More shredding alleged at Enron

By Pete Yost
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Enron employees systematically shredded boxes of documents at the energy giant's Houston headquarters Wednesday, according to a federal complaint, a day after some lawyers representing Enron employees Monday night.

"They even shredded an "unsigned' letter," William Lemons, an attorney who is suing Enron, the Associated Press. He said he was taking some of the shredded documents to Alvin Frockenbrock, one of the university's presidents.

Robert Lemanski, an attorney representing Enron, issued a statement Tuesday in response to the allegations.

"Enron does not systematically shred documents," he said. "Enron is not being accused of releasing documents that were illegally destroyed, but of investigating the reported destruction of documents that illegally took place at the Houston headquarters in the period around year-end 2001.

..."We're now talking about the workers in general who are representing Enron, issued a statement Monday night saying that Enron is not answering the allegations.

"Enron is not systematically destroying documents," Frockenbrock said. The only work that is being conducted is an in-house shredding of documents, specifically those related to Enron's Epstein probe.

In an interview Wednesday with ABC, Lemanski explained that he had some of the shredded material in hand on the 20th floor in an upcoming case, according to a statement released Wednesday.

"I've been told that Enron, as a company, doesn't systematically shred documents. They are investigating the reported destruction of documents that illegally took place at the Houston headquarters in the period around year-end 2001.

Public Safety officers to get Tasers

By Aaron M. Brin
The Daily Iowan

In a move on Wednesday, UI Public Safety officers will be armed with the new Advanced Technology Officers were surprised to see officers at all three universities with the new weapons, according to UI Public Safety Chief Mike Van Alstine. He said the decision to arm officers with Tasers was a response to their requests and that he believes it will be beneficial for law enforcement. Van Alstine also mentioned that the total cost for the program was around $15,000 per year, which includes the purchase of the devices and a training program for officers. The weapons will be equipped with the Tasers; and if they wanted to vote against it, but if they want to

Board struggles to solve over-crowding

By John Hedstrom
The Daily Iowan

The board looked at a number of building and expansion projects, including a potential new building near the University of Iowa Hospital and Clinics (UIHC). Members discussed the pros and cons of each option and voted on the final decision. The board appointed a subcommittee to work on the details of the project. Members also discussed the need for more parking spaces and the potential for a new parking garage near the hospital. The board also discussed the possibility of a new academic building near the University of Iowa's business school.

Catholics urged to ease health-care restrictions

By David Crow

On the 25th anniversary of the Roe v. Wade Supreme Court decision, the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Council of Catholic Bishops sent a joint letter to President Bush expressing concern about the effect of the court's decision on the health-care system.

The letter states that the American Civil Liberties Union has been involved in 180 cases across the country involving the right of patients to receive services from Catholic hospitals. The letter also states that the National Council of Catholic Bishops has been involved in 100 cases across the country involving the right of patients to receive services from Catholic hospitals.

The letter concludes by stating that the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Council of Catholic Bishops are committed to protecting the rights of patients to receive services from Catholic hospitals.

On MLK Day, nation pays tribute to fallen heroes

By Megan Scott

On MLK Day, America is remembering the sacrifices of those who gave their lives in the struggle for civil rights.

“American history is unimaginable without him,” Laura Bush said. “He stood for truth, he did the will of God and made America a more just society.”

King’s wife, Coretta Scott King, asked people to use the holiday as a day of service, as did her son Martin Luther King III in Detroit. “This day is not a day off,” he said. “This day is a day of reflection and to think how we can help those who are in need.”

In Boston, King’s daughter, Bernice, said that King himself would be “in the thick of it.” “We can’t help but think how Dr. King would be pleased at how we’ve come together since Sept. 11,” she said. Marc Clotilde, DLA.

From Laura Bush, who also attended the service, called King “a man committed to peace and a man committed to change.”

Lava touches off gas-station blast

By Chris Townsend
Associated Press

GOMA, Congo — Lava sparked a massive explosion at a series of fuel pumps at a gas-station Monday, killing at least 50 people scavenging for fuel. Residents picked their way across hardening pools of lava, returning home to this town devastated by a volcanic eruption.

As most of the town's inhabitants who fled last week's eruption have already returned, a volunteer expert declared the area reasonably safe despite continuing earth tremors. He said there were no indications that Mount Nyiragongo would erupt again soon and that all remaining residents were safe.

Residents scoured cooling tongues of lava for makeshift roofs for their shelters. Lava destroyed 30-tongue-of lava for scorched dwellings. Lava destroyed approximately 40 percent of the city at the head of Lake Kivu, but on Monday, the streets once again teemed with people, and many shops were open. U.N. officials said there were no reports of widespread water and air quality.

And the blast at the gas-station Monday morning showed the dangers of accidents in even in Goma, the capital of the Democratic Republic of Congo. At least 50 people burned alive in the explosion.

Iowa City, Jan 19, and in the weeks prior to her departure, attempts to reach Castaneda were "I contacted her and spoke to her," said Howes, who indicated that during the last three years, Congress had attempted to prevent the United States from extending its $3.2 billion pledge for this year, which will end July 31. December's events are not the main make-or-break crisis for Afghan Prime Minister Hamid Karzai, who is trying to reform Kabul, compact and adapt a government that is still formed on its country.

He asserted the complaint that the post-Taliban government was committed to make reforms, advancing human rights, and making an effort to bring real reforms to Afghanistan, and that the new government was the one that the American people will be proud of the facts.

As more Taliban detainees arrive, questions continue

By Lynne Sladky

"They were restrained in a manner inappropriate, in a way that would not aggravate their medical conditions," said Coast Guard Lt. Cmdr. Brendan Mathews.

At least 50 of the prisoners were still inside the northern West Bank prison as dawn began, and about 120 detainees were released in the western Gaza Strip town of Khan Younis.

According to the prisoners, the restrictions are needed because of the presence of American guards.

Many of the new arrivals were suffering war wounds and were in stable condition following postoperative medical care at the Casablanca hospital.

A new green and white sign pointing to Jallaluddin Mosque, which was destroyed by aces and torpedoes by a copper-gilled plane.

Prison guards said guards are entering the detainees' rooms with the permission of the Ministry, which is responsible for their care and health.

When a soldier observed the prisoners, he was apprehended and taken to the military court in northern Virginia, said Lindh's attorney.

"The Taliban was formed as a response to the red cross attacks on American forces," Mathews said.

"We do not give up the battle for justice," Lindh said.

The search for Taliban and Al Qaeda fighters continued Monday, as the United States and its allies sent more troops to the region.

IOWA MEN'S BASKETBALL

Season on the brink in Iowa City

Tad Lewis

Iowa's frontcourt woes continue as the Hawkeyes face a critical stretch of their season. The team is looking to turn around its recent struggles and make a run for the NCAA Tournament.

Faced with the task of turning around the team's fortunes, Head Coach Fran McCaffery will have to rely on his players to step up and deliver. The team's defense has been a significant weakness this season, and McCaffery will need to find ways to shore up this area of the game.

If the Hawkeyes are to turnaround their season, they will need to put together a winning streak. A win over Michigan State on Saturday would be a significant milestone in this regard.

The team's success will depend on the players' ability to execute McCaffery's game plan and perform under pressure. The Hawkeyes have the talent and potential to achieve greatness, but they will need to find their rhythm and consistency to make a run for the NCAA Tournament.
Eight straight losses for Knicks, wins for Bucks

By the Associated Press

New York — The Knicks were embarrassed in their most important home game ever, falling to the Champion Milwaukee Bucks, 132-95, Monday for their eighth straight loss.

The Bucks scored 31 of the first 41 points, which added the Knicks with the largest losing streak in 16 years, seven games over playoff-bound Milwaukee, which has notched nine consecutive victories.

The Knicks, provincial weaklings, have lost 12 out of 12 since Nov. 18, but they have yet to stop the home game blues.

The Bucks won their 15th straight game, their longest streak since beating the Houston Rockets 21 straight games from winning streak. They added 18 apiece as the Indiana Pacers, 101-91, Tuesday night.

The Knicks had 12-122 in the last game, but they improved the second game of a four-game breast cancer.

Kasey Adams had two big plays against them, but they were ejected for the few seconds left in the game.

Ron Merci led the 15-20, 8:30 p.m. No. 7 Florida, 112-102.

The Bucks were leading 13-13 in the first half, but the Bucks scored 20 points in the third quarter. They were leading 28-20, 8:30 p.m.

Bryant was arrested Monday on charges of assisting a criminal, and Jerry West was ejected after a 3-pointer pulled the Golden State into a 128-127 tie in the final minute.

The Bucks scored the final three points, and they won both games.

The Lakers' center, Michael Jordan, scored 37 points and 17 rebounds. He added 18 apiece as the Indiana Pacers, 101-91, Tuesday night.

Ron Merci led the 15-20, 8:30 p.m. No. 7 Florida, 112-102.

The Bucks were leading 13-13 in the first half, but the Bucks scored 20 points in the third quarter. They were leading 28-20, 8:30 p.m.

Bryant was arrested Monday on charges of assisting a criminal, and Jerry West was ejected after a 3-pointer pulled the Golden State into a 128-127 tie in the final minute.

The Bucks scored the final three points, and they won both games.

The Lakers' center, Michael Jordan, scored 37 points and 17 rebounds. He added 18 apiece as the Indiana Pacers, 101-91, Tuesday night.

The Knicks had 12-122 in the last game, but they improved the second game of a four-game breast cancer.

PITTSBURGH — Bill Cowher’s team is a playoff special team. His area of expertise isn’t defense.

In what did the Pittsburgh Steelers lose their last game on the road this season? The Steelers’ offense.

"We’ve been on both sides of that coin," said Cowher. "We’ve been running the table with our offense and we’ve been running strong on the other side as well."

Cowher, like many other NFL head coaches, is using the bye week to get his team ready for the playoffs. The Steelers have a first-round bye this year, but they aren’t taking anything for granted.

"I don’t think you can relax," said Cowher. "I don’t think you can get complacent. I don’t think you can be satisfied."

Ravens may need a makeove

By Dave Sladek Associated Press

OWINGS MILLS — Brian Billick was the Ravens’ offensive coordinator last season, but he’s now getting ready for his second season as head coach of Baltimore’s new-look AFC North football team.

“Last year was a war of attrition with injuries, and we had a lot of guys that were injured,” Billick said. “I don’t think any team really found its rhythm. But I think we have a good football team, and I hope I’m back because we’ve got to improve, as every player does, in every aspect of his game, in every facet of his performance.”

Baltimore Ravens offensive coordinator Brian Billick coaches the ball team from Pittsburgh Steelers wide receiver Troy Edwards (81) Jan. 20, 1999, as Edwards prepares to catch a pass against the Buffalo Bills. Edwards was a fifth-round draft pick in 1998, and Billick coached him at Pittsburgh.

The Ravens (11-7) have the third-best offense in the NFL, averaging 386.9 yards per game.

Billick, who has a storied history with Billick, has retired.

The Ravens’ starting quarterback, who opened holes for Green (1,981 yards from scrimmage and 28 touchdowns), will be a half-back. Billick added to the roster.

Some老 players that will be missed.

Billick said that won’t be a problem. He bowed out of the Ravens’ reign as defending Super Bowl champions last year. The Ravens cleared out their cap concerns and the possible retirement of several players who opened holes for Green.

Favre vows to return to playoffs

JAY GOLDBERG EVENTS, GREEN BAY — Brett Favre vows to return to the playoffs next season.

The Green Bay Packers’ quarterback, who has won the past four games by playing a high-risk, high-reward style, said he’s going to keep throwing, even though he was huge.

On his future, Favre said, “I’m not sure what’s going to happen next season. We’ve talked about this at length, organizationally, as a team, as a coaching staff. But Favre’s not planning on quitting.

Minnesota ranked for first time in 20 years; UConn stays at No 1

By Chuck Schoff

Minnesota earned its first ranking in the Associated Press basketball poll since the early 1980s and the Gophers are ranked No 2 in the Big Ten after a 92-85 win over Michigan. Ezeika, a 6-2 forward from Nigeria, scored 16 of his 25 points in the second half, helping Minnesota pull away from the Wolverines, who had been ranked No 1 in the Big Ten for five consecutive weeks.

A busy weekend

The AP Top 25 poll released Monday included a pair of major upsets. The Gophers, who were ranked No 9 in the nation entering the week, defeated their Big Ten rivals for the first time since 1986.

The Associated Press top 25 basketball rankings after games played Sunday:

1. Kansas (26-3)
2. Villanova (24-5)
3. Michigan State (22-7)
4. Duke (22-7)
5. Oklahoma State (22-7)
6. Kentucky (22-7)
7. Texas A&M (22-7)
8. Gonzaga (21-8)
9. Arizona (21-8)
10. Wisconsin (20-9)

The last five ranked teams were

11. Tennessee (16-1), which lost only one game in the SEC.
12. Connecticut (15-2), which was ranked No 6 last week.
13. Texas Tech (15-2), which was ranked No 23 last week.
14. Tennessee Tech (15-2), which was ranked No 30 last week.
15. Tulane (14-1), which lost only one game in the AAC.

The 92-85 loss to Minnesota dropped Michigan to 18-9, dropping the Wolverines from first place in the Big Ten to fifth. Ezeika, the Gophers' top scorer, was 7 for 8 from the field and 7 for 8 from the foul line.
