Lab deluged with West Nile testing

BY KELLY CASINO

The Daily Iowan

As mosquito season reaches its peak, officials have been trained with patients experiencing to be treated for the West Nile Virus. According to Dr. Jeffrey H. Lenkinski, Laboratory director at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, the lab has approximately 15 cases a day. Patients usually have reason to believe they have the virus when they call to see Dr. Larry Jenkins, a program manager for the lab. The facility also has approximately 40 calls a day from people who are concerned about the virus or are concerned about their neighbors, she said.

"It is definitely taking our resources because we're having to adjust in the midst of the epidemic," Jenkins said. "Every day we've done a great job, though, considering no one expected the virus to do what it did this year." The number of tests done are staggering given that the lab had only processed 30 tests for the West Nile Virus this season. With the recent outbreak, the lab has seen a 150 percent increase in calls from people in need of help with the strain of the virus to react.

With dozens at UI Hospitals and Clinics treating another patient believed to have the West Nile virus, Iowaawa should continue to remain on guard until the first. Jenkinds said.

See WEST IOWA. Page 2A.

Bush’s war cabinet says Iraq has nukes

BY MIKE ALLEN

Washington Post

WASHINGTON — President Bush, preparing to make his first address to the nation since the attacks, tells reporters this morning that he is looking forward to what he described as a "new era in the Middle East." The White House official who spoke to reporters on the condition that his name not be used said that Bush had been determined to speak before the nation.

"The president decided not to delay," the official said. "He wanted to get his message out to the American public." The official added that Bush would deliver his address to the nation at the White House at 9 a.m. on Friday.

The official said that Bush would deliver a speech to the nation in which he would outline his vision for the future of the Middle East and the world. The official added that Bush would outline a new strategy for the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would announce a new strategy for Iraq that would include a new coalition of nations to support the war on terrorism. The official added that Bush would outline a new plan for the distribution of resources in Iraq, which has been a key concern for the United States.

The official said that Bush would also outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.

The official said that Bush would outline a new strategy for the administration of the war in Iraq, which has been ongoing for several months.
Vilsack: Gross would cut Medicaid

BY CHUCK LARSON

If Republican gubernatorial contender Kim Reynolds says there are 30,000 Iowans who are receiving Medicaid, Gov. Tom Vilsack said Sept. 4, he is "utterly wrong." Vilsack said the governor is misrepresenting the numbers of Iowans who are on Medicaid. Reynolds, who joined a gubernatorial debate in Des Moines late last week, accused Vilsack of being "reckless with the numbers."

Vilsack said that under Gov. Terry Branstad's watch, 17,000 more Iowans are getting Medicaid. Vilsack said that under Gross, people who are above the poverty level would lose their Medicaid. The poverty level per couple last year was $12,890 for an individual and $19,840 for a family of four, he said.

"Hospitals can't afford it," Vilsack said. "That's the Gross plan."

Vilsack said that his administration was growing the federal Medicaid enrollment and that it would use all the legal remedies, including taking the issue to the federal government.

"Most people feel that it is a win-win agreement between Governor Branstad and Governor Gross."

Vilsack talked of a credibility gap growing between the candidates. He said that his opponent's message is distorted, first in lobbing reelection interests, then in Georgia gaining interests and the idea of choice, not on Medicaid.

"I'm asking Iowans to ask him tough questions," Vilsack said. "We can't trust Governor Branstad to do the right thing after the election."

For more information, see Page 1 at dailioian.com.

Large "16" $9.99

One Topping Pizza $3.99

Add a 2nd $7.99 + Expires 10/31/21

Large "14" $6.99

One Topping Pizza $2.99

Not available in Coralville.

Add a 2nd $5.99 + Expires 10/31/21

Volunteer Information Night
Tuesday, Sept. 24, 7:00 p.m.

Help Us!

Crisis Center
Helpline

351-0140

Volunteer Opportunities

Iowa City

imogenous: 82%.

To get a list of volunteering opportunities in your area, visit www.volunteermatch.org.

For more information, see Page 1 at dailioian.com.

Volunteer Opportunities

Iowa City

imogenous: 82%.

Rebecca C. Wardle (Sociology, 1994) and Stuart L. Hinkle (Health Science, 1989) examined the role of social structural factors in shaping volunteering among older adults. Their study found that social structural factors, such as family and community resources, play a significant role in determining volunteering behavior among older adults. The researchers argue that understanding these factors is crucial for developing effective volunteer programs and policies aimed at engaging older adults in meaningful volunteer activities.

Happy Labor Day weekend to all our readers.

Volunteer Opportunities

Iowa City

imonomous: 82%.

We encourage our readers to participate in volunteer opportunities that align with their interests and values. Volunteering can be a rewarding experience that enhances one's sense of purpose and well-being. Whether it's serving at a local food bank, participating in community events, or supporting a cause close to one's heart, there are many ways to give back and make a positive impact on the lives of others.

For more information, see Page 1 at dailioian.com.
Wardens: Cuts make Iowa prisons scary

By Mike Glover

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, September 8, 2008 - 3A

What You Can Do To End War and Terror

Tuesday, Sept. 10, 2002

7 pm

Dan Finkel

Finkel appears in the film "We Own the Night."

On the eve of the first anniversary of 9/11, learn what part you can play in World Peace.

www.JoinTheCause.org

337-7022

Mayo Clinic

SUMMER III FOR JUNIOR NURSING STUDENTS

We invite you to explore the Summer III Student Nursing Experience with Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. This program is for junior nursing students. A total of three weeks of a four-week in-service/lecture program, beginning early in July or early in August. Summer III is a part-time, supervised nursing experience designed to give our students the opportunity for direct and indirect patient care settings on the Health Science Campus.

Mayo Nursing was awarded the Magnet Hospital Recognition Status for Excellence in Nursing Service by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

For more information about the Summer III program, apply online or visit our website or contact:

MAYO CLINIC

SUMMER III

For more information about the Summer III program, apply online or visit our website or contact:

Macy Clinic

Room 309B, Building 2

Ph: (507) 284-5100

Fax: (507) 284-6747

Email: summer3@mayo.edu

Application Deadline: January 15, 2003

www.mayoclinic.org/summer3.stm

We help you to enjoy the Summer III Student Nursing Experience with Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. This program is for junior nursing students. A total of three weeks of a four-week in-service/lecture program, beginning early in July or early in August. Summer III is a part-time, supervised nursing experience designed to give our students the opportunity for direct and indirect patient care settings on the Health Science Campus.

Mayo Nursing was awarded the Magnet Hospital Recognition Status for Excellence in Nursing Service by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

For more information about the Summer III program, apply online or visit our website or contact:

Macy Clinic

Room 309B, Building 2

Ph: (507) 284-5100

Fax: (507) 284-6747

Email: summer3@mayo.edu

Application Deadline: January 15, 2003

www.mayoclinic.org/summer3.stm
Clergy preach Sept. 11 lessons

BY RACHEL ZOLL

Associated Press

Washington - The number of people who were killed in all violent crimes except murder fell by 101,000 from 2000 to 2001, sending the crime rate to its lowest level since it was first tracked in 1973, the government reported Sunday.

The decline was due primarily to a record low number of reported assaults, the most common form of violent crime.

The drop is detailed in the 2001 National Crime Victimization Survey, which is based on interviews with victims and thus does not include murder.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics report was obtained Sunday by the Associated Press in advance of its release this week.

Preliminary figures from more than 17,000 cities, counties, and state law-enforcement agencies and released in May show similar overall numbers for the first half of this year compared to 2001.

Experts assessing the new report on violent crime said the downturn, part of a decades-long trend, is the result primarily of the strong economy in the 1990s and tougher sentencing laws.

Despite the downturn, based on interviews or chats around the watercooler, it is clear crime is on the decline in a significant way and has been for some years now," said Ralph Moore, a criminologist at Stanford University.

Violent crime rate drops

Washington - The number of people who were killed in all violent crimes except murder fell by 101,000 from 2000 to 2001, sending the crime rate to its lowest level since it was first tracked in 1973, the government reported Sunday.

The decline was due primarily to a record low number of reported assaults, the most common form of violent crime.

The drop is detailed in the 2001 National Crime Victimization Survey, which is based on interviews with victims and thus does not include murder.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics report was obtained Sunday by the Associated Press in advance of its release this week.

Preliminary figures from more than 17,000 cities, counties, and state law-enforcement agencies and released in May show similar overall numbers for the first half of this year compared to 2001.

Experts assessing the new report on violent crime said the downturn, part of a decades-long trend, is the result primarily of the strong economy in the 1990s and tougher sentencing laws.

Despite the downturn, based on interviews or chats around the watercooler, it is clear crime is on the decline in a significant way and has been for some years now," said Ralph Moore, a criminologist at Stanford University.

"When people have jobs and feel that they can support their families and their communities and live in peace, they don't need to engage in criminal behavior," Moore said. "Crime has been cut by the implementation of tough sentencing laws at the end of the 1990s."

The violent crime rate has decreased by almost 8 percent.

The new report says that between 2000 and 2001, the number of people who reported they were victims of violent crimes fell from about 11.6 per 1,000 to 10.9 per 1,000 population. The number of people reporting violent crimes fell from 6,322,000 in 2000 to 6,744,000 in 2001. Only about half of the violent crimes reported in the survey were reported to police.

The University of Iowa International Programs, The Crossing Borders Program and The University of Iowa Hillel present: The Road to Achva: A Jewish and a Palestinian Perspective on Life in Israel

Israel scholar Yitzhak Adelman and Muslim Abu Samaa will discuss the new report on violent crime in the new "Achva" journal on September 9, 2002.

"Achva" is the name of the college where the two scholars' schools in Jerusalem.

The talk will describe how Achva, a school in the West Bank, is challenging the stereotype of the Palestinian scholar with such different backgrounds ended up at Achva, and what that means for Palestinian identity in the new Middle East.

Monday, September 9, 2002
7:00 p.m. • W108 Buchanan Auditorium

Pappajohn Business Building

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa sponsored events. If you are a person with a physical disability who requires a reasonable accommodation in order to participate in this program, please call 319-335-0708.
Just buy anything Clinique for 19.50 or more and get this 8-piece gift—free.

Great skin specialists, makeup must-haves and more are yours, to-go:

Great Gift News:
- Moisture Surge Extra Thirsty Skin Relief
- Moisture Surge Eye Gel

Great Gift Favorites:
- Dramatically Different Moisturizing Lotion
- Sheer Powder Blusher in Silk Bronze
- Moisture Sheer Lipstick SPF 15 in Sheer Natural
- Light Control Gel

Great Gift Exclusives:
- Long Last Soft Shine Lipstick Duo with Brush in Berry Freeze/Baby Kiss
- Cosmetics Bag

Quantities are limited. One gift to a customer, please, per event. While supplies last.

Meet Clinique's new Advanced Stop Signs.

Precision. Speed. Unwavering performance. Introducing our new and very improved “anti-aging” champion. Advanced formula works with even greater speed and accuracy to target the look of lines and wrinkles, helping to make them vanish. Uses a powerful new “cluster-buster” complex to help break apart the appearance of dark spots for a more even skin tone. Even inhibits future environmental damage.

New Advanced Stop Signs targets lines and dark spots. 1.7 fl. oz., $35.

Visit us online at www.younkers.com

YOUNKERS
THE ONE & ONLY YOU
IOWA

Monday, September 9, 2002

NEWS

Malternatives a growing trend in state, official says

Malternatives are a growing trend in Iowa, according to an official with the beverage industry.

Alcohol sales are up 4.7 percent this fiscal year compared with the same time last year, said Jim Walding, executive director of the Treasury Department's Division of Alcohol, Tobacco, Fireworks and Firearms.

"It's somewhat of a recession trend," Walding said. "It's somewhat of a recession proof."

Malternatives are common among women and young people, such as Smirnoff Ice and hard lemonades.

If I'm at a party that serve beer, I usually drink Smirnoff Ice or hard lemonade," said Michelle Martin, a University of Iowa student.

"I'm at a party that serve beer, I usually drink Smirnoff Ice or hard lemonade," Martin said. "I don't like the taste or scent of beer. I like the things that taste like fruit drink."

Smirnoff Ice is the No. 1 brand of hard lemonade in the area, said R.J. Winkelhake, his customer assistants manager, who said they have the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

Winkelhake operates at the IMU Main City, which is the No. 1 alcoholic beverage in the area, said R.J. Winkelhake, his customer assistants manager, who said they have the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.

"We're trying to make anything out of September 11 is a time for an honor," said Michelle Martel, a University of Iowa senior.

"It's a somber day," she said. "It's a day that we come together in a somber way in remembrance of those who lost their lives that day, and to pay for peace in the days ahead."

For many, honoring the victims won't change their daily schedules. City employees will be on the clock, said Iowa City Police Chief R.J. Winkelhake, but there will be the option of participating in an informal gathering to coincide with the release of the top two brands.

"It will be a chance for people to share a couple of thoughts...an opportunity for all," he said.~
Drug errors haunting hospitals, study says

BY LINDSEY TAMBER
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO — In a new study released today, researchers estimate that in the past year, more than 40 hospitals have been sued over errors that can be traced to the way hospitals manage drugs. The study, which did not evaluate specific drugs or hospital staff, found that nearly 10 percent of the errors were considered potentially harmful.

The monthly report, which is based on an analysis of drug errors in hospitals, is published in the today's Archives of Internal Medicine. It is based on data collected in 1995.

Drug errors are among the nation's leading causes of mistakes in patients' care. The researchers said their findings support implications of a highly publicized 1999 Institute of Medicine report suggesting that the nation's hospitals have "major systems problems." The report said medical errors contribute to more than 1 million agency and up to 40,000 deaths annually.

Health care workers trained for the new study said an onsite and recorded errors during 81 days of observation. Potentially harmful errors included overdoses and instances when nurses failed to give patients prescribed medications.

The study follows the accreditation commission's recent announcement of six safety standards it will require starting in January to reduce medical errors. The hospital regulatory agency reviewed more than 13,000 hospitals.

The new standards include demanding better methods of preventing drug errors. Hospitals that don't measure up may risk losing accreditation and federal money.

The commission says hospital leaders should at least two "identifiers" — either a patient's hospital room number or a specific point in the process of getting a drug to a patient, "a dollar amount, a nurse or other hospital staff member, and a doctor has properly prescribed a drug.

Other studies focused on earlier stages, such as doctors or pharmacists incorrectly reading a doctor's messy handwriting. "It's a major problem, not a minor problem, and it doesn't lend itself to an easy solution," said researcher Kenneth Barker, an Austin, University professor of pharmacy systems.

Barber and colleagues evaluated hospital medical records by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, nonaccredited hospitals, and nursing facilities. Error rates were similar, regardless of whether an institution was accredited. The researchers said their findings support implications of a highly publicized 1999 Institute of Medicine report suggesting that the nation's hospitals have "major systems problems."
BY KATHY GARRON
APRIL 25, 2002

AFGHANISTAN. — A dangling carrot, enraged Islamic leaders held the windows Sunday at an Afghan religious relaxation. "To the Americans," grumbled Karzai, a merry, grey-haired man, "they said, 'We hear you.'" "This does not mean they said, 'We are convinced that you are right.'"

Karzai was speaking from his palace one for possible military action in the country, which is under the control of the Taliban, a group of Islamic fundamentalists opposed to the idea of a U.S.-led coalition against terrorism.

"The Taliban have said that they will not negotiate until the United States withdraws its troops," Karzai said. "They have threatened to continue their campaign of violence until their demands are met."

The Taliban have been fighting the Afghan government for over a decade, and their forces have been increasing in strength.

In the United States, some leaders have called for military action against the Taliban, while others have argued for a more peaceful solution.

Karzai said that the United States has been "playing a dangerous game" by supporting the Taliban, and that it is time for the United States to "step up its efforts to bring a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis."

"We have been told by the United Nations that the situation in Afghanistan is critical, and that a military intervention would only make the situation worse," Karzai said. "The United States must work with the United Nations and other international bodies to find a peaceful solution to the Afghan crisis."

Karzai also spoke about the importance of international cooperation in the war on terrorism.

"We cannot win this war alone," Karzai said. "We must work with our allies to defeat the forces of terrorism."

Karzai ended his speech by thanking the Afghan people for their support and expressing his hope for a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis.

Karzai's comments come as tensions between the United States and the Taliban continue to escalate. The United States has been pushing for a military intervention in Afghanistan, while the Taliban have been calling for a peaceful solution.

Some Afghans fed up with U.S. occupation

BY SELENA MCADAM
APRIL 25, 2002

AFGHANISTAN. — A dangling carrot, enraged Islamic leaders held the windows Sunday at an Afghan religious relaxation. "To the Americans," grumbled Karzai, a merry, grey-haired man, "they said, 'We hear you.'" "This does not mean they said, 'We are convinced that you are right.'"

Karzai was speaking from his palace one for possible military action in the country, which is under the control of the Taliban, a group of Islamic fundamentalists opposed to the idea of a U.S.-led coalition against terrorism.

"The Taliban have said that they will not negotiate until the United States withdraws its troops," Karzai said. "They have threatened to continue their campaign of violence until their demands are met."

The Taliban have been fighting the Afghan government for over a decade, and their forces have been increasing in strength.

In the United States, some leaders have called for military action against the Taliban, while others have argued for a more peaceful solution.

Karzai said that the United States has been "playing a dangerous game" by supporting the Taliban, and that it is time for the United States to "step up its efforts to bring a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis."

"We have been told by the United Nations that the situation in Afghanistan is critical, and that a military intervention would only make the situation worse," Karzai said. "The United States must work with the United Nations and other international bodies to find a peaceful solution to the Afghan crisis."

Karzai also spoke about the importance of international cooperation in the war on terrorism.

"We cannot win this war alone," Karzai said. "We must work with our allies to defeat the forces of terrorism."

Karzai ended his speech by thanking the Afghan people for their support and expressing his hope for a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis. Some Afghans fed up with U.S. occupation

BY BETH HARLOW
APRIL 25, 2002

AFGHANISTAN. — A dangling carrot, enraged Islamic leaders held the windows Sunday at an Afghan religious relaxation. "To the Americans," grumbled Karzai, a merry, grey-haired man, "they said, 'We hear you.'" "This does not mean they said, 'We are convinced that you are right.'"

Karzai was speaking from his palace one for possible military action in the country, which is under the control of the Taliban, a group of Islamic fundamentalists opposed to the idea of a U.S.-led coalition against terrorism.

"The Taliban have said that they will not negotiate until the United States withdraws its troops," Karzai said. "They have threatened to continue their campaign of violence until their demands are met."

The Taliban have been fighting the Afghan government for over a decade, and their forces have been increasing in strength.

In the United States, some leaders have called for military action against the Taliban, while others have argued for a more peaceful solution.

Karzai said that the United States has been "playing a dangerous game" by supporting the Taliban, and that it is time for the United States to "step up its efforts to bring a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis."

"We have been told by the United Nations that the situation in Afghanistan is critical, and that a military intervention would only make the situation worse," Karzai said. "The United States must work with the United Nations and other international bodies to find a peaceful solution to the Afghan crisis."

Karzai also spoke about the importance of international cooperation in the war on terrorism.

"We cannot win this war alone," Karzai said. "We must work with our allies to defeat the forces of terrorism."

Karzai ended his speech by thanking the Afghan people for their support and expressing his hope for a peaceful resolution to the Afghan crisis.
The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, September 9, 2002

NEWS

UI lab inunated by West Nile virus testing

The 40-year-old woman from southeastern Iowa has no memory of any particular complain she had, but she said she must have been infected with the virus, according to the Iowa Department of Public Health.

In Iowa there is one confirmed human case: A woman in Des Moines, said the CDC.

In Iowa there is one laboratory confirmed human case: A woman in Iowa City, said the Iowa Department of Public Health. The patient is in fair condition, according to the CDC.

The patient is in fair condition, according to the CDC.

"The patient is in fair condition, according to the CDC."

Room for revolution - a project in civility

The low point of the mid-year was trying desperately to get a message through to seniors. After months of endless engagement, the Student Senate would not budge on the issue of vending machines. I remember one meeting in particular, the class of 2005 was there, and everyone was so incredibly attentive. It was a turning point - a moment when I realized that perhaps, just perhaps, there was hope for change. After that meeting, I decided to take action. I went to the Daily Iowan and wrote an article. It was a simple request - to have a small space on campus where students could buy healthy alternatives to the unhealthy vending machines on campus.

---

In My Opinion

Do you think high schools should allow soda vending machines?

Yes:

Soda vending machines are a necessary evil in high schools. They provide students with a quick and easy way to satisfy their thirst, and they help fund the school. Many schools rely on the profits from soda vending machines to pay for activities and programs. Moreover, soda vending machines are a reflection of the current state of the American diet, where sugary drinks are ubiquitous.

No:

Soda vending machines should be banned from high schools. They contribute to the obesity epidemic and promote an unhealthy mindset towards food. High schools should offer healthier and more nutritious options to their students, rather than allowing them to consume sugary and high-calorie drinks.

---

Guest Opinion

Avoiding the perils of freshman year

My freshman year was supposed to be one of the most exciting experiences of my life. I was moving away from home, meeting new people, and learning how to navigate a new environment. I was pursuing a degree in higher education that would lead me to a greater understanding of the world while providing me with job training and experience as a writer. I was, essentially, coming of age. However, despite these lofty goals, I found that the reality was far different. I was struggling to keep up with my coursework, and I was overwhelmed by the constant pressure to perform. As I reflect on my freshman year, I realize that I was not prepared for the challenges of college. I was an eager student who wanted to succeed in every aspect of my life. I was self-deprecating and always pushing myself to do better. I was never satisfied with my performance, and I was always striving to improve. However, I was also struggling with the pressures of being a freshman. I was trying to navigate a new environment, and I was unsure of myself. I was constantly questioning my abilities, and I was always feeling like I was not good enough.

In the end, I realized that my freshman year was a learning experience. I learned a lot about myself, and I grew as a person. I became more confident in my abilities, and I learned how to deal with stress. I also learned the importance of taking care of myself. I realized that my health is important, and I learned how to balance my workload with my personal life. I learned that it is important to take breaks and to enjoy life. I also learned that it is important to have a support system, and I learned how to reach out for help when I needed it.

Looking back, I realize that my freshman year was a necessary part of my growth. I learned a lot about myself, and I grew as a person. I became more confident in my abilities, and I learned how to deal with stress. I also learned the importance of taking care of myself. I realized that my health is important, and I learned how to balance my workload with my personal life. I learned that it is important to take breaks and to enjoy life. I also learned that it is important to have a support system, and I learned how to reach out for help when I needed it.

---

Jesse Elliott

With these four key elements in place, together we can tackle the closely related problems of binge drinking, alcohol abuse, and drug abuse. By raising awareness, implementing effective policies, and providing support services, we can create a safer campus environment for all students.
Airing it out in the land of ten thousand lakes

BY RICHARD SHIRK
THE DAILY IOWAN

As the voice of Atmosphere, Slug has a huge presence on the upper circle of a Minneapolis nightclub, taking center stage, dancing, reciting, and reinventing what hip-hop can say and how to say it. Thousands are finding something in the Atmosphere, a genre-defining cypher with a revolving cast of musical acapellas. Atmosphere will appear at the Hancher Auditorium along with groups like Minneapolis and Des Moines.

A little bit past midnight and the 5th Element, a hip-hop cooperative founded by Slug and high-school buddies Spawn and Frequen$e, will be there. From behind the microphone, flares by the orange glow and break-beat. Slug has no problem dealing with the cold temperatures. He'll be up on the stage by 1:30 am. Atmosphere will be there by 2:00 am.

By the way, did you know it was a Friday night in the land of ten thousand lakes and you were just about to save the world or save my city? It's probably true. Just hang around and find out. You'll like it.

Delving into metallurgy

By T.M. GREEN
THE DAILY IOWAN

Finding a good story idea can be a daunting task for any writer, but not for Nancy Zafris. The winner of the Poetry Society of Iowa (PSI) 2003 Poetry Scholarship has been writing short stories and poems for years. Zafris' novel, "The Scrap Collector," will be published by Prairie Lights Books, 15 S. Dubuque St.

The Metal Shredder is about a family who owns a successful metal business and finds a large metal shredded. The family decides to write a story about a man who finds a car with a metal frame, but she changes the setting and makes the story a metaphor about the family's own metal business. Zafris' book, "The Metal Shredder," will be published by Prairie Lights Books.

Reading

Nancy Zafris will be reading at 4 p.m. today at the University of Iowa Library, 113 Library St.

While zafris is an established short-story writer, she said, "It's the Metal Shredder, her first novel, will help expand her career as a writer." A novel, not a short story, is a work of fiction that is more than 100,000 words long. Zafris' novel, "The Scrap Collector," will be published by Prairie Lights Books.

RESEARCH PARTICIPANTS INVITED

The University of Iowa Dept. of Psychiatry is seeking individuals 18-35 years old who are free of psychiatric illness, but who have one family member treated for paranoid disorder/anxiety attacks. Compensation provided.

Call 353-5475 or e-mail corryl-research@uiowa.edu for details.

STUDENT TRAVEL

BY JEFF MARQUIS

Finding your id when you travel can be a tricky thing, especially when you're not sure if you're in the right city.

NCUA

MEMBERSHIP CHECKING
Free Home Banking
Free Debit Card
Free 24-Hr Teller
Free use of any of our 26 area ATMs
No Monthly Fee for your first 6 months (just $5 after that)
4 Area Locations
Finally, a roommate with brains and great looks.

Gateway has 1% Computer loans for the University of Iowa Students

Give yourself a technological edge in the new school year with a new computer from Gateway! The University of Iowa and Gateway have teamed up to give Fall 2002 students an easy and affordable way to purchase award-winning Gateway computers through the 1% Student Computer Loan Program. 1% loans are available now and until September 15, 2002. Get your orders placed today!

Purchase now! Click on line: http://www.its.uiowa.edu/cs/helpdesk/demo
Or Come In to any Gateway Country Store in West Des Moines, Davenport, Cedar Rapids and North Sioux City or Call 1-800-846-2512 Ext. 55164 or 55625 or esource.gateway.com/UofIstudents

For more information on the money-saving 1% Student Computer Loan program: Visit The University of Iowa Demo Center located in the lower level of Lindquist Center South or stop by 109 Lindquist Center South, call (319) 355-5509 or click on the official web site at www.its.uiowa.edu/cs/helpdesk/demo
Growing pains

Ferentz says Hawkeyes need work this week before facing Iowa State

BY TODD BROMMELKAMP

THE DAILY IOWAN

GOLD

The Hawkeyes will have a tough task this week when they open Big Ten play against offensive powerhouse Ohio State. The Buckeyes are coached by Urban Meyer, who won the national championship last season.

Ohio State faces first test of balanced attack, defensive dominance this week for showdown

BY J.A. ADANDE

LOS ANGELES TIMES

As the Buckeyes prepare to take on the Bears, they will be facing a team that has struggled to find consistency on offense and defense.

Late interception inspires another magic Bears victory

BY J.A. ADANDE

LOS ANGELES TIMES

The Bears defense
came up with a big play to secure the win over the 49ers. It was a defining moment in the game and helped propel the Bears to victory.
IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Sets records with two road wins

By ALI MOLLER

Iowa volleyball's road trip was anything but relaxing, but the Hawkeyes' two victories set program records in the process.

The Hawkeyes, who entered the weekend ranked 26th in the country, smashed the program's road win streak record on Friday night in Boulder, Colorado, when they beat Colorado, 3-0, in the highest-scoring match in program history.

The Hawkeyes' 25-20, 25-15, 25-15 victory over the Buffaloes marked the 10th road win of the season and the 16th road win in program history.

On Saturday, the Hawkeyes continued their dominance of the Buffaloes, as they defeated Colorado, 25-18, 25-20, 25-17, in the highest-scoring match in program history.

The Hawkeyes' 25-20, 25-15, 25-17 victory over the Buffaloes marked the 11th road win of the season and the 17th road win in program history.

No revenge for Hawkeyes in Carolina

By BRIAN TRIPPLE

For the second straight year, the Hawkeyes lost to the Tar Heels, this time in Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The Tar Heels won the match, 3-1, with sets of 25-20, 25-15, 12-25, 25-17.

The loss was the Hawkeyes' third straight, following losses to the Michigan State Spartans and the Wisconsin Badgers.

The Hawkeyes are now 1-7 on the season.

Runners win first invitationals in five years

MICHELLE YONG

The University of Nebraska-Omaha women's cross-country team was victorious in its first regional race of the season, winning the Big Sky Conference Cross-Country Championship.

The Mavericks finished first with a team score of 30, followed by the University of Montana (74) and the University of Idaho (100).

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was their first invitational victory in five years.

The Mavericks' win was the result of a strong showing in the individual race, where the Mavericks had three of the top six finishers.

The Mavericks' victory in the regional race was the culmination of a strong season, where the Mavericks had consistently finished in the top five in each of their races.

The Mavericks will now advance to the NCAA West Regionals, where they will face the top teams in the region and the chance to qualify for the NCAA Championships.
Russell tops opener, Bradley improves

IOWA

Continued from Page 18

RUSHING OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Attempts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purdue</td>
<td>115</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utah</td>
<td>343</td>
<td>57</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TOTAL OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Attempts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purdue</td>
<td>115</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utah</td>
<td>343</td>
<td>57</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

It was a 3-64, 11:10 game at Memorial Stadium, and it was the victory itself. Iowa won the game, 34-10, with a 256-yard performance from Russell, who gained 21 yards in limited action.

Perhaps most important of all was the victory itself. Iowa won on the road during the regular season for the first time in Ferentz’s three-season as head coach.

"To go through some of the injuries and things that we’ve been through in order to get the road in good," the coach said.

Miami’s 20-yard rush by紫色文本

Buckeyes lack experience at quarterback, backing up redshirt freshman Michael Conroy, who was 25,934, well under its 37,500 season average. The Buckeyes lack experience at quarterback as well, with senior Braxton Miller set to make his first career start against Ohio State.

"Everyone on the road during the regular season was a learning experience for us," Ferentz said. "It was a good test for our young players to see how they could handle the road conditions."
SPORTS

Cards outduel Cubs for sweep

BY STEVEN CARY - Jason Simontacchi outdueled Kerry Wood and added two hits as the four time this season, 3-1. The 28-year-old rookie five innings and gave up a run, four hits with strikeouts and one walk. He held the Cubs scoreless only made four fielding errors. In the 29-pitch ninth, he left two runners on base.

San Diego, Calif., April 4

Brock Neukam and Brian Lawrence won for the first time in the Hawks' three-game series over the weekend, but the Hawks' inability to score from the third through the fifth innings is what cost them the series. The Hawks dropped one game over the weekend to Boston College. The Hawks' five goals of the weekend, 8-7. The win was a step for the future.

IOWA SOCCER

Hawkeyes split in Boston

BY KATIE LOW - Courtney Wilson and Corine Horta got the win as the Hawks finished the season on a winning note. After losing two games in a row, the Hawks won two games in a row to finish the season. The Hawks won 8-7 on Saturday and 7-6 on Sunday. The Hawks finished the season with a 4-6-1 record in the Big Ten.

IOWA MEN'S GOLF

Iowa falters without improvement

BY DREW MARNOCH - Iowa's men's golf team returned to action on Saturday at the Hawkeye Invitational in Iowa City. The team finished in 11th place out of 15 teams.

Iowa's men's golf team finished in 11th place out of 15 teams. The team finished with a score of 293, but they're not happy with their performance. The team was in the middle of the pack and didn't have much to show for it. The team finished with a score of 293, but they're not happy with their performance. The team was in the middle of the pack and didn't have much to show for it.
OSU OPEN

Serena is best player, for now, in Williams’ house

BY CHRIS SHERIDAN
October 12, 2003

Serena Williams is the best tennis player on the tour, but how long will she be? Is Venus Williams the second-best player in the world or on the way to becoming it? Will one of the Czech players be the dominant force in tennis in the future? All of these questions will be answered in time. For now, however, it is Serena Williams who is the best tennis player in the world.

Story continued on Page 12

US OPEN

Karl sheds light on U.S. basketball

BY MASON DUNN
October 12, 2003

In the world of American basketball, Karl is a household name. His insights into the sport are respected and sought after. Karl has been a long-time observer of the game and has a deep understanding of the inner workings of the sport. In this article, Karl sheds light on the state of American basketball and offers his thoughts on what needs to be done to improve the sport.

ON THE LINE

The Daily Iowan

There will be much debate in the American basketball community about the possibility of making changes to the rules of the game, and Karl is one of the voices who will be heard. His perspective is valuable and will be taken into consideration as the debate continues.

The Daily Iowan

ON THE LINE

The Daily Iowan

Venus Williams is the best tennis player on the tour, but how long will she be? Is Serena Williams the second-best player in the world or on the way to becoming it? Will one of the Czech players be the dominant force in tennis in the future? All of these questions will be answered in time. For now, however, it is Venus Williams who is the best tennis player in the world.

Story continued on Page 12

ON THE LINE

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan
quote of the day

You go to college, and you go off and do plays, and then when the dust clears, you are left alone in your crazy apartment at 4 in the afternoon with no job, no prospects, and a waitressing shift to go to.

— The Sopranos star Edie Falco, on the glamorous life of an aspiring actor.

dilbert®

by Scott Adams

brought to you by: www.prairielights.com

Monday Prime Time

5-6:00 pm

THE DAILY LEAD

6-7:00 pm

THE ROAD TO ACHVA: JEWISH AND PALESTINIAN PERCEPTIONS AS A LENS ON ISRAEL

Panel Discussion for Faculty and Tab. "One Year Later: Classroom Responses to the 9/11 Anniversary," today at 4:30 p.m., MUII Minneapolis Room.

The Seminar Series, "Sake, Uke, and Local-Option Tours." - "The New Jersey Department of Revenue," today at 6 p.m., 3430 Poplar Avenue Building.

An Evening With The Dinner Editor In Chief Robert Slapik, "The Winds Behind Thes Dish," today at 7:30 p.m., MUII Sacred Heart Room.

Sunday Prime Time

9:00 pm

"Live From Paris Vegas," Kathy Zeh, Idaho, tonight at 8 p.m., Paris Lights Books, 15, 0, Dubuque St., and Paris Lights Books, 15, 0, Dubuque St.

4pm

RML reading, W'lar Ahmed, poetry, today at 8 p.m., Shanghai House.

horoscopes

Monday, September 10

ARIES (March 21-April 20): Your emotional relationship can get off to a rocky start. Plans to be a passionate movie-going, pleasing your favorite, or getting into a messy pecuniary situation.

TAURUS (May 21-June 20): Consider your professional options and the chances you can make working in a new field. You may want to do a full work plan your place in order to more aesthetically pleasing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): This can make some great improvements today if you are intent on knowing very best. Use your imagination, be creative, and resource yourself.

CANCER (July 22-July 23): Be careful not to take on more than your hands handle. whatever is coming because of your financial difficulties because of your financial difficulties. Take the advice and put it in your wallet. You want to bring you the highest return.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You’ve got the right mix today, and if you organize an event that includes friends and neighbors, they will meet you in your area and will appreciate you. Don’t be a lone wolf.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You’re feeling a bit emotional today. If you haven’t completed all the things you were supposed to. You can think before you act, or you may hurt somebody’s feelings without just cause.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You could use a new friend. If you want to try something new, take the advice given to you and run it by your intuition. Don’t do a bomb.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The day is packed with appointments and get-togethers. The Jupiter awards are in order to make it more aesthetically pleasing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If you want to go to the distance, you must be aware of the advice. You want to be the first one to do the distance. The Jupiter awards are the first ones to do the distance. You want to bring you the highest return.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Keep a low profile today. Financial difficulties are appearing, and you may want to take some of the advice given to you to friends and neighbors. Your remarks may be of help to others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your creative mind wants to break free from the usual suspiciousness of your day. You will be more likely to different situations that you are not afraid of yourself.

PIECES (Feb. 19-March 20): It’s probably time today to do the distance. You may want to be a financial adviser. If you can’t manage to live by a budget you set up, you may want to have a financial adviser.

Dilbert®, reprinted with special permission of United Feature Syndicate, Inc.