It is a film that is not worth your time or money. If you are a fan of Lawrence’s work, then you are better off watching one of his other films instead.
