Taliban unrelenting, U.S. says

By Kathy Gunem
Associated Press

KABUL, Afghanistan — The real test of the Taliban will begin Wednesday, as the Islamic sect will test its power by taking over the northern provinces of the country.

In the south, there are signs of fighting which she set to have risen up against the Taliban, insurgents launched a drive to displace the Taliban from the area.

The Taliban claims to have killed 11 people in the area since the start of the conflict.

"It is time for the rest of Afghanistan — particularly the ethnic groups in the south — to join the fighting against the Taliban," said a Taliban leader in Washington.

Oct. 17 after the Taliban refused to surrender his Taliban, whom he said they would not retreat in the military offensive against the Taliban.

Taliban officials insisted the balance of power remains balanced in the north. The Taliban have not brought any troops to the center right.

The government of the Taliban troops are being trained and equipped to support a broad-based government.

In new court, fewer rights, more secrecy

By Anne Garmon
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A military trial of terror suspects in the United States would have to include lawyers, a judge, and a judge, but not necessarily the US citizen among American court.

Terrorism with the assistance of the Taliban, the US military is currently investigating the case of the Taliban, the Taliban have not surrendered any troops to the center right.

The government of the Taliban troops are being trained and equipped to support a broad-based government.

Students to march to save cultural centers

By Peter Boyle
The Daily Iowan

A group of minority students will march across campus Friday to protest the UI's proposal of closing the Afro-American Cultural Center. The group, called "Move the

"The government of the Taliban troops are being trained and equipped to support a broad-based government."
Woman allegedly assaulted in her home

Police arrested a man Thursday night on assault and first-degree burglary charges for allegedly assualting an Iowa City woman in her home.

Iowa City police charged Lee Perry, 42, with three-degree assault and first-degree burglary on Thursday night after he allegedly entered into a residence and forced his way into the woman's home.

Perry mistook the woman's home for his own when he knocked on the back door of 845 Pepperwood Lane, J.C. Andantino said.

The woman was home when Perry knocked on the back door of her apartment at 8:00 p.m. She asked Perry who was there and when he did not reply to her she opened the door, police said.

A man dressed in blue jeans, shoes, a t-shirt and a cap entered the residence, police said. The woman told the man to leave but he refused to do so, police said.

Perry then returned to the residence and forced his way into the woman's apartment.

Police said when they arrived to the apartment Perry had barricaded the back door. The man was uncooperative with police when they arrived, police said.

Perry opened the back door and police ordered the man to leave.

Perry refused to leave the residence and police were forced to forcibly remove Perry from the residence.

Perry was being held in the Johnson County Jail on $25,000 bond. The bond hearing will take place at 10 a.m. Friday morning.

Perry was found guilty of theft in 1999 in Iowa City and was sentenced to 19 months in county jail.

-- by Mike Oar

Man charged with domestic assault

A man has been charged with second-degree domestic assault for allegedly pulling a woman's hair and throwing her onto the floor.

The incident occurred at 8:11 a.m. at 307 S. St. Mary St., Iowa City on Thursday, police said. A woman was talking with a friend who heard the woman screaming.

The woman was being assaulted by Perry, police said. She then returned to the residence that she shared with Perry and police were called to the apartment.

Perry was being held in the Johnson County Jail on $2,000 bond. The bond hearing will take place at 10 a.m. Friday morning.

-- by Mike Oar

Police Log

Lara Williams, 20, of West Liberty, was driving an international van southbound on U.S. 30 when the vehicle was struck by a minivan driven by a 38-year-old man from West Liberty.

Williams was not injured in the collision but the driver of the van was taken to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

A two-vehicle accident occurred on Sunday, Aug. 17, at 11:47 p.m. on U.S. 60 near the intersection of the Iowa State Fairgrounds.

One of the vehicles was a silver 1995 Honda Civic owned by a 25-year-old man from North Liberty.

The other vehicle was a silver Toyota Camry owned by a 22-year-old woman from Cedar Rapids.

The driver of the Civic was not seriously injured in the accident. The driver of the Camry was not injured.

A two-vehicle accident occurred on Sunday, Aug. 17, at 10:00 p.m. on U.S. 60 near the intersection of the Iowa State Fairgrounds.

One of the vehicles was a silver 1995 Honda Civic owned by a 25-year-old man from North Liberty.

The other vehicle was a silver Toyota Camry owned by a 22-year-old woman from Cedar Rapids.

The driver of the Civic was not seriously injured in the accident. The driver of the Camry was not injured.

A seven-vehicle accident occurred on Sunday, Aug. 17, at 9:45 p.m. on U.S. 60 near the intersection of the Iowa State Fairgrounds.

One of the vehicles was a silver 1995 Honda Civic owned by a 25-year-old man from North Liberty.

The other vehicle was a silver Toyota Camry owned by a 22-year-old woman from Cedar Rapids.

The driver of the Civic was not seriously injured in the accident. The driver of the Camry was not injured.
Hope House stays uncathed by budget knife

By Nick Markey
The Daily Iowan

Because the state's increased funding for the local justice system, officials say a local work-release center will not be closed during the fiscal year.

But officials with the Hope House in Coralville say that the budget knife could have eliminated the facility if the state had not increased funding during the fiscal year.

During a special session last week, state lawmakers agreed to increase funding for the facility by roughly $213,000.

With this added funding, 57 of the 67 total state officials had not been expected. A cut of that magnitude would have eliminated the Hope House, Johnson County government representatives said.

The Hope House is a residence facility that houses 67 Johnson County inmates. They have been released from jail under the stipulation that they are employed in a community work program.

The facility has a 61.8 million dollar budget for the fiscal year that begins July 1, 2002. When state officials met in January, 2003, they said that the facility had a $1.2 million dollar budget.

The facility's focus, however, was not on money or its future, but on the inmates that will be there during the fiscal year.

John Rice, Hope House administrator, said that the budget was not an issue for the facility.

"It's still a housing facility," Rice said. "It's not a big issue for us to deal with the finances."

Even if the state had not increased funding for the facility, it would have been restored for next year, but nothing would have been expected.

"According to revenue projections, we would turn a net money," Rice said. "We Bielokon, D-Iowa City, and Hope House is a better environment than keeping the residents in jail, and it prepares them to deal with employment after the release."

The legislature, in its opinion, was to keep the facility open, but what would happen if the state did not increase funding for the facility?

The legislature signed the legislation to continue. Rice said that the facility would be closed if the state did not increase funding for it.

The facility has been utilized for the past 26 years, and the facility has been restored for the past 26 years.

"We are more than happy to keep them in there, but we are not happy that we are doing it," Rice said. "We wait a month and a half? I don't want to be passive."
CITY, NATION & WORLD

Coyleman warns of grim situation

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

A New England college is offering students the ability to graduate in that same academic term — for a price. Western Connecticut State University in Danbury is offering a four-year degree completion program, beginning in fall 2002, that allows students to complete their education in three years if they take 18 credits during one 13-week semester. The university will offer a variety of courses, including business, education, and the arts, in a model that will be tested in a pilot program.

"The college has a long-standing commitment to making higher education accessible and affordable to all students," said President John D. Liebman. "In today's academic climate, our students and their families are facing increasing financial pressures. By offering this plan, we are providing an alternative to the traditional four-year degree completion plan, allowing students to graduate in three years.

"We are excited to offer this new program to our students, as it will provide them with the opportunity to complete their degree in a shorter amount of time, while also reducing the cost of tuition and fees," said Liebman. "Our goal is to make higher education more accessible to all students, and we believe that this program will help us achieve that goal.

"We are committed to providing our students with a quality education, and we believe that this new program will help us achieve that goal," said Liebman. "We are excited to offer this new program to our students, as it will provide them with the opportunity to complete their degree in a shorter amount of time, while also reducing the cost of tuition and fees."
War plan revamped after Taliban retreats

By Robert Burns
Associated Press
WASHINGTON - The new commander of the U.S. war in Afghanistan has ordered a review of the military's options on sudden success, is preparing to walk at least 70,000 troops back to the border, is planning to shrink the footprint of U.S. forces and is looking to leverage the presence of 109,000 allied troops.

Allied commanders hold up the disbandment of the Taliban as their top priority, and it has become clear that the NATO mission is shifting away from combat and toward reconstruction.

The U.S. military has started preparing for a worst-case scenario in which the Taliban could quickly regroup and launch a counterattack, and it has begun to develop contingency plans to secure the country if the Taliban take control.

In the meantime, the U.S. military is focusing on training and equipping the Afghan forces, which are expected to take the lead in fighting the Taliban.

Red Cross: Funds for Sept. 11 victims only

By Shannon McCartney
Washington Post

WASHINGTON - The American Red Cross said Wednesday that it would disburse $1 billion to help Sept. 11 victims and their families.

The Red Cross plans to distribute the money in the next six months, with the maximum amount going to families of the dead and injured.

The Red Cross said it will also provide aid to victims who are still recovering from their injuries.

The Red Cross has come under scrutiny in recent weeks for its handling of donations and the way it has allocated funds.

Red Cross officials have been asked to explain how the money was distributed and whether it was used for intended purposes.

The Red Cross said it plans to use a combination of traditional fundraising methods and new technologies to reach out to donors.

The Red Cross has also been criticized for not providing enough information about how donations are used.

The Red Cross said it is working to improve communication and transparency with donors.

What the future holds for the Red Cross is unclear, but the organization said it remains committed to helping Sept. 11 victims and their families.

CATALINAS CYCLING

By S. Gilbert
USA Today

S. Gilbert is a columnist for the USA Today, and his columns appear regularly on the sports page.

He can be reached at sgilbert@usatoday.com.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City News - Thursday, November 15, 2001 - 5A

NATION

CORRECTION NOTED

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, The Daily Iowan erroneously printed the Alley Cat Studios name. Wednesday Night Light Bicycles' promotion deal was supposed to be The Alley Cat Studios' name, but it was misprinted as Alley Cat Studios. We regret the inconvenience to The Alley Cat Studios.

Please read, then recycle your Daily Iowan.
The Daily Iowan

EDITORIAL BOARD
JOSEPH PLAMECKI Editor
ANHANDA MANN Lifestyles Editor
CORY MEIER Online Editor
AHMAD HASAN Sports Editor
CHAO XIONG News Editor
MAKAYLA MILLER Features Editor
AMIR GILMORE Graphics Editor
MICELA WELDON Copy Editor
EDITORIALS select the policy opinions at the Daily Iowan board and are written by editors or members of the Daily Iowan. All opinions are the opinions of the writers and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Daily Iowan news staff.

EDITORIALS
Calling for better communication

There are many good ways to represent the views of a student body in a two-party system. In a complicated university environment, students are continually faced with problems that must be addressed in a timely and effective manner. It is important for students to organize themselves into a community that will allow for open communication between the student Union and the university administration.

Guest Opinion - Battling a habit on the Great American Smokeout

The first time I was in front of my dad, I was 15, smoking Camel Light. We were at a wine tasting at a nearby hotel.

"I was terrible," my dad said as he lit his first Camel Light.

"I knew I didn't want him to smoke, but I didn't know how to help him," my dad said.

The letter to the editor, "Thanks for the help," is a response to the previous letter from the father of a non-smoker who discovered his son smoking. The letter to the editor expresses gratitude to the father of the non-smoker for being a role model and for helping his son quit smoking.

Letter to the Editor

Thanks for the help

In my campaign against smoking, I've discovered my son's strong desire to continue his smoking habit. He's been going to great lengths to hide his cigarette butts from me. I've tried everything to help him quit, but I'm beginning to doubt my ability to do so. I'm worried that he won't be able to quit on his own.

Unfortunately, I'm not alone in my struggle. Many parents are facing the same challenge. It's important for us to work together to find solutions that will help our children quit smoking.

Suzi Steffen

Editor, Daily Iowan

Writing with responsibility

As a student journalist, I have the privilege of representing the voices of our community. I understand that my words carry weight and can shape the way people perceive certain issues. Therefore, I take my role as a writer very seriously.

It is crucial for me to consider the impact of my writing on others. My goal is to write with empathy, understanding, and sensitivity. I strive to present ideas in a clear and concise manner, while also being mindful of the potential for my writing to influence readers.

I believe that as a student journalist, it is my responsibility to present information in a responsible and ethical manner. I have the power to shape conversations and spark meaningful discussions among our peers. Let us use our platform responsibly and thoughtfully.

Suzi Steffen

Editor, Daily Iowan

On the Spot

Should the UI reestablish credit classes for the kaw do and kickboxing?

"We are not sure yet," the UI spokesperson said.

"It would be interesting to see how it would impact our community," another spokesperson added.

Suzi Steffen

Editor, Daily Iowan

Qoteworthy

It's important, especially from the fact we are mark making our second major event untried when we are approaching the third one," said Professor Mark, who lead the team.

"I think it will be a great opportunity for us to work with a new and varied audience," said. Professor Smith, also a team member.

John Robers

UI City Weekly
Call off the soldier-police

With the National Guard in war ports and at various logistical storage facilities, it may be time to ask what we're doing there. As our national leaders are talking about expanding the role of the military in federal law enforcement, please take this chance to remind them of a few things.

Sen. Warren R. Johnson, D-N.H., has proposed expanding federal power under the Posse Comitatus Act and the Defense Authorization Act. Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole of Kansas, Senate Majority Whip Bob Dole of Kansas, and Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle of South Dakota, have all expressed interest in expanding the role of the military in law enforcement.

American and English history depend on us as to what we believe about these expanded powers. As early as the 13th century, England and America were united in their desire to prevent domestic and foreign foes. In America, we were founded on the assumption that we are a country and our laws are intended to protect us in all circumstances they might have been confronted. That is why Americans were disgusted by the civil immorality that the king granted his soldiers prior to the Revolutionary War. The abuses by the British military brought about many public guardians to the Constitution to prevent standing or independent military power to civil authority. From Andrew Jackson, the first president, to Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president, the United States has been united in its desire to prevent standing or independent military power to civil authority. From Andrew Jackson, the first president, to Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president, the United States has been united in its desire to prevent standing or independent military power to civil authority.

According to the Posse Comitatus Act, the military cannot be used to enforce federal laws. The act states that "no person in the military service of the United States shall, except in cases of actual insurrection, rebellion, or invasion, be subjected to the military law of the United States prior to being enrolled in the service of the United States." The act was passed in 1878, which forbade the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.

Of course, even with these protections, America has been torn between the need to use the military for law enforcement purposes. After the Cold War, military troops were used broadly for law enforcement in

James Eaves-Johnson

In Defense of Law, Liberty and Protections

The North, Federal abuses of power in the South gave rise to the Posse Comitatus Act of 1875, which forbids the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.

Of course, even with these protections, America has been torn between the need to use the military for law enforcement purposes. After the Cold War, military troops were used broadly for law enforcement in

James Eaves-Johnson

In Defense of Law, Liberty and Protections

The North, Federal abuses of power in the South gave rise to the Posse Comitatus Act of 1875, which forbids the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.

Of course, even with these protections, America has been torn between the need to use the military for law enforcement purposes. After the Cold War, military troops were used broadly for law enforcement in

James Eaves-Johnson

In Defense of Law, Liberty and Protections

The North, Federal abuses of power in the South gave rise to the Posse Comitatus Act of 1875, which forbids the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.

Of course, even with these protections, America has been torn between the need to use the military for law enforcement purposes. After the Cold War, military troops were used broadly for law enforcement in

James Eaves-Johnson

In Defense of Law, Liberty and Protections

The North, Federal abuses of power in the South gave rise to the Posse Comitatus Act of 1875, which forbids the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.

Of course, even with these protections, America has been torn between the need to use the military for law enforcement purposes. After the Cold War, military troops were used broadly for law enforcement in

James Eaves-Johnson

In Defense of Law, Liberty and Protections

The North, Federal abuses of power in the South gave rise to the Posse Comitatus Act of 1875, which forbids the use of the military to enforce the laws of the United States. Even so, it did not stop the federal government from using troops to end a minor strike in 1879. The law was not effective and the Posse Comitatus Act was never enforced.

Many members of the National Guard were asked to use force during the Vietnam War. This was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act, and it was considered an act of law enforcement. The National Guard is a state-oriented military force, and it is not considered part of the federal government. It is possible that the National Guard was asked to use force during the Vietnam War, but it was not in accordance with the Posse Comitatus Act.

The purpose here, however, is not to suggest that law enforcement should be the responsibility of the military. Rather, it is to suggest that the military is not the appropriate force to use in law enforcement. The military is trained to defend against external threats, not to enforce federal laws. The military should not be used to enforce federal laws, as this would not prevent the military from being involved in the enforcement of federal laws.
New day, new life in Kabul

By Kathy Gunn

KABUL, Afghanistan-After their first 90 days in prison, four gay men were released Wednesday for the first time since the Taliban seized power. While most of the city still wore burqas, Kabul had some women who identified themselves as transvestites. They were planning to take off their burqas. Now, there is hope.

"It was a really difficult time. The Taliban ruled with an iron fist. Now, it's a new day, a new life," said one of the women. "We are free."

The freedom was short-lived, however. The four were re-arrested Wednesday as a judge denounced by the gay community during the trial denounced by the judge. The trial was a sensationalistic one, prompting cries of joy from some. It seemed the Taliban were finally paying for their crimes.

At the Foreign Ministry, representatives who had worked under the Taliban, and under the new regime, welcomed them. The media waited for their instructions. They sat in chairs on the pavement, waiting for their sentences to be read.

"They are not talking about our freedom," said a woman wearing a burqa. "They are only talking about our crimes."

There was also speculation that the Taliban would soon return to the capital that he had left behind.

"We might see, but we don't know anything," said one of the women. "We are afraid."

Meanwhile, uniformed police wielding sticks drove some of the group with masks fashioned from plastic bags. A gun-toting guard at a house abandoned by the former AI Qaeda allies were on patrol. The Koran, Islam's holy book; police wielding sticks drove the young men's legs with sticks. The Koran, Islam's holy book; police wielding sticks drove the young men's hands with sticks.

"We are afraid," said one of the women. "We are afraid of the government."

Men armed with guns and jeeps were parked outside the Intercontinental Hotel. There were a crowd of foreign journalists waiting for their instructions.

At UI Family Care, our goal is to provide quality health care to you and your family. From your first visit, you'll see that patient relationships are our top priority, as we treat each other with respect.

Winona LaDuke

Environment and Justice from a Native Perspective

November 15, 2001

At UI Family Care, our goal is to provide quality health care to you and your family. From your first visit, you'll see that patient relationships are our top priority, as we treat each other with respect.

Winona LaDuke

Environment and Justice from a Native Perspective

November 15, 2001

At UI Family Care, our goal is to provide quality health care to you and your family. From your first visit, you'll see that patient relationships are our top priority, as we treat each other with respect.

Winona LaDuke

Environment and Justice from a Native Perspective

November 15, 2001
Gophers not quitting on this year

By Todd Buchanan

At 3-6, the Minnesota Golden Gophers have little more to prove for this season than to encourage their fans who have already been dashed, coach Glen Mason said from feeding up shop on the 2001 season.

"I've always thought that's where people hate it, because of its scope or not. They think, 'Oh, well, let's see, they can't go to a bowl game,' but the team starts preparing for next year," he said. "How you start preparing for next year is what I think the key to this year." Mason needs the season for the young Gophers to improve. Mason, who also is coaching his first year at Iowa's helm, is stepping into a situation in which the Hawkeyes still are in the running to become bowl-eligible, he knows the Hawke would have the motivation to play the role of spoilers for the Hawkeyes and Big Ten rivals.

"That should motivate a team, to be a spoiler," he added reporters during his weekly press conference. "You go out there and try to do your best all the time, regardless of whom you're playing against and what's your situation."

While the start of the season in Mississippi State to be in the 2000 campaign, Mason remains clearly focused on the Hawkeyes. The Golden Gophers survived a serious threat from Iowa last season in the Midwestome, winning 7-74. That was then, this is now, Mason said.

"In Iowa, he was a beast that was imposing from last year. "Someone asked me if there was a duck hunt in the house. I don't know what that was. But if there is such a thing, it would have been Iowa," he added. "I think the way things unfold, they could have been eight in the mix of things in that game, even more than they are right now." Mason has said the Hawkeyes needing a sixth victory to become bowl-eligible.

"We have a tough task to front of us - Iowa is a hard place to play," he said. "But the attitude of our team has been very good. We've always had tremendous effort out of our players, and I expect the same Saturday against the Hawkeyes."

IOWA 90, BOSTON 61

Blowout 2

The Hawkeyes run their second straight non-conference opponent of the Guardians Classic

By Tyler Lichtenberg

For Only 10 seconds

These Territories were not lost.

The Boston University Terriers have lost their first two non-conference games of the season, and coach Steve Schnitker's team will be looking for a win at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. The Terriers are coming from the Northeast Conference.

The Terriers began the season with a 79-77

loss

against Bryant, and lost 97-61 to New Hampshire last week.

The loss to New Hampshire was the Terriers' first loss ever against a Big Ten school.

The Terriers have struggled to make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.

"It's been a tough season for us," Schnitker said. "We're just trying to build some confidence and get back to playing the way we did last season.

"I think our biggest problem is that we're not shooting the ball well enough.

"The Terriers have struggled to

make shots in all games this season, shooting 39.7 percent in the win over Bryant and 38.3 percent in the loss to New Hampshire.

The Terriers have had

limited success in non-conference games in recent years, winning just

three of their last 12 non-conference games.
Duke, Krzyzewski agree to long contract

By Aaron Bond
Associated Press

DURHAM, N.C. — Mike Krzyzewski now has a whole lot of job security to go with his two national titles at Duke. The Blue Devils coach agreed Wednesday that he will remain with the Blue Devils through at least 2011, extending an extraordinary run that already has produced three NCAA championships, six ACC titles and 500 victories.

It is the rest of this much-coveted career and beyond, taking the Blue Devils to the next level, that will be the most difficult challenge for Krzyzewski and the Blue Devils during the next several years.

"This is a great day for me and my family," Krzyzewski said after authorities said he was shot during a robbery attempt at his home late Tuesday night.

The 52-year-old Krzyzewski is the most successful coach in Division I history. He has won 921 games at Duke, including 29 in a row in 1991-92. He is the only coach in history to win six national championships, with the Blue Devils winning the ACC title in 1983, '88, '91 and '92, and the NCAA title in '89, '92 and '95.

"This is a great day for me and my family," Krzyzewski said. "I feel very thankful and very privileged to have a chance to continue to be the coach at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill."

"I feel like I'm still taking a shot at a coach," he said. "You get out of the job and you won't get the better job, at least for the next 10 years.

Duke Athletic Director Joe Alleva said the "messages are strong," both in terms of the university's future and Krzyzewski's personal ambitions both as an coach and as an ambassador of the university. A native of New York City, Krzyzewski is a New York City native and a New Jersey native.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

Duke officials also said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.

Duke officials and Krzyzewski said the specific terms of the new four-year deal will be made public later this week.

"We think he is in the best interest of the university and are delighted he is committing to remain at Duke until he passes away," Alleva said.
Faulk, Canidate lead Rams' rushing attack

By Jon Salut
Associated Press

ST. LOUIS — Marshall Faulk, the NFL's rushing leader, turned in another record-breaking second-half performance to help the Rams defeat Carolina, 48-14.

Faulk, Canidate lead Rams' rushing attack

Rams' running attack provides balance

By Barry Wilner

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. — Zach Thomas and the New York Jets aren't really such a bad team. He also said he hasn't been too much fun with the words he's used to describe his team since their last loss, his Miami Dolphins last month.

Thomas admitted he's listened to Cohen's classic about Faulk, smith in the NFC South with 199 yards rushing and 5.9 yards a carry and tied for ninth in scoring. He caught 43 passes for 531 yards. "And when he's like that, you've got to start handing him the ball. It's like that most of the time."
Michigan State gets big win over No. 25 Oklahoma

East Lansing, Mich. (AP) — Adam Ballinger was more excited about improving his team's home winning streak than the fact he was shooting or rebounding.

"I'm just happy we won the game," Ballinger said. "I didn't even notice I made a few shots."

The 1906 Chicago White Sox went 116-46, breaking the 1990 Athletics' record of 133-47.

Michigan State's Adam Ballinger puts up a shot against Oklahoma's Joshua Gilbert during the first half Wednesday at East Lansing, Mich. No. 8 Missouri 86, Air Force 58.

Detroit Free Press

Ballinger said. "I like to get it in there and play hard."

Coach Rick Barnes said. "You can't be too relaxed in this game, you have to get used to playing with some key players in the game."
Baseball antitrust bill introduced

By Ronald Blum

NEW YORK — Legislation designed to keep baseball from ever folding again, by changing the way owners do business and sharing financial information, was introduced in Congress on Wednesday to allow lawsuits against baseball's decision to fold the Chicago Whitesox.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Earl Blumenauer, a Democrat from Oregon, who is a member of the House Judiciary Committee. He said the bill would allow owners to share financial information with the public and allow lawsuits to be filed against owners.

"Owners must comply with the antitrust laws, just like the rest of the country," Blumenauer said. "That's the only way for owners to be able to act in the best interest of the fans and the team."
SPORTS

Maryland, Syracuse can claim conference crowns

By Richard Hood

Assistant Press

This could be a week to remember for college football's surprise teams.

As the East, Maryland and Syracuse are poised to become sizable conference champions, Thompson has always been known for being a strong offensive team, while the defense has been weak. But has proven the past few years that they can compete with the best.

In between, Illinois is in the thick of the Big Ten race. So far, Illinois has been a surprise team that has been able to dominate. Their defense has been strong, and their offense has been potent.

This week, the focus will be on the conference championships. Maryland and Syracuse are the only teams that have a shot at the championship.

On Saturday, the game between the two teams will be the most anticipated of the week. Maryland and Syracuse are both in the top 25 and are looking to solidify their spots in the championship.

The picks: Maryland -3

In preparation for this week's games, here is a look at some of the key matchups:

- LSU at Tennessee: LSU is the No. 1 team in the country and is looking to solidify their spot at the top. Tennessee is a strong team, but LSU is the clear favorite. The picks: LSU -14.5

- Ohio State at Michigan: This is a big game for both teams. Ohio State is No. 2 in the country, while Michigan is No. 3. The picks: Ohio State -3

- Notre Dame at Florida: This is a key game for both teams. Notre Dame is No. 4 in the country, while Florida is No. 5. The picks: Florida -3.5

- Texas at Oklahoma: This is a big game for the Big 12. Texas is No. 7 in the country, while Oklahoma is No. 8. The picks: Texas -4.5

- Stanford at Oregon: This is a key game for both teams. Stanford is No. 9 in the country, while Oregon is No. 10. The picks: Stanford -1

- USC at UCLA: This is a key game for both teams. USC is No. 11 in the country, while UCLA is No. 12. The picks: USC -6

- Miami at Florida State: This is a key game for both teams. Miami is No. 13 in the country, while Florida State is No. 14. The picks: Florida State -4.5

- Georgia at Florida: This is a key game for both teams. Georgia is No. 15 in the country, while Florida is No. 16. The picks: Florida -2.5

- Virginia at Virginia Tech: This is a key game for both teams. Virginia is No. 17 in the country, while Virginia Tech is No. 18. The picks: Virginia Tech -1

- Boston College at Wake Forest: This is a key game for both teams. Boston College is No. 19 in the country, while Wake Forest is No. 20. The picks: Boston College -1.5

- Temple at UConn: This is a key game for both teams. Temple is No. 21 in the country, while UConn is No. 22. The picks: Temple -1.5

- Iowa at Penn State: This is a key game for both teams. Iowa is No. 23 in the country, while Penn State is No. 24. The picks: Penn State -3

- Temple at UConn: This is a key game for both teams. Temple is No. 21 in the country, while UConn is No. 22. The picks: Temple -1.5

- Iowa at Penn State: This is a key game for both teams. Iowa is No. 23 in the country, while Penn State is No. 24. The picks: Penn State -3
NOW HIRING KITCHEN STAFF
Apply with in 10 S.
Clear Creek Amana High School
Activity Custodian
Send application to: Tom McDonald, Principal
PO Box 199
Middle, IA 52307

ACT
ACT
ACT
ACT

THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD BLANK

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24

Name __________________________ Address __________________________ Zip __________________________ Phone __________________________

Write ad using one word per blank. Minimum ad is 10 words.
For complete TV listings and program guides, check out Arts and Entertainment at www.dailyiowan.com.

The Ledge
By Scott Adams

quote of the day
It will be sexy. It will be racy.
— Ed Razek, Victoria's Secret marketing director, on "The Victoria's Secret Fashion Show," airing as a one-hour special at 8 p.m. Thursday on ABC — the first-ever network broadcast of the annual event.

horoscopes
Thursday, November 1, 2001
by Eugenie Last

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You've been working too hard and need some time to relax. Glory to yourself. You mean a lot to a good friend who has a weekend fantasy with you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Prepare for the weekend. A few obligations by your partner will make it more comfortable. This is a good day to entertain. You can help a friend with financial problems by setting up a feasible budget.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Put your thoughts on paper. You can get your point across if you are precise. Ask for assistance. If your line is sound, people will want to help you get off the ground.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You will probably end up with more responsibilities. Don't make promises you may not be able to keep. Try to keep optimism to yourself. You don't want to make anyone nervous.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's time to put your life in perspective. Gambling is a waste of money. Save what makes sense for a rainy day. Your time is better spent on physical fitness programs or competitive sports.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Clear the decks so you'll be able to get organized. Keep busy, or emotional problems will surface. Someone you care about may cause you emotional problems, which could lead to trouble.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Do some research about new acquaintances and protect yourself. Avoid being caught in a position of weakness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) There is no time for fun. You have too much to contribute financially. Let him or her down easy. You need a vacation or a break to receive SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You will be more serious than usual. Keep busy with enjoyable activities, if at all possible. Hit the office.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This isn't the day to get away. If you plan to get the boss handle, wait until after the weekend. There is a special project for areas of need and then operate yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You'll attract attention, and perhaps a special person. If you're at least reserved or cautious, opportunities will present themselves. Your unique ideas and innovative plans will impress others.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) This is not the time to check out. Prepare your home for an upcoming event. Don't let the worry pope your head. This is a day to share with the people you care most about.

Debra Sponiger

public access tv schedule
11 a.m. The Life of Bucky Badger
12:30 p.m. Iowa Insider Premiere
1:00 p.m. Food Fitness & Fun
1:30 p.m. Women's Art Workshop
2:00 p.m. 24:7 — Returning to God
2:45 p.m. Midwest voice of Christ
3:30 p.m. Fixing a Home
4:30 p.m. Women's Art Exhibit
5:00 p.m. The Amazing Race
6:00 p.m. The Amazing Race
7:00 p.m. 24:7 — Returning to God
8:00 p.m. Food Fitness & Fun
9:00 p.m. Women's Art Workshop
10:00 p.m. The Amazing Race
11:00 p.m. 24:7 — Returning to God
12:00 a.m. Food Fitness & Fun
1:00 a.m. Women's Art Workshop
2:00 a.m. The Amazing Race
3:00 a.m. 24:7 — Returning to God
4:00 a.m. Women's Art Exhibit
5:00 a.m. The Amazing Race

Crossword
Edited by Wil Shortz

No. 1004

ANSWERS TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE
1. Newspaper
5. Potassium
8. Bales
10. 35,000 minus
12. 33
13. Steaming
15. 48
4. Conlett
2. 120,000
3. Catechism
7. Your absence
9. 250,000
11. 10
14. 15
16. 140

THE DAILY IOWAN
For home delivery, phone 335-5783
Dignity is not a symbol bestowed on man, nor does the word itself possess force. Man's dignity is a force and the only modus vivendi by which man and his history survive. When mid-20th century Germany did not let man live and die with this right, man became an animal. No matter how technologically advanced or sophisticated, when man negates this divine right, he not only becomes self-destructive but castrates his history and poisons our future.

This is what The Nazi Drawings is about.

— Mauricio Lasansky, 1966
SUNDAY

MUSIC:
Greg Brown, Mil., 6 p.m., $15 in advance, $18 at door, HiFi.
Phish/Winchester Orchestra.
Lincoln Center, 9 p.m., free.
LOU LEFRECHTE, vocal, and BOB MEGRAW, piano.
Drake, 7 p.m., free.
DUANEOX, Groove, 7:30 p.m., free.
MATT LESS, comics.
Museum of Art, through Dec. 16.

TUESDAY

MUSIC:
Tuesdays, 9 p.m., free.

GABES

T.H.A.W., Benefits (BSN).
TICKETS AVAILABLE AT GABES.COM OR CALL 319-337-8434.

WORKSHOPS:
Oka Gray Johnson, workshop.
Artspace, 8 p.m., free.

CONTINUING EXHIBITIONS:

INFORMATION:
563-337-8434
GABES.COM

WEDNESDAY

MUSIC:
Plato Brown and Dustin Davis with The Dependants of Saint Paul, Drake, 9 p.m.

THURSDAY

MUSIC:
Jesse @$ka, Wonder Bar, 9 p.m., $5.

GABES.COM
www.GABES.COM

WEB SITE:
GABES.COM/TICKETS

THEATER:
SWING/DANCE, 9 p.m., free.

THEMED:
 meditation & music, 8:30 p.m., free.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

THEMED:
 meditation & music, 8:30 p.m., free.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

INFORMATION:
GABES.COM/REGISTRATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA, IOWA CITY, IOWA

000-000-0000

www.GABES.COM

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18

EARN $20/HOUR!

MCAT MCAT MCAT MCAT

GABES.COM/TICKETS

SMOOTH SAILING TO SUCCESS

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

the University of Iowa Arts Council Presents

BETTER THAN EZRA

IN CONCERT

City Federal Credit Union Presents

HOLIDAY WORKSHOP MARKET

Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union
Saturday, November 17th 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday, November 18th 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.
GoShaw off the shallow romantic comedy, or you can't help but feel those scenes make you discover the truth about the movie.

GoShaw off the shallow romantic comedy, or you can't help but feel those scenes make you discover the truth about the movie.
A note of gratitude, a request for remembrance

Let us hope that we never forget the Nazi regime and those of us who, by the "whom" being almost invariable at the ignorance of our nation's climate, we will open our arms to the possibility of a Holocaust repeat.

The Holocaust, and in turn the State, should remain forever rooted in the minds of not only Jews but in that of the people of all nations. I know that this isn't easy, and I know the temptation is great for many to want to forget that awful part of history, but it's extremely important, even if we don't want to think about it.

This is not an original revolution; I'll admit, I sort of borrowed it from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much. They are teachers, writers, survivors, and activists.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

This does not come from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

This does not come from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

This does not come from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

This does not come from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

This does not come from a professor that I have learned more from, and have more respect for than any other on this campus. Though he did not experience the Holocaust firsthand, he is a Jew and a rabbi, and by teaching us about the political and emotional class (the Bible and the Holocaust), he is helping us to never suffer the same fate.

This year, and every year, Tuesday and Thursday, when we will open our eyes and hearts, we will open our minds. When, like antennas, to the sputtering pulse of Colin Greenwood's guitar, there is something we have both realized is too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.

Drew Bixby

And even still, there are those who insist the Holocaust never happened — ignorant people who disgust me and for whom I have no respect.

I leave this class with heavy eyes and heavy heart. I feel that there isn't something we would not normally think about on a daily basis, it's something we have both realized in too important to ever forget.

There are many people just like my professor who are helping preserve the memory of the Holocaust, people I respect very much.