The Daily Iowan

Wednesday, January 27, 1999

4 years later, UI students gain review day reviews

An experiment with the Big Ten's first all-female computer science sections is in its last stage this semester.

By Rose Ackenholt
The Daily Iowan

A year ago, the UI Department of Computer Science undertook an experiment never before attempted at the university or, for that matter, in the Big Ten. The department hoped to develop a unique situation to attract and retain women in computer science, a field traditionally dominated by men.

In response to the lack of women in the field, two all-female computer science sections were offered for the course Computer Science I during the past academic year.

The experiment is in its last stage of a three-semester trial period. At the end of this semester, the results will be reviewed by Linda Moreau, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, and Chief Justice Helmberg.

Lewinsky and two others.

Four months after falling into an open man­hole, Priscilla McClain begins legal action against Gerad Electric Inc.

By Zaki Kachuch
The Daily Iowan

UI graduate student Priscilla McClain has filed a lawsuit against Gerard Electric Inc., a Columbus, Ohio company, for injuries she sustained when she fell into an open manhole.

McClain, who is blind, was walking along Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

She fell 10 feet into the bottom of the manhole and roll­ed a broken leg, a broken foot and severe lacerations on her right hand and arm.

McKinley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.

McK In ley, who is blind, was walking near Jefferson Street on Oct. 23, 1998, when she fell into the open manhole, which is approximately 1 foot wide by 2 feet wide in diameter.

The lawsuit alleges that Gerard Electric Inc. was negligent and failed to provide adequate supervision of its workers.
Wednesday, January 27, 1999

ESPN names O.J., a top
50 athlete

[Article text]

Horoscopes

[Horoscope text]

calendar

[Calendar text]

UI briefs

No parking at Rancher for Penn State game

[UI Brief text]

Women's Informal Rush 1999

[Event announcement text]
Picking up after the storm — finally

Contractors remove fallen WSUI radio towers knocked down by the June storm.

By Jill Bernhardt

Seven months after a devastating windstorm hit Iowa City, the slowly gathering efforts to clean up the damage from the powerful winds and resulting floodwaters have picked up pace in recent weeks. Entire neighborhoods remain blanketed in debris and piles of steel, and many homes and businesses have yet to open.

The June windstorm, which caused widespread damage across Iowa and elsewhere in the Midwest, hit the Iowa City area particularly hard. More than 1,200 trees were downed, and nearly 10,000 customers were left without power. The windstorm also damaged buildings, knocked down power lines and radio towers, and caused significant flooding throughout the area. The cleanup process has been ongoing ever since, with many residents and businesses working hard to clear the debris and regain a sense of normalcy.

Johnson County to form hate crime response team

Authorities in Johnson County are working to establish a hate crime response team in order to better address incidents of hate crimes in the community. The move comes after reports of increased incidents of hate crimes in recent months, including incidents of vandalism and harassment.

Sara Semonis, Director/Dance Forum, said that the response team would be charged with identifying and responding to incidents of hate crimes, as well as educating the community about ways to prevent and respond to hate crimes.

Police are investigating a possible hate crime in Coralville, and Semonis said that the response team would be working to address the needs of those affected by the incident.

Group's proposal would screen school volunteers

The Iowa City School Board has proposed a plan aimed at keeping schools safe.

By Sarah Surge

Volunteers in the Iowa City school district will be asked to fill out a different set of forms and undergo enhanced background checks, if a proposal to keep volunteers safe from harm is adopted by the school board. The board discussed the proposal during a recent meeting.

The plan, which is still in the early stages, would require volunteers to undergo a criminal background check and provide information about their criminal history. Volunteers would also be required to undergo a sexual assault background check and provide information about any sexual assault convictions.

The proposal would also include a review of each volunteer's criminal history and a review of any pending charges.

The board is expected to vote on the proposal in the next few weeks.
Phone 'discounts' may mean dialing for dollars

Some phone users are realising that discounted long-distance and local telephone services may not necessarily mean cheap rates.

By Nancy Allison

WASHINGTON - Alexander Kropshofer was a little surprised Wednesday when he learned he could be making a call, instead. He was calling the company that would bill him for the call.

The total bill was $649.35.

"That's a lot of money," Kropshofer said. "I didn't know I was paying for something that was included with my usual bill." Kropshofer wasn't charged the full amount, but he learned that he was paying an added charge for his long-distance services.

The agency checking into the issues is preparing to tell phone customers where to look when investigating their own bills. They are an outgrow of the new federal Communications Commission (CCRC). The agency is now working on a plan to help customers track their phone bills. Customer Service Information is providing a new service to help customers learn about their bills. The agency is now preparing to release a guide for customers on how to read their bills.

"We're working to ensure that customers have access to information about their phone bills," said Kitty Broadhead, manager of Customer Service Information. "We're working to ensure that customers have access to information about their phone bills.

The agency is now working on a plan to help customers track their phone bills. Customer Service Information is providing a new service to help customers learn about their bills. The agency is now preparing to release a guide for customers on how to read their bills.

The agency is now working on a plan to help customers track their phone bills. Customer Service Information is providing a new service to help customers learn about their bills. The agency is now preparing to release a guide for customers on how to read their bills. The agency is now preparing to release a guide for customers on how to read their bills. The agency is now preparing to release a guide for customers on how to read their bills.
Playing a higher purpose than the art

- Classical guitarist to perform tonight at Hancher Auditorium.

- By Alan Meek

- There was no appearance by the Mexican cuatro; instead, Spanish guitarist, Andrés Segovia, was heard to be in the hotel. L coordinated with the hotel for tickets, and students were able to go to the hotel and buy tickets for the concert.

- Parkening received a warm welcome from the audience, who sang Happy Birthday, and the program began.

- Parkening fame was evident from the beginning of the concert, and the audience was captivated by his virtuosity.

- Parkening was accompanied by a pianist, who played beautifully with him.

- The concert featured a variety of pieces by famous Spanish composers, including Albéniz, Granados, and Falla.

- Parkening's performance was mesmerizing, and the audience was left in awe of his talent.

- After the performance, Parkening signed autographs for students who had purchased tickets.

- The evening was a great success, and the audience was eager for more performances by Parkening.

Mutation of museums

- On President Emeritus:

- William Boyd will lead a discussion today on the changing role of museums.

- By Alan Meek

- In the late 20th century, museums have been going through major transitions, a result of the public's increased interest in history and culture.

- Taking a closer look at museum practices, William Boyd will examine the role of museums as educational institutions.

- William Boyd

- When: today at 12:30 p.m.

- Where: U Museum of Art Administration

- Admission: free

- Parkening "one of the most brilliant guitarists in the world," said the museum director. "He performs a beautiful, intricate style of music that is very moving." Boyd said he was impressed with Parkening's performance and the audience's reaction to it.

- Parkening was received with a standing ovation, and the audience was left with a lasting impression of his talent.

- The event was a great success, and the audience was eager for more performances by Parkening.

- The evening concluded with a reception and a chance to meet the artist and museum officials.
NATION

No gym needed to stay in shape

Two studies report that pumping the rate is as good for staying fit as pumping iron.

WASHINGTON — Can patients improve their heart and lung fitness just by doing everyday activities, such as raking leaves and shoveling snow, as part of a gym, research says.

Researchers found that, at the end of the month, both groups had increased — and significant — improvement in physical capacity, blood pressure, body mass index and body fat. However, the study results were not statistically significant, the researchers say.

"We believe that some patients might benefit from a gym," said Dr. John Lubet, of Northwestern University, who led the study. "But we don't think that it's necessary for everyone."
UI computer labs to get better printers

The end of the semester is a particularly trying time for the weary you and I, as we toil away at our notes on the noisy and wasteful dot-matrix printers. By Stephen Coyle

The Daily Iowan

Tired of the noise, the weight, and the ink stains on your clothes? Then you may want to read this article.

The Daily Iowan

UI experiment with all-women computer sections winding up

The experiment has been at length. The lack of gender diversity in undergraduate computer sections has been a problem for years. By Cynthia Bell

The Daily Iowan

Two civil suitsvern against affirmative action head for the courtroom

Case against affirmative action is making its way to the courtroom. The Daily Iowan

THE DAILY IOWAN
Time to stop the music

Editorial

Dr. Ten, it's time to declare your last dance.

Letters to the editor speak to people’s desire to have a quiet listening environment to enjoy music or television. Dr. Ten, give us a fair chance to appreciate the arts. We’re not asking for a return to the days of daytime silence. We’re asking for an end to the 9:45 p.m. curfew. This is a time for us to express our feelings, our tastes, our emotions. Dr. Ten, this is a time for us to be free.

Letters to the editor

“Vera, I haven’t had a chance to talk to you about my decision to leave the university. I know this may come as a surprise, but it is for the best. I need to focus on my family and personal well-being. Thank you for your understanding.”

Letters to the editor

“Dear all, I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent increase in violence on campus. As a student, I feel unsafe and scared. We need to take action to ensure our safety.”

Letters to the editor

“In response to the recent events, I believe it is paramount that we, as a community, come together to support one another. Let’s not let fear divide us but rather use this as an opportunity to strengthen our bonds.”

Cries of foul not funny

A pranking group of clever students all had their fill of the pranksters as the fire truck pulled up to the entrance and a troop of suited-up firefighters filled the room. The smoke alarm went off, but it was only a test. The students were relieved to find out it was just a prank. They laughed at the creativity of the pranksters, but also expressed concern that such pranks could distract emergency responders.

Letters to the editor

“Fire safety is crucial. Pranks that模拟火警警报 can confuse emergency responders and pose a serious threat to public safety.”

Letters to the editor

“The pranks may seem harmless, but they could have serious consequences. We need to be more responsible and considerate of others.”

Getting ready for some football

Editorial

The Super Bowl is just four days away, which means that the preparatory excitement will start in full swing. Will you be tuning into the game tonight?

Letters to the editor

“Don’t miss out on the biggest sporting event of the year! The Super Bowl is a celebration of American football, so get ready to cheer on your favorite team.”

Letters to the editor

“While I’m excited for the Super Bowl, I’m also looking forward to the halftime show. It’s always a treat to see the performers come together.”

Furby: a threat to American security, not a fuzzy toy

Editorial

USK. All is quiet at the National Security Agency. Workers begin to call it a day, put their costs and head for their respective homes, where perhaps a family will await them with warm hugs and an even warmer meal. For one individual and his companion, the destination is not home. It’s a location where his dinner plans will be somewhat different.

Letters to the editor

“I have had a Furby for a while, but recently I have become concerned. Furby or not? I have always enjoyed the connection with my own Furby, but now I’m starting to question the extent of its capabilities and the potential security implications.”

Letters to the editor

“I believe that Furby is not just a toy. It has the potential to be a powerful weapon in the wrong hands.”

Dear American

“I want to address the concerns you have raised regarding Furby. I assure you, our products are designed with security in mind. Furby is not a threat to national security.”

Letters to the editor

“The Furby craze has spread across the country, and I believe that addressing the concerns will help mitigate any potential issues.”

Should the UI offer men's basketball Coach Tom Davis another contract?

Letters to the editor

“Coach Davis has done a remarkable job over the years, and I believe he deserves another contract extension.”

Letters to the editor

“As Tom Davis has shown, honesty and integrity are essential qualities in a basketball coach. Davis epitomizes these values.”

Letters to the editor

“Davis has been successful in building a winning team, but we cannot overlook the challenges he has faced.”

Letters to the editor

“I understand the concerns, but I believe Davis has proven himself to be a strong leader and an asset to the university.”

Letters to the editor

“Coach Davis deserves another contract extension. His contributions to the team cannot be overstated.”

Letters to the editor

“I believe Davis has earned another contract extension based on his dedication and commitment.”
Colombia staggers after ‘worst quake’

By Robert Burns

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon was considering Tuesday whether to ask U.S. forces in Saudi Arabia to extend their tour of duty by a month to help protect oil facilities.

By Thomas R. Pickering

Prague, Czech Republic (AP) — President Vaclav Havel, who has faced immense pressure from hard-line Communists, said Monday he is not under any threat.

By James Gordon

PRISTINA, Yugoslavia (AP) — The United Nations says it has evidence of a massacre by Serbs in a village east of Pristina.

By Harriet MacDonald

PRISTINA, Yugoslavia (AP) — A Yugoslav official said Tuesday the United Nations has evidence of a massacre of Albanians in a village east of Pristina.

By Harriet MacDonald

PRISTINA, Yugoslavia (AP) — The United Nations says it has evidence of a massacre by Serbs in a village east of Pristina.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Sandy Rabinoff

JERUSALEM — The Cold War seems to be winding down.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.

By Frank W. Matthews

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey and Iraq agreed Monday to continue their close cooperation to help the earthquake victims, U.S. Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld said.
Cries of wolf not funny

A groundswell of sleep-deprived students and adults alike in the nation, watching the first fire drums roll to the entrance and a troop of sound-effects generators rush to the fire station, all still recover the spell of yesteryear.

But the spell is broken again, another faint false alarm has set off at a university building.

This is not the first false alarm of the year. The alarm of the city hall building in Iowa City has gone off at times, causing a stir among students on campus.

For the nation, a build-up of false alarms has been recently made.

For the city, it is a matter of concern. The alarm system has many false alarms, and sometimes it is difficult to determine if an actual emergency exists.

The fire department has been working to address this issue.

Mary Bell is a freelance writer.

Getting ready for some football

The Super Bowl will be just four days away, which means that the program game show will start in ...

... let me check the TV schedule ...

... about 15 minutes.

As if you've watched the Super Bowl for the first time, the start program in the first quarter of the game. It's a thing to take note of.

Most fans have seen a Super Bowls viewer can expect to see in the first half of the game. There will be a mix of different entertainment, including music, interviews, and highlights from previous Super Bowls.

So how did Furby go from being a loved to a hated fad? The company that produces Furbies (proba-

... to make your team to No. 1."

... to edit for space considerations.

Dave Berg is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

Furby: a threat to American security, not a funny toy

D USK. All is quiet at the National Security Agency as workers begin to call it a day, put on their coats and head for their respective homes, where perhaps a family will await them with warm hugs and an even warmer meal.

For one individual and his companion, the destination is not home. The journey begins at Washington Union Station, where his dinner plans will be somewhat different.

Upon entering, the man enters through the bank doors and heads for the security checkpoint on the northwestern side of the building. The lights are dim.

"What do you mean, what do you want for dinner?"

"I don't eat meat."

"Nothing. Do you know what I ate for lunch?" He asks.

"I mean, do you want anything?"

"Yeah, I want something to eat."

"What do you want to eat?"

"I don't want to eat meat."

"Whatever, I'll get you something to eat."

It seems that the fur surrounding the "eyes" is not very healthy.

When the fur is touched, it is revealed that the Furbys' house is a living room scene.

Jesse Ammerman

Jesse Ammerman is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

"The super bowl will be just four days away, which means that the program game show will start in ...

... let me check the TV schedule ...

... about 15 minutes.

As if you've watched the Super Bowl for the first time, the start program in the first quarter of the game. It's a thing to take note of.

So how did Furby go from being a loved to a hated fad? The company that produces Furbies (proba-

... to make your team to No. 1."

... to edit for space considerations.

Dave Berg is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

Furby: a threat to American security, not a funny toy

D USK. All is quiet at the National Security Agency as workers begin to call it a day, put on their coats and head for their respective homes, where perhaps a family will await them with warm hugs and an even warmer meal.

For one individual and his companion, the destination is not home. The journey begins at Washington Union Station, where his dinner plans will be somewhat different.

Upon entering, the man enters through the bank doors and heads for the security checkpoint on the northwestern side of the building. The lights are dim.

"What do you mean, what do you want for dinner?"

"I don't eat meat."

"Nothing. Do you know what I ate for lunch?" He asks.

"I mean, do you want anything?"

"Yeah, I want something to eat."

"What do you want to eat?"

"I don't want to eat meat."

"Whatever, I'll get you something to eat."

It seems that the fur surrounding the "eyes" is not very healthy.

When the fur is touched, it is revealed that the Furbys' house is a living room scene.

Jesse Ammerman

Jesse Ammerman is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

GETTING READY FOR SOME FOOTBALL

The Super Bowl will be just four days away, which means that the program game show will start in ...

... let me check the TV schedule ...

... about 15 minutes.

As if you've watched the Super Bowl for the first time, the start program in the first quarter of the game. It's a thing to take note of.

So how did Furby go from being a loved to a hated fad? The company that produces Furbies (proba-

... to make your team to No. 1."

... to edit for space considerations.

Dave Berg is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

Furby: a threat to American security, not a funny toy

D USK. All is quiet at the National Security Agency as workers begin to call it a day, put on their coats and head for their respective homes, where perhaps a family will await them with warm hugs and an even warmer meal.

For one individual and his companion, the destination is not home. The journey begins at Washington Union Station, where his dinner plans will be somewhat different.

Upon entering, the man enters through the bank doors and heads for the security checkpoint on the northwestern side of the building. The lights are dim.

"What do you mean, what do you want for dinner?"

"I don't eat meat."

"Nothing. Do you know what I ate for lunch?" He asks.

"I mean, do you want anything?"

"Yeah, I want something to eat."

"What do you want to eat?"

"I don't want to eat meat."

"Whatever, I'll get you something to eat."

It seems that the fur surrounding the "eyes" is not very healthy.

When the fur is touched, it is revealed that the Furbys' house is a living room scene.

Jesse Ammerman

Jesse Ammerman is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

GETTING READY FOR SOME FOOTBALL

The Super Bowl will be just four days away, which means that the program game show will start in ...

... let me check the TV schedule ...

... about 15 minutes.

As if you've watched the Super Bowl for the first time, the start program in the first quarter of the game. It's a thing to take note of.

So how did Furby go from being a loved to a hated fad? The company that produces Furbies (proba-

... to make your team to No. 1."

... to edit for space considerations.

Dave Berg is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.

Furby: a threat to American security, not a funny toy

D USK. All is quiet at the National Security Agency as workers begin to call it a day, put on their coats and head for their respective homes, where perhaps a family will await them with warm hugs and an even warmer meal.

For one individual and his companion, the destination is not home. The journey begins at Washington Union Station, where his dinner plans will be somewhat different.

Upon entering, the man enters through the bank doors and heads for the security checkpoint on the northwestern side of the building. The lights are dim.

"What do you mean, what do you want for dinner?"

"I don't eat meat."

"Nothing. Do you know what I ate for lunch?" He asks.

"I mean, do you want anything?"

"Yeah, I want something to eat."

"What do you want to eat?"

"I don't want to eat meat."

"Whatever, I'll get you something to eat."

It seems that the fur surrounding the "eyes" is not very healthy.

When the fur is touched, it is revealed that the Furbys' house is a living room scene.

Jesse Ammerman

Jesse Ammerman is a columnist for the Daily Northwestern.
Colombia staggerers after 'worst' quake

President Southern William, the U.S. chair of the international peace monitors, William Walker, has acknowledged the errant of this nation as one of the most high five civilians killed in the last attack on Iraqi air strikes, which opened international outrage and condemnation against Saddam Hussein.

"There is a danger of epidemics, the head of military tells Tuesday.

"These (attacks) could hit our cause," the world may hear from the truth of the government of Yugoslav.

U.S. admits missile hit Iraqi civilians

President Southern William today stressed that the U.S. will continue in its current policy in Iraq.

"The Pentagon, while acknowledging that American missiles hit some civilians in this country, said the U.S. will continue to enforce the no-fly zone sanctions and to respond to concerted missile attacks by Saddam Hussein," Zinni said.

"The U.S. military has not yet determined what went wrong. We regret any civilian casualties that may have resulted," Zinni said.

"We are investigating this incident. We are looking at all aspects," Zinni said.

"We are very concerned about this," Zinni said.

"We are investigating this incident. We are looking at all aspects," Zinni said.

"They ordered Walker expelled for his comments, the U.S. said Tuesday, but the Troop's policy in Baghdad would not be changed.

"We are investigating this incident. We are looking at all aspects," Zinni said.
Savings Made Simple
No Card Required

Cub FOODS
The Spend Less Store

COUPON for One
Coca Cola
12 Pack
FREE
with purchase of a 12" DiGiorno Pizza at regular price.
Limit One Per Customer

Frito Lay
Ruffles or
Tostitos
3/$4
14-15 Oz.

Flavorite IQF
Boneless Skinless
Chicken Breast
$6.98
3 Lb. Bag

Budweiser, Bud Light, Miller Lite, Coors & Coors Light
12 Packs

Wilson's Sliced
Hard
Salami
From
Our
Deli

Original, Thin, Light
Tombstone
Pizza

USDA Inspected Pork
Bone-In Country-Style Ribs

Pace
Picante Sauce
Selected Varieties

Bakery Fresh
Glazed Donuts

- Your grocery bags are always free at Cub
- Money order - 49¢ everyday
- Western Union
- We sell postage stamps
- Lottery
- We sell phone cards
- We sell only USDA Choice beef
- Check cashing

Check out our entrance east of the store.

Hey 1 West, Iowa City
OPEN 24 HOURS - 7 DAYS A WEEK

IOWA STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY
Iowa City and Coralville
319-356-5800 Member FDIC
Hours: Monday-Friday 10am-6pm
Saturday 9am-6pm
Sunday 10am-6pm

Tune into the Learfield Sports Radio Network to hear
Iowa vs. Penn State
Wed., Jan. 27
& Iowa vs. Michigan
Sat., Jan. 30

QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED
Falcons not down about being dogged

The Atlanta Falcons are not taking their Pittsburgh Steelers lightly after being thoroughly outplayed by the Super Bowl champions in Monday night's opener. But in head coach Dan Reeves, the Falcons have a man who will not let current form dictate future results.

"I think the Falcons are a better team than the Steel­ers. I don't think they're just a one-week wonder, and I don't think we're just a one-week wonder," Reeves said. "I think we can play better than we did against the Steeler­s. I think we can play better than we did against the Falcons. And I think we can play better than we did against the Falcons."

The Falcons, who last week beat the New England Patriots 22-0 to improve to 4-0, have been playing well enough to be considered one of the NFL's best teams. But they have also been criticized for not being able to put away teams once they have the lead.

"We have been criticized for being too conservative and not being able to put away teams," Reeves said. "But I think we're getting better at that. We're getting better at playing the way we want to play and not letting our opponents score more than we should.

"I think we have the talent to play better and we just have to find a way to do it," Reeves said. "We have the players to play better and we just have to find a way to do it."
Hurricane's break wireless streak against Penguins

SPORTS

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Ray Bourque finally got his first goal in the final period and the New York Islanders defeated the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-3 Saturday night in Game 3 of the Stanley Cup finals.

Bourque scored on a power play with 5:49 left in the game, his first goal in 18 playoff games this season. The Penguins had a chance to tie the score, but Bourque's shot was kicked away by goalie Mika Dano before the puck went in.

The Islanders scored two goals in the first period and took the lead with 18:17 left in the game on a goal by Bob Nystrom. Bourque then made it 3-1 with his shot, which went in after being kicked away by Dano.

The Penguins had several scoring chances in the final period, including a shot by John Vanbiesbrouck that hit the post. But Bourque's goal was the difference in the game, as the Islanders won for the fifth time in six games in the series.

The series now moves to Pittsburgh for Game 4 on Monday night. The Isles lead the series 2-1.
SPORTS

Grunts, groans and moans help Seles return to form in opera graf

- Four-time Australian Open champion Monica Seles returned to full form in a thrilling match with defending champion Steffi Graf.

African backlash erupts in Olympics scandal

- African officials lashed out at IOC members, complaining of a lack of autonomy.

Rome mayor demands new 2004 Olympics vote

- According to the mayor of Rome, a new vote is needed to confirm the choice of Athens for 2004.

Article Text

Grunts, groans and moans help Seles return to form in opera graf

Monica Seles, who retired in 1995 due to a diagnosis of depression, made an emotional return to professional tennis on Wednesday, stunning five-time grand slam champion Steffi Graf in a match described by some as the return of a queen.

Seles, who had not played in a tournament since 1995, showed no signs of rust in a three-set victory over the German at the $250,000 US Women's Hard Court Classic in Carlsbad, California.

Seles, who has complained about the lack of autonomy at the International Olympic Committee, said after the match that she was looking forward to the 2004 Games in Athens.

African backlash erupts in Olympics scandal

African officials lashed out at IOC members, complaining of a lack of autonomy.

*By Andrew Selig
Associated Press*

Rome mayor demands new 2004 Olympics vote

The mayor of Rome, at a news conference on Wednesday, said a new vote was needed to confirm the choice of Athens for the 2004 Olympics.

*By Howard Frank
Associated Press*

Latest News Associated Press

- Seles' return to professional tennis was described as emotional by some.

- The return of Seles was seen as a major victory for tennis.

- Seles' victory over Graf was described as a return of a queen by some.

- The mayor of Rome demanded a new vote to confirm the choice of Athens for the 2004 Olympics.

Sports Column

12 S. Dubuque
Iowa City

TODAY
9-close

- 2-41 (9 pack) Buckets Leine

- $9 (pack) Pitchers

- $275 (domestic) All Liquor

Elton John Tickets

4 Tickets Given Away
Every Tuesday & Thursday at 8 PM

John Wilson's for Sports

- $159 • $160 for Sports
- $255.95 Ski Goggles
- $138.95 Ski Gloves
- $138.95 Ski Pants
- $139.95 Snowboard

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, January 27, 1999 - 39
Super Bowl blurs only a blemish on Hall of Famer Elway’s resume.

Chris Chandler’s career looks more like a Rand McNally road map as opposed to that of a Super Bowl quarterback.

By Paul Newberry

MIAMI — Chris Chandler’sChartwell-celled career has been a collection of firsts and lastings, a pattern he summed up when he entered Media Day Wednesday morning.

"That’s me," Chandler said, gesturing to the chart on a当我们看到两个汽车相撞在阳光下的画面时，

Bearing in mind the process of generating a question and an answer, my natural text would proceed as follows:

Question: What is Chandler’s career like?

Answer: Chandler’s career can be described as a collection of firsts and lastings, much like a Rand McNally road map. He has gone through various professional entities, making him more than just a player; he has been a witness to the evolution of the NFL quarterback position. His career mark is not only about winning games but also about the personal journeys he took, reflecting the many leagues he played in and his adaptability to new systems all the time. His career is a testimony to his resilience and determination, making him an iconic figure in the game of football.

Question: What is Chandler’s mindset as he enters Media Day?

Answer: Chandler enters Media Day with a sense of realism, acknowledging the challenges and changes that come with time. His mindset is likely to be one of reflection, as he faces the end of his career with the usual mix of apprehension and excitement. He is prepared to share his experiences, insights, and stories with the media, likely focusing on his journey from the standout college quarterback to a battleship quarterback in the NFL, facing challenges and making significant contributions to his team's success.
Wednesday, January 27, 1999

As good as it gets: Duval's 59 one of best rounds ever

Sotol David Duval wasn't the first to shoot a record 59, but he may be the best.

By Doug Ferguson

At Pebble Beach, everybody always has an opinion as to who will be that year's big thing in golf. This year, David Duval may have to wait for the putting circle. At Pebble Beach, everybody always has an opinion as to who will be that year's big thing in golf. This year, David Duval may have to wait for the putting circle.

Duval, Open's fifth-round 63 in 1994, has been one of the most consistent players in the game over the past 10 years. He has won eight tournaments since then, including the 1997 Masters. He has been one of the best drivers on tour. Duval, 28, became the third Canadian to win The Open in 1994.

His 59 at Pebble Beach was the first 59 in a U.S. Open, Open's fifth-round 63 in 1994, has been one of the most consistent players in the game over the past 10 years. He has won eight tournaments since then, including the 1997 Masters. He has been one of the best drivers on tour. Duval, 28, became the third Canadian to win The Open in 1994.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

Duval's 59 was the first 59 in a U.S. Open, Open's fifth-round 63 in 1994, has been one of the most consistent players in the game over the past 10 years. He has won eight tournaments since then, including the 1997 Masters. He has been one of the best drivers on tour. Duval, 28, became the third Canadian to win The Open in 1994.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

Duval's 59 was the first 59 in a U.S. Open, Open's fifth-round 63 in 1994, has been one of the most consistent players in the game over the past 10 years. He has won eight tournaments since then, including the 1997 Masters. He has been one of the best drivers on tour. Duval, 28, became the third Canadian to win The Open in 1994.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.

The triple bogey Duval had on the 16th hole was his only blemish in his round. He began the day with a 7-under 65 in the second round. He started off with a bogey, then birdied the second hole. He birdied five of the next eight holes to move into the lead. He birdied the 18th hole to cap off a 63.
HELP WANTED

Dillard’s is seeking outgoing, energetic professional people to fill positions at one of our Coralville Mall store.

If you enjoy a fast-paced, team-oriented environment, we have an exciting career opportunity for you.

FULL-TIME & PART-TIME

SALE POSITIONS NOW OPEN

EARN $7.20 TO $10.00 PER HOUR

• WOMEN’S • HOME • COSMETICS • SHOES
• MEN’S • MEN’S TAILORED • CHILDREN’S

VISUAL MERCHANDISER POSITION

NOW OPEN

• Benefits include • paid vacation • paid holidays • employee discount • with plan • credit union • health/dental/vision insurance

No telephone calls, please.

Please apply in person at Dillard’s Coralville Customer Service area.

Applications are available and accepted Wednesday, January 27 through Saturday, January 30, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. & Sunday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Equal Opportunity Employer

HELP WANTED

The University of Iowa College of Medicine is seeking an instructional assistant to cover a postdoctoral scientist position when that scientist is on sabbatical leave. Responsibilities include teaching in Medical Microbiology courses, conducting research projects, and supervising laboratory personnel. Qualifications: Ph.D. in Microbiology or closely related field, research and teaching experience in medical microbiology, and excellent written and oral communication skills. Salary: $3,000 per month. University of Iowa Student Health and Counseling Services offers a variety of positions that would allow anyone to work in a college counseling setting. In addition to working in a stimulating environment, we offer good benefits and opportunities to develop skills in areas such as counseling, assessment, and program development. For more information, contact Mike Johnson, (319) 335-9000, ext. 8600.
Allen Iverson signs with 76ers

“I wanted to be the best player.”

The six-year, $70.9 million contract Iverson signed with Philadelphia on Thursday gives the 76ers veteran and young stars a remarkable total of $141 million to spend on the team. Iverson is the most decorated player in the league and the 23-year-old guard said he is looking forward to the challenge of getting his team to the NBA Finals.

Iverson was noticeably nervous at his introductory press conference, but he still managed to smile to team president Pat Croce, saying, “We always wanted to see this happen.”

The Iverson signing is the latest in a series of big moves made by the 76ers in recent years, including the acquisition of stars like Kevin Garnett, Antonio McDyess, and Shane Battier. The team is looking to compete for the NBA title this season, and Iverson is expected to play a key role in their success.

“I’ve been watching this team for a long time,” Iverson said. “I want to be the best player. And I want to be the best player.”

The Sixers are considered one of the league’s top teams, and Iverson is expected to help them reach their goal of winning the championship. With Iverson and other talented players on the roster, the 76ers are a strong contender for the NBA title this season.

“I’m excited to be here,” Iverson said. “I want to be the best player. And I want to be the best player.”

The Sixers are expected to challenge for the NBA title this season, and Iverson is expected to lead the way for his team. With his talent and drive, Iverson is poised to make a big impact on the league and help the Sixers reach their goal of winning the championship.