Newt won’t run, but seeks to define Republican campaign

It had long been clear Gingrich was unlikely to join the presidential race, even if he could win the White House and do away with corruption. He had been surrounded by a cloud of speculation that he would not run, and the Republican Establishment had been lining up behind him. But political calculations also weighed in favor of a post, Iowa’s Straw Poll, where his name dominated the field and the Iowa caucuses provided the perfect opportunity for him to rebrand himself as a candidate who could win in 1996.

Newt Iowa: Prepare for the bite of the flu bug

Newt Warmon, co-founder of the Iowa Flu Shot campaign, said the campaign has been working since February to get the word out about the flu shot.

Flu Shot

Flu shots are important. The flu can spread quickly and cause serious illness, especially for children, older adults, and people with certain health conditions. Early in the flu season, it is important to get vaccinated.

In Iowa, the flu season typically begins in early fall and lasts through mid-spring. The flu shot is recommended for everyone 6 months and older. It is especially important for high-risk groups such as pregnant women, people with certain medical conditions, and healthcare workers.

In addition to getting vaccinated, there are other steps you can take to prevent the flu, such as washing your hands frequently, staying home when you are sick, and avoiding close contact with people who are sick.

Iowa law requires that all school-aged children receive the flu vaccine before entering kindergarten.

The best way to prevent the flu is to get vaccinated. The flu vaccine is safe and effective. It is given in a single dose in the arm and lasts for about 1 year.

The flu shot is available at many places, including doctor’s offices, clinics, pharmacies, and local health departments. It is usually given by injection, and it takes about 2 weeks for the body to build up protection.

In Iowa, the flu vaccine is available from October to December. It is recommended that everyone be vaccinated by the end of October or as soon as possible.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — For a time, the two letters between millionaire Bill Koch and his girlfriend were creating a stir at the luxurious de Castelbajac Hotel, Iowa City, Iowa. Koch, 55, has said acceding to de Castelbajac, a French marquis. The nine-day trial has offered lurid details of a jet-set affair gone sour, with some of the faxes read as evidence as the jury deliberated.

"She's a sticking gun in my face and demanding $5 million," he said in an interview. "I'll give in, I am giving $1 million to settle the case."

Koch, who was in fair condition after he had brain surgery, was being beaten and robbed while skiing in the Alpes.

"We are very good friends, and she constantly mentioned entering politics," the daily Iowan'szi wrote today about the former star.

Federally funded abortion provider in California wins legal victory

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Supreme Court upheld lawyer-fee awards for a California abortion provider Monday, clearing the way for a jailing of a woman whom the justices said was trying to help another woman abort.

The court's 6-3 decision in a case from Sacramento, Calif., extended abortion-freeze zone rights in the nation's highest court. It marked the first time the justices have considered the question of abortion-related litigation.

"That the court would let this $155 million penalty stand is outrageous and sends a very chilling message to providers who have been on the front lines of the abortion American Free Enterprise Center," said Terry Swartz, the lawyer for the abortion provider.

In other words Monday, the justices:

- Turned down the appeal of a woman who tried to help her pregnant friend abort.
- Rejected a request by a dozen states that the justices delay for a year the implementation of its ruling in an earlier such case.

The justices ruled 5-2 in the California case, decided 4-3 in the other case and refused to consider a petition in a third.

In the California case, the justices said the state went too far in trying to impose its view that the lawyer should not be held in contempt and that she cannot seek the money she was owed.

In the other case from South Dakota, the justices said the state's ban on abortion was unconstitutional.

The justices then decided that a South Dakota protestor who tried to prevent a doctor from entering a clinic for the first time should have been given a chance to continue the protest and should not have been barred from the property.

San Diego wins field goal fracas

The victory improved the Chargers' record to 7-6, and they are in a tie with four other teams for the seventh spot in the AFC East. The Chargers must win both of their remaining games to keep their playoff hopes alive.

While the Chargers had plenty of reason to celebrate, the Raiders were left with a sour taste after Harvey Williams' 40-yard field goal as time expired. The Raiders had held a 20-7 lead into the fourth quarter, but the Chargers mounted a dramatic comeback.

Harvey, who kicked three field goals in the game, started the rally with a 53-yard field goal with 2:46 remaining in the third quarter. The Chargers then forced a fumble on the next Raiders possession, and Harvey kicked a 30-yard field goal to pull within 20-17.

In the fourth quarter, the Chargers drove deep into Raiders territory, and Harvey kicked a 27-yard field goal with 1:30 left to tie the game at 20-20.

The game remained tied until the final seconds, when Williams kicked the winning field goal. The Chargers had one last chance to tie the game, but Williams missed a 40-yard field goal attempt as time expired.

In the end, it was the Chargers' defense that proved to be the difference, as they held the high-powered Raiders offense to just one touchdown.

Hawkeyes host Drake in home opener

David Schwartz

The Daily Iowan

Iowa played Drake in a Big Ten conference game on Wednesday night, and the Hawkeyes emerged victorious with a 77-57 win.

The Hawkeyes were led by shooting guard Chris Kingsbury, who scored 23 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

"He's a big reason why we won this game," Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery said. "He's a guy who can make big shots when we need him.

Drake, on the other hand, struggled throughout the game, shooting just 34% from the field.

Iowa coach Tom Davis, who had a 1-0 record as a head coach before the game, said he was proud of his team's performance.

"The guys played hard and were able to get the job done," Davis said. "I'm happy with the win.

For the Hawkeyes, it was a big win entering the new year. With Iowa State and Minnesota on the horizon, the team is looking to build some momentum.

Shula the scapegoat for slump

Steve Wine

Associated Press

Shula's tenure with the Miami Dolphins has come to an end after a string of disappointing seasons.

Shula, who has been with the team since 1995, had a 166-13 record with Miami and led the team to four Super Bowl appearances, but never won a championship.

"It's been a tough year," Shula said after the team's final game of the season. "We didn't play well enough to compete with the best teams in the league.

The Dolphins finished the season with a 6-10 record, their worst since 1992.

"I'm not happy with the way the season ended," Shula said. "But I'm proud of the players and the coaching staff.

Shula, who is a 12-time Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee, has been considered a Hall of Fame caliber coach throughout his career.

But with the Dolphins struggling, it appeared Shula's future was in jeopardy.

"We knew that it was time to make a change," Dolphins owner Stephen Ross said after the game. "This was not a decision I took lightly, but I believe it's the best decision for the future of the team.

Ross also thanked Shula for his service to the organization.

"I want to thank Don for everything he's done for this team," Ross said. "He's a great coach and a great man.

Shula's departure marks the end of an era for the Dolphins, who have struggled to find a winning formula since the 2000s.

The team has missed the playoffs for five of the last six seasons, and Shula has been criticized for his conservative play-calling and failure to develop young talent.

"This is a difficult decision," Ross said. "But I think it's the right one for the long-term success of the team.

Shula, who has won two Super Bowl rings as a head coach, will now have to decide his future in the coaching ranks.

"I'm not ready to hang up my headsets," Shula said. "I still have a lot of passion for this game, and I'll continue to pursue a coaching opportunity."

THANKS TO ALLIANCE
Sugar Bowl unsure of matchup

Mary Foster
Associated Press

It used to be as easy for the Sugar Bowl. The Southeastern Conference champions played the highest ranked team the bowl could find, ensuring a natural championship at stake.

Now the bowl alliance has taken over, the only thing known for sure is that the Sugar Bowl won't decide the year's national title, and will probably never have one.

When the bowl alliance took over, the only thing known for sure was that the Sugar Bowl didn't have a team in the title game. Now, making the selection is tougher still.

"We've got to start looking at every eligible team, and not just the obvious ones," said Sugar Bowl executive director Mary Foster, who heads the 13-member regular season. Mathematics said he still won't know which teams will play in the Sugar Bowl until mid-December.

The Sugar Bowl is expected to have a 1-2 showdown between two teams. If Notre Dame or the Nebraska Cornhuskers are picked by the alliance, the Sugar Bowl will be played in New Orleans on Jan. 3.

Michigan State is No. 14 in the Associated Press poll, lost out for a couple of years ago, but the two schools were going to include Notre Dame in the alliance. The Sugar Bowl ended up with the Nebraska and Michigan picks.

Mathieu, who works in the Sugar Bowl's dealings, this week was working with the Bowl on both picks. "We're in a reactive mode to the picks Florida," he said. "We're in a reactive mode, and we don't control the destiny."

"Every bowl is always interested in Notre Dame," Mathieu said. "But what if the Orange picks Miami? If that's the case, we're interested in Notre Dame with itsSugar Bowl title."

"It was a difficult decision," Mathieu said. "Everything depends on ticket sales. The Orange bowl on both picks, if the selection process seems to be random, making our own plans, not trying to effect the bowl's destiny."

WINNING IN INDIANAPOLIS

"The playoffs are our goal, and that's what I'm out here for," said Faulk. "What's wrong with the Colts?" he asked. "If we don't do the job that's necessary, then we don't deserve to be there." According to Faulk, who has scored seven touchdowns in the past four games, it's "just the way we've been playing." The Colts have scored 38 points in their last two games, against San Diego and San Francisco.

Faulk said, "We want to be great, we want to have the best defense in the league. So far, we've been doing a pretty good job of it." The Colts have allowed only 13 points in their last two games, against San Diego and San Francisco.

"The streaky thing is not new," said Coach Ted Marchibroda. "We've had streaks before." For Marchibroda, the 1986 AFC championship game was the last time the Colts made the playoffs, and he said it was "an important year for the franchise."

"We need to be in the playoffs," he said. "We're not done yet." The Colts have a 1-2 record and are currently in fourth place in the AFC South, 2 1/2 games behind the Tennessee Titans.

"We're not going to rest on our laurels," Marchibroda said. "We've got to keep working hard." The Colts have a tough schedule ahead, with games against the Baltimore Ravens, the Houston Texans, and the Tennessee Titans.

"We've got to keep pushing," Marchibroda said. "We've got to keep working hard. We've got to keep playing well."

Forget for one second that you have Chinese restaurant cravings on a regular basis. Forget perhaps that small and often annoying, but remember this: If you want good Chinese food in Iowa City, go to Yen Ching.

By BOB WEIR

With every Chinese restaurant in this town besides Yen Ching, dining out would be the usual means of selecting your dining experience. When a number of restaurants are available, you might as well ask for the gourmet and exotic, with a side of rude, but not at Yen Ching.

Yen Ching's dishes are carefully prepared to entice the senses. The unique blend of flavors and spices Chinese food is supposed to offer. It provides a good portion of the main dish, then follows it in enough juice to be used as a dip for the next course of the meal.

The wait staff is beyond courteous and menu selections prepared each day but not so random that you don't have time to come up a few cups of Yen Ching's additions or too many to sort through, another Iowa City plus.

Graham’s almost divine poise and thought, an exalting poetry warrant this reading, but you reading does justice to her poetry. Not only does her expression of metaphysics with the ear and heart, and she was getting even better.

End of summer, the band changed its name to The Grateful Dead, and part of the message I want to communicate is that this band is here to stay. This band is here to stay. It will always be here. And in those last days, Weir recalled a more passionate poetic endeavor makes the work shows the maturation of this collection is the almost divine poise and thought, an exalting poetry. However, to call it a gourmet dining experience may be taking it a step too far. To say Yen Ching Restaurant is the lowest in the world comes alive. To bring a little more than the menu items are prepared quickly, but not so expediently that make each bite worthwhile.
