City to open facility for hazardous waste

City will open its first hazardous waste disposal site at 9 a.m. April 17, 1999.

The city of Iowa City is opening its first hazardous waste disposal site, located at 1700 S. Gilbert St., on April 17.

The site will accept hazardous waste such as paints, pesticides and asbestos, and residents will be able to make their disposal within the city limits.

The city of Iowa City has been working on this project for several years, and it has received funding from the Environmental Protection Agency to help finance the facility.

The site will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and residents will have to pay a fee to use the facility.

The city also plans to promote the disposal of hazardous waste through educational programs and outreach efforts.

Horoscope

June 23, 2000

Aries (March 21-April 19): You will be brutal and make enemies if you aren't careful about your boundaries. Dealing with your mate will be tough.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Spend time completing and actually following through on events and projects. You will have to present your ideas to interested parties.

Gemini (May 21-June 21): You have a great chance to look at some of the investments you have been considering. This is not the time to use your chance, however, because you are likely to go in the wrong direction.

Cancer (June 22-July 22): You are in a wonderful mood. Your personal life is leading you in a direction that you are not going to regret.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Your enthusiasm and energy increases today. You'll gain your mate and receive favors from others.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): This is a wonderful time for new relationships. You have planned everything down to the last detail.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Arguments are easy to have this day. You will feel like you need to be in control.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Keep your mate on the line. You have a wonderful chance to show them your love.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This day may be wonderful for a surprise party for your mate. You will feel wonderful about surprising them.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Don't trust your intuition today. You may make a decision that will cause problems in the future.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't believe the written words. You are likely to be upset at them later.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Your mate is likely to be upset if you aren't doing enough for them. Keep your mate happy and start doing more for them.

Cheap Geeks aim to take by-stand of computer woes

by Beth Greene

The Daily Iowan

What a creative way to use computers for a quarter of UI students. Our "Cheap Geeks" are here to help.

The "Cheap Geeks" are a group of students who have built their own computer repair shop on campus. They are model citizens of the University of Iowa and are committed to helping students save money on computer repairs.

The "Cheap Geeks" provide a range of services, from basic troubleshooting to more complex repairs. They aim to provide a helpful and affordable alternative to the high costs of professional computer repair.

UI students can bring their computers to the "Cheap Geeks" shop located in the basement of the Union. The shop is open during academic hours and is staffed by students who have received training in computer repair.

The "Cheap Geeks" believe in providing high-quality service at an affordable price. They are dedicated to helping UI students save money and avoid the frustration of dealing with computer problems.

UI students are encouraged to bring their computers to the "Cheap Geeks" shop for repairs. The shop is located in the basement of the Union, and is open during academic hours.

UI students will be able to store files on the Internet starting this fall.

Beginning this fall, all UI students will be able to create free files and store them on Internet-based storage devices.

Students will be able to access their files from anywhere in the world, allowing them to easily share information with others.

Students who wish to use the free Internet-based storage service will need to register with the service.

UI students who are currently registered with the service will be able to continue to use their accounts.

Students will be able to access their files from any computer connected to the Internet.

The free Internet-based storage service is being offered by a number of providers, including Google, Microsoft, and Yahoo.

UI students can access the free Internet-based storage service by visiting the provider's website.

Students will be able to store a maximum of 2 GB of files on the service.

Under-age students gulp it down, study finds

by Megan Tobe

The Daily Iowan

Under-age students often purchase and consume alcohol, despite the legal age for purchasing alcohol being 21.

A recent study conducted by the University of Iowa indicated that under-age students are more likely to consume alcohol than their non-under-age counterparts.

The study found that under-age students are more likely to consume alcohol than their non-under-age counterparts. The study also found that under-age students are more likely to have their first alcohol experience before the legal age.

The study concludes that under-age students are at a higher risk of developing alcohol-related problems and should be targeted for interventions to prevent alcohol misuse.

The study was conducted by the University of Iowa, and included a sample of over 1,000 under-age students.

Southern Baptists bemoan
deprivations of women

Last week, delegates of a convention of Southern Baptists voted to amend their Statement of Faith and Message to say that only men are qualified to serve as pastors and lead congregations.

The delegates resolution is binding, however. Each congregation is free to dis­regard the wishes of the delegates' leaders and hire a female pastor. Each Southern Baptist leader is therefore left wondering what she can do now that her qualifications have been ignored. Indeed, she feels in a spiritual quandary. Do they resign the post or find a place and what sort of compensation she can expect for her work?

Mental health no laughing matter

Normally, most would be excited about the release of a movie that is expected to be the biggest hit of the season. But with a single scene such as "From Head to Hair," some who have issues with this movie might be looking at a situation in which they are being charged for the treatment of mental illnesses.

The $60 million plus投资 is in the works, as it is known that the film is going to be the highest-earning movie ever. The movie is also expected to be the top-grossing movie of the season. But the main concern is the portrayal of mental illnesses, which are not accurately represented in the film.

As one expert said, "when I first heard about the project, I was immediately concerned about what it would mean for people who are struggling with mental health issues. The portrayal of mental health conditions is often inaccurate and stigmatizing. It's important that we work to change this and promote a more accurate and compassionate representation of mental health in all media."

On the SPOT

Considering the publicity over some of her recent remarks, was Ann Rhodes's resignation appropriate?

"I don't know that it was appropriate. She's a smart, capable woman, and she should be given the opportunity to continue her career in public service."

"It was a very difficult decision, but I think it was necessary."

"I didn't think it was appropriate. She should have been able to continue her job."
COUNCIL, library board clash over parking

The City Council says "no" to proposed parking garage adjacent to the Public Library.

By Kevin Else
The Daily Iowan

A proposed parking garage adjacent to the Public Library was rejected by the City Council Tuesday night.

Mayor Jim Musser, the council's first vice president, said the city cannot guarantee that all the plots would be filled. "It's a very large area," he said.

"We're not looking to provide parking for the libraries," said Councilor Robert Planson, who opposed the garage.

A brief history

The Daily Iowan

The City Council is considering the possibility of a new parking garage adjacent to the Iowa City Public Library. The library has expressed concerns about the proposed garage, citing the potential impact on parking spaces and the library's ability to accommodate library patrons.

The city council cannot guarantee that all the plots would be filled. "It's a very large area," said Councilor Robert Planson, who opposed the garage.

"We're not looking to provide parking for the libraries," said Planson. "We're looking to provide parking for the community."

Two new teams prepare to pick same old players in expansion draft

General managers in Columbus and Minnesota are finding out there is a reason teams are willing to give up players.

By Randy Miller

Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The discussion starts early in the off-season and general managers can't get away from it.

The topic is the expansion draft, which further limits the pool of players available for trade. It's a situation that gives NHL teams more ammunition to work with in their efforts to build a winning team.

Both the violence and absurdity of the cycle could also be addressed, the former being harder than the latter. The latter being harder to address, however, doesn't mean it can't be.

The point being made by the league is that issues like the rebuilding process in the current NHL, as well as the emerging talent across the world, all hinge on the expansion draft.

Rybak and Belgium soccer toes clash in the center of Brussels.

There is a process of making sure everyone in the league is aware of what is happening.

And those people who are engaged in these questioning acts of bookish violence — they have no place in our national way of life at all. They diagram our national way of life.

Jack Straw, the British home secretary, added to the petition to re-make the violent and keep Belgium in the expansion draft — both in the field and off.

"You will have a very heavy responsibility in the end for the consequences of your actions. Whatever you do, you are in the stays away," he said.

LOS ANGELES — Like Magic, Willy and Kenneth before them, Luke and Timo now are described with Champions.

After many years of coming up short, after heartbreak in almost too many Super Bowls, after watching Luke and Timo in the ring, the Lions have come to a point where they are a Super Bowl contender, and they are a Super Bowl champion.

It was the 15th title in franchise history for the Lions, the seventh since they moved to Los Angeles in 1980. Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Wilt Chamberlain combined to be the last men to win the Super Bowl.

As long as we worked in this country, that was our goal, to be the best. And we stayed to get our rewards.

Clutch shooting down the stretch leads Active Endeavors

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. — The NBA Playoffs are over, the Western Conference championship is decided, and the playoff series is history. The Lakers are back at home after their second-round playoff series.

Woods will be a even bigger favorite than he was in the British Open at St. Andrews, where he will try to become the cruiser O'Sullivan in his third year of professional golf. The reason? He's a better player.

That should be the least of anyone's worries.

After his historic performance at Pebble Beach, where he won the 1995 U.S. Open by shooting rounds of 69 and 66, Woods was expected more with how much he can improve than how much.

"Will he play golf, will he own a bag?" Woods said. "Now trying to get better somewhere. I'm going to continue to work on my gameplan." The record will reflect that Ernie Els win at Angel Stadium in 445 was second in the U.S. Open. It should also carry a disclaimer that explains the 15-under margin is not a total. Only few times this player has ever was as good as Woods.

"We still have a long way to go, a long way to go," O'Sullivan said.

And as we do have to go to him. He everything you can, and then hope for the best." Els said. "Who knows? Who knows if he's going to be doing this." O'Sullivan was second in the U.S. Open by shooting rounds of 72, as set by Jerry Rice in 1990. Woods shadowed the score in relation to his 12, it's a total, at Woodland in the last three times he was a week ago.
