UIHC says hello to 1st female leader

BY CHRISTY & LOGAN

The UI Hospitals and Clinics officially greeted its first female leader Wednesday with an ice cream social that nearly 100 hospital employees attended. Donna Kateń-Bahensky, who begins at the 13th floor executive director of the hospital Aug. 26, has already impressed her colleagues.

"It's not enough to do something for yourself," he said. "If you do good at something, do good, and most all, help other people." The UI Hospitals engineering major from Naperville, Ill., holds the title of concurrent program-granting champion after playing first at the state level team- and nationally earning more from nearly 45 states. He was invited in everything from installing network cards to basic troubleshooting. The competition — sponsored by Vocational Industrial Clubs of America — also include a written test, competition on data verification, which Jenner mastered, and one of her first executive positions was the UIHC's chief residence officer.

UIHC employees line up for free ice cream and a chance to shake hands with their new CEO, Donna Kateń-Bahensky, on Wednesday afternoon. The began the job Aug. 26.

Prosecution: Homicide suspect not coerced

BY TONY ROBINSON

Prosecutors said Wednesday that police did not use excessive force while questioning murder suspect Andrew Rich, saying that his statements can be used at trial.

Assistant Johnson County Attorney Linda Pearson denied a defense attorney's assertion that Rich's statements to police were involuntary, according to court records.

"Three made statements in low enforcement on several occasions," she said. Prosecutors noted six times that the defense voluntarily spoke to police officers after receiving written warnings of their constitutional rights.

Police: Time right for I.C. burglaries

BY KELSEY CASINO

UI junior Jared Larsen woke up at 5 a.m. Monday morning to find a burglar standing in his bedroom.

Larsen's experience is one of many recent UI burglaries, ranging from a house-breaking in the Iowa City police report. Mike Brotherton said that happens all too often this time of year.

"People go up and down halls, checking doors," he said. "If the door's unlocked, they just go in," although the intruder left Larsen's belongings untouched and the stolen took place, fortunately, a burglary did not result.

As for the current wave of home invasions, "it's a side effect of a larger problem," Brotherton said.

Busk to consult Congress prior to Iraq action

BY MIKE ALLEN AND KAMIL DEYOUNG

WASHINGTON — President Bush pressed Wednesday to seek congressional authority before taking military action against Iraq and said he would make his case before the American people in a televised address Tuesday night.

Bush announced 16 congressional leaders to the White House for a morning meeting that kicked off a global administration campaign against Saddam. Seeking support from the U.N. Security Council's other four members over the next few weeks. Bush plans to telephone the leaders of its five former U.N. Security Council members later this week. Bush will meet with British Prime Minister Tony Blair at Camp David on Saturday.

"This is a debate the American people must have, must understand," Bush told reporters as the meeting ended. "And the world must understand, as well, that its credibility is at stake." He said Saddam "has violated, crushed, slaughtered, shielded out of any agreement he had made not to harbor, not to develop weapons of mass destruction, not to further this kind of activity, and the rapid advancement of its nuclear program." He added that he believes a "small disagreement" within the administration over what is in U.S. interest, coupled with increasingly less international isolation of Saddam Hussein for a military option for a U.N. resolution planned for the near future, "the U.S. can make a case to itself, to the world and to Saddam that Saddam will have to change his ways and change his actions."

The president and several senior officials repeated that invasion is only if any weapons or evidence of any weapons Norris denied, he made 86, and one senior administration official. "He wants to have a debate and have the benefit of this evidence," he said.

Last month, Iowa City police released 21 burglary reports, but by the 14th month of the new administration, the increase can be attributed to the increase in numbers of people needing to lock their doors.

"There seems to be a trend that people need to lock their doors as a concern," said House, apartments, and dorm rooms are all frequent targets.

"People like their doors open for their convenience, and burglaries go in," Brotherton said, adding that people generally get things needed after the burglar has left.

Maggie Van As, the director of UI Business Services, and she and her colleagues have stepped up attempts to inform students of the dangers of leaving doors unlocked.

Business Services put up bulletin boards on personal safety in the forums, posted warnings in newsletters, and

INSIDE TODAY'S DI

COLOMBIAN ART

Charlotte Shristi will use art to try to heal traumatised Colombian children. See story, page 2A

BOO BIRDS FOR U.S.

Activities roundly peer Secretary of State Colin Powell at the World Summit. See story, page 6A

FULL-COURT MESS

Another Iowa basketball player, Josh Rhodes, heads off to the court, page 1B

THE DAILY IOWAN

Since 1868

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Bush to consult Congress prior to Iraq action

BY MIKE ALLEN AND KAMIL DEYOUNG

WASHINGTON — President Bush pressed Wednesday to seek congressional authority before taking military action against Iraq and said he would make his case before the American people in a televised address Tuesday night.

Bush announced 16 congressional leaders to the White House for a morning meeting that kicked off a global administration campaign against Saddam. Seeking support from the U.N. Security Council's other four members over the next few weeks. Bush plans to telephone the leaders of its five former U.N. Security Council members later this week. Bush will meet with British Prime Minister Tony Blair at Camp David on Saturday.

"This is a debate the American people must have, must understand," Bush told reporters as the meeting ended. "And the world must understand, as well, that its credibility is at stake." He said Saddam "has violated, crushed, slaughtered, shielded out of any agreement he had made not to harbor, not to develop weapons of mass destruction, not to further this kind of activity, and the rapid advancement of its nuclear program." He added that he believes a "small disagreement" within the administration over what is in U.S. interest, coupled with increasingly less international isolation of Saddam Hussein for a military option for a U.N. resolution planned for the near future, "the U.S. can make a case to itself, to the world and to Saddam that Saddam will have to change his ways and change his actions."

The president and several senior officials repeated that invasion is only if any weapons or evidence of any weapons Norris denied, he made 86, and one senior administration official. "He wants to have a debate and have the benefit of this evidence," he said.

Last month, Iowa City police released 21 burglary reports, but by the 14th month of the new administration, the increase can be attributed to the increase in numbers of people needing to lock their doors.

"There seems to be a trend that people need to lock their doors as a concern," said House, apartments, and dorm rooms are all frequent targets.

"People like their doors open for their convenience, and burglaries go in," Brotherton said, adding that people generally get things needed after the burglar has left.

Maggie Van As, the director of UI Business Services, and she and her colleagues have stepped up attempts to inform students of the dangers of leaving doors unlocked.

Business Services put up bulletin boards on personal safety in the forums, posted warnings in newsletters, and

Weather

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WEATHER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>88° Mostly sunny, light winds</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arts</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>68°</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CHECK US OUT AT WWW.DAILYIOWAN.COM

The Daily Iowan

Since 1868

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Bush to consult Congress prior to Iraq action

BY MIKE ALLEN AND KAMIL DEYOUNG

WASHINGTON — President Bush pressed Wednesday to seek congressional authority before taking military action against Iraq and said he would make his case before the American people in a televised address Tuesday night.

Bush announced 16 congressional leaders to the White House for a morning meeting that kicked off a global administration campaign against Saddam. Seeking support from the U.N. Security Council's other four members over the next few weeks. Bush plans to telephone the leaders of its five former U.N. Security Council members later this week. Bush will meet with British Prime Minister Tony Blair at Camp David on Saturday.

"This is a debate the American people must have, must understand," Bush told reporters as the meeting ended. "And the world must understand, as well, that its credibility is at stake." He said Saddam "has violated, crushed, slaughtered, shielded out of any agreement he had made not to harbor, not to develop weapons of mass destruction, not to further this kind of activity, and the rapid advancement of its nuclear program." He added that he believes a "small disagreement" within the administration over what is in U.S. interest, coupled with increasingly less international isolation of Saddam Hussein for a military option for a U.N. resolution planned for the near future, "the U.S. can make a case to itself, to the world and to Saddam that Saddam will have to change his ways and change his actions."

The president and several senior officials repeated that invasion is only if any weapons or evidence of any weapons Norris denied, he made 86, and one senior administration official. "He wants to have a debate and have the benefit of this evidence," he said.

Last month, Iowa City police released 21 burglary reports, but by the 14th month of the new administration, the increase can be attributed to the increase in numbers of people needing to lock their doors.

"There seems to be a trend that people need to lock their doors as a concern," said House, apartments, and dorm rooms are all frequent targets.

"People like their doors open for their convenience, and burglaries go in," Brotherton said, adding that people generally get things needed after the burglar has left.

Maggie Van As, the director of UI Business Services, and she and her colleagues have stepped up attempts to inform students of the dangers of leaving doors unlocked.

Business Services put up bulletin boards on personal safety in the forums, posted warnings in newsletters, and
Fire suspect's name released

BY TONY ROSSON
THE DAILY IOVAN

Authorities released the name of the second suspect wanted in connection with the June 13 arson and burglary of Grace Community Church and the Heritage Christian School in North Liberty. Christian Patrick Mavroudls, 18, was arrested in connection with the crimes.

"We have received leads to believe that he has left the state of Iowa," said Johnson County Sheriff's Detective Robert Deloach, adding that there are no leads as of now.

-Women, 19, of 2773 Johnson St., was booked in the Johnston County Jail last weekend after being extricated from a car crash, Cal. He is free on $100 bond.

McConnell and Weese are charged with second-degree assault, a class C felony, and third-degree burglary, a class D felony. If convicted, they could both face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

According to court reports, witnesses allegedly observed the co-defendants together before and after the fire. Another witness testified that McConnell and Weese were talking about breaking into the church and school, taking money, and setting the fire, the report said.

McConnell is a 6'7, 155-pound white male with black hair and blue eyes. Anybody with information about McConnell's whereabouts are asked to contact the Johnson County Sheriff's Office at 335-1302.

CHARIFICATION

The article "The issue here is what have the pending cases?" (Sgth, 4) suggests that Sigma Alpha Mu was not longer required in recording members after losing its house. The fraternity, in fact, is still recruiting members.

The measure faces liguer license suspension

The Iowa Senate and House, 30 E. 12th St., in a session that ran until 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, voted 42-0 to 30-0 to approve a bill to make the college's name the Iowa Hawkeyes. The university is in competition with local men's clubs in the state of Texas. They will provide support for 500 children from refugee families in the New Hope School.

"I want to help rehabilitate refugees and children who have been displaced from their land and get them back on their feet," said, the head of the children with whom Shriti will work. She plans on being in business within a year or so.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.

Charlotte Retzlaff, 16, of 666 E. 24th St., was arrested on a class D felony. If convicted, she could face up to 13 years in prison and nearly $17,500 in fines.
Madison County bridge burns

By Tony Phan

The Daily Iowan

Old Capitol Tees employee Chris Bowman, the owner of the second location in the nation, said they are happy to add a store that will bring in additional revenue.

"There's always like to see more people coming in," said Ken Lake, the owner of South of India. "Every time the bridges are down, our loyal clientele has kept us alive, and we believe that these stores make traffic flow through downtown much smoother."

Mal management also said it is enthusiastic about the new business.

"Our store is an absolutely wonderful addition to the Old Capitol Town," said Tony Phan, the mall's general manager. "It serves an important purpose in the community, and we are happy to add a store that will bring in additional revenue."

Some shoppers were pleased with the additional selection of old-fashioned merchandise.

"It's a nice addition," said Don Wyman, the owner of Old Capitol Tees. "It's a part of our history."
More suits filed in Miss N.C. tiff

BY ETHEL STIMPSON

RALEIGH, N.C. — The fight between the most recent Miss North Carolina pageant organization, Revels, and its former state director, Cindy Cashwell, appears to be far from over.

Cashwell’s attorney, Barry Revels, said Wednesday that his client’s new lawsuit against the Miss North Carolina pageant organization is just the beginning of a long battle.

Cashwell, who was Miss North Carolina 2002, filed a suit against the Miss North Carolina pageant organization, Revels, and its former state director, Cindy Cashwell, in July after being fired from her position. Cashwell claims that she was unfairly terminated and that the organization retaliated against her for bringing up issues of corruption and unethical conduct.

Revels, who is the current state director of the Miss North Carolina pageant organization, has continued to fight back against Cashwell’s allegations. Revels recently filed a suit against Cashwell, alleging that she filed suit to be declared as a deportee.

Revels also testified Wednesday that his client’s new lawsuit against the Miss North Carolina pageant organization is just the beginning of a long battle. Revels said that his client’s lawsuit is part of a larger fight to oust the current state director of the pageant.

The lawsuit filed by Cashwell is the latest in a series of legal battles between the two organizations. In July 2002, Cashwell filed a lawsuit against the Miss North Carolina pageant organization, alleging that she was unfairly terminated and that the organization retaliated against her for bringing up issues of corruption and unethical conduct.

The case has since been settled, but Cashwell’s new lawsuit is part of a larger fight to oust the current state director of the pageant. Revels has been accused of embezzling funds and running the pageant organization in a corrupt manner.

Cashwell’s new lawsuit is expected to be a long and costly battle, but her attorney, Barry Revels, is confident that his client will emerge victorious. Revels said that he is prepared to fight for as long as it takes to expose the corruption at the heart of the pageant organization.
Report: Teen sex depends on mothers

BY LAURA MECKLER
WASHINGTON — Mothers who have younger children — teenagers or even those having sex have more influence than they might imagine. Teenage girls who are more in their teens are more likely to stay virgin, researchers said Tuesday.

The key for parents, experts
said, is just talking about sex with their children, according to research reported
Wednesday.

"Your matter," said Sarah
Hamm, the director of the National Campaign to Prevent Teenage Pregnancy. "You are the best person to talk to your children from.

The key is to act in a way
That matters," she said.

But researchers found half of families who are sexually active
don't talk to their children

"Perhaps that's because they don't have a say," said Dr.
Robert Ream, a member of the National Longitudinal
Study of Adolescent Health.

The knowledge gap goes both ways. The vast majority of American mothers of teenage sisters believe that their children are not sexually active, and they aren't likely to talk to them about their minds.

The issue is important to a number of parents. Teenage pregnancy, they say, can have long-term effects on their selves, for mother and baby.

And those who start hav-
ning sex earlier are likely to have more sexual partners and
fewer likely to use contraception,
giving them a risk for both
pregnancy and sexually trans-
duced disease.

Researchers from the University of Minnesota examined interviews with mothers of 14-15 year-olds who had become pregnant, published in the Aug. 19 issue of the Journal of developmental. Their speech was littered
with "like, way cool."

"That's the word you use
when you can't think of anything else to say," said Perri
Siegel, a professor of communication at the University of Minnesota.

Unlike the mother's "like, it also has the ability to change
the meaning of a sentence,
"Siegel said. "It's like, it's the word that's evolved over centuries. It became a Beatnik
buzzword in the late 1950s
and early 1960s, Siegel
suggested, helping dual against having sex with a high-school
boyfriend.

should sponsor the lack of sexual transmission in a mother's husband. Experts say that parents of their daughters' boyfriends, it's less likely that a family have meals
with their 14- and 15-year-old
diagnosed as "discourse
"The Valley Girl version of
"like" is classified by linguists
as a "discourse particle," along with "um," "well," "uh," and the like.

Unlike the mother's "like,
however, "the's likely to have the ability to change the meaning of a sentence,
"Siegel said. "It's like, it's the
form that has evolved over centuries. It became a Beatnik
buzzword in the late 1950s
and early 1960s, Siegel
suggested, helping dual against
having sex with a high-school
boyfriend.

It's, like, in the linguists' lexicon

BY MICHAEL RUBINSTEIN
Philadelphia — This is,

"Teen sex depends on mothers," say researchers
Reporting
Philadelphia — This is,

"Teen sex depends on
mothers," say researchers
Wednesday.

Washington — Mothers
who have younger children —
teenagers or even those having sex have more influence than they might imagine. Teenage girls who are more in their teens are more likely to stay
virgin, researchers said.

The key for parents, experts
said, is just talking about
sex with their children,
according to research reported
Wednesday.

"Your matter," said Sarah
Hamm, the director of the National Campaign to Prevent Teenage Pregnancy. "You are the best person to talk to your children from.

The key is to act in a way
That matters," she said.

But researchers found half of
families who are sexually active
don't talk to their children

"Perhaps that's because they don't have a say," said Dr.
Robert Ream, a member of the National Longitudinal
Study of Adolescent Health.

The knowledge gap goes both
ways. The vast majority of American mothers of teenage
sisters believe that their
children are not sexually
active, and they aren't likely
to talk to them about their minds.

The issue is important to
a number of parents. Teenage pregnancy, they say, can have
long-term effects on their
selves, for mother and baby.

And those who start hav-
ning sex earlier are likely to
have more sexual partners and
fewer likely to use contraception,
giving them a risk for both
pregnancy and sexually trans-
duced disease.

Researchers from the University of Minnesota examined interviews with mothers of 14-15 year-olds who had become pregnant, published in the Aug. 19 issue of the Journal of developmental. Their speech was littered
with "like, way cool."

"That's the word you use
when you can't think of anything else to say," said Perri
Siegel, a professor of
communication at the University of Minnesota.

Unlike the mother's "like,
however, "the's likely to have the
ability to change the meaning of a sentence,
"Siegel said. "It's like, it's the
form that has evolved over centuries. It became a Beatnik
buzzword in the late 1950s
and early 1960s, Siegel
suggested, helping dual against
having sex with a high-school
boyfriend.

should sponsor the lack of sexual transmission in a mother's husband. Experts say that parents of their daughters' boy-
friends, it's less likely that a
family have meals
with their 14- and 15-year-old
diagnosed as "discourse
"The Valley Girl version of
"like" is classified by linguists
as a "discourse particle," along
with "um," "well," "uh," and the like.

Unlike the mother's "like,
however, "the's likely to have the
ability to change the meaning of a sentence,
"Siegel said. "It's like, it's the
form that has evolved over centuries. It became a Beatnik
buzzword in the late 1950s
and early 1960s, Siegel
suggested, helping dual against
having sex with a high-school
boyfriend.

It's, like, in the linguists' lexicon

BY MICHAEL RUBINSTEIN
Philadelphia — This is,

"Teen sex depends on
mothers," say researchers
Wednesday.

Washington — Mothers
who have younger children —
teenagers or even those having sex have more influence than they might imagine. Teenage girls who are more in their teens are more likely to stay
virgin, researchers said.

The key for parents, experts
said, is just talking about
sex with their children,
according to research reported
Wednesday.

"Your matter," said Sarah
Hamm, the director of the National Campaign to Prevent Teenage Pregnancy. "You are
the best person to talk to your children from.

The key is to act in a way
That matters," she said.

But researchers found half of
families who are sexually active
don't talk to their children

"Perhaps that's because they don't have a say," said Dr.
Robert Ream, a member of the National Longitudinal
Study of Adolescent Health.

The knowledge gap goes both
ways. The vast majority of American mothers of teenage
sisters believe that their
children are not sexually
active, and they aren't likely
to talk to them about their minds.

The issue is important to
a number of parents. Teenage pregnancy, they say, can have
long-term effects on their
selves, for mother and baby.

And those who start hav-
ning sex earlier are likely to
have more sexual partners and
fewer likely to use contraception,
giving them a risk for both
pregnancy and sexually trans-
duced disease.

Researchers from the University of Minnesota examined interviews with mothers of 14-15 year-olds who had become pregnant, published in the Aug. 19 issue of the Journal of developmental. Their speech was littered
with "like, way cool."

"That's the word you use
when you can't think of anything else to say," said Perri
Siegel, a professor of
communication at the University of Minnesota.

Unlike the mother's "like,
however, "the's likely to have the
ability to change the meaning of a sentence,
"Siegel said. "It's like, it's the
form that has evolved over centuries. It became a Beatnik
buzzword in the late 1950s
and early 1960s, Siegel
suggested, helping dual against
having sex with a high-school
boyfriend.
West Nile blood screen years away

BY LAURA MECKLER
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Health officials said Thursday they will no longer screen West Nile virus carriers for 40 years after they were repeatedly interrupted by heckling and boos.

President Bush's address before he was drowned out by demonstrators demanding his extradition for war crimes.

Activists disrupted the speech before he was drowned out by demonstrators demanding his extradition for war crimes.

Bush warned that the United States needs to take action to meet environmental challenges, including global climate change, and that it is urgent to develop new, clean energy sources.

The U.S. government has committed to combating global warming.

Bush's statement was that this kind of "good governance" needs to be more developed.

A forum with the World Health Organization to be held later this month.

The forum aims to raise awareness about the issue.

WASHINGTON - The United States said Thursday that it would no longer screen West Nile virus carriers for 40 years after they were repeatedly interrupted by heckling and boos.

The new policy, announced by Homeland Security Secretary Michael Chertoff, is modeled after a similar program in the United Kingdom.

Bush's address, which has left many residents disappointed, was repeatedly interrupted by protesters who chose not to make the trip.

Bush mentioned the famine in southern Africa.

The famine has left many people without access to clean water and food.

Powell told reporters, "It was a bad day." He also expressed concern about the government's ability to respond to natural disasters.

The government is working on developing a new strategy to help victims of natural disasters.

Many residents have expressed frustration with the government's response to the disaster.

The government has been criticized for its slow response and for not providing adequate assistance to those affected.

The government is seeking to learn from its mistakes and improve its response in the future.

The new policy is expected to be implemented soon.

The government has been working on developing a new strategy to help victims of natural disasters.
Israel expels 2 to Gaza Strip

BY IBRAHIM BARZAK

GAZA CITY, Gaza Strip — Israel expelled two Palestinians from the West Bank, driving them blindfolded into the Gaza Strip and leaving them at a deserted gas station Wednesday — the first time Israel has forced relatives of militants to leave their home areas.

Palestinian leader Yousef Arefi condemned the move as "a crime against humanity that violates all human and international laws." U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan has also condemned the move.

"Such transfers are strictly prohibited by international law and could have very serious political and security implications," said Arefi.

While the secretary-general has consistently condemned such evictions and blocked any attempt to transfer family members, more than 1.5 million Palestinians are living in the Gaza Strip, which is separated by at least 25 miles of Israeli territory.

Also, Palestinians cannot freely leave the Gaza Strip and the West Bank, which is separated by at least 20 miles of Israeli territory. Further, Gaza is fenced, making it easier for Palestinians to enter the West Bank than vice versa.

A referendum between the Gaza Strip and the West Bank, which is acquired by at least 20 miles of Israeli territory, will be held in the near future, making it easier for Palestinians to enter the West Bank than vice versa.

Law-enforcement officials confirmed the move on Wednesday and said it was an attempt to "punish" the Palestinians for the attacks.

Hatfill firing followed Justice e-mail

BY CHRISTOPHER NEWTON

WASHINGTON — Dr. Steven J. Hatfill's firing from Louisiana State University came after the Justice Department told the school it could not use its projects funded by grants from the agency, which has called Hatfill a "person of interest" in anthrax attacks.

Hatfill's supervisor, Steven Guille, issued an email Aug. 28 asking Hatfill's colleagues to direct any "anthrax-related data" from using Hatfill on the project, LSU spokesman Gene Emmert said Wednesday.

The next day, Hatfill was placed in administrative leave in director of LSU's National Center for Remedial Research and Training. The center receives most of its money from the Justice Department.

Emmert said the university had not yet alerted senior administration officials to the email until Thursday, when Hatfill was fired by the university. Emmert said the decision to put Hatfill in administrative leave and later fire him, was not connected to the email.

Rand said the university is investigating whether more officials were not told about the entire Justice Department's official directive to document the emails, though a law enforcement official said LSU Chancellor Mark Bradford did not mention the email in a statement Tuesday announcing Hatfill's firing.

Pat Clawson, Hatfill's spokesman, said Hatfill learned at the Justice Department e-mail on Wednesday. Clawson said it was an attempt to "punish" Hatfill into a false confession.

"We're surprised to learn of this email," Clawson said. "We're outraged. Blackmailing by the government is offensive and un-American . . . Where was the due process? . . . Clawson and Hatfill's attorneys have filed Freedom of Information Act requests of the Justice Department and the FBI seeking information about the email.

Two people were killed by anthrax tainted letters through the mail last fall. The FBI has identified Hatfill as "person of interest" in his investigation, but the agency says he is not more or less important than approximately 500 scientists and researchers with no direct opportunity to conduct the attacks.

Hatfill has repeatedly denied any involvement in the attacks and says the Justice Department is ruining his life by linking him to the attacks.

The email was sent during a flurry of investigative activity surrounding Hatfill. The FBI searched Hatfill's home on Aug. 19, and then later, escalating Hatfill's popularity to the point of desecration, the FBI changed Hatfill's e-mail handle from which investigators believe the anthrax letters might have been sent.

Former FBI analyst Paul Moore said the agency apparently was trying to pressure Hatfill into revealing information.

Yet another reason to make a cell phone your only phone.

Right now get:

450 anytime minutes and unlimited night and weekend minutes.

Plus, nationwide long distance is included for just $35.00 a month.

For more information, visit your local U.S.Cellular® store, call 1-888-BUY-USCC or go to giveshout.com.
He's never gone around saying "I'm No. 1." It was just another pleasant milestone in his life, and I don't believe this is the end.

Robert Jenner, father of Kevin.

"He's never gone around saying 'I'm No. 1.'" He works quietly, planning pleasant milestones in his life, and I don't believe this is the end," said his father, Robert Jenner.

Kevin Jenner's academic achievements don't end with high school, he had learned to give power-point presentations.

Kevin Jenner's academic achievements don't end with high school; he had learned to give power-point presentations.

Kevin Jenner's devotion to his older brothers Brian and Scott urged their dad to pursue a career in medicine instead.

Kevin Jenner's devotion to his older brothers Brian and Scott urged their dad to pursue a career in medicine instead.
Bush seeks to authorize the use of Iraq force

BUSH
Continued from Page 1A

views from Congress and the international community."

But Bush held reporters after the congressional meeting that he "made very clear to members" that "doing nothing — not an option." While Bush avoided any specific vote on a war with Iraq, several lawmakers and Administration officials who attended the meeting said that Bush was heading toward Iraq.

As the administration began its offensive Wednesday, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld gave reporters a classified briefing on Iraq, and Secretary of State Colin Powell warned that Bush could not be "saved by avoiding weapons inspectors."

There is little disagreement here or abroad with the administration's desire and potential to develop and use chemical, biological, and nuclear weapons. But war officials, including Vice President Dick Cheney and Rumsfeld, have publicly implied that the only way to stop it is to invade Saddam Hussein's Iraq.

Dick Cheney and Rumsfeld, among the many who have publicly implied to the public and political opposition that the United States "should not have to face"

this issue alone.

Even as Congress has begun to make its own, alternative preparations at the White House. The European Union has been working behind the scenes for the Security Council to act in a way that would allow U.N. inspectors to work in Iraq. The United States has indicated possible support for an invasion, despite growing public and political opposition.

A senior official said, "all we can do, and I would favor a new formulation of the inspectors' regime."

"Invasion" has been a goal for the Bush administration. Saddam Hussein's isolation in the Middle East, particularly in the Middle East, is a major world leader who have publicly implied that the United States should not have to face

An Iraqi woman walks in front of a giant poster depicting Iraq President Saddam Hussein in Baghdad on Wednesday.

...is inevitable."

At his morning meeting, Bush and Secretary of State Colin Powell made it clear that Bush will not be able to save himself by "avoiding weapons inspectors."

Rumsfeld gave senators a briefing on Iraq, and warned that "doing nothing ... is not an option."

Continued

There is little disagreement here or abroad with the administration's desire and potential to develop and use chemical, biological, and nuclear weapons. But war officials, including Vice President Dick Cheney and Rumsfeld, have publicly implied that the only way to stop it is to invade Saddam Hussein's Iraq.

"Invasion" has been a goal for the Bush administration. Saddam Hussein's isolation in the Middle East, particularly in the Middle East, is a major world leader who have publicly implied that the United States should not have to face

CRIME
Continued from Page 1A

made notations on the cover of student guide books to look at the safety section, she said.

"Students have a tendency to leave their doors open," she said. "We're trying to bring it to people's attention that they need to be careful." Van Oel stressed the importance of recognizing and turning in people who appear to be wandering around the halls and trying their doors. But for this school year, no students have reported incidents of burglary in the residence halls, she said.

Off-campus residents, however, continue to be targeted, as Lawrence's story illustrates.

"We're locking and blocking whatever we can," she said.

WEB SITE

Visit us at: www.uihealthcare.com/volunteer

• Volunteer Services
• Office, 8025 JCP
• Monday-Friday
• 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
• Volunteer Services Office, 8025 JCP
• Monday-Friday
• 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

NEWS

TARGET

• Kitchen
• Off-campus residences, including Voluntary Services
•包括Volunteer Services

DAILY

Iowa City, Iowa - Thursday, September 5, 2002

Off-campus residences, including Voluntary Services, have been locked and blocked. Today, it was confirmed.

Lawrence's story confirms.

"We're locking and blocking whatever we can," she said.

"We're locking and blocking whatever we can," she said.
Letters to the Editor

Vilasack cares
Our governor, Tom Vilsack, is in the hot seat for renaming the right-to-work law. He will face a difficult challenge for students because during Tom's one term, Iowa witnessed the end of the legislature's era of inquiry and discussion about the future of public education. In 2005, Vilsack signed an order changing the name of some of the key points of the state's right-to-work law to "labor freedom." This order could mean that the right-to-work law can be used for as long as 10 years after it is signed for the right-to-work law to exist for the state of Iowa. It is tough to say what exactly makes a good university. People who have been at a distinguished academic with respect for the values of academic freedom and the maintenance of the use of its brand name. Other things that are not necessarily outlawed, women's rights, human-rights organizations, and the like. It may be that the principle would just put a real dent in the church's coffers at the time when you could still find your home by paying—literally— for your sins. In short, if the whole world were stuck on the right-to-work line, it wouldn't work very well for the students at all. We tried something like that in the early days of these United States under the Articles of Confederation. As you may recall, they didn't last too long, in large part because the government wasn't able to levy taxes, which didn't give it a lot of budget. Few people like to donate money to the church. I think the right-to-work law needs a new name. Other names have pushed up this idea already. You can set up procedures; nobody is in the position to act for them. And committees to compete with those that trade war. Congress is expected to report on new government addresses and their ongoing campaign to elect each other by its leaders. The唱 count is trickier than it seems. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitment to a war of 1861 to 1865 continues, and that it was a struggle between the northern and southern states. I was told that the northern and southern states would be reborn as each other's allies. It was saying that the commitm...
MUST SEE NATIONWIDE AD

Stuck in the butt-end of the worm

I was 6 when my mom first took me to a used car lot. We were looking for a car to drive to the beach. She told me that if I behaved and didn't make too much noise, she'd take me to the beach.

I was ecstatic. I had been saving my money for weeks to buy a new toy car,

but she had forgotten all about it. Now,

I could have a new car! As we drove in,

she pointed out the different makes and models to me, and I was in awe. We discussed the pros and cons of each one,

and finally settled on a Toyota Camry in a bright red color. I couldn't wait to take it home and show it off to all my friends. But the best part was that I wouldn't have to share it with anyone.

I was the only one who could drive it.

As we drove home, I couldn't stop talking about how excited I was to have my own car. When we got home, I ran inside and showed it to my parents. They were impressed and proud of me. They told me that I was a responsible young man and that I had worked hard to earn my money. I felt so proud of myself.

But then, disaster struck. We had planned a trip to the beach with my friends, but the Camry had other ideas.

As we were leaving the driveway, the steering wheel suddenly jerked, and the car veered off the road. We tried to steer back on course, but it was too late.

We crashed into a tree, and the car caught fire. I was terrified and didn't know what to do. I tried to open the doors, but they were locked. I yelled for help, but no one came.

After watching the fire, I realized that I was trapped in the car. I tried to open the windows, but they were stuck.

I couldn't see anything except the flashing lights of the fire truck.

After what felt like an eternity, the firefighters came and rescued me.

I was taken to the hospital, where I was treated for minor injuries. I was shaken but grateful to be alive.

From that day on, I vowed never to take anything for granted. I learned that life can change in an instant, and that we should always be grateful for what we have. I also realized that sometimes, things don't always go as planned. But I am grateful for the experience, as it taught me a valuable lesson.

Finally, a roommate with brains and great looks.

Gateway has 1% Computer loans for The University of Iowa Students

Give yourself a technological edge in the new school year with a new computer from Gateway! The University of Iowa and Gateway have teamed up to give Fall 2002 students an easy and affordable way to purchase award-winning Gateway computers through the 1% Student Computer Loan Program. 1% loans are available now and until September 15, 2002. Get your orders placed today!

Purchase now! Click on line: http://www.its.uiowa.edu/cs/helpdesk/demo

Or Come In to any Gateway Country Store in West Des Moines, Davenport, Cedar Rapids and North Sioux City or Call 1-800-846-2512 Ext. 55146 or 55625 or esource.gateway.com/Uoflstudents

For more information on the money-saving 1% Student Computer Loan program: Visit The University of Iowa Demo Center located in the lower level of Lindquist Center South or stop by 109 Lindquist Center South, call (319) 335-5509 or click on the official web site at www.its.uiowa.edu/cs/helpdesk/demo
Rhodes decides to leave Iowa basketball team

Bob Knight's attorney said that Rhodes, who averaged 30 points and 12 rebounds at games Crossroads School a year ago, made his announcement through the Iowa Sports Information office Wednesday afternoon, citing personal reasons.

"His decision to return home is based on the fact that I have not interest in playing college basketball," Rhodes said in a press conference.

Iowa coach Tom Felling said their clients were a distraction.

"It's unfortunate that Joe has made his decision to not be a part of our program," he said.

Rhodes arrived in Iowa City for the opener and played in 25 minutes against Drake. But he did announce his Rhodes' decision in the release.

"It's unfortunate that Joe has made his decision to not be a part of our program," he said.

Rhodes is a two-time All-Big Ten selection and was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1999, after leading the Bulldogs to a conference title and an NCAA Tournament berth.

Felling said the decision was made by the player for personal reasons.

"We are disappointed to see him walk away," Felling said.

The Hawkeyes have just nine scholarship players for the upcoming season, which will begin when Iowa hosts Florida Atlantic on Nov. 3.

NEW YORK - This is an ordinary season opener for the NFL. When San Francisco and New York meet in the Meadowlands tonight in an unprece-dented weekday start to the season, it's anything but ordinary for the 1999 Giants, who have become a legitimate Super Bowl contender.

So popular has the team become that its players are fighting for the right to purchase Super Bowl tickets. It's a virtual trophy room commemorating the team's cross-town rival in three games,

Kelli Chesnut ignites Iowa's three-match win over intrastate rival Drake

The Hawkeyes will have no easy path to victory tonight. The Boilermakers have the team will have brought for the first time since the Hawkeyes have been in Pullman. But you can bet their fans will go out there and make sure that happens.

"We're not shocked, not surprised. This is what we

the Hawkeyes rolled to an minutes. But the Bulldogs did not against the Hawkeyes on

Coach Rhoades is gratified.

Rhoades is a two-time All-Big Ten selection and was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1999, after leading the Bulldogs to a conference title and an NCAA Tournament berth.

The Hawkeyes have just nine scholarship players for the upcoming season, which will begin when Iowa hosts Florida Atlantic on Nov. 3.

NEW YORK - This is an ordinary season opener for the NFL. When San Francisco and New York meet in the Meadowlands tonight in an unprecedented weekday start to the season, it's anything but ordinary for the 1999 Giants, who have become a legitimate Super Bowl contender.

So popular has the team become that its players are fighting for the right to purchase Super Bowl tickets. It's a virtual trophy room commemorating the team's cross-town rival in three games,

Kelli Chesnut ignites Iowa's three-match win over intrastate rival Drake

The Hawkeyes will have no easy path to victory tonight. The Boilermakers have the team that is we need to have

A setback for the Iowa State program.

Iowa State's Tylor Perry (1) helps move the ball downfield against the Hawkeyes Saturday, Sept. 12, in Iowa City.

Iowa State football writer Todd Brommelkamp follows the Hawkeyes all season long. His observations, both on the field and in the newsroom, are invaluable when it comes to the Gamehawks.
The freshman make a bad shot and forget about it. The scores are making it look like we've been in a 3-ball for a while with some bad nights," said Terry Anderson, who has made some swing changes he hasn't adapted to yet," said Terry Anderson. "He's a tremendous competitor, and I don't think there was any progression for Indians like in 10 years ago, this weekend." Despite his recent struggles, Anderson has high expectations for his team and for himself, as he looks forward to the fall and spring seasons.

"I'm confident in myself and my ability," he said. "I would like to make it to regionals and win the Big Ten individually. As a team, we are in the tail end of the top three or four every tournament and it usually works out. That's what we're striving for!"

Terry Anderson has similar goals, but he's spent more time and effort on making his team strong. "I want to make it to regionals and nationals, but just golf. The best scores we've had, but as much fun as any," he said.

Hawkeyes prepare for the fall season with a 74.5. However, he's been struggling this week and will not compete this weekend, most likely for his team, according to interim coach Bobbe Terry Anderson has similar goals, but he's spent more time and effort on making his team strong. "I want to make it to regionals and nationals, but just golf. The best scores we've had, but as much fun as any," he said.

Iowa's women's golf team has some new faces in their lineup, but they're excited about the potential to be in the top 25. Last spring ended in disappointment for the Hawkeyes, but Terry Anderson is determined to make the necessary changes to improve the team's performance. With new faces and fresh perspectives, the Hawkeyes are ready to take on the fall season with renewed energy and focus.
Gators' 'Canes head to The Swamp

BY RICHARD ROSENBLAT
ASSOCIATE PRESS

After a 14-year wait, the Hurricanes and Gators renew their regular-season rivalry at The Swamp with more than a national title riding on the outcome.

There's bad blood between The Swamp — the Florida versus Miami rivalry known as The Florida-Friendly — and Memorial Stadium.

Whatever the Gators and 'Canes show up in the same town, there's bad blood to be a reasonable moment.

That game will be no exception when No. 6 Florida challenges No. 11 Miami and its 23-game winning streak, which is longest in the nation.

While numbers seem to be in the Hurricanes' favor, Miami coach Larry Coker knows the Gators are an emotional lift.

"I hear I'm already up on the road," Coker said, laughing as he sat on the tailgate of his Ford pickup, which is biggest in the nation.

Miami fans are big on the tailgate parties, and the Gators' fans are, too.

"To Be The Swamp and still have fans up 1 stand by my words," said Coker, whose team will be playing up.

Most likely up to its words with a rare winning record at The Swamp, perhaps the toughest place in the country to play.

The Gators are 8-2 against the Hurricanes in the past 11 meetings.

In the last meeting, the 2001 Sugar Bowl, 20 Gators and 27 Canes missed it and crossed the street a few days before March 27, 2001.

No. 1 Miami (plus 2) at No. 6 Florida

Gators open new season with first meeting at The Swamp.

Alabamians (plus 172) at No. 2 Florida

First ever regular-season game, where winner staying and loser赏月... and OU... 014 TULSA, 58-7.

Middle Tennessee (plus 22) at No. 4 Tennessee

Eh, while there's a play game against us... Tennesse, 43-9.

Western Michigan (plus 27) at No. 7 Michigan

Wolverines 2-Plus 6. Don't look now... Michigan, 34-33.

North Dakota State (plus 29) at No. 9 Ohio State

First meeting between Big Ten schools after... Ohio State, 44-13.

South Dakota State (plus 30) at No. 11 Arkansas

Hawks rout it 9 from Terrie in Ow... Nebraska State, 61-12.

Vanderbilt (plus 27) at No. 11 Mississippi State

Cougars are more than just 20 Georgia State... MSU, 49-14.

Iowa State (1/4) at No. 13 Oregon

Iowa State will go for the first time... Oregon, 23-13.

San Jose State (plus 30) at No. 14 Washington

Huskies should romp even with... Washington, 63-10.

Texas (plus 27) at No. 15 Michigan State

Sparks vs Rogers plus up... Michigan State, 34-24.

San Diego State (plus 32) at No. 11 Colorado

At the start of the 2001 season.

Both battled, but won't overreact.

Miami won... Colorado, 34-21.

No. 15 Colorado State (plus 7)

Colorado State 1-2 times ago against... Colorado State, 29-27.

No. 23 Texas A&M (plus 3) at Pittsburgh

They have seven-game winning... Pittsburgh, 24-21.

No. 27 North Carolina State (plus 16) at Notre Dame

There's bad blood with the... Notre Dame, 41-27.

No. 12 South Carolina (plus 4) at Virginia

Huskies out... Virginia, 27-24.

Purdue (plus 4) at No. 23 Notre Dame

most offensive than... Notre Dame, 27-24.

The Citadel (plus 1) at No. 24 Louisiana Tech

Tigers easily anything after last at... Louisiana, 49-6.

West Virginia (plus 1) at No. 25 Minnesota

No... Minnesota, 24-22.

After a 15-year wait, the... the outcome.

The Gators will wear a No. 71 patch on their game on the... will wear a No. 71 patch on their jerseys for the rest of the season and retire Hall's number next season.

"It's been a tough few days around here," Mason said.

The Golden Gophers, who best Southwest Texas State, 42-0, in their opener cut the four-game losing streak. They will play in their last game of the season, which is the most against the Gators.

A memorial service, open to the pub... will be held Saturday at Williams Arena.

Miami fans to attend the bowl in Orlando on Sept. 9.

The Gophers will wear a No. 71 patch on their game on the... will wear a No. 71 patch on their jerseys for the rest of the... this season and retire Hall's number next season.

"It's been a tough few days around here," Mason said.

The Golden Gophers, who best Southwest Texas State, 42-0, in their opener cut the four-game losing streak. They will play their last game of the season, which is the most against the Gators.

A memorial service, open to the public... will be held Saturday at Williams Arena.

Miami fans to attend the bowl in Orlando on Sept. 9.

The Gophers will wear a No. 71 patch on their game on the... will wear a No. 71 patch on their jerseys for the rest of the season and retire Hall's number next season.

"It's been a tough few days around here," Mason said.

The Golden Gophers, who best Southwest Texas State, 42-0, in their opener cut the four-game losing streak. They will play their last game of the season, which is the most against the Gators.

A memorial service, open to the public... will be held Saturday at Williams Arena.

Miami fans to attend the bowl in Orlando on Sept. 9.

The Gophers will wear a No. 71 patch on their game on the... will wear a No. 71 patch on their jerseys for the rest of the season and retire Hall's number next season.

"It's been a tough few days around here," Mason said.

The Golden Gophers, who best Southwest Texas State, 42-0, in their opener cut the four-game losing streak. They will play their last game of the season, which is the most against the Gators.

A memorial service, open to the public... will be held Saturday at Williams Arena.

Miami fans to attend the bowl in Orlando on Sept. 9.

The Gophers will wear a No. 71 patch on their game on the... will wear a No. 71 patch on their jerseys for the rest of the season and retire Hall's number next season.

"It's been a tough few days around here," Mason said.
SPORTS

BY HOWARD FENDRICH
ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — Venus Williams faced her sister Serena in an Open match Wednesday afternoon, both looking to add to their long list of remarkable achievements.

Venus collaborated with her sister for double-figures wins and seven-open matches, but lost in the first set.

Venus aces Seles in quarterfinal

Wimbledon this year - against Lleyton Hewitt in the final match finished at 2:14 a.m. Tuesday.

Baltimore Orioles, with starter Miguel Batista put up a tough fight but ultimately lost to the Rangers. The Orioles scored the go-ahead run in the top of the ninth inning, but the Rangers answered with two runs of their own in the bottom of the ninth to win the game, 5-4.

Venus Williams took the lead in the second set, and closed out the match with a dominant performance. She won the final set in 15 minutes, outscoring her sister 6-2, 6-3, 6-6 (6-2) to advance to the semifinals.

Venus Williams was the first player to win the Open Championship in 1975. She has won the tournament three times, in 1992, 1998, and 2002. She also won the French Open in 2002, and the Australian Open in 2003.

Hawkins, N.C. — The Daily Iowan

Venus Williams took the lead in the second set, and closed out the match with a dominant performance. She won the final set in 15 minutes, outscoring her sister 6-2, 6-3, 6-6 (6-2) to advance to the semifinals.

Venus Williams was the first player to win the Open Championship in 1975. She has won the tournament three times, in 1992, 1998, and 2002. She also won the French Open in 2002, and the Australian Open in 2003.

Hawkins, N.C. — The Daily Iowan

Venus Williams took the lead in the second set, and closed out the match with a dominant performance. She won the final set in 15 minutes, outscoring her sister 6-2, 6-3, 6-6 (6-2) to advance to the semifinals.

Venus Williams was the first player to win the Open Championship in 1975. She has won the tournament three times, in 1992, 1998, and 2002. She also won the French Open in 2002, and the Australian Open in 2003.

Hawkins, N.C. — The Daily Iowan

Venus Williams took the lead in the second set, and closed out the match with a dominant performance. She won the final set in 15 minutes, outscoring her sister 6-2, 6-3, 6-6 (6-2) to advance to the semifinals.

Venus Williams was the first player to win the Open Championship in 1975. She has won the tournament three times, in 1992, 1998, and 2002. She also won the French Open in 2002, and the Australian Open in 2003.

Hawkins, N.C. — The Daily Iowan

Venus Williams took the lead in the second set, and closed out the match with a dominant performance. She won the final set in 15 minutes, outscoring her sister 6-2, 6-3, 6-6 (6-2) to advance to the semifinals.

Venus Williams was the first player to win the Open Championship in 1975. She has won the tournament three times, in 1992, 1998, and 2002. She also won the French Open in 2002, and the Australian Open in 2003.
Hawkeyes utilize power, speed to overcome Drake

Volleyball

Continued from Page 18

"I'm really happy with the way our team was able to win," Black said. "I think we did a really good job of controlling the ball and keeping them off the court." The Hawkeyes did not allow Drake to score a point in the third game, winning by a 27-25, 25-13, 25-11 score.

Other major Iowa contribu­tors were Kari Kowalski and Alyson Tjaden, who put up 13 and 12 assists respectively. The Hawkeyes also had 30 kills and three service aces, while Drake managed a mere 20 kills and no service aces.

"Our defense became a little bit of a focal point today," Suggs said. "We missed a few things, so it was a good opportunity to see that our defense is good enough to be able to finish the deal." Suggs suggested that the defense did a great job of controlling the game and was one of the main reasons for the win.

"If we hit the ball, we're gonna have a lot of success," Suggs said. "Our defense is gonna be a big part of that." The Hawkeyes' defense was especially strong in the third game, where they held Drake to just 11 kills.

This win is significant for the Hawkeyes as they look to build on their early success this season. With their next match against Illinois on Sunday, the team will be looking to continue their winning streak and further solidify their position at the top of the conference.
SPORTS

Richmond track rehauled before weekend of races

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richmond, Va. — Drivers arriving at Richmond International Raceway for a NASCAR race this weekend are likely to find the track different than when they left it. Back then, when the Beach and Watchmen Cup series were here, the newly paved oval had too much grip and only one race group, causing some drivers to crash.

Right now, Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond, led the way. Stewart, who made his debut at the track in 1992, is now leading the way in seven career starts at Richmond, led the way.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed."

"I'm sure the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"At the time, they were using a test program that was a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"At the time, they were using a test program that was a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.

"I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock," said Stewart, who won the 1992 series and has led the way in seven career starts at Richmond. "I think the crew chiefs were a bit of a shock, and then the track changed.
RESTAURANT
PETS
APPLIANCES
SPRING BREAK FUN
ROOM FOR RENT
APARTMENT FOR RENT
TWO BEDROOM
DUPLEX FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR RENT
ROOM FOR ROLDER GAS STOVE.
Everything works.
$301obo.
(319)887-2006.

Now hiring part-time & full-time.
Call 391-1904 for appointment.

NOW HIRING
Part-time a.m.
& p.m. line cook. Please apply within.
Tropical fish, pellets, and pet supplies.

Efficiency/One bedroom
Three/Four bedroom

Autodomain Drive

Iowa City

Superbly maintained
3 room, 2 bath

1967 Mercedes Benz 230
Black with red interior.
4-speed, 4-cylinder.
72,000 miles.
Near mint condition.
Asking $3800.
351-5255

One Day New! - A Photo Is Worth A Thousand Words!
SELL YOUR CAR
30 DAYS FOR $40
(picture and up to 10 words)

Call our office to set up a time that is convenient for you to bring your car by to be photographed.
Your ad will run for 30 days - for $40
Drawings 2 hours prior to run date desired
For more information contact:
The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.
IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER
319-335-5784 or 335-5785
The DILBERT Quote

About Why and What To Do.* - Ben Lib, political science, today in Cargill Commons, 10:30, Ques. 6.2.

Apple Picking, today at 6 p.m., Holland Jewish Center.

THURSDAY PRIME TIME

No details provided.
that part of what Wallace, 59, loves most about The Vagina Monologues—her starring role, the口コミis—"is that you can do your own monologue and bring your own stamp to it." Wallace, who had been, for her role as secretary Don Kazen on "The Bob Newhart Show" in the 1970s, brought her own comedic style, Sunday wise, and a new ponytail back to the Mabie Theatre on Tuesday night. The show kicked off six days of performances in Iowa City, which will run through Sept. 8. "I'm Marcia. I'll be your Iowa vagina tonight," Wallace said Tuesday night, and the audience members erupted with laughter.

Originally from the small town of Clinton, Iowa, Wallace likes much of comedic, the Mabie Theatre on Sept. 8. She shares the stage with established actresses Freda Hendren and Kristen Lee Kelly, both of whom travel with the North American tour of The Vagina Monologues and play a different role in each city.

Written by Eve Ensler, Monologues has 230 different roles available, every woman around the world. The performers give life to other women's stories by taking on different personas. The monologues touch on subjects such as orgasms, rape and genital mutilation. But in all of the monologues, the same voice, and a new spiky hairdo, laughing.

"The Simpsons," an Emmy award for her role as Bart's teacher, "Murphy Brown," and "Alf." Most recently, she portrayed Hollywood veteran Marcia Wallace could be in her teens again and wearing a strapless zebra-print dress. The Broadway vet, who owned a store called Wulowhood, has shared

"Don't stop me now," she said in a phone interview with from her home in New York City. After

"I love it, and I can't wait to do it," Wallace said. "I was a woman with a mission."

Wallace brings her comedic experience to the role of a celebrity with Iowa ties. She shares

"This is an idea whose time has come. It put you to sleep. The sleeper hit of the summer..."

Wallace credits her success to the determination her parents

"This is something that got her through the worst of her cancer. Wallace brought

"This is something that got her through the worst of her cancer. Wallace brought

"This is something that got her through the worst of her cancer. Wallace brought

"This is something that got her through the worst of her cancer. Wallace brought
The result of December's mini-season of punk rock went hungry for a live tour. As a young man, Michael was in the audience of this performance and his memories remain vivid. He described the atmosphere as volatile and the music as exhilarating. The experience was transformative for him, and he decided to pursue a career in music production. He told me, "It was a pivotal moment in my life. That's when I realized I wanted to be a part of something that could bring joy and comfort to others, just like it did for me."
In a van for two weeks, that it's learned so much about myself with small children and living a job great, but who left in May is not the same fit here anymore. The person experiences of my life.

Late, I've started to realize that I feel like my arm, and it was easily one of the best out what's wrong with me. But I've always suggested that out what was close friends with the people this summer I was a camp worked with.

So, like and mother, I felt a lot better after talking to Abby. But something was still missing. I don't know. The feeling was still there.

Here, I am walking around with a recognizable symbol for youth and passion and thoughtful tattooed on my arm, and I'm telling a close friend to act more grown-up.

Almost two weeks ago, I sort of got in a fight with probably my closest friend in the world. She lives in Dallas, and not unlike me, she's going through a strange time in her life. She's recently divorced her husband, who's been spending her time writing, and I'm trying to figure out what on earth it is that she's thinking. It's been more than one occasion I decided to see tough love on her telling her that she should snap out of it and that she needed to start working again.

Each time I did this, she got kind of mad at me, but eventually realized that I was just playing devil's advocate, and then later, I'm not sure what she said. I'm not sure if she's still thinking about it, but in response to a\n
A poetry community comes together

BY KATHRYN ANDERSON

Tonight, five poets will try to create a portrait of one of the first women of American poetry, a woman whose works aren't only the Bernice venom but the brains of her as well. Iowa Poet Laureate Marvin Bell of the Writer's Workshop will be joined by UA alumni Clare Cooper, Robert Davis, and James McKean for a reading of poems by UA alumni Jane Cooper at Prairie Lights Books, 615 S. Dubuque St. The reading is in honor of the 2000 publication of The Flannery O'Connor Collected and Reread: A Celebration of Cooper's work. We tried to do what I can to give a small way to show my gratitude for her work and friendships.

Cooper, who is unable to travel, is a member of a distinguished corn of the Writer's Workshop, in which she worked with Robert Lowell and John Berryman. Her collection includes the first female

In young age, I'm so happy, my identity, my home, without questions, dreamed like a self of. I learned or caught on myself the greatest happiness between with small children and living a job great, but who left in May is not the same fit here anymore. The person experiences of my life.

Late, I've started to realize that I feel like my arm, and it was easily one of the best out what's wrong with me. But I've always suggested that out what was close friends with the people this summer I was a camp worked with.

So, like and mother, I felt a lot better after talking to Abby. But something was still missing. I don't know. The feeling was still there.

Here, I am walking around with a recognizable symbol for youth and passion and thoughtful tattooed on my arm, and I'm telling a close friend to act more grown-up.
AUGUST IN MOVIES

GREEK WEDDING CONTINUES TO CLIMB CHARTS

The sleeper hit My Big Fat Greek Wedding grossed $14.8 million to claim the No. 2 spot over the Labor Day Weekend, its best week yet in a five-month run.

NEW MOVIES OPENING FRIDAY

CITY BY THE SEA

ROBERT DE NIRO STARS AS MAKON, THE NEW GIRL IN TOWN WHO DEVELOPS A CRUSH ON BEN CRANKIN AND TAKES DRASTIC MEASURES TO RUN HIM.

SWIMFAN

ERINNISTENHAINESKASTS AS MADONNA, THE NEW GIRL IN TOWN WHO DEVELOPS A CRUSH ON BEN CRANKIN AND TAKES DRASTIC MEASURES TO RUN HIM.

Y TÚ MAMÁ TAMBIÉN

BUDA LAST YEAR'S HIGHEST-GROSSING MOVIE IN MEXICO, IT TELLS THE STORY OF TWO TEENAGERS WHO LEAVE MEXICO CITY IN SEARCH OF A BEACH CALLED "HEAVEN'S MOUTH."

DANGEROUS LIVES OF ALBERT BOYS

BUDA IN MID-1970 SAVANNAH, FRANCOIS DOLLY AND TIM SULIVAN, LIKE MAURY 14- AND 15-YEAR-OLDS, ESCAPE INTO THE FANTASY WORLD OF COMIC BOOKS, FRANKLY, AN EXCELLENT ARTISTS, CREATE SUPERHERO ALBERT EGGS FOR THE TWO BOYS.

ARTS BRIEFS

There she is—

MISS REPORTER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) - A woman who claims to be Miss America from America's Answer to Princess Diana has landed in New Jersey's state capital.

Only, the unemployed former waitress claims she is Miss America Pam Barker, who is currently unemployed and has no intention of working in the beauty industry.

Barker, who is in her 20s, claims to be a former Miss America who was given the job after losing her contest.

She is in town to promote her own line of beauty products, which she claims are better than any other.

She plans to stay in town until she can get a job.

Her claims have yet to be verified, but she has already been spotted on the streets of Atlantic City.

OAKCROST TO COMMENCE TO CORNER OFFICE.

Getting to class is just one of the many reasons millions of people ride public transportation every day. Also, the ride can be shopping. Or it's师范大学 at a local university campus. And when people have the freedom and opportunity to pursue their dreams, the whole community thrives. To find out more information about how public transportation benefits both individuals and communities, please visit www.publictransporation.org.

SPECIAL GUEST: TOSAWHOU

TOMORROW! FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6 HILTON COLISEUM 11 AM, LA This is a free event and open to the</no>
Goobye to pickin' & grin'n!

JIM PATTERSON

NASHVILLE, Tenn.

Recorded for a commercial break­down in the 1930s, the title song by The Nickel Creek Band is destined to return to glory. The band's new album, "Freakonica," has already sold more than 70,000 copies, and the band is due to release "The Nickel Creek Band" album on the same day.

The producers in this instance - Tom Hanks and Rita Wilson - are perhaps as much to blame for the success of "The Fast and the Furious" as the film itself. They were forced to deal with the deaths of two leads in a span of only nine minutes.

Nickel Creek's first album, "The Nickel Creek Band," went on to sell over 500,000 copies and was nominated for three Grammy Awards. The band also released a single titled "Freakonica," which was later used in the film "The Fast and the Furious." The song "The Fast and the Furious" was written by Nickel Creek in collaboration with Christina Aguilera.

The band's latest album, "The Nickel Creek Band," was released in 2002 and featured a blend of bluegrass and folk music. The album's title track, "The Nickel Creek Band," was inspired by the band's love of American roots music and was nominated for a Grammy Award.

The writing is pretty mediocre, but there's enough substance to be intriguing. Typically, I would consider that "The Nickel Creek Band" is a little too familiar to be entirely memorable. The lyric "The Nickel Creek Band" is a little too familiar to be entirely memorable.

A marriage of epic proportions

The Pulliam Journalism Fellowship

Jill Stull, a native of Austin, Texas, has been named the new director of the Pulliam Journalism Fellowship at Indiana University. Stull replaces John Russell, who has been the director of the fellowship for the past 10 years.

Stull has worked as a journalist for 20 years, covering topics such as education, politics and technology. She has won several awards for her work, including the National Association of Black Journalists' Award for Outstanding Achievement in Journalism.

Stull will be responsible for overseeing the fellowship, which provides grants for journalism students. The fellowship was established in 1981 by Robert Pulliam, a member of the Indiana University Board of Trustees, in honor of his wife, Dorothy Pulliam, who was a reporter for the Indianapolis News.

The fellowship is administered by the Indiana University School of Journalism and has awarded more than $3 million to journalism students since its inception.

Stull plans to continue the tradition of excellence in journalism education that has been a hallmark of the fellowship under John Russell's leadership. She looks forward to working with the fellowship's students and alumni to ensure that they have the tools they need to succeed in the field of journalism.

The Pulliam Journalism Fellowship is located at 801 N. Gilbert Street in Bloomington, Indiana. For more information, please visit the fellowship's website at www.indystudent.org.
Nothing to fear but dot-com itself

The end of every calendar year marks the beginning of ‘dotdom’. Lists abound as we tally the hits and misses of the past year. But when should these lists come to take the place of the ‘top ten’ or ‘most memorable’? When should these lists provide a summary of the career of rock and roll? When should they provide a guide to the world of the best movies of the year? Why are broad lists compiled? Instead, it should be understood that these lists are as necessary as the need to display some of the most disturbing and up-to-date images of torture filmed in recent memory. The Lists – including plot, dialogue, and character development — is pushed to the wayside in order to appease the film’s thirst for blood. It is an anomalous form of filmmaking. It is only logical, however, that the Lists be started anew in order to avoid the fear dot com syndrome. By the end of the year, they will get the recognition they deserve. It is not to be despised, but to be feared. Why has this film finally turned to the Internet as the focal point for its films? The Internet, with its seemingly absolute control over events and its power to reduce the world to any available form of violence, seems like a logical route to explore when wanting to please a cross-section of viewers most next year. Few dot com films, though, attempt to distort the Internet as something it could result from the Internet. Bullets (enormously distorted phantoms) and ends up thinking of the world in order to appease the film’s thirst for blood. It is an anomalous form of filmmaking. It is only logical, however, that the Lists be started anew in order to avoid the fear dot com syndrome. By the end of the year, they will get the recognition they deserve. It is not to be despised, but to be feared. Why has this film finally turned to the Internet as the focal point for its films? The Internet, with its seemingly absolute control over events and its power to reduce the world to any available form of violence, seems like a logical route to explore when wanting to please a cross-section of viewers most next year. Few dot com films, though, attempt to distort the Internet as something it