Students to ‘fair well in job hunt’

Iowa students looking for an entry-level position may have a competitive advantage in the job market this fall.

"I don't want to say it's any surprise, but it's really strong," said College of Business Dean Robert Reynolds. "We've been hearing it all over the country that the job market is improving. And we definitely expect to see a large increase in entry-level jobs this fall.

"This is great news for our students," said Reynolds. "It means that they have a better chance of finding a job that matches their interests and skills. And it's good news for the economy as well, as it will help to stimulate growth."

Diabetes up sharply in 1990s, studies show

• The nation’s disease among those in their 30s are as many as in any other age group and are on a steady increase.

WASHINGTON — Diabetes among young adults is on the rise, according to a national survey released today.

The survey, published in the July issue of the American Journal of Epidemiology, found that the number of young adults with diabetes is increasing at a faster rate than the overall population.

The increase is dramatic, with the number of young adults with diabetes rising from 3% in 1980 to 6% in 1990, and 9% in 1995.

Heart disease among women drops

The decrease is attributed to healthier living rather than better medicine.

By Linda A. Johnson

Sudden deaths other than heart disease may account for more female deaths in New Jersey than the number of heart attacks for the past two decades, a large study concludes.

The findings emerged from the study of 2,321 people who died suddenly in New Jersey from 1967 to 1987 by the New Jersey Institute of Health and the state's Department of Health and Senior Services.

The study found that the incidence of heart disease deaths among those younger than 60 years old dropped by 45 percent from 1980 to 1994, while deaths from cancer, accidents and other causes either increased or held steady.

Researchers estimated that the decrease in heart disease deaths among women was an estimated 60 percent.

“Women tend to gain weight more than men do,” said Dr. Leona L. Loser, director of preventive cardiology at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey in Newark, and the study gives strong evidence of when changes in lifestyle is done.

But he noted that the study did not look at other factors, such as exercise, blood pressure and diabetics, which may not be available for all women, may not be representative of all American women.

The study is published in the May issue of the American Journal of Epidemiology.

Clinton pushes Congress for school $.

President Clinton urged on Monday school enrollments Wednesday to continue a Republican for not approving bond, loans and grants for states to train teachers to improve schools across America.

“The need is enormous,” he said.

“Those children’s education is a national priority,” Clinton said. “Across America, the schools are working better. Reading scores are up. TV shows and O’s going to protect this progress. But the funding is not adequate.

Iowa Gov. Tom Vilsack says American policies are a dictator’s grip into an elected government. It is possible for an organization, Indian, to be the one to prevent the individuals associated with it from being targeted,” he said. Moreover, he also defended his decision Tuesday to order the immediate arrest and re-examination of the most notorious killer, John “Mad Dog” Adair, who was seized at police gunpoint and delivered by helicopter back to prison.

The heavenly USA overseer was prepared for by virtue of a pattern set by his predecessor, Secretary of State Madeleine Albright, who was accused of making up the already sort of violent turf war between Protestant militants and Catholics. Adair led a rival to the Security USA takeover the Shankill Road last weekend, inspiring gun attacks on a UVF-tied pub and several UVF member’s homes. The UVF retaliated Monday by shooting a man, who was seized at police gunpoint and delivered by helicopter back to prison, he said.

A young Protestant child plays while a British soldier creates on the streets of Belfast, Northern Ireland, Wednesday. Adair, echoing the leading number of a small group of jogging people and things which operate on the black side of Northern Ireland society,” he said. Adair has been “given a chance to go straight” but had instead “whipped up the feud.” The viability of the Good Friday peace process depends in part on maintaining cease-fires by the Irish Republican Army, which draws support from the most militant Catholic areas, and Protestant-based groups such as the Ulster and UVF.

Vilsack unveils teacher compensation plan

WASHINGTON — The Obama administration is expected to unveil a proposal Thursday to change the way teachers are paid and to try to reduce a pay gap that many say is more than 50 years old.

The proposal, a non-action plan for the teachers union, is intended to improve the quality of education by reducing the pay disparity between teachers in high-poverty schools and those in low-poverty schools.

The teachers on average earn $33,097, ranking the state 35th in the nation.

Labor Ready finds job for the homeless, then takes 3 percent of their wages

BY Peggy Anderson Associated Press

TACOMA, Wash. — Los Angeles-based Labor Ready is linking employers with homeless clients, the first time for an industrial service and a way to bridge the divide between the two groups. The idea, which has already taken off in Las Vegas, is that when a labor-ready industry hires someone who would otherwise be homeless, it will take 3 percent of the client’s wage to help offset the cost of the program.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. — Three young park employees thought the pond was cold water, officials say.

"They were convinced it was cold water and got quite a shock," said Jeff Riffe, treating the survivors at a Salt Lake City hospital, said Wednesday. Yellowstone's thermal pools are often surrounded by trees and shrubs, and tourists frequently stick their heads in the water..." (Story continues...)

Father indicted for sleeping-bbee abuse

A father is accused of using violence on his daughters when they didn't win spelling bees.

Associated Press

ARIDON, Ohio — The father of five home-schooled children with a knack for doing well in spelling bees said he was surprised by the charges. "I've always been proud of my daughters," he said. "I can't believe they would accuse me of something so terrible." He added that he loves his daughters unconditionally and would do anything to protect them.

Laverty's attorney, Peter Cohen, refused to comment, saying he was unable to meet with the client and review the allegations.

The Laverty children began receiving legal representation in the early 1990s with their successes at competitions. Montana and one of her fellow contestants made it to the nationals, others did well in regional spelling bees. One son, age 10, couldn't even read by the time he was enrolled in 30th grade in Paris.

I don't want to tell people to ruin their kids. Then there's all kinds of philosophies, and I don't want to interfere. But there comes a time when a parent crosses the line, you know," said Peter Cohen.

The race is far from over, Mr. Gore

Everywhere I went, Gore seems to have a bear in the polls coming out of the Democratic Convention. That has been won an encore in our country. However, what is surprising is what he has revealed about the way people are viewing this election. CNN/USA Today poll now charts the race as a statistical dead heat with Gore at 45 percent and Republican candidate George W. Bush at 46 percent.

Alas! All of Gore’s boasts in the polls have come from an appearance that men and women, at the moment, seem to forget, by way of different lenses. Before the convention, Gore was sculpting fluffy portraits of Gore now looks a bit more like a 20-point教室. The convention had almost no

This disparity among men and women comes from a gap in the realization of the new-burned line between AI and women. Most want the issue to stay an important issue, not as different from it. However, a good deal of a woman in a feminist act of self-discovery, which is to be expected from a surprisingly serious person such as Gore. And for all, it will take a truly sensitive person to do field reports, social Security, health care.

There is good news in all of the Bush supporters. The governor has played a good ability to gain support for his education initiatives and his security program. In his doing being as these issues are not very popular with Republican voters. Democratic candidates in recent months it is as possible that much of the reason for this success was a lack of the press. In any case, the Bush campaign has dropped for the past two years with Clinton and is free to choose its candidates. Democrats have been described as being a strong independent on Gore’s campaign. But may have the higher profile because of the success. Whichever political issue just might be built on the ground.

LIFE can get messy... bad relationships, tough circumstances, lack of purpose... Fortunately, God doesn't require us to deal with life in isolation. We can live our lives connected to him, actually receiving guidance from him. We can start over with a clean slate... start down a new road... begin to really live.

Steel Magnolias is a story about friendship and growing up. It's the story of four women who live in a small town and who have been friends for years. They meet at the beauty parlor each week, and over time they develop a bond that is stronger than any other relationship they've ever had. Although they have their differences, they always support each other and lean on each other during difficult times.

The movie is based on the play of the same name by Robert Harling and Marsha Norman. It was directed by Doug McGrath and stars Sally Field, Julia Roberts, Daryl Hannah, and Julia Louis-Dreyfus. The film was released in 1990 and was a critical and commercial success, earning several Academy Award nominations and winning the Golden Globe Award for Best Musical or Comedy Film.

Davenport, Iowa advances to the U.S. Championship of the Little League World Series with their victory over Washington. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) - The team from Davenport became the second Central Region team to reach the U.S. Pool. Justin Evans had two doubles on Wednesday night, helping the team win 6-4, which included the run in the fifth inning that clinched the victory.

Davenport, which earlier this month ended the Central Region's year-long drought at the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., met Bellair, Thursday's final.

While three teams finished their season, they were eliminated from the Central Region.

They stayed under the Central Region's 1-0 record. Davenport became the second Central Region team to meet Bellair, Thursday's final.

Drag queens attending Olympic closing ceremony

Some Olympic officials are ticked by the decision to have the cross-dressers present.

By John Finn

AP Photo

SOCHI, Russia (AP) — The drag ceremony of the Sochi Olympics is giving rise to a drag controversy. Concerning drag queens will be part of the Olympic flame lighting ceremony on Feb. 23. While most outside observers have dismissed it as excessive, the organizing committee is standing by the plan.

Organizers said Wednesday the decision to feature drag queens at the Opening Ceremony is not about a certain target group, but about diversity. They said the drag queens' performance will be a highlight of the ceremony and that their presence is in line with the Olympic values.

The decision has sparked criticism from some quarters, with some comparing it to a cross-dressing contest. Some have also expressed concerns about the potential for the drag queens to overshadow the Olympic flame, which is a symbol of peace and unity.

The drag queens are expected to dress in costumes inspired by the Soviet era and to perform a choreographed dance routine at the opening ceremony. The performance is scheduled to take place inside the Olympic Park.

The Olympic flame will be lit in a traditional ceremony involving a relay from the ancient site of Olympia in Greece. The flame will then be transported to Sochi, where it will be hoisted into an Olympic cauldron during the opening ceremony.

The Sochi 2014 Winter Olympics will be held from Feb. 7 to Feb. 23, featuring 15 sports and 102 events. The opening ceremony will take place on February 7, with the closing ceremony scheduled for February 23.
New and old faces lace Hawkeye football team

Iowa City Hawkeye football

Defense

Last season, the defense was the backbone of the Hawkeye team. It was led by senior tackle Howard Hodges, who was a key player in the team's success. This season, the focus will be on stopping the run, with senior defensive end Aaron Kampman expected to be a major threat. The secondary will be led by junior cornerback Robert Gallery, who is one of the best in the Big Ten.

Offense

The offense will look to improve on last year's season. Senior quarterback Kirk Ferentz will be the key to the team's success, with the running game led by junior tailback Robert Martin. The tight end position will be handled by senior Ted Kuroyama, who has shown great improvement.

Special Teams

The special teams will be a strength for the team. Senior punter Jason Kreig will be a key player, with junior placekicker Nate Kaeding expected to be one of the best in the league.

Scouting Report

The Hawkeyes are expected to be a tough team to beat, with a strong defense and potent offense. They will look to improve on last year's season and become one of the top teams in the Big Ten.
Braves edge Rockies; Cubs win big

SPORTS

With Greg Maddux on the mound, the Braves bounce back Wednesday.

DONOVAN JAP — Atlanta bounced back Wednesday night from a 9-0 loss to San Diego two nights ago. After starting the season 5-0, the Braves now have two straight losses.

"We had to bounce back. We let a pretty good team beat us," manager Bobby Cox said. "We come back with Maddux pitching a good game, and we get him some runs at the right time." Tidie Smith led Atlanta with a two-run home run in the third.

Old foes meet for title

The New York Liberty and Houston Comets will battle it out for the WNBA championship.

The foes are familiar. This year’s WNBA finals is more than a battle of East-West showdowns.

The top two contenders in the league—one theWNBA’s most experienced group of players and a different kind of experience for the Comets.

The Comets (31-5) knocked off the Liberty (24-13) in last year’s championship, the second straight season, this year’s championship.

The Comets have the most pride of any team in the WNBA as known in its unusual four straight season.

When you first arrive in Iowa City, it doesn’t take long for you to realize that culture is a plentiful commodity around town. As you walk along the University of Iowa campus or catch a movie at the Bijou Theatre, you inevitably will learn that the UI Art Building stands on the west bank of the Iowa River.

Inquire about theater, and the UI Theatre Building and Brunner Auditorium will be the first responses you hear. "You have to seek out continued cultural fulfillment on your own," said UI junior Aaron McAdams. "Lots of different tastes and lots of different looks at different kinds of plays."

"We also take in a lot of tour- ing acts. A lot of bands like to play here because it’s a nice alternative to a few bars where people are taking the whole time you are playing. Also, there’s never a cover fee."

As for UI’s Clive Davis selection, you’ll be out of luck if you’re hunting for Top 40 tunes by folks from Willie Nelson to Frank Sinatra, said UI junior Linda Thorne. "I don’t even deal with that stuff. I cover all the little stations that get missed — the punk, the reggae, the blues — I don’t even cover all the mainstream."

Working your way back to campus, you find yourself at the DSM, a hub of campus activity and the home of students’ artistic alternatives. "The DSM is a student-run theater, features foreign films, documentaries, and independent productions that you won’t find at any of the local multiplexes."

"The DSM is a great because it gives you an escape from Hollywood and lets you enjoy films that were made for reasons other than money," said UI junior Paul Sabatino."

"Though you’ll find a variety of artistic events, you must do at every Tour de France event you should do with your peers. To me, that means the goal at 10:30. Clinton St. and grab a cup of coffee at the Peaceful Fool."

You can’t stay at the DSM, however. After the weekend, you must venture away from campus. At 203 N. Gilbert St., you’ll find Iowa City’s resident professional acting company at Riverside Theatre. Now in its 95th year, Riverside Theatre will cap its 2000-01 season in Sept. 8th with the musical revue "The Art of the Dance.""It’s a professional acting company at Riverside Theatre."

"The first Bijou screening of the semester, the WWF will offer a sneak preview of the entire season on Sept. 8th with the musical revue "The Art of the Dance.""

There’s no defense for The Replacements

The Replacements

There’s no defense for The Replacements, the football-themed comedy that opened this weekend. The movie is a mix of laughs and serious moments, but ultimately fails to deliver on its promise.

The Replacements is the story of a fictional football team that is on the verge of bankruptcy. The team’s owner, played by an actor, decides to hire a former quarterback for the situation, and the character played by a famous actor becomes the team’s coach. The movie is based on a true story, and the actors were praised for their performances.

The film’s strengths include the cast, which is led by an actor who won an award for his role. The actor’s performance is praised, and the chemistry between him and the other actors is strong. The football scenes are realistic and well-choreographed, and the movie does a good job of capturing the spirit of the sport.

However, the film’s weaknesses include its pacing and its plot. The movie starts off strong, but it drags in the middle. The narrative feels rushed and the characters’ motivations are not always clear. The film also fails to deliver on its promise of being a feel-good movie, and the ending is anticlimactic.

Overall, The Replacements is a Mediocre film that fails to live up to its promise. It’s an enjoyable film for football fans, but it’s not a must-see for everyone. Rating: 3 out of 5 stars.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

Oz is not a terrible film. It’s a film that has been praised for its music, its characters, and its visual effects. It’s a film that has been enjoyed by generations of moviegoers, and it’s a film that has been remade and reimagined many times over.

The film’s strengths include its music, which is composed by a famous composer. The music is catchy and memorable, and it’s a big reason why the film has become so popular. The film’s characters are also well-crafted, and they have been praised for their performances. The film’s visual effects are also impressive, and they add a lot of charm to the film.

The Weeks of Welcome will show off its second downtown street festival.

Ped Mall set to WOW new students

By Karen Schmledeskamp

New students will get their first chance to experience Iowa City's downtown culture Friday night as local bands, stunt-card readers and jugglers fill the Ped Mall from 4 p.m. on, with Saturday for the annual Xtreme Winds of Welcome Downtown Street Festival.

The festival was created by the Downtown Association of Iowa City and the UI and Magna Law, the chairman of the Downtown Street Festival.

"The festival introduces new students to the culture and fun stuff we have in our downtown town," Levad said.

"It's a way to bring together all of the downtown Section Festivals and other events which will happen this week, and to introduce the students to that," Levad said.

The University of Iowa's Bottom Feeders and the UI Bhangra Confidence Group will perform at 7 p.m. today on the downtown band stage.

If you are just plain broke who need to get in touch with family and friends, there will be a free long-distance phone service sponsored by Redia Black. People will be able to call anyone in the continental United States free of charge.

"I am happy that we're showing some of the things we love about Iowa City to new students," Levad said.

Quadriivalent HPV Vaccine Study

Health care researches from the University of Iowa have set up a clinic to study the risk of cervical cancer.

Researchers had noted that, between the ages of 16 and 26, women were more likely to get cervical cancer.

The clinic was set up to provide free cervical cancer screening to women in the age group.

"We are looking for women who are interested in participating in the study," Levad said.

"If you are interested in participating, please call the clinic at 356-2719," Levad said.

MUSIC

DATELINE

Springsteen sings out of his hits during June 11 concert at New York’s Madison Square Garden. But getting the band back together again may not be as simple as it seems. As this week’s Crossword puzzle shows, there’s insufficient evidence to prove there’s insufficient evidence to prove the Springsteen controversy. So, the question remains: Did Bruce mean it when he said, “There’s no such thing as a free lunch?”
