A rebirth for downtown I.C.

By Jon Brown

The Daily Iowan

Thursday, May 10, 2001

NATION

Bush's first-round picks

The president named selections for federal seat, see story, Page 3A

WEATHER

79 H

59 L

Cloudy, 50% chance of showers

TAs dissatisfied with UI support

A survey says about 20 percent of doctoral students believe the university does not reward teaching.

By Jim Brown

The Daily Iowan

Inexperienced in the Old Capitol Town Center could improve the business district.

By Pam Stearnly

The Daily Iowan

Downtown has experienced a series of changes and vacancies since the growth of Candlewood's business district, causing some to think Iowa City's Down town has begun to fail.

But several city officials and business owners said through the revitalization of the Old Capital Town Center, the heart of Iowa City may find its best again. As the value of the mall steadily declined during the early 1980's, the shopping center began to stagnate, detracting from the revitalizing downtown.

"Having a vital downtown area is crucial so we can avoid the declining tourism and entertainment venues," Lensing said. "This can happen..."...

"I think in the last year, we have seen activity happening again. We have seen the remodeling of businesses and reinvestment in our downtown."

Plans for Old Capitol mall

Many federal projects, based in Old Capitol, have been year-round activities. Organizations in downtown have now started working to recruit tenants and entertain downtown consumers.

Along with remodeling and new rows, the shopping center's name has been changed from the Old Capitol Mall to the Old Capitol Town Center.

Chairman said the change was the..."...

Moving toward life, away from Iowa

By Anne Webbeking

The Daily Iowan

Throughout the week, The Daily Iowan has presented one last look at the people profiled in our "You are here" series. Elliot Royer is the final installment.

UI senior Elliot Royer, right, and his fellow crew member, sophomore Ben Schrempf, practice rowing early on May 2.

Elliot Royer

"I'm actually surprised the survey done by the UI organization Women in Science and Engineering (WSE) shows. Doctoral students are instructors in nearly every academic department.

The organization conducted the survey on campuses in gradutate programs during the beginning of this semester to help design a mentoring program for women in male-dominated fields. The group plans to look for the program next fall, which will attempt to offer peer guidance..."...

Arts & Entertainment 15C

City 2A

Commons 2A

Daily Iowan 2A

Movies 3A

Nature 3A

Sports 5A

VanderVoort, the UI grad student, said she snagged her teaching position at the UI..."...

graduated with a 3.0 GPA, and..."...

announced her new job..."...

employment. Her new job offers a statement of her..."...

"I'm just working and finally..."...

"I'm..."...

"I..."...

"I..."...

"The..."...

"She..."...

"She..."...

"She..."...

"She..."...

"She..."...
Iowa

2A - The County jail not be responsible economic Coralville, held a public forum development for the state. Committee will recommend to say Insurance Committee improve the economy, recommendations to UI during a joint meeting of the discontinuing the Johnson online student of what By Call S19-SS9-1063 The Johnson County Board of Supervisors asked local city officials to look at their own enforcement Thompson said of the facility over- crowding continues. Eventually, the sheriff said. Not enough, she said. that houses an average of 1,100 to 1,800 per year, is unutilizable. "The land of the let is what draws people to a community," said Robert Carpenter, a member of the group and author of Iowa The Grand development that should be taken to small results. "Grand schemes that include huge sums of money should be looked at very wary," he said. "Grand schemes often lead to grandiose fails." Of the concern raised was that the artifi- cial reef would not cre- ate local tourism resources but instead reach the different geographical areas. "This plan believes the projected number of visitors, from 1.1 million to 1.8 million, will make enough money to offset the cost, but it is not clear how this cost will be covered," said Iowa City resident Ken Johnson and he was concerned about reports in newspapers a lower-than-expected revenue that many college gradu- ates and students. "We need to do things to build up our tourism, that kind of," he said. "We need to real- ize that tourism development at the high end."

Executive director of the Iowa Humane Board, Chris Bassi, suggested the Iowa Child Project look at projects such as the Mississippi River Project in Duluth that cele- brates local attributes of the river, such as its history, and develop- system projects as that of the beers. San Guerrero said improving local community and somehow might be a better investment than the Iowa Child Project. "We need to know more about the Iowa Child Project."

Some alternatives. Some of what people are saying. By

No one should have the option of not being retired at the age of 57 the option of early retirement has been helpful in the past, but right now due to budget constraints, said Thompson and Pat Carpenter said. The Johnson County Board of Supervisors is looking for ways to improve the economy, recommendations to UI during a joint meeting of the discontinuing the Johnson online student of what By Call S19-SS9-1063 The Johnson County Board of Supervisors asked local city officials to look at their own enforcement Thompson said of the facility over- crowding continues. Eventually, the sheriff said. Not enough, she said. that houses an average of 1,100 to 1,800 per year, is unutilizable. "The land of the let is what draws people to a community," said Robert Carpenter, a member of the group and author of Iowa The Grand development that should be taken to small results. "Grand schemes that include huge sums of money should be looked at very wary," he said. "Grand schemes often lead to grandiose fails." Of the concern raised was that the artifi- cial reef would not cre- ate local tourism resources but instead reach the different geographical areas. "This plan believes the projected number of visitors, from 1.1 million to 1.8 million, will make enough money to offset the cost, but it is not clear how this cost will be covered," said Iowa City resident Ken Johnson and he was concerned about reports in newspapers a lower-than-expected revenue that many college gradu- ates and students. "We need to do things to build up our tourism, that kind of," he said. "We need to real- ize that tourism development at the high end."

Executive director of the Iowa Humane Board, Chris Bassi, suggested the Iowa Child Project look at projects such as the Mississippi River Project in Duluth that cele- brates local attributes of the river, such as its history, and develop- system projects as that of the beers. San Guerrero said improving local community and somehow might be a better investment than the Iowa Child Project. "We need to know more about the Iowa Child Project."

Some alternatives. Some of what people are saying. County jail is overpopulated, supervisors say

UI committee advices against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives.

Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

UI committee advises against early retirement

A committee on overcrowding encourages looking at early retirement alternatives. Some members cite costs, others put in a positive possible age-discrimination as grounds for dismissing the policy.

BUSH NOMINATES FIRST SLATE OF JUDGES

Mindful of the conservative pressure toward Clinton's nominees, the president asked for

"Judicial Review is necessary to the function of the government in our form of government and that is why I have asked for a slate of judges that I believe will uphold the Constitution and the rule of law," said President Bush in his address.

The nomination list includes judges from various states, including

1. Idaho - Justice Stephen P. Eichler
2. New York - Judge Robert P.cklik
3. Georgia - Judge Susan T. Owen
4. North Carolina - Judge David L. Tatman
5. Minnesota - Judge Paul A. Anderson

The nominations are expected to face a confirmation hearing in the Senate, with the possibility of a vote before the end of the year.
Comback Kid comes back again

Bill Clinton has focused on restoring his image, rehabilitating his image yet again. For more information: 335-8633

WASHINGTON — Former President Bill Clinton enlisted the Cabinet in his fight against AIDS.

The secretary-general, who seek the help of rich nations to fund the virus.

By Agejeta McGowan

WASHINGTON — U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan sought the Bush administration Wednesday to pay for a multibillion-dollar program to fight AIDS in Africa.

The administration is considering an initial pledge of $200 million to the global AIDS fund. Secretary of State Colin Powell and Tommi Thompson, the secretary of Health and Human Services, are visiting Africa to try to free the administration from charges that it is not doing something to stop the disease.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.

Powell said the meeting included a discussion about
how the administration might work with
the Bush administration.

At the meeting, Clinton made
an initial pledge of $200 million
for the global AIDS fund.

The secretary-general, who
met with Wednesday's Democratic leaders
in the White House, is seeking
the help of rich nations
in the effort to stamp out
the virus.
The Israeli prime minister denounced Arafat as a partner in peace.

By Carla Lamb Associated Press

JERUSALEM - Two Jewish teens agree - an刺trocious event from Maryland - were beaten to death with rods in a West Bank area after skipping school to go hiking. Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon said Wednesday he held Tamer Ankil personally responsible.

The teens' bodies were found around dawn Wednesday in a cave in the Judean Desert. The walls of the cave were covered with blood, reported, and the bodies were killed by their hands as they entered.

Sharon blamed Arafat for the killings, saying the Palestinians were conducting a hit and run attack on Israelis and was not a partner for peace.

Asked about the killings, Arafat responded by saying Palestinian children have been victimized by Israel. He cited a 3-month-old Palestinian girl who was wounded and tied them to stretchers to carry them from the cave up the rocky slope of West Bank.

"A day arrived when a half mile from the yeshiva homes in the Tekoa settlement. Yosi was 14, and Kobi was 15. Both were 15-month-old boys, his grandmother Marilyn Abovitz said in New York.

"When the police believed them to be children who dipped their hands into the walls, they were killed with the walls at the end, for the first time," the report said.

At least 100 killed in Ghana soccer stampede

The African tragedy is the fourth in a ten-month period.

By Kwame condo Associated Press

KABINDA, Congo - A stampede at a packed soccer match in Congo killed at least 100 people Wednesday night, a government official said. Panic set in when police and tear gas failed to instill fear, witnesses said.

At least 50 people were killed.

Witnesses said the police had fired tear gas into the crowd, creating panic in the stadium, and then shot to scatter the crowd at a soccer match.

The stadium had been built to seat 30,000 people.

At least 100 killed in Ghana soccer match

The military is now in control of the largest masses of people.

By Emanuel Kwasi

PHIME, Ghana - After yesterday's violence, today's fighting in the streets of Phime led to a stretching of the playing field.

"But the fighting left 2.5 million people in eastern Congo facing a humanitarian disaster in the wake of fighting that has displaced 3.5 million people from homes.

Africans are forced to leave the field after the second day of fighting in the streets.

"Concerns have been raised that the coalition's efforts to end the crisis..." the report said.

Macedonian troops take over

The army intensifies fighting.

By Constantin Todorov Associated Press

KRAMATAJ, Macedonia - Macedonian troops massed around the largest rebel-held positions with artillery and machine guns, prompting the rebels to move from a village near the border with Kosovo and freeze fighting.

It is the latest development in forming a national unity government to end the war in the northern libraries and minority areas.

The Macedonian army intensified its efforts to take control of the most Macedonian Albanian province of the former kingdom.

Steady efforts have been taken to talk about the conflict.

As talk of a peace settlement has worsened, the coalition has taken steps to give up control over the city's main playing field. Radio Congolese tell the public.

Radio stations searched for loved ones.

Congoleses tell of hunger, years spent in hiding

A recent study estimates that the Congo's civil war has killed more than 2 million people in eastern Congo.

By Elif Batuman

KARINDA, Congo - Most of my children are in eastern Congo. They have been affected by the fighting that set their mothers' villages in flames.

"They have been orphaned and forced into the waves of war. Some of them have even been eaten by lions," the report said.

A woman in Congo's Equateur province, where fighting has been severe, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.

"A man is a great national tragedy," and President of the Democratic Alliance, Jonas Chabane, who is the leader of the main opposition party, said in late April that "aid agencies are not able to help poor families who have to face the war that we are fighting for our homes.

"She was shot in the back with a rocket-propelled grenade the last few days," the report said.
THE END OF GRADE MAILINGS...

New plan desavors an A

Don’t expect to get your grades soon after this semester. UI officials have changed the way they handle grades, and will be available by implementing a new phone service, which will start on May 21.

Now, checking grades as soon as they become available will be as easy as dialing 1-800-305-6000, the number of the student services network Campus Beat. In addition to the phone service, grades will still be available on SAS. And students who wish to receive a grade over the phone can request one from the Registrar’s office.

Students will soon realize that the administration has made a smart move in finding a way to do away with the wasteful process of mailing out thousands of unused grade reports, many of which remain unopened or are discarded. In order to avoid offering a very small minority of the school’s students the option to use one of a variety of methods to check their grades shows that administrators are attempting to accommodate both the financial realities and the exigencies of its students.

The variety of options that the university is offering students is commendable. Because it may not be easy for many students to check their grade online, the university has combated the problem by adding the toll-free number for verification.

Don’t throw away your grades. Grade reports are posted. The grades are sent to students who wish to receive a grade report in the mail. That the administration has made a smart move in deciding against mothers, Father’s Day, family makeups, and we order to not discriminate against mothers, Father’s Day, family makeups, and we order to not discriminate against them. The administration has made a smart move in deciding against them.

The end of school has always meant one thing for me: summer employment. I remember being a 14-year-old kid who jumped from day-carrying to baby-sitting gigs just to earn money to waste on the weekends.

I like to talk about this last fall as having full-time employment for the first time in my life. Like me, he had worked odd jobs as a lifeguard and a fast-food fry cook. When the school year was over, he had the chance to retire. I didn’t think my brother was just stupid. This is how he started his life. Like me, he was working odd jobs when the school year ended, but this time I knew something different was going to happen: I was going to work for three summers, before returning to school for my sophomore year that I never would have gone up.

I was still in high school and decided to go away for the summer, but this time I knew something different was going to happen: I was going to work for three summers, before returning to school for my sophomore year that I never would have gone up. I was still in high school and decided to go away for the summer, but this time I knew something different was going to happen: I was going to work for three summers, before returning to school for my sophomore year that I never would have gone up.

I was still in high school and decided to go away for the summer, but this time I knew something different was going to happen: I was going to work for three summers, before returning to school for my sophomore year that I never would have gone up.

I was still in high school and decided to go away for the summer, but this time I knew something different was going to happen: I was going to work for three summers, before returning to school for my sophomore year that I never would have gone up.
Father: Sons' closeness a 'cure'

David Kochman's son, Gregory, had taken a lead role in a school play about suicide before his death.

By Stephen Fischetti

SWANZEY, N.H. — The father of a student who committed suicide 19 months after his older brother did said Wednesday he regrets not stopping the younger man from taking the lead role in a school play about suicide.

"It was kind of a whirling idea to do the play, clearly. Anybody might have looked at it twice," David Kochman said in a telephone interview. "The thought was that it would be cathartic ... that he could act out some of his feelings."

Kochman, 45, found his son's body at home early Sunday. Gregory was 17, the same age his brother Eric was when he committed suicide in 1999.

Kochman had the lead in Ordinary People, a play about a successful teen-ager racked with guilt over the death of his older brother in an accident. The school production, which was canceled Wednesday, was due to open March 30.

School officials say they didn't think the play contributed directly to Gregory's death, and his father agrees.

"I don't want them to be anything but surprised. I think anybody would do to the right thing. I don't think any blame should be placed anywhere."

U.S. mistakenly shelves German school

No one was injured in what the Army calls a "rare incident."

By Lee Haubner

Associated Press

BERLIN — The U.S. Army admitted Wednesday that it had mishandled two training rounds, which hit and slightly damaged the roof of a southern German elementary school where children were playing in the courtyard.

Classes were over for the day Tuesday when a teacher stopped in the town of Kirchheimbolanden to tell his students to enter the school. Some 200 children were playing in the courtyard and the boys were watching a soccer game.

The teacher told them to enter the school because of a military exercise. About 30 children ran through the courtyard and then entered the school.

The boys were watching a soccer game when the teacher told them to enter the school. About 30 children ran through the courtyard and then entered the school.

Kochman said Gregory had been accepted for a "shake program that was kind of the same number of numbers to try to get the right combination," he said. "That's all I can think of, because I never wrote the combination down."

The boys tried with their father after the parents divorced in 1997. Gregory had been hospitalized twice since then and a close friend, Kochman said.

Kochman told the Globo the boys were "vulnerable to each other. They are all together, they played soccer together, they went to the movies together, they were friends in school and at home."

Approximately a month ago, he said he had stopped the play at any time. "To make sure it was not really anything that might have been going on with his health."

Kochman said Gregory's death marked a "cataract" in his life and that he was not sure if he could get over it. "I don't want anyone to be surprised. I think anybody would do to the right thing." He said he had stopped the play at any time. "To make sure it was not really anything that might have been going on with his health."

Kochman said Gregory's death marked a "cataract" in his life and that he was not sure if he could get over it. "I don't want anyone to be surprised. I think anybody would do to the right thing." He said he had stopped the play at any time. "To make sure it was not really anything that might have been going on with his health."
Looking for work out west

UI senior leaving Iowa

Continued from Page IA

The survey kind of took on a life of its own.

There were separate but new survey for students and professors.

The survey was revised, but the Graduate College

was dissatisfied.

"The survey kind of took on a life of its own," Professor Sanders said, as he left the graduate department.

"There's no such thing as a survey," he said.

"We find that it will provide with information that we need to assist the students.

We need to do research and

collect data, and the survey will be a part of that.

We need to have a data bank of information that we can access in the future.

The college will make sure that it will be available in the fall.

At the end of the year, we will be able to provide data that will be useful to the students.

The survey will be an important tool in our research and planning.

The survey will

be an important tool in our research and planning.

The survey will

be an important tool in our research and

planning.
The Daily Iowan

SPORTS

HOPE YOU GUESS THEIR NAME: The Devils win game seven, Page 68.

The Daily Iowan Sports Awards

Evans’ first year simply ‘big time’

By Todd Brunswik

As always, choosing the Daily Iowan Male Athlete of the Year proved to be a big-time task. At a school that consistently produces NCAA wrestling champions and has one of the nation’s best male tennis players, choosing who to bestow this honor upon wasn’t as easy as it was. However, this season, a certain 6-foot 6-inch forward on the Iowa basketball team named Reggie Evans made the choice rather simple.

In breaking out from Evans’ own shadow, he managed to ‘big time’ this past season, helping the Hawkeyes reach the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The junior-college transfer finished the regular season on top of the country in scoring per game (13.4), free-throw attempts (460) and double-doubles (22).

What is scary about the junior-college transfer’s performance is that he is continuing to adjust to the nuances of playing at the college level. He also played himself into the Iowa men’s basketball team one-year-removed from being established as a first-year—one-man show. Evans made nearly as many free throws (314) as he did the old record for assists (365), set by current Dallas Mavericks coach Don Nelson.

What is scary about the junior-college transfer’s performance is that he is continuing to adjust to the nuances of playing at the college level.

Evans was drafted into the WNBA as a No. 56 pick by the Tulsa Shock.

Although the Hawkeyes’ magical season has come to an end in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, Evans is already looking to the future. On April 20, Consuegra was drafted into the WNBA as a No. 56 pick by the Tulsa Shock.

Through all of this, Consuegra has kept a balanced approach to her basketball career:

For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

Therefore, the Daily Iowan Association is proud to bestow the Male Athlete of the Year award on Reggie Evans. For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

The story of the 5-foot-5-inch star points to a Nike designer’s dream.

She did that; she was the first to say that she wasn’t as easy as it was. However, this season, a certain

The Daily Iowan

SPORTS

HOPE YOU GUESS THEIR NAME: The Devils win game seven, Page 68.

The Daily Iowan Sports Awards

Evans’ first year simply ‘big time’

By Todd Brunswik

As always, choosing the Daily Iowan Male Athlete of the Year proved to be a big-time task. At a school that consistently produces NCAA wrestling champions and has one of the nation’s best male tennis players, choosing who to bestow this honor upon wasn’t as easy as it was. However, this season, a certain 6-foot 6-inch forward on the Iowa basketball team named Reggie Evans made the choice rather simple.

In breaking out from Evans’ own shadow, he managed to ‘big time’ this past season, helping the Hawkeyes reach the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The junior-college transfer finished the regular season on top of the country in scoring per game (13.4), free-throw attempts (460) and double-doubles (22).

What is scary about the junior-college transfer’s performance is that he is continuing to adjust to the nuances of playing at the college level. He also played himself into the Iowa men’s basketball team one-year-removed from being established as a first-year—one-man show. Evans made nearly as many free throws (314) as he did the old record for assists (365), set by current Dallas Mavericks coach Don Nelson.

What is scary about the junior-college transfer’s performance is that he is continuing to adjust to the nuances of playing at the college level. He also played himself into the Iowa men’s basketball team one-year-removed from being established as a first-year—one-man show. Evans made nearly as many free throws (314) as he did the old record for assists (365), set by current Dallas Mavericks coach Don Nelson.

Although the Hawkeyes’ magical season has come to an end in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, Evans is already looking to the future. On April 20, Consuegra was drafted into the WNBA as a No. 56 pick by the Tulsa Shock.

Through all of this, Consuegra has kept a balanced approach to her basketball career:

For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

Therefore, the Daily Iowan Association is proud to bestow the Male Athlete of the Year award on Reggie Evans. For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

The story of the 5-foot-5-inch star points to a Nike designer’s dream.

She did that; she was the first to say that she wasn’t as easy as it was. However, this season, a certain 6-foot 6-inch forward on the Iowa basketball team named Reggie Evans made the choice rather simple.

In breaking out from Evans’ own shadow, he managed to ‘big time’ this past season, helping the Hawkeyes reach the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The junior-college transfer finished the regular season on top of the country in scoring per game (13.4), free-throw attempts (460) and double-doubles (22).

What is scary about the junior-college transfer’s performance is that he is continuing to adjust to the nuances of playing at the college level. He also played himself into the Iowa men’s basketball team one-year-removed from being established as a first-year—one-man show. Evans made nearly as many free throws (314) as he did the old record for assists (365), set by current Dallas Mavericks coach Don Nelson.

Although the Hawkeyes’ magical season has come to an end in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, Evans is already looking to the future. On April 20, Consuegra was drafted into the WNBA as a No. 56 pick by the Tulsa Shock.

Through all of this, Consuegra has kept a balanced approach to her basketball career:

For Consuegra, there was never a more satisfying season in her career. She was able to walk away knowing that she did as much as she could.

Consuegra puts behind great career Iowa set to slam into Big Ten Tournament play

The Hawkeyes take on Ohio State or Wisconsin today at 1:30 p.m.

By Matthew Mabury

The Daily Iowan

No team in the Big Ten Tournament has ever won a first-round game in the regular season like Iowa has. The Hawkeyes are coming off a 16-4 Big Ten season, where they were 9-5 at home, and they have the more confidence in their starters.

Behind an energy many Hawkeyes players cited as the most in history, they will be battling through the tournament at the University of Illinois. The University of Illinois field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Iowa will enter into conference play on March 20th to prepare for a shot at the conference title. The tournament for the title will be played during the month of April.

Michigan secured the regular-season crown outright, bringing the tournament to Alumni Field. Traditionally, the Waterhouse home field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Behind an energy many Hawkeyes players cited as the most in history, they will be battling through the tournament at the University of Illinois. The University of Illinois field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Iowa will enter into conference play on March 20th to prepare for a shot at the conference title. The tournament for the title will be played during the month of April.

Michigan secured the regular-season crown outright, bringing the tournament to Alumni Field. Traditionally, the Waterhouse home field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Behind an energy many Hawkeyes players cited as the most in history, they will be battling through the tournament at the University of Illinois. The University of Illinois field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Iowa will enter into conference play on March 20th to prepare for a shot at the conference title. The tournament for the title will be played during the month of April.

Michigan secured the regular-season crown outright, bringing the tournament to Alumni Field. Traditionally, the Waterhouse home field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Behind an energy many Hawkeyes players cited as the most in history, they will be battling through the tournament at the University of Illinois. The University of Illinois field is arguably the site of the best 15 innings of softball Iowa has played all season.

Iowa will enter into conference play on March 20th to prepare for a shot at the conference title. The tournament for the title will be played during the month of April.
Classifieds

111 Communications Center • 353-5784

11 am deadline for new ads and cancellations.

---

Classifieds

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>Message Board</th>
</tr> </thead> <tbody>
<tr>
<td>HELP WANTED</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>HELP WANTED</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>HELP WANTED</td>
</tr> </tbody> </table>

---

Classifieds

353-5784

353-5785

fax

730-5297

---

Personal

Barn Work

Eaton

Heritage

Young Men

St. Jude’s Novena

---

Vick lands largest rookie contract in NFL history

Michael Vick’s deal keeps him with the Falcons for another six years.

By Paul Newberry

FLOWERY BRANCH, Ga. — When Atlanta Falcons owner Arthur Blank and Michael Vick decided to get a deal done, their only concern was that they would have him for six years.

On Wednesday, just 1 1/2 weeks after taking Vick with the No. 1 pick in the NFL draft, theFalcons signed him to the richest rookie contract in league history.

Vick received a $28 million, six-year deal that guarantees $15.2 million through the first three years, including a signing bonus of $8 million.

"We've been in the business of building winners," Falcons general manager Dick Lebeau said. "We are very confident that we have a great quarterback."}

---

SPORTS BRIEF

Trinidad says the fans know he know what he knows

He’s been called “El Capitan,” or “The Admiral,” by fans, but to many, he is Trinidad. The former MIA lightweight champion Trinidad, who was worth his weight in Mariano Quintero brushes.

"When I’m in the ring, you can just see the confidence," he said.

The estimable Trinidad, seeking to win a title in a third weight class, did not.

He was looking to gain a light good fight, but not a title," he said.

That news conference. Much of the crowd is a packed event and will be shown to the fans.

The correspondence and two people have told me that my people care for me," he said through an interpreter.

Horse Nation

Horse Nation

Horse Nation

---

Vick lands largest rookie contract in NFL history

Michael Vick’s deal keeps him with the Falcons for another six years.

By Paul Newberry

FLOWERY BRANCH, Ga. — When Atlanta Falcons owner Arthur Blank and Michael Vick decided to get a deal done, their only concern was that they would have him for six years.

On Wednesday, just 1 1/2 weeks after taking Vick with the No. 1 pick in the NFL draft, the Falcons signed him to the richest rookie contract in league history.

Vick received a $28 million, six-year deal that guarantees $15.2 million through the first three years, including a signing bonus of $8 million.

"We've been in the business of building winners," Falcons general manager Dick Lebeau said. "We are very confident that we have a great quarterback."
conseguir los record de la leyenda de Iowa conseguir el record de la leyenda de Iowa

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blunder

Blnder Summer in the City

By Joanna Bransford
The Daily Iowan

Summer is near at hand, and after a winter so vile that spring has been lost to a few hours of 80 degrees, Iowa City will offer a plethora of activities this season. The Daily Iowan will be here to encourage you to find and fiddle with those things that are not offered by the madding crowds once more.

National Film Conference
UI Theatre Building

For the third year in a row, the University of Iowa Film Society will present the annual National Film Conference. This year the three-day event takes place from May 17 through May 19. The focus of this year’s conference is on the “New Look” in American Cinema. The conference is designed for students and film enthusiasts of all ages.

Shakespeare Festival Riverside Theatre

A new Shakespeare the way it was meant to be seen under the stars. Riverside Theatre’s second annual Shakespeare Festival will run from June 7 through June 13. This year’s three parts of the Bard’s plays will come together in one performance. The three plays will be performed by the UI’s own, in a modern, intimate setting.

Iowa Summer Roy 2001
UI Theatre Building

Professional theatre company makes a stop in Iowa City this summer. From June 28 through July 7, the company will present a variety of shows, including “A Midsummer Night’s Dream,” “Macbeth,” and “The Taming of the Shrew.”

Iowa Arts Festival
Downtown Iowa City

From June 19 through June 21, the Iowa Arts Festival will take place in downtown Iowa City. The festival will feature live music, dance, outdoor stage entertainment, and more.

Summer Jazz Festival
Downtown Iowa City

Get ready for the smooth sounds of jazz this weekend. The annual Summer Jazz Festival will take place from July 1 through July 7. The festival features a variety of musical performances, including local and national acts.

Video Rental Kids in the Hall: Bruce Campbell Paramount

If your home is shaped from those flash, treat it to a good laugh. The charity Canadian comedy troupe resurrects some favorite characters from their popular sketch-comedy show and transforms them into reality. You can just enjoy whatever standard of comedy the Kids choose to role-playing. You can try to catch KID: Bruce Campbell at 9 p.m. every Monday.

Book
Jazz the Essential Companion for Every Jazz Fan
John S. Wilson

Chances are you are good whenever you spend the summer, whether it be in Iowa City, Chicago, or nearly any other major city, there will be just a festival nearby. Jazz: The Essential Companion for Every Jazz Fan includes the history of the music through influential recordings, instruments and technology. No book has ever given us the number of noteworthy musicians. Also included in the book are more than 1,000 color illustrations for those of you who like to learn more about jazz but are tired of reading after a long session. It can be fun for those who have not had jazz behind the summer. Go pick up this book and impress everyone with your knowledge of the history of the music.

Round Town

Double CD release party for Speed of Sauce and Ally Haceta Green Room, 306 E. Gilmore St.
5 p.m. today, $5

Speed of Sauce’s own Speed of Sauce and Ally Haceta have cut their own home-grown rock CDs. Help them celebrate tonight at the Green Room.

quote of the week

"There are no real secrets, no, you know, your pain is stamped instantly when you see all the dots on the clock." — Arnold Yondor (The actor who plays the reanimated body in the 1993 film "The Modern Prometheus")
Big Screen

Music Reviews

Survivor

Destiny's Child

"Survivor" is the latest hit from the Detroit singing group. The song is a modern twist on the old-fashioned "survivor" theme, with the group's members fighting against all odds to succeed. The music video, shot in a desert landscape, captures the intensity and drive of the group's members as they compete against each other. The song's catchy chorus and upbeat tempo make it a perfect addition to any playlist.

Trouble in Shangri-La

Steve Vai

Steve Vai has long been known for his virtuosity and his ability to push technical limits with his guitar playing. "Trouble in Shangri-La" is a track from his latest album, showcasing his romantic side. The song explores themes of love, loss, and the challenges of maintaining relationships in today's fast-paced world. Vai's guitar work is as intricately crafted as ever, with multiple layers of melody and harmonies%

Out of ****

Crockodile Dundee II

LA.

Crocodylus porosus, a species also known as the saltwater crocodile, is depicted in this film as a misunderstood creature, living in harmony with the locals in the Australian Outback. Despite its intimidating appearance, the crocodile turns out to be a protector of the wilderness, fighting against those who threaten its natural habitat. The film's message about the importance of conservation resonates strongly with viewers.

Out of ****

Freddy Got Fingered

Martin Lawrence

This film features Martin Lawrence as a character who is forced to confront his past mistakes and take responsibility for his actions. The story explores themes of redemption, forgiveness, and the power of second chances. Lawrence delivers a powerful performance, bringing depth and nuance to his role.

Out of ****

The Mummy Returns

Pete Anderton

This sequel to The Mummy follows the adventures of a group of archaeologists who come across a mysterious tomb filled with ancient artifacts. As they explore the tomb, they trigger events that lead to a confrontation with a powerful and ancient foe. The film is a thrilling mix of action, adventure, and spectacle, with stunning special effects and a cast of memorable characters.

Out of ****

Town and Country

Kevin Smith

This film stars a large ensemble cast, including Ben Stiller, Owen Wilson, and Drew Barrymore. It is a lighthearted and comical take on the world of high society, exploring the intricacies of life among the wealthy and famous. The film is filled with witty banter and hilarious situations, making it a must-see for fans of modern comedies.

Out of ****

The Green Spot

John Landis

This film stars Ted Danson and Dolores Hart, and is set in the small town of Podunk. The story follows the lives of two neighbors who become inseparable friends, sharing their dreams and aspirations. The film is a heartwarming tale of love and friendship, with a message of hope and inspiration.

Out of ****

One Night at McCool's

Rocky Horror Picture Show

This film is a unique blend of horror and comedy, with ainges and groupies battling for the love of a charismatic lead character. The story explores themes of identity, sexuality, and the power of imagination. The film is a cult classic, beloved by fans of the Rocky Horror Picture Show franchise.

Out of ****

Polemic

Ingmar Bergman

This film is a searing exploration of moral and political issues, with a focus on the struggles of an individual in a corrupt society. The film is a thought-provoking meditation on the nature of power, justice, and the human condition. It is a powerful and relevant work of cinema.

Out of ****

The G-Spot Has Come Full Circle

Mike Myers

This film is a parody of romantic comedies, with a focus on exploring the complexities of relationships and the search for love. The story follows a group of characters as they navigate the ups and downs of romantic attraction, with a blend of humor and pathos. The film is a clever and entertaining exploration of modern love.

Out of ****

Come See What You've Been Missing - FUN BAR • FANTASTIC ENTERTAINMENT GORGEOUS LADIES • GUYS & GALS WELCOME

Cocktail Hour

Mon & Tue 4-10pm
Wed Thu Sat 4-8pm

$40 Corona's & Heineken 24oz

$400 Pitchers

$350 Rolling Rock

800-8-232-0888

---

Movie News

Along Came a Spider

Michael Keaton

This film is a thriller about a private investigator who is hired to find a missing woman. Along the way, he uncovers a web of lies and deceit that threatens to destroy everything he holds dear. The film is a tense and gripping exploration of the human condition, with a focus on the power of truth and justice.

Out of ****

Forsaken

Tom Cruise

This film is a supernatural thriller about a group of people who are targeted by a malevolent force. As they struggle to survive, they must confront their own inner demons and face the darkness that threatens to consume them. The film is a thrilling and suspenseful journey into the unknown.

Out of ****

Scream 3

Adam Wachstein

This film is a continuation of the popular horror franchise, with a focus on the battle between good and evil. The story follows a group of survivors who must fight to stay alive in a world filled with danger and chaos. The film is a shocking and thrilling ride for fans of the horror genre.

Out of ****

The Mummy Returns

Pete Anderton

This film is a sequel to The Mummy Returns, following the adventures of the hero as he faces new challenges and meets new allies. The story is a thrilling mix of action, adventure, and spectacle, with stunning special effects and a cast of memorable characters.

Out of ****

Mr. Holland's Opus

Hugh Grant

This film is a heartwarming tale of a music teacher who risks everything to help his students achieve their dreams. The story explores themes of passion, dedication, and the power of education. The film is a感人和动人的作品, with a message of hope and inspiration.

Out of ****

The Green Spot

John Landis

This film is a lighthearted comedy about a group of friends who embark on a road trip to find the legendary green spot. Along the way, they encounter a variety of comedic situations and meet a cast of memorable characters. The film is a fun and uplifting exploration of friendship and adventure.

Out of * Making time and the modern world

By Tracy Hoffman
The Daily Iowan

When one contemplates all our former guises, a few decisive things come to mind. The government gets the laws, the labor unions get the wages, the corporation gets the profits. The university gets the academic standards we follow, and theFleming, the former head of the University of Iowa's astronomy program, tackles all of these questions in his intriguing book, which tells the story of Fleming, a Canadian engineer, surveyor and the inventor of Standard Time. Even as he turned to private practice, he continued to publish articles and to lecture on the subject of time. Fleming's book, "Making Time," is a classic of its kind, and it still holds up today.

We've all heard of the 24-hour day, but what about the 7-day week? Or the 365-day year? How did these conventions come into being, and why do they persist? Fleming explores these questions and many more in his book, offering readers a rich and rewarding exploration of the history of timekeeping.

Fleming attributes the invention of Standard Time to the need for a universal time system, which could be used by all parts of the world. He describes how the idea of Standard Time was first proposed by Lord Kelvin in 1875, and how it was later adopted by the International Bureau of Weights and Measures in 1925.

Despite the many challenges and controversies surrounding the creation of Standard Time, Fleming argues that it was ultimately successful because it was based on sound scientific principles and because it was supported by a strong international consensus. He also notes that the adoption of Standard Time was not a simple matter of changing the time in one place and then the time in another.

Fleming's book is a fascinating read for anyone interested in the history of science, technology, and culture. It is also a valuable resource for those seeking to understand the complex relationships between time and society.