COUNCIL APPROVES LIBRARY LAND DEAL

The city reserves a site for a proposed library that will lose $20,000 if voters do not approve an expansion.

In a 3-2 vote Thursday morning, the Iowa City Council adopted a resolution to put to a referendum a decision by the council to approve a land deal with the owners of the Chase Black and Gold Library, 308 N. Dubuque St., for $11,950.

The deal, which will allow the city to construct new library facilities and expand the existing building, is estimated to cost $821,000, and Councilor Dave Coole said with the library expansion on the ballot, the city would take 30 percent of the library expansion funding into then-related capital projects.

Mayor Ernie Lehman, on the other hand, said the bond issue passes, the city does not have to pay for the project.

In his decision, the city also agreed to purchase the building for an additional $11,950, included price of $1.5 million. If the referendum passes, the city will purchase the building at a cost of $821,000, and Councilor Dan Sterenchuk, asked the council to reduce the increase.

Councilor Mike O’Conner said the city did not want to lose $20,000 in the referendum.

"That building needs to be purchased at this time," O’Conner said.

The manuscript was approved by the council but passed an amendment, which would add the property to the council's agreement.

Parents of UI students will make their way to Iowa City this weekend for a gala of activities, games, and entertainment. The 12th annual Family Weekend is being held Oct. 20-21.

The Department of Education, which features the documentary "Living in Iowa, you can get a very fair trial," will be extended a week after the 1986 murder of a college student at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Parent Weekend is one of the Division of Student Affairs programs. "It's been a minor nuisance," said the UI's communications director, "but once you have everything together, it's a very fair trial."

Parents are also able to visit Family Weekend, especially students whose parents live in other countries. Family Weekend events include a screening of the documentary "Living in Iowa, you can get a very fair trial." Parents can also participate in university programs.

Bob Simpson is running for the 1st District House seat and every campaign day.

A typical campaign day starts early, meetings, late-night TV, or whether or not Bob Simpson eats well.

The 62-year-old Democrat said he has been campaigns since 1990. He launched his first bid for the 1st District seat in 1994. He lost to U.S. House of Representatives against his opponent, Republican senatorial Jim Jacob and Libertarian candidate Ross Maddox.

"People are speaking out, and our voices are being heard. I do what I can for the people and the people respond," Simpson said.

The strategy is to get out the vote and ensure that voters are not put off by the heated campaign.

"I've never seen a campaign like this before," he said.

A campaign volunteer who has been working for Simpson said that he has been making material for the campaign.

"We're trying to get out the vote," he said.

Preliminary reports said that 15 civilians were killed in the attack, with 10 others wounded. The attack came as a wave of violence engulfed the region, with multiple instances of targeted killings and bombings reported across the area. The Pakistan Army, which has been battling the Taliban in the region for years, launched a counterattack against the militants, aiming to recapture the area.

In the aftermath of the attack, the Pakistan government announced a series of measures to strengthen security in the region, including the deployment of additional troops and the launch of a major offensive against the Taliban. The government also announced a rewards program for information leading to the arrest of the attackers.

The attack was widely condemned by international leaders, who called for an immediate end to the violence and urged all parties to work towards a peaceful solution to the conflict. The United Nations also expressed its concerns over the situation, warning that the violence could escalate into a full-scale war, with catastrophic consequences for the region and the rest of the world.
9 % tuition increase approved by regents

Using $71 million from the state, administrators at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln have proposed raising tuition an average of 9.6% at the Lincoln campus, 11.8% at Omaha and 10.8% at the East Campus.

Although this is the largest tuition increase in the University of Nebraska system in more than a decade, the University of Nebraska is not the only state public university to have raised tuition for this academic year. The University of Wisconsin-Madison has approved a tuition increase of 9.6%, while the University of Illinois has approved a 14% increase.

However, the University of Nebraska is not alone in raising tuition this year. Other state public universities, including the University of Missouri, the University of Iowa, and the University of Colorado, have also approved tuition increases.

The proposed tuition increase will affect all undergraduate, graduate, and professional degree programs at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The increase will be implemented in three phases: a 3% increase for in-state students, a 4% increase for out-of-state students, and a 6% increase for international students.

The increase will be used to fund programs and services that will improve the quality of education at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The University has also proposed increasing the pay of its faculty and staff, as well as improving the infrastructure of the campus.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is committed to providing a high-quality education to its students. We believe that this increase is necessary to ensure that we can continue to provide the best possible education to our students.

MIAMI — In a sweeping investigation probe that could affect thousands of people, the Internal Revenue Service investigators went to work at several banks to determine if money-sharking operations were being handled.

Experts of offshore service agencies and lawyers say the investigation is the first ever conducted by the IRS.

Credit, debit and cash-draw cards were found in the Bahamian, Cuban, Colombian, and British territories. In the case of the Bahamas, U.S. federal court petitions filed Wednesday against certain offshore banks.

But the government agency for the Caribbean operations of the financial-service companies are the in-house, and IRS lawyers believe there is no way to determine who might own the customers.

It is the first time in the history of the IRS that the tax agency has been allowed to examine the offshore bank accounts of U.S. citizens.

Two exhibitions, featuring Kansas Oskaloosa and Seymour Lipton, will be open this weekend.

By Karen Schenkel

The age of abstract expressionism is set to be fully on display this weekend at the OSU Museum of Art in the works of two never-before-overlooked highly influential American artists of the 1950s will be reintroduced. The museum will celebrate the opening of an exhibition of paintings by Kansas Oskaloosa, the American avante-garde painter, and Seymour Lipton, an American abstract artist, that wept — Oskaloosa, The Daily Mirror — said.

"A dentist with a passion for sculpture, Lipton fled Japan after World War II to escape the Japanese Occupation of his homeland, " said Robert Yeats, director of the University of Illinois, who will be on hand for the opening.

The exhibition will feature 40 works by the artist and his son, Robert Yeats. The paintings and drawings document the creative progression Lipton went through while working on his latest project, a sculpture of a woman called "Sculpture," which he will unveil in his studio until his death, said Yeats. "It's a difficult time for any piece of sculpture." The reaction was high. His sculptures are recognized for their simplicity and minimalism, but they are of the highest quality," Yeats said. "I think they are as good as any of the great sculptors of our time." The exhibition was held in the United States beginning in 1960 and was moved to the United States in 1965 because of its political content. The exhibition will be on display through December 7.

Iowa lands big recruit

By Marcelle Somerville

Iowa football coach wants him for the Hawkeyes.

By Nick Ullrich

Although several seemed like nothing more than a shot in the dark, the Hawkeyes were able to secure their third commitment of the recruiting season on Wednesday when three-star offensive tackle Brandon Linsley committed to the Hawkeyes. Linsley, a 6-foot-6, 290-pounder from Greeley, Colo., was the third offensive tackle to commit for Iowa in the last week.

Iowa is currently ranked No. 14 in the Big Ten and sixth nationally by The Associated Press, and the Hawkeyes have been in the top 15 for 10 consecutive weeks. The team is currently 5-0 on the season and 2-0 in conference play, and is looking to continue that success against No. 18 Wisconsin on Saturday.

Iowa's three commitments so far include two offensive linemen and a linebacker. The Hawkeyes are still looking to add depth at the defensive line, wide receiver and running back positions.

The team has a bye this week before traveling to Lincoln to face Nebraska on Oct. 6. The game is currently set for 2:30 p.m. and can be watched on the Big Ten Network.

Iowa's next season game is currently scheduled for Oct. 14, when the Hawkeyes will face off against Ohio State at Kinnick Stadium.

The Illini are 6-2 in the Big Ten, Iowa is 2-6.

The Hawkeyes and Illini will face off on Saturday at 12:00 p.m. at Memorial Stadium in Champaign, Ill. The Illini are currently ranked No. 22 in the Big Ten, while the Hawkeyes are ranked No. 1 in the conference.

The Illini have won their last three games against the Hawkeyes, including a 28-21 victory in 2014. However, Iowa is looking to break their losing streak against the Illini.

Americans start presidents Cup in perfect fashion

The International team never lost a match after the third hole.

By Doug Ferguson

GAINESVILE, Fla. — No one can say the American team didn’t have it all working in the Presidents Cup. Look at the brilliant play of Tiger Woods, the United States got put on a perfect course Thursday by winning every afternoon session by 6 or more, and lost only one hole over the international singles matches.

"We’re very happy to be here," said Davis Love III, who was paired against Retief Goosen. "This is a very good course."

The United States defeated the Europeans, 19-9, and won the Ryder Cup, 19-9, in 1999, triumphed in the Presidents Cup, 15-13, in 1998, and were 18-13 winners in the 1997 Ryder Cup at the Royal Lytham & St. Annes golf club in England.

The American team had 15 players, including Tiger Woods, Retief Goosen, Davis Love III, Phil Mickelson, and Adam Scott, who were all members of the Presidents Cup team that beat Europe in 1998. The European team included captain Sam Torrance and players San Mortiz, Thomas Bjorn, and Homey Frasier.

"We’ve got three of them," said Mickelson, who won the first match of the Presidents Cup against a bunch of Greg Norman and Steve Elkington. "This was the second time the Americans have been left with only one match to win after the first session, matching their record start in the 1998 Presidents Cup at the Robert Trent Jones Golf Club.

"We’re a bit of a locker," Mickelson said.

Tyson-Golota — expect the unexpected

By Ed Schrader Jr.

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. — The Goltas are Tigers fans. The Tyson-Golotas.

"It’s a family tradition to go to Tiger Woods’ matches, such as "Tyson’s Roundhouse,"" said ritica. ""We’ve been looking forward to it.""

The Goltas have elected

but all is well, Mike Tyson is a Tigers fan.

Tyson-Golota, a native of Poland living in Chicago, pumps his first after winning in 18th hole Thursday. Going 12-0, Mike Tyson in a heavyweight match tonight.

"It’s going to be a good fight," said Tyson, who has never lost a fight. "Golota is a fighter, but not a souse."

Iowa vs. Ohio State
Battling the Big Ten
Iowa ‘fans’ will regret actions in next few years

After I saw the score of the Oklahoma State game Friday, I was somewhat relieved — people were going to be hating on the Big Ten. I love the Big Ten, but I have to admit, at first I thought it would be Iowa’s worst game ever. Another column wondering why he can’t predict how much better Iowa would be a great shame that this Iowa game is.

Iowa fans, you have a great program. You have had one of the best coaches the Big Ten has ever had. The reason isn’t that much better than Iowa.

Iowa fans I know don’t even consider Iowa in the Big Ten race. I know they would be a great regret if Iowa fans actually cared about what was going to happen in the Big Ten.

Don’t call up radio and TV shows Iowa fans, and it’s not that much better than Iowa.

Buckeyes will shake Hawks in fourth quarter

Buckeyes have some reason to believe they can win this game, but there's one problem: They haven't been a winner in four straight games against the Hawkeyes.

The Buckeyes have been an underdog in each of those games, and they've been a 20-point underdog at least twice. In those games, the Buckeyes have lost by an average of 23.2 points. They have scored an average of 14.5 points and allowed an average of 38.3 points.

The Buckeyes have struggled in the fourth quarter of those games, averaging just 5.3 points per game. They have scored 10 or more points in the fourth quarter just once in those games.

In contrast, the Hawkeyes have averaged 27.0 points per game in the fourth quarter of those games. They have scored 20 or more points in the fourth quarter in all four games.

The Hawkeyes have also been able to get to the free throw line more often in the fourth quarter, averaging 10 attempts per game compared to just 6.8 for the Buckeyes.

Despite these challenges, the Buckeyes have some reason to believe they can win this game. They have scored 20 or more points in the third quarter of their last two games, suggesting they have the capability to score in the fourth quarter.

However, the Buckeyes have struggled to stop the Hawkeyes in the fourth quarter. They have allowed an average of 20.5 points per game in the fourth quarter, including 10 points or more in two of those games.

The Buckeyes will need to limit the Hawkeyes' scoring in the fourth quarter if they want to have a chance to win this game. They will need to hold them to less than 10 points in the fourth quarter to have a chance at pulling off the upset.
Woods finds success on, off field

From a small town in Iowa to the bright lights of the Big Ten, LeVar Woods has adjusted well.

"The Daily Iowan"

What was it like to be the son of LeVar Bell, star running back for the University of Iowa?

"She likes to talk about her early days in Iowa City, how big she was and how she didn't want to go to the University of Iowa. But she talked about how good she was, how the University of Iowa was the school for her because it was the right school for her and her parents. She talked about how she cried a lot, but she handled it with grace and determination."

"She was a hard worker, a determined individual, and she didn't let anything stand in her way. She was always striving for excellence and she never gave up. She was a role model for everyone who knew her and she made a difference in people's lives."
High-risk weekend for top three conference powers

Michigan State at No. 6 Michigan
No. 14 Purdue at Wisconsin
No. 22 Minnesota at Indiana

Michigan State ride on back of quarterback Kirk Cousins, who has thrown for 1,000 yards in the past three games. The Spartans are coming off their first Big Ten loss of the season to Minnesota.

Michigan has won three straight in the Big Ten, led by senior quarterback Denard Robinson, who has thrown for 1,000 yards in the past three games. The Wolverines are coming off their first Big Ten loss of the season to Wisconsin.

Purdue has won two straight in the Big Ten, led by senior quarterback Trayver Suggs, who has thrown for 1,000 yards in the past three games. The Boilermakers are coming off their first Big Ten loss of the season to Minnesota.

Minnesota beat a good but overrated Wisconsin team last week, and its lone conference loss this year came against a great team, the Badgers. The Gophers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

This week Minnesota will face a tough test against a top-three team, the Cornhuskers. The Gophers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

The rolling Boilermakers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Purdue boasts the best defense in the Big Ten and has already thrown for more than 2,000 yards in its last three games. The Boilermakers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Indiana State is struggling to win games. Last week, backup quarterback Andrew Sorgi's concussion and Wisconsin's 31-0 win over the Hoosiers gave the Badgers a 2-5 record for the season. The Hoosiers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Five schools sit atop the Big Ten standings at 3-1, the other three schools no room for error as Week 5 unfolds, the better teams in the conference are beginning to emerge.

No. 22 Minnesota at Indiana

Ohio State at Penn State
Penn State had no answer for Iowa last week, giving up 319 yards to the Hawkeyes and its lone conference loss this year came against a great team, the Cornhuskers. The Gophers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

The rolling Boilermakers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Purdue boasts the best defense in the Big Ten and has already thrown for more than 2,000 yards in its last three games. The Boilermakers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Indiana State is struggling to win games. Last week, backup quarterback Andrew Sorgi's concussion and Wisconsin's 31-0 win over the Hoosiers gave the Badgers a 2-5 record for the season. The Hoosiers have scored a combined 14 points in their last two games, with both losses coming against conference foes.

Five schools sit atop the Big Ten standings at 3-1, the other three schools no room for error as Week 5 unfolds, the better teams in the conference are beginning to emerge.

Hawks ready to swoop, soar

By Mike Kelly

Saturday will be Hawkeyes first chance to see Iowa basketball's top-rated recruiting class in action — well, sort of.

Senior Hawkeye Arena

The Hawks' annual intrasquad scrimmage, the Black and Gold Blowout, 45 minutes after the football Hawkeyes finish their gridiron season.

For freshmen Brody Boyd and Jaaron Simmons, the scrimmage will be a baptism of fire the team's first full-tilt small ball Iowa City. "Our biggest issue is where two turns into three," Alford said. "We've got this competition about whose team hat most things is a turnover for the moment."

Big Ten season is as unpredictable as ever

No one team is stepping up to dominate the Big Ten this season.

By Jeremy Schenkler

What is the Big Ten? The Big Ten is a 11-member football conference with a history of producing some of the finest teams in college football. The conference is known for its fierce competition and rivalries, and its teams are often ranked among the best in the nation. The conference is made up of schools from the midwestern United States, including Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Penn State.

The Big Ten has a rich history of producing teams that have gone on to win national championships. The conference has also produced some of the greatest players in the history of college football, including Bo Schembechler, Barry Sanders, and Lawrence Taylor.

The Big Ten is known for its strong conference play, and teams are often ranked based on their performance within the conference. The conference is also known for its non-conference games, which are often played against some of the best teams in the country.

The Big Ten has a long history of success in both football and basketball, and its teams are often featured on national television schedules. The conference is also known for its strong tradition and fan base, and its games are often attended by sell-out crowds.

The Big Ten is currently made up of 14 members, including Big Ten North (Northwestern, Ohio State, Penn State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, and Wisconsin) and Big Ten South (Iowa, Indiana, Maryland, Nebraska, Rutgers, and Wisconsin). The conference is led by the Big Ten Conference Office in Rosemont, Illinois.
Program thrives with strong staff

By Melinda Hawley

The Daily Iowan

Iowa strength and conditioning coach Chris Doyle received praise for his improvements in the Iowa football program. Then he formally passed it along:

"Our staff has great interpersonal skills. They are great teachers, and they are where the little monsters live," he said. "They are in here grinding everyday, and the positive relationships they've developed are seen in the positive feedback we've gotten from our strengths and conditioning."

The coaches have been key to the Hawkeye football program in working with athletes to improve their performance and reduce injuries. They are working with the team daily in the Hayden Fry Complex.

The four men responsible for Iowa's strength and conditioning program, including John Scrafford, Jon Scott-Poole and James Dobson, work with the team daily in the Hayden Fry Complex.

Hawks still battling

Iowa quarterback Jon Beutler scrambled to escape Michigan State defender Nick Myers at the end of the fourth quarter Oct. 7. Myers has been solid at corner for the Hawkeyes, but they continue to come back and give Iowa. By Jimmy Schanther
