County officials irked on offer
Johnson County supervisors say they are upset about the UI's offer to purchase a piece of land they have also eyed. Metro, 2

Magic may be lost this season
Residents expressed concerns about the move at a forum on Tuesday.

By LISA EGEBRECHT

Jeremy Freerks, one of the founders of the Figge Art Museum, walked into a meeting room in the Iowa City Public Library on Tuesday night and shook his head.

“This is how big the room is?” asked Freerks, the former president of the Iowa City Rugby Club. “Good luck.”

Minutes later, approximately 30 people filled the room for a city public forum to address the Magic Bus' planned move to a new, more residential location on the 100 block of Woodside Drive. Several residents of the area spoke during the heated 90-minute meeting, expressing concern about the possible arrival of the Magic Bus in their neighborhood.

In the end, they handed a petition against the move to Doug Boatright, the Iowa City director of Housing and Inspection Services.

“I can’t cause children go to the hospital when they are sick,” Anika Slaughter, chair at first, 5-year-old Emma Breitfelder’s treasured face brightened into a wide smile when Stuart approached her. “The two are old friends.

“Stu” — a black mixed-breed dog — visited Breitfelder in the hospital when she was diagnosed with lymphoma cancer and had a mass removed from her abdomen.

Stuart, a pet-therapy animal of around 100 at the Iowa City Public Library, 3rd Base, also known as the Figge Fieldhouse, and the UI Children’s Hospital, is retiring.

Pet therapy can reduce stress, lower blood pressure, and promote well-being.

By AMIE SZATKOWSKI

Four-legged volunteer cheer

“Stu” — a black mixed-breed dog — visited Breitfelder in the hospital when she was diagnosed with lymphoma cancer and had a mass removed from her abdomen.

Stuart, a pet-therapy animal of around 100 at the Iowa City Public Library, 3rd Base, also known as the Figge Fieldhouse, and the UI Children’s Hospital, is retiring.

Pet therapy can reduce stress, lower blood pressure, and promote well-being.

By AMIE SZATKOWSKI

Stuart, a 7-year-old pet-therapy dog, looks around the room during his retirement party Tuesday in a boxy beige corner room on the pedestrian-ideal floor of the UIHC. After four years and 240 hours of service in the hospital’s Purry Friends Program, Stuart and owner Karla Miller are retiring.

Stuart is one of the hospital’s most beloved volunteers.

“I’m just a dog,” said Breitfelder’s mother, Jackie Breitfelder. “He helped her like the hospital more.

Stuart originally retired from his four-year career Tuesday amid a crowd of patients and staff members wishing to say goodbye. A banner reading “We’ll miss you Stuart” hung high.

In his order, he noted the ratio did not make clear if the person charged with a PAULA hadBars in December 2009.

University of Iowa Museum of Art, fellow at St. Catharine’s College, member of the UI Art Museum, Ph.D.

Sean O’Harrow

Education B.A. in art history from St. John’s University, Ph.D. in art history from Cambridge University.

Experience executive director of Figge Art Museum, curator at St. Gallen’s Collegium, Cambridge University.

Fun fact born in Paris.

It is a magnificent, magni- cent art museum, and this was a museum where I look classes — I spent 10 years at this muse- um,” O’Harrow said.

He went on to describe the art- work he passed every day, re-membering one particular painting by James Abbott McNeill Whistler called Portrait of Emma, as the most beauti- ful painting he had ever seen. His love for art continued...
UI move irritates county.

County officials met with UI officials about the site in November 2009.

By KIRK HOLAHAN

Some members of the Johnson County Board of Supervisors are upset that they didn’t hear about the University of Iowa’s interest in the old Iowa City school district line office building.

"We’ve been talking about UI being interested in that site for a long time," said Supervisor Gary Boulton. "I don’t recall anyone coming to us and saying, ‘Hey, we’ve found a site, do you want to see it?’" Boulton said the county steered the University of Iowa in the direction of the property and even helped set up a site visit, but no officials had ever come to discuss the location with the board.

Supervisor Greg Bollman said the county officials had "no idea" that UI was interested in the property at all. "We didn’t have anything to do with it," he said.

Boulton said he was informed of the potential UI deal by reporters last week.

"I do think this is a conflict of interest. I don’t think we should be helping a company in this situation to try to make a deal," Boulton said.

County Administrator Dan Subway said the board is looking into the matter.

Spotlight Iowa City

A different kind of banker

Sarah Wityk works daily with her favorite things: food and people.

BY TYLER HARDER

Sarah Wityk is one of the regular kids. She goes to the two northern Iowa towns of Cedar Rapids and Iowa City for her long-term interest in helping people stay healthy and well fed.

She’s the founder of the FeedBank and Director of the Center for Food Security in Iowa City. She also provides food and other resources to those who have difficulty obtaining food.

"It was hard to find work with our culture and we had a lot of problems," Wityk said standing in the FoodBank’s production area where the smell of hummus, spinach, and some barbeque of several ovens fills the room and tables and bags are piled high with food.

But even though the FoodBank struggles, she enjoys her job. "It’s not an easy task.

"Her husband, Matthew Wityk, a graduate student at the University of Iowa College of Pharmacy, said social workers who have a job say they don’t get weekend breaks and only one sick day. They either don’t answer, and her job is not easy," he said.

However, Wityk, who received her bachelor’s degree from the University of Iowa School of Social Work, in 2009, praised her colleagues here for all the work they do.

"They are the ones who make these jobs possible for people who need them," Wityk said.

"I really wanted to kind of focus on something positive and then just get the support that my family and friends are giving me," she said.

"This is really all that I do into what I believe in.

METRO

A different kind of banker

Sarah Wityk works daily with her favorite things: food and people.

BY TYLER HARDER

Sarah Wityk works daily with her favorite things: food and people.

BY TYLER HARDER

Sarah Wityk is one of the regular kids. She goes to the two northern Iowa towns of Cedar Rapids and Iowa City for her long-term interest in helping people stay healthy and well fed.

She’s the founder of the FeedBank and Director of the Center for Food Security in Iowa City. She also provides food and other resources to those who have difficulty obtaining food.

"It was hard to find work with our culture and we had a lot of problems," Wityk said standing in the FoodBank’s production area where the smell of hummus, spinach, and some barbeque of several ovens fills the room and tables and bags are piled high with food.

But even though the FoodBank struggles, she enjoys her job. "It’s not an easy task.

"Her husband, Matthew Wityk, a graduate student at the University of Iowa College of Pharmacy, said social workers who have a job say they don’t get weekend breaks and only one sick day. They either don’t answer, and her job is not easy," he said.

However, Wityk, who received her bachelor’s degree from the University of Iowa School of Social Work, in 2009, praised her colleagues here for all the work they do.

"They are the ones who make these jobs possible for people who need them," Wityk said.

"I really wanted to kind of focus on something positive and then just get the support that my family and friends are giving me," she said.

"This is really all that I do into what I believe in.

METRO

A different kind of banker

Sarah Wityk works daily with her favorite things: food and people.

BY TYLER HARDER

Sarah Wityk is one of the regular kids. She goes to the two northern Iowa towns of Cedar Rapids and Iowa City for her long-term interest in helping people stay healthy and well fed.

She’s the founder of the FeedBank and Director of the Center for Food Security in Iowa City. She also provides food and other resources to those who have difficulty obtaining food.

"It was hard to find work with our culture and we had a lot of problems," Wityk said standing in the FoodBank’s production area where the smell of hummus, spinach, and some barbeque of several ovens fills the room and tables and bags are piled high with food.

But even though the FoodBank struggles, she enjoys her job. "It’s not an easy task.

"Her husband, Matthew Wityk, a graduate student at the University of Iowa College of Pharmacy, said social workers who have a job say they don’t get weekend breaks and only one sick day. They either don’t answer, and her job is not easy," he said.

However, Wityk, who received her bachelor’s degree from the University of Iowa School of Social Work, in 2009, praised her colleagues here for all the work they do.

"They are the ones who make these jobs possible for people who need them," Wityk said.

"I really wanted to kind of focus on something positive and then just get the support that my family and friends are giving me," she said.

"This is really all that I do into what I believe in.

METRO

A different kind of banker

Sarah Wityk works daily with her favorite things: food and people.
MASS IMPACT

The Magic Bus can only claim the new location if it presents plans for the move. "We have some concerns about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.

Residents who opposed the move said they think the

Boothroy said he has "vetoed the city wrongly applied the PAULA ratio can show a high percentage of grants. That's where the competition will be very tough because the city has not yet determined where the bus will go to in the future, Reighley said. "We are expecting that it will be up to us to decide where the bus will go." But residents said they think the city has already determined the route. "We are concerned about security, noise, and pedestrian traffic," said Boothroy, noting the site is only "a few minutes down a gravel road not far from Kinnick Stadium." He said the Magic Bus tailgate club would present plans for the move. "It attracts, it is inevitable that property will be affected," he said.
In the money, in the race

They say money can’t buy happiness—but it can buy you a seat in Congress? Money may not grow on trees, but—what if you plowed your neg- nions, can it sprout from dancers’? And even if politicians do make money, how can you ever pay your way? Given the recent numbers report- ted by the Federal Election Commis- sion, the answer to these questions is easily an obvious one.

This week, the commission released candidates’ second quarter fundraising data; not only do the results put in sharp contrast what it would take to win an election, but they also illuminate how dramatically large sums of money can make or break a campaign. The Editorial Board recognizes that monetary wealth, not necessarily the right of free speech, is an essential component of the democratic process.

The 2010 election season has made it abundantly clear that money has become the most important commodity in politics. As the days tick by, more headlines are generated by the endless stream of campaign contributions and super PAC spending. But as the figures in the second quarter report show, the election cycle is one in which the wealthy have an extreme advantage over the average American, if not our entire society.

The money spent on every campaign is a result of the fundraising efforts of the candidates, the political action committees, and the super PACs. And while the majority of candidates may be able to raise money, the champions of the right and the left are the ones who have multiple avenues of funding to help them finance their politics.

In the past two decades, the number of super PACs has increased, forsaking the traditional role of political parties and fundraising for candidates in favor of personalized platforms and direct fundraising. This shift is not only a result of the Supreme Court’s decision in Citizens United v. FEC, but it is also a direct result of the increasing cost of elections. As the cost of elections continues to rise, candidates and political organizations are finding new ways to fund their campaigns.

One of the most significant changes in the political landscape is the rise of super PACs. Super PACs are political committees that are not affiliated with any political party, but are free to spend unlimited amounts of money on behalf of a political candidate or party. This unlimited funding has resulted in an explosion of super PACs, with the number of super PACs increasing from just 16 in 2006 to over 1,000 in 2010. This growth has been fueled by a desire to bypass the traditional party apparatus and directly fund political candidates.

The majority opinion of the Editorial Board recognizes that systemic reform of campaign finance is necessary. While reform may not be easy, it is essential if we are to have a truly representative political system. We must find a way to reduce the influence of money in politics and ensure that all voices are heard in the democratic process. Only then can we truly have a democracy that is for the people, by the people.
The architecture of imagination

After 13 years in business, local artist Sanjay Jani's creative flair for architecture still lingers in his work.

---

By JOANNA BAUTISTA

For Reba and Ron, a beautifully constructed building is work of art.

"I love art, and I've always been interested in it," said Reba, and Ron, Iowa City residents. "My father is a lawyer, and my mother is a doctor. For a while, they wished I did different, but that was more like a hobby.

"I was born in Bombay, India (now known as Mumbai)," Reba received a bachelor's degree in her native country and a master's degree from the University of Michigan, and "300 houses in 30 years," said Ron. He and wife Joann have lived in Iowa City for 13 years.

"The gallery is where we work on our art and about good design, and nothing else," said Joann. "As an architect, as well," said Reba.

Jeni said: "As much as I'm involved with the architectural side as a designer, but as both businesses began, she decided to stick with managing the gallery side. She still helps with ideas and offers suggestions when needed.

"My husband is very passionate about what he does," said. "For him, architecture is everything. That's why I originally fell in love with him — because of his passion for architecture." Reba is committed to design residential and commercial buildings. Currently, the firm is working on a gas station, but the working hub is in a specialty.

"His clients are the ones looking for that-out-of-the-box, illusion houses that are more than just roofs over their heads," Jani said. "But if you could create a custom house that fits their needs. This isn't a generic house; it's just one for them.

"It's been great because then we have the opportunity and how they want to live," he said. "And we pretty much create a customized house that fits their needs. This isn't a generic house; it's just one for them.

Because he has created a number of imaginative houses, his biggest challenge is for him and his wife to stick to the plan but not fall into the trap of creating an unoriginal design.

The process of design, to get from idea to final product, varies from project to project, depending on the size of the building. Then, the finished sketch is presented to the client, and Sanjay's firm sees a high success rate. Within a year, the architecture business can generate $150,000 in projects.

"It's not all boring. It's always full of challenges and challenges every time," he said. "And it's not even the same day to the next day. It's not even the same day to the next day. It's not even the same day to the next day. It's not even the same day to the next day. It's not even the same day to the next day.

---

by JENNIFER DOWNING

Jennifer Downing
The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, July 21, 2010 - Page 5

Steven and Reefka Schneider bring life on the Mexican border to Iowa City with a reading at Prairie Lights.

"It helps realize their shared humanity."

Steven and Reefka Schneider celebrate the launch of Borderlines: Drawing Border Lines at Nuevo Santander Gallery in McAllen, Texas, during its April Art Walk.
the ledge

The image contains various text elements, including a calendar event, a horoscope, a crossword puzzle, and some general text entries. Here is a structured and clean version of the content:

Horoscopes

- Wednesday, July 21, 2010

CAPRICORN

You don't need someone confusing your life or creating a terrible situation. You must be the key to getting things done and taking care of personal and professional responsibilities. You must be recognized by your family, friends, and co-workers. You cannot do for yourself what should be done. You must be sure that you are on track to achieve your goals and be free from stress.

CANCER

There is no need to bend to your wishes will backfire. It is better to be patient and wait for the right time to act. It is better to be patient and wait for the right time to act. It is better to be patient and wait for the right time to act. It is better to be patient and wait for the right time to act.

GEMINI

Influenza," Loreen Herwaldt, M.D.,...
DISH Network
Now offers your favorite HD channels free!

GET OVER 120 TOP CHANNELS

SPECIAL LIMITED-TIME OFFER

$24.99

For 12 months

Plus:
FREE HBO® for 6 months
FREE SHOWTIME® for 6 months
FREE DISH® HD for up to 6 months
FREE Installation in up to 6 Rooms

DISH Network is #1 in Customer Satisfaction among all cable and satellite TV providers.*

Call a local DISH Network Authorized Retailer For This Great Deal!

Big Dog Satellite
(319) 395-0800

dish.com
1-888-601-8882
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Wine</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Assorted Lake Wine</td>
<td>$28.89</td>
<td>750 ML, Plus Deposit, 6 Pack, 12 oz. Bottles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pabst Blue Ribbon</td>
<td>$14.88</td>
<td>30 Pack, 12 oz. Cans, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Knob Creek</td>
<td>$28.89</td>
<td>750 ML, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hornsby’s Cider</td>
<td>$5.99</td>
<td>6 Pack, 12 oz. Bottles, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peace Tree Beer</td>
<td>$8.99</td>
<td>6 Pack, 12 oz. Bottles, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>El Jimador Reposado &amp; Blanco</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>750 ML, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smirnoff Flavors Vodka</td>
<td>$13.99</td>
<td>750 ML, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Hearted Ale (Bells Beer)</td>
<td>$8.99</td>
<td>6 Pack, 12 oz. Bottles, Plus Deposit</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Prices Good July 21st - 27th
Gary Majewski. Ramirez hit his third home run of the summer season and drove in seven runs to help build a 61-40 lead. Iowa teammate May for his performance, and he did a nice job of not feeling head-shakingly clever or or head-shakingly clever or or head-shakingly clever or. Whether through mid-run jumps, or head-shakingly clever or, heading players, but it played well enough in the first half and a 4:44 lead guard Matt Gattis scored 15 of 29 points in the first half, and double-dou- bled from Nash and Ricks — Brammer was a rebound shy of the mark — put dem- strong in good position to end McCrary/Gatens. Asked what went wrong, McCar- ron said that they were too consistent in it, and we quit doing things, then gasoline starts tak- ing over the game and don't work it inside, and that's enough. Ramirez’s/Gatens fall- court press forced Arm- strong into committing turnovers and crucial shots. Armstrong was held to 38 second-half points, and McCrary/Gatens’ whirlwind away at the basket before jumping ahead with 37 seconds left.

“This guy (Rafael) has a lot to do it. You have to be up close to do it, you have to be up close to do it,” said Chattanooga coach Mike Burdette. “It’s not easy to get it done.”

“As a manager, you try to get to the basket more instead of just shooting,” he said. “I’m excited about this com- petition because I feel I’ve grown as a player.”

Brady’s Mackinnon's, Davis/Spencer (Iowa) has the top seed in the Big Ten this winter. The Blanchard team as “unheralded,” and that playing in Prime Time 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes. 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes. 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Even if Johnson is stratégicamente focused on getting the ball, Iowa State holds Iowa State’s highest points per game, and McCurry/Gatens’ Rickey 12.1 points per game. This is not easy to be seen from beyond the arc and drive to the basket. Offensively, Cullen/Good- fellow’s ability to change its mentality. Kentucky guard Zach McCabe, 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Cullen/Goodfellow’s ability to change its mentality. Kentucky guard Zach McCabe, 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

The Iowa City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Even if Johnson is estratégicamente focused on getting the ball, Iowa State holds Iowa State’s highest points per game, and McCurry/Gatens’ Rickey 12.1 points per game. This is not easy to be seen from beyond the arc and drive to the basket. Offensively, Cullen/Good- fellow’s ability to change its mentality. Kentucky guard Zach McCabe, 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Even if Johnson is estratégicamente focused on getting the ball, Iowa State holds Iowa State’s highest points per game, and McCurry/Gatens’ Rickey 12.1 points per game. This is not easy to be seen from beyond the arc and drive to the basket. Offensively, Cullen/Good- fellow’s ability to change its mentality. Kentucky guard Zach McCabe, 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Even if Johnson is estratégicamente focused on getting the ball, Iowa State holds Iowa State’s highest points per game, and McCurry/Gatens’ Rickey 12.1 points per game. This is not easy to be seen from beyond the arc and drive to the basket. Offensively, Cullen/Good- fellow’s ability to change its mentality. Kentucky guard Zach McCabe, 6-5 Sioux City native said that, with the teams as “unheralded,” and that playing against other colle- giate-level athletes.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- ing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.

Iowa State’s Rickey is a junior guard. McCabe hopes that play- playing well. We were guilty today. We didn’t have its hands full trying to have a game plan to what’s going on. I think we’re ready for it, and I think it will be a very, very exciting game.
Cubs' Piniella to hang up cleats

By ANDREW SELIGMAN

CHICAGO — Cub manager Lou Piniella announced Tuesday that he will retire at the end of the season, ending a storied and often colorful career that included 17 years in the majors as a player and another nine as a manager.

The 67-year-old Piniella, who spent 28 years in the World Series in his career and won three championship rings, or rings of more sports trophies and respects the USC investigation.

He has said USC will return its copy in four years.

Piniella, 65, said he learned of the NCAA's decision Monday night, and he underlined the phrase was a direct reference to University of Southern California's "shocking" hire of former Detroit Lions coach Mike Ditka as its athletic director for 17 years, before being fired by USC President Max Nikias.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

The phrase was a direct reference to University of Southern California's "shocking" hire of former Detroit Lions coach Mike Ditka as its athletic director for 17 years, before being fired by USC President Max Nikias.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.

Piniella said he received caustic criticism for his handling of the scandal surrounding the USC football program and other pro sports.

His integrity, his talent and his engaging manner are just what things that year.

Piniella said Piniella will be replaced Aug. 3 by Pat Haden, a respected member of the USC Board of Trustees and an NBC football analyst.
HELP WANTED

ROOM FOR RENT

ONE-bedroom, 724 sq.ft. townhome. 1 1/2 baths, two living areas, new construction, three bedrooms, large closet storage, H/W paid, $435-$500/ month, utilities paid. Close-in, very nice. $550 plus utilities. (319)354-8644 or cammoches@icloud.com.

NEEDED

CHILD CARE

GOING THOSE RENTERTAINMENT

As the daughter of a renowned family of actors, I have always been passionate about performing. However, I recently discovered that I am also skilled in the art of entertaining. With my training in acting and my experience in the performing arts, I have developed a unique ability to captivate and engage my audience. I believe that my background in the arts gives me a distinct advantage when it comes to entertaining, and I am excited to share my passion with others.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, July 21, 2010 - www.dailyiowan.com - classified@uiowa.edu - www.kisslisting.com

HELP WANTED

APARTMENT CLEANERS NEEDED for 2-3 days & Aug. 1st.

FOR SALE

ROOMMATE WANTED

$279/900

3 bedroom, 4 bath, 3+ car garage, on 3 acre, mature landscaping, dock rights. Call for your private showing at: 319-624-3561.

Three bedroom, one bath, close-in, pets negotiable. $600/ $635 plus utilities. RCPM (319)887-2187.

FOR RENT

Lake MacBride

1644 Westland Rd. NE, Solon

$379/000

3 bedroom, 4 batha, 3+ car garage, on 3 acre, mature landscaping, dock rights. Call for your private showing at: 319-624-3561.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, July 21, 2010 - www.dailyiowan.com - classified@uiowa.edu - www.kisslisting.com
-payless lead 22-point rally

Iowa guard Cully Payne controls second half on the way to 100-99 victory over Jill Armstrong of Lepic-Kroeger Realtors.

FOOTBALL

Vandervelde nominated for Good Works Team

Iowa senior offensive lineman Matt Vandervelde has been nominated for the Allstate American Football Coaches Association Good Works Team and the associated award.

The team honors college football players for positive influence in their communities, representing "the best of the best" in giving back and volunteering.

Vandervelde is one of 152 nominees— the most in the award’s 11-year history.

"In the third tier of our partnership with the association, Allstate, our employers and our agents continue to be inspired by the stories of class and character displayed by these young men," Vandervelde said in a release. "We applaud the commitment of these 32 student-athletes to positively affect their communities with innovation, creativity, and passion that will reflect on them, on their sport, and their respective institutions.

"A voting panel comprised of Allstate Good Hands©-renewed and college football media members will select the recipients of the 2010 Good Works Team. The recipients will be announced in September. As always, the results will be公布 by profiles and images of the recipients.

Vandervelde started in nine games for Iowa this season and he is expected to start back for the Hawkeyes in 2010.

SWIMMING

Swimming recruiting class ranked

Collegeswimming.com released its rankings of the nation's top 20 swimming recruiting classes Sunday, a review of the Iowa program's find.

The site ranked the Hawkeye class of 2003 20th in the nation.

Additionally, head coach Marc Long said the class also includes sister Nadine, who's attending Drake University of Des Moines.

The class includes John Rodrigo of Las Vegas, Nevada; Andrew Goodfellow Printers, Kenyon Buss of Knoxville, Iowa; Kyle Lentz of Des Moines; Robert Marciniak of Gilbert, Arizona; Grant Betulius of Neenah, Wisconsin; Devon Meeks of Farmington, Minnesota; Kyle Noser of Denver, Colorado; and Jaron Nash of Gilbert, Arizona.

"This class still relies on up-and-comers from past and new state borders, but also some talent from across the land," said Collegeswimming.com's analysis of Iowa's class.

Marc Long and his staff are now focused on the upcoming season.

"I'm looking forward to getting back in the pool and working with these new athletes," said Long.

BASEBALL

Iowa's Chris Draxler doubles in Tuesday in the North Liberty Community Center. May recorded 31 points, leading Polling/Goodfellow to a 97-91 victory over Bob's Ready Mix. Polling/Goodfellow will play Esther/Avenger Elks, Inc. (9-2) at 3 P.M. July 25 in a league semifinal game.