Magic Bus may lose spot

By LISA EGEBRECHT

SEE MAGIC BUS, 3

Officials hopeful on train

The second application for an Iowa City-Chicago rail is due Aug. 6.

By RYAN ROCCAForte

SEE RAILWAY, 3

Incoming freshmen watch the Ensuring Student Success: Making and Supporting Good Choices presentation in the Bijou on Tuesday. The program deals with issues incoming freshmen may face during their first year, such as alcohol and getting involved with student organizations.

Orientation program tackles alcohol abuse

The program suggests parents discuss alcohol with their college-student children.

By COLLEEN KENNEDY

SEE ALCOHOL, 3

Young entrepreneurs get a jump

In grades four to six hone their business skills at a UI entrepreneur camp.

By KATE FOWLER

SEE ENTREPRENEUR, 3

DAILY IOWAN TV

To watch Daily Iowan TV’s new updates or online at dailyiowan.com or tune in over UTV. The 5 minute summer special airs on Tuesday through Sunday at 130 and 1308 p.m., with reruns at midnight and 8 a.m. the following day.

INDEX

WEATHER

WEB CALENDAR

The Cornhuskers’ impending conference change could open up the state of Nebraska for Big Ten recruiting.

SPORTS, 10

DAILY IOWAN.COM // DAILYIOWAN.COM // TELEVISION

WEB CALENDAR

January 14, 2010

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 2010

The Daily Iowan
Going local, going slow

Iowa City chef supports local farmers and food artisans

By LISA BRAUN

Iowa City chef Kurt Friese in his restaurant on Monday, March 26, in downtown Iowa City. (Daily Iowan/PHOTO BY SHAWNA ROBERTSON)

Kurt Friese

Fave food: Hicks

Fave drink: Pilsner

Friday night memory: Enjoying the music with cheese and wine

Favorite most recent day for the week: Tuesday

Favorite memory of Dining: finding the right gift for a friend's birthday

“First and foremost of all, I’m a food lover. I love food to its core and I love to make people feel happy by feeding them food.”

The Daily Iowan/Lisa Braun

Kurt Friese enjoys the live music between courses at his restaurant, O’Haire’s on Monday. Owner Kurt Friese said most of his employees have been with him for five years. (Daily Iowan/PHOTO BY SHAWNA ROBERTSON)

O’Haire’s

Located in downtown Iowa City, O’Haire’s is a favorite spot for locals and visitors alike. The restaurant offers a variety of dishes, including classic American fare and creative specials. As a chef, Kurt Friese focuses on using fresh, locally sourced ingredients to create flavorful and delicious meals. O’Haire’s is a great place to enjoy a meal with friends and family.

---

METRO

Official appeal made in law-school case

A woman who was not tried only because she was pregnant has received $3.5 million from the state to settle her case, according to The Gazette.

The amount was reached in a settlement reached in a case filed by Ashley Bower, a 31-year-old former student at the University of Iowa College of Law. She filed a lawsuit in 2014, alleging that she was denied the opportunity to be tried for a traffic violation because she was pregnant.

---

Caravalli man faces numerous charges

Police arrested a Caravalli man twice on charges of domestic assault. He is scheduled for trial in the upcoming weeks.

---

Caravalli man faces numerous charges

Police arrested a Caravalli man twice on charges of domestic assault. He is scheduled for trial in the upcoming weeks.

---

BLOTTER

Ballet dancer, charger

The Daily Iowan

---

BLOTTER

Ballet dancer, charger

The Daily Iowan

---

BLOTTER

Ballet dancer, charger

The Daily Iowan
CAMP CONTINUED FROM 1

Campers spend the week learning the basics of entrepreneurship, teaching them to think like entrepreneurs in their own lives. CAMP participants spend the week developing a business — location, marketing, finance, and tapping into their creative sides.

Campers are then put in groups based on their interests, and they come up with products or services to sell around. Forty-three percent of parents said they were very confident, 30 percent quite confident, while 1 percent were not at all confident about having a conversation with their children.

One percent of parents said they were very confident, 40 percent quite confident, while 6 percent were not at all confident about having a conversation with their children.

Seventy percent of UI students engage in high-risk drinking — four or more drinks in a sitting for women, five or more for men. Forty-three percent of students do, according to the National College Health Association.

Rick Hopp and Janet Hopp attended the program, helping to offer their son, Alex, to deal with the temptations of alcohol.

“Just because I’m going to a bar doesn’t mean I’m going to drink there,” he said.

Other students at O’Regan, who had all heard about the 21-ordi- nance, agreed. They said they planned to vote against the measure in November.

“Even for everyone who hasn’t experienced it, I think it is a good idea entering freshman Kenneth Av秸ens said.

Ultimately, the goal of the Orientation program is to encourage students to ratify the benefits and harms of their deci- sion-making. UI student-

misc

Junior Laura Jacobson, president of the UI Entrepreneurship Association, said she was impressed with the student’s performance during the session ended.

“We try to provide a fun and engaging way to learn about the decision-making, UI student-

misc

Junior Laura Jacobson, president of the UI Entrepreneurship Association, said she was impressed with the student’s performance during the session ended.

“We try to provide a fun and engaging way to learn about the decision-making, UI student-

misc

Junior Laura Jacobson, president of the UI Entrepreneurship Association, said she was impressed with the student’s performance during the session ended.
The University of Iowa recently erected a 75-foot, 2.4-kilowatt wind turbine near the University Sustainability Steering Committee building. Such turbines will generate enough power to house a student family and hopefully inspire several generations to come. This is significant, for the world has woken up and realized that the consequences of climate change are already here. Just days before the August 2003 heat wave that killed more than 600 people in the City of New York, a large storm system hit Iowa, and the next day, we experienced a temperature of 104 degrees. This summer, we are already experiencing a heat wave that is far worse than the one last year. According to The University of Iowa in Washington, if he wins re-election to the U.S. Senate in November, he will serve as an educational tool for UI students first offered to all majors in 2009. The university’s Sustainability Steering Committee has called for a more sustainable development of the university. All in all, we urge the administration to continue to fund the university’s Sustainability Steering Committee and to keep it running behind no other universities for the next generation of thinkers, innovators, and entrepreneurs.

The University of Iowa in Washington, if he wins re-election...
By JOANN BAUTISTA

There’s a group of very distinct pictures hanging on one of the walls of the Chait Galleries. One of those paintings seems lost of green, orange, blue, brown, and black to produce a whimsical panorama of a forest in the fall. It’s almost mesmerizing to look at.

The man behind this set of paintings is Lee Iben, 41, one of the artists whose work primarily focuses on landscapeic scenes.

“There’s something pastoral about the style of landscape that I do,” said Iben, a longtime Iowa City resident. “If you take a look at my paintings, you’ll see that it’s more like something you’ve never seen, and quite amusing!”

Diane Bruce, who is original from Long Island, NY, but now a resident of Davenport, is another artist whose landscapes are on display at the Chait Galleries, 218 E. Washington St.

“When I was young, my uncle gave me this beautiful set of pastels,” said Bruce, who was drawn to art because of her teaching job. “But when I was in college I looked upon the pastels and never did anything with them because they have a little bit of the New England area.

Although there is no direct artistic collaboration between Bruce and Iben, this show is the doing of gallery owner Ben-joie, the website that local artists can use to exhibit their work. “I’ve had the artists on the wall for five years, and I’ve been happy to display their work for that long,” said Iben. “I can sometimes get a piece done in five or six hours,” said Iben. “But often it takes about a day and a half.”

“The only time Lea hasn’t lived in the New England area is when he attended Iowa Writers’ Workshop in Iowa City. In fact, he wrote three of the stories in Wild Punch while there.

Lea attended the Workshop in 1994 after having two undergraduate years, even though he didn’t become immersed in writing until a few years before graduating.

“Iron’s reputation is so great and (the school) hard to get into, so I wasn’t going to apply,” said Lea. “But someone convinced me that if I was going to bother applying anywhere, I should apply for Iowa.”

Mod and setting, rather than plot and action, are elements of Lea’s writing that he relies on to create a story. The focus in his stories are told through observation of the scene or by relying on dialogue, he said.

“I like where the writing on the page is pretty straight,” he said. “I try not to go into a lot of flowery description.”

Instead, he prefers to focus on the deeper message behind the story. Most of the stories in Wild Punch hinge on revelatory moments that come to the characters through what might seem like fairly insignificant events.

“There were a few meaningful understanding of the characters’ life or the situation they find themselves in,” he said.

While Lea does have an MFA, he works his day job as a building plumber.

Before building his first guitar in 1874, stories were served as nostalgia for the landscape.

“I think my landscapes

serve as nostalgia for the landscape. “I think the way people remember those places.”

He said. “People say, ‘Oh, I remember that.’ They like them because that’s the way they people remember those places.”

They like them because that’s the way they people remember those places.”

Iowa artists Diane Bruce and Lee Iben showcase their complementary landscape works at the Chait Galleries.

CRESTON LEA

Wild Punch

Creston Lea’s passion for writing fiction stemmed from his immersion in reading. The only time Lea hasn’t lived in the New England area is when he attended Iowa Writers’ Workshop in Iowa City. In fact, he wrote three of the stories in Wild Punch while there.

Lea attended the Workshop in 1994 after having two undergraduate years, even though he didn’t become immersed in writing until a few years before graduating.

“Iron’s reputation is so great and (the school) hard to get into, so I wasn’t going to apply,” said Lea. “But someone convinced me that if I was going to bother applying anywhere, I should apply for Iowa.”

Mod and setting, rather than plot and action, are elements of Lea’s writing that he relies on to create a story. The focus in his stories are told through observation of the scene or by relying on dialogue, he said.

“I like where the writing on the page is pretty straight,” he said. “I try not to go into a lot of flowery description.”

Instead, he prefers to focus on the deeper message behind the story. Most of the stories in Wild Punch hinge on revelatory moments that come to the characters through what might seem like fairly insignificant events.

“There were a few meaningful understanding of the characters’ life or the situation they find themselves in,” he said.

While Lea does have an MFA, he works his day job as a building plumber.

Before building his first guitar in 1874, stories were served as nostalgia for the landscape.

“I think my landscapes

serve as nostalgia for the landscape. “I think the way people remember those places.”

He said. “People say, ‘Oh, I remember that.’ They like them because that’s the way they people remember those places.”

Iowa artists Diane Bruce and Lee Iben showcase their complementary landscape works at the Chait Galleries.

CRESTON LEA

Wild Punch

Creston Lea’s passion for writing fiction stemmed from his immersion in reading. The only time Lea hasn’t lived in the New England area is when he attended Iowa Writers’ Workshop in Iowa City. In fact, he wrote three of the stories in Wild Punch while there.

Lea attended the Workshop in 1994 after having two undergraduate years, even though he didn’t become immersed in writing until a few years before graduating.

“Iron’s reputation is so great and (the school) hard to get into, so I wasn’t going to apply,” said Lea. “But someone convinced me that if I was going to bother applying anywhere, I should apply for Iowa.”

Mod and setting, rather than plot and action, are elements of Lea’s writing that he relies on to create a story. The focus in his stories are told through observa-

ion of the scene or by relying on dialogue, he said.

“I like where the writing on the page is pretty straight,” he said. “I try not to go into a lot of flowery description.”

Instead, he prefers to focus on the deeper message behind the story. Most of the stories in Wild Punch hinge on revelatory moments that come to the characters through what might seem like fairly insignificant events.

“There were a few meaningful understanding of the characters’ life or the situation they find themselves in,” he said.

While Lea does have an MFA, he works his day job as a building plumber.

Before building his first guitar in 1874, stories were served as nostalgia for the landscape.

“I think my landscapes

serve as nostalgia for the landscape. “I think the way people remember those places.”

He said. “People say, ‘Oh, I remember that.’ They like them because that’s the way they people remember those places.”

Iowa artists Diane Bruce and Lee Iben showcase their complementary landscape works at the Chait Galleries.
ANDREW R. JUHL

Notes to Self:

• Never wash dishes and clean a furnish on the first day of your last day of school.
• "Hello!" and "Cripes!" is a bad habit that all "AJ!"- gigabytes of music files.

• When looking for you-gym bag in the gym yesterday, your gym bag is a good place to look, not a bad 1275.

• Select "All" and "Copy" is a bad idea when "All" is 47-and Polydiciopentadiene." Math-

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• When somebody asks you if you're a vegetarian, the odds that hair? Hah.

• "Select All" and "Copy" is a bad idea when "All" is 47-

your laptop and make it yourself.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.

• Never walk downwind

from a pizzeria on the first

of King of Comedy.
Nevada basketball coach Eric Musselman is not worried about losing key players as the Wolf Pack will prepare for 2010.

We’ve heard all the way down to Chicago before, she said. "There was a lot of media around us for about medium. We’ve also had some

The rally monkey on the big screen in a red AL jersey: The Associated Press

"It felt awesome for us to get the win and break that streak," he said. "It was a great feeling to win the game against the Giants, and we were happy with the way we played."
The Daily Iowan brings you its final team rankings for the 2010 Game Time League.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team Name</th>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Previous Rank</th>
<th>Record</th>
<th>Summary</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Coralville Hy-Vee</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>7-1</td>
<td>League champion</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No. 6 Culver's/Vinton (1-7)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>League runner-up</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No. 5 Hawkeye/Etre (2-6)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Lose in semifinals</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Clerk needed.

| $300/day position for more sports needed. Fleet me... |

OUT OF BUSINESS SALE

| No. 2 Hy-Vee (7-1) |     |               | Win, 81-42 vs. Culver's/Vinton |
| No. 1 (877)770-2008. |     |               | No. 6 Culver's/Vinton (1-7) |

HELP WANTED

| NANNY | NEEDED | CHILD CARE | CHILDLESS, PERSONAL | THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT |

HELP WANTED

| BIG 10 University Towing |     |               | 15-30 hours/ week includes benefits. Training provided. |

HELP WANTED

| APARTMENT CLEANERS NEEDED |     |               | FULL & PART-TIME POSITIONS! |

HELP WANTED

| OFFICE FRONT DESK PERSONNEL |     |               | $15/HR per hour. |

HELP WANTED

| SEASONAL LAWN & LANDSCAPING |     |               | 16+ Yrs. experience. |
GOLF

Hopfinger, India named academic All-Americans

The Iowa men’s golf team has its first two academic All-Americans in 15 years. Final Hopfinger and India, who both earned All-American Scholar honors by Cleveland Golf/BagBoy last week, join the team for their senior seasons. Hopfinger, must be a junior or senior academically, compete at least two full years of the college level, compete in all four events in the NCAA championships or 75 percent of the team’s competition rounds, maintain a 3.0 overall grade point average and achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average. In 1995, the founders of Division I golf officially recognized the academic award.

David Sharp and Laine

School-record 72.5 average and dred nineteen Division-I golfers averages in Iowa history while minimum cumulative grade-

age under 76.0, and achieve a

Golf/Srixon last week.

The concept of the game but only 11 were available for sale; the others had been previously ordered.

 denying. He was Nobody can ever deny. He was a Favre retirement situation is quiet.

highest levels of the game but only 11 were available for sale; the others had been previously ordered.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 2010

DAILY IOWAN SPORTS DECK: 319-335-5848 (JANAX) 319-335-6184 (FAX)

jon-frank@uiowa.edu

Iowa City's Gamers opened

Iowa prep athletes haven't attended midnight video-game releases in

MLB

Yankees owner

Steinbrenner led the Yankees into a billion-dollar

steam into the media spotlight published. The person spoke on the condition of anonymity but conceded the then-highest and win-at-all-cost attitude

Yankees into a billion-dollar majority of the sports

sweltering summer, the take," Hall

No all-star action, no

such as these, some sort deserves, and I am pretty sure. Steinbrenner had a heart discordant

in the top career.

(he said) "I like to stay in the top
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the
crowd.

The day sports stood still

today may leave sports fans confused and uneasy.

by JON FRANK

In the midst of the

summer, the majority of

the All-Star break.

In 37-plus seasons as owner,

have anything to

The Big Ten eyes

against

a day, probably like 36 hours

playing," Zehrt said. "I'll probably play six

hours a day at least, probably

Nearly everybody in the crowd.