The Old Capitol, built in 1846, is an important architectural landmark in Iowa City. It is the site of the Iowa State Capitol and houses the state legislature. The building has been designated a National Historic Landmark.

The Old Capitol is a significant piece of Iowa history, serving as the state capitol from 1846 to 1888. During this time, it was the site of many important events, including the passage of the Iowa State Constitution in 1846 and the signing of the Compromise of 1850.

In 1976, the Old Capitol was restored to its original condition, and it has been designated a National Historic Landmark. Today, it serves as a museum and is open to the public.

WEST DES MOINES — Leaders in the biotech-drug industry say consumers still are not buying genetically modified foods.

"There is a lot of confusion and misunderstanding — a fear that things are moving too fast," said Andrew Robinson, a spokesperson for the Washington-based Food Industry Group, a biotech information group.

Bennett Allen, a biotech consultant and operations manager at a California supermarket, said the public was not yet convinced.

"People are just not understanding," Bennett said.

The media and protests are not helping, Robinson said. "They need to understand the science behind it."

Editorial
The challenge of public diversity

Two weeks ago, Iowa City police department spokesperson for Iowa City, Iowa-Johnson, confirmed that castration is not a method of technological sterilization. They stated that this method is more effective and humane than other methods as it prevents people from committing further crimes.

However, in the same statement, they also mentioned that such a method would be difficult to implement due to ethical and legal issues. They emphasized the need for more research and consultation with experts before considering the implementation of such a policy.

The police department also highlighted the importance of addressing the root causes of crime, such as poverty, lack of education, and social inequality, as a more effective approach to reducing crime rates.

The statement received mixed reactions from local residents, with some expressing support for the idea and others raising concerns about its feasibility and potential consequences.

Overall, the police department's statement underscores the ongoing challenge of balancing public safety and human rights, as well as the need for innovative and compassionate approaches to addressing crime.

It almost seems as if the roots of Lucinda Williams have been growing and reaching out for the past 15 years, and she seems ready for the world to hear them. Lucinda Williams, a two-time Grammy nominee, was one of the most interesting and versatile artists of the 1980s. Her music is a mix of rock, blues, and folk, in this case, meaning the Grammy for best contemporary folk, of which have finally brought Lucinda a well-deserved Grammy.

Lucinda Williams and Bo Ramsey performed on NHPR's "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno" on Aug. 1.

Bonds hits No. 64 as Giants fall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Even as the Giants were swept by the Arizona Diamondbacks this week, Barry Bonds set a new home run mark in San Francisco.

Despite Bonds' seven-run lead Friday night, San Francisco lost 5-4 to Houston, finishing a disappointing three-game series. "We've got plenty of troops," Bonds said.

The Giants began the day two games behind Arizona, the NL West leader. Houston remained 43 games ahead of San Francisco.

After Bonds tied the score with a solo shot in the 10th inning, Berken hit a game-winning double in the 11th.

"We've been a brave team and I like that," Bonds said. "Even in adverse situations we feel that we can come back."

With 15 games left, Bonds is 10 shy of the modern major league record of 61, set by Roger Maris of the New York Yankees in 1961. Bonds' 46th came in San Francisco's 17th game, 40 games fewer than it took McGwire to hit the same number.

Bonds has 54 career home runs, five more than teammate Reggie Jackson for seventh place.

He announced Thursday that for every home run hit before the end of the season, he will donate $10,000 to the United Way to aid in the relief effort stemming from last week's terri­

"I'm excited," he said. "I've been holding the ball around for the last few days, and I'm excited about the opportunity to make a donation with every home run."

"I look forward to having the opportunity to give back," he said.

Bonds has hit 64 home runs, one ahead of San Francisco's Barry Bonds as the Giants take the field after hitting a home-run game, 64 of the season, off of Houston Astros starting pitcher White Miller during the fifth inning in San Francisco on Thursday.

"I throw a changeup that missed a little bit low, then threw another one right down the middle and he crushed it," Miller said. "I knew hoping the ball would go down, but I was surprised."

Davis undergoes knee surgery

By John McCarren

DENVER — Off-season training back Terrill Davis, a four-year starter, underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee Wednesday evening.

Davis left the starting lineup in the second half of the team's 24-18 loss to Illinois last Saturday. He was observed limping off the field late in the third quarter and was said to have suffered a knee strain.

"It was a non-contact injury that occurred on a normal movement," Coach Tom Phenicie said. "It happened in practice earlier in the week."

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The month of May held offers you a good outlook when you "get your feet wet," but it promises to be much more difficult now. If you are not careful, you may be letting others take advantage of you. Like the past month, you may find it necessary to fight back against a friend's invasion of your privacy or a relative's, too. By the end of May, you may expect things to be much easier.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): The month is likely to bring a series of opportunities that will come to you and that many people will see. Be careful not to misplace your confidence and trust in others' abilities. These opportunities may come from the unexpected or from someone you least expected. Be careful not to let these opportunities pass by.

CANCER (June 21-July 20): This month is likely to bring a chance to use up some of the energy that you have been saving. Keep your eyes open, and be ready to act. The month is likely to bring a series of opportunities that will come to you and that many people will see. Be careful not to misplace your confidence and trust in others' abilities. These opportunities may come from the unexpected or from someone you least expected. Be careful not to let these opportunities pass by.

quote of the day

It's a preposterous, poorly written love letter to herself.

— AP entertainment writer Christy Lemire, on Mariah Carey's new movie, Glitter.
