Anti-21 event draws a crowd

Yes to Entertaining Students Safely will push for early on-campus voting.

By SAM CLEARY

Uptown Bill's gets new location and new name

By MAX FREUND

PAULA ratio may be history

City Councilors will vote Aug. 31 on the fate of the PAULA ratio ordinance.

By MITCHELL SCHMIDT

Iowa City's PAULA-per-police-visit ratio will most likely and its rough ride over local bars and their patrons, city officials said.

The City Clerk's Office staff filed a resolution to rescind the PAULA ratio from the city's liquor-license renewal guidelines, and City Clerk Marian Karr. The resolution was filed Thursday as directed by the Iowa City Council.

The council will vote on the resolution on Aug. 31.

The ordinance states any establishment with an average PAULA ratio over 1 — meaning that a business receives more than $5,000 in May.

The City Clerk's Office staff filed a resolution to rescind the PAULA ratio from the city's liquor-license renewal guidelines, and City Clerk Marian Karr. The resolution was filed Thursday as directed by the Iowa City Council.

The council will vote on the resolution on Aug. 31.
Officials say a juvenile curfew and increased neighborhood programs have produced results.

"Curfew working, many locals believe"

BRIEFS

Council discusses tourist bus service

The City Council considered a proposal today to purchase a sightseeing bus service to be operated for tourists in the area. The proposal, which would involve a public-private partnership, was recommended by the City Council committee and approved by the council. The bus service would operate during the tourist season, providing transportation for visitors to major tourist attractions. The service would be funded through a combination of public and private funds.

Vehicles to be redone by local company

City officials said they plan to recondition the fleet of vehicles for use in the future. The vehicles, which have been used for city services, will be upgraded to increase their lifespan and efficiency. The reconditioning process will involve repairing and replacing damaged parts, overhauling mechanical systems, and ensuring the vehicles meet current safety standards. The city expects to complete the reconditioning process by the end of the month.

Volunteer program for juvenile curfew violators

A new volunteer program has been implemented to help juvenile curfew violators. The program, which started last week, provides mentorship and guidance to young people who have violated the curfew. Volunteers, who are community members, work with the violators to develop a plan for compliance and reintegration into the community. The program has received positive feedback from the participants and their families, and city officials hope to expand it in the future.

News

The Daily Iowan

Vol. 142, Issue 44

Box 300, Iowa City 52244

Telephone: 848-8785

Editor: Pat McManus

DAILY IOWAN, now more news

TOP STORES

1. Football ticketsellers said sales disappointing.
2. Magic Bus to be used at a later date.
3. McCaffrey signs contract.
5. Taste of Iowa City attracts thousands, residents.

News

Officials say a juvenile curfew and increased neighborhood programs have produced results.

"Curfew working, many locals believe"
Fewer employers, fewer job seekers

As many as 400 students will likely get jobs from the fair.

By ALISON SULLIVAN

Students and employers at the annual UI job fair hold out hope for more news and new jobs.

Last year's fair, attended by 30 employers, attracted a record number of students, and a similar fair this year attracted 23 employers.

"I hope to secure another job with the UI dining halls," said UI sophomore Megan Koenen, filling out a job application at the UI Job Fair in the IMU on Thursday.

"I'm hoping to get a job that fits my own criteria," said UI senior Claire Thompson. "I'm excited about working with different companies and getting different experiences.

At the fair Thursday, Cynthia Seyfer, a program associate for Student Financial Aid, attributed part of the decrease in the number of employers to the recent economic decline. But the main reason is that many local employers have already hired applicants, she said.

"As a sophomore Drake Clark stood in line at the IMU booth during the fair, he noticed fewer employers and it's very informative," said UI sophomore Megan Koenen.

"We have to focus on informing people with the number of people who are out-of-state, they might not know as much about our elections," said University Democrat-Republican President Margaret Murphy said, noting turnout at the annual UI College Republicans Presidential Debate.

"So we're telling them what we stand for because I don't want people to purely vote party lines," Ginty said.

"In particular, student politicians are focusing on three races — one for the U.S. House, one for the governorship, and one for the presidency. They've said their opponents aren't providing a fair comparison," said Margaret Murphy said, noting turnout at the annual UI College Republicans Presidential Debate.

"So we're telling them what we stand for because I don't want people to purely vote party lines," Ginty said.

"In particular, student politicians are focusing on three races — one for the U.S. House, one for the governorship, and one for the presidency. They've said their opponents aren't providing a fair comparison," said Margaret Murphy said, noting turnout at the annual UI College Republicans Presidential Debate.

"We're encouraging students to keep in mind that any job is important for the future," she said.

By ADAM B SULLIVAN

A referendum to strip Iowa City of its 23-ordinances will likely force stu- dents to the polls in November, campus politi- cal groups said. And they hope to harness some of that engagement for other items on the UI's ballot.

"We have to focus on informing people with the number of people who are out-of-state, they might not know as much about our elections," said University Democrat-Republican President Margaret Murphy said, noting turnout at the annual UI College Republicans Presidential Debate.

"So we're telling them what we stand for because I don't want people to purely vote party lines," Ginty said.

"In particular, student politicians are focusing on three races — one for the U.S. House, one for the governorship, and one for the presidency. They've said their opponents aren't providing a fair comparison," said Margaret Murphy said, noting turnout at the annual UI College Republicans Presidential Debate.

"We're encouraging students to keep in mind that any job is important for the future," she said.
We strongly support the administration’s “get out the vote” campaign. While UISG doesn’t wield enormous power in this arena, we believe our efforts can make a difference. This year, UISG should move forward resolutely in being driven underground. Love or hate the amount of vague talking points modern-day politics elements throw at us, and we find that UISG bears many similarities to the 21-ordinance this semester. Last year, President Mike Le Roy and Vice President Jason Mounen were responsible for resolving conflicts against 21-violations, not mentioning concerns about underage drinking (21-violations belong to the definition of attention the ordinance is getting, it is a hot topic on campus). This year, UISG can add this to the City Council and UI administration.

We support the proposed letter-writing campaign. While UISG wouldn’t wield enormous power in tuition deliberations, mandating letter-writers would be a military caper, at least to me. Writing letters, UI students should take their roles as lobbing-organizing ui student. UT students are usually under-represented on tuition due to the IMU administration. UT students are in a unique position to organize student efforts. We also back expanding the decision-making groundwork and make the focus on the students as much as possible,” senior Kierra Baker said.

We agree. We look forward to what Richly, Hay, and the rest of UISG can accomplish in the coming year. This year, UISG is elected for the students and by the students, and it allocates money from student dollars. This year, UISG should move forward resolutely in its role as the representative voice of UI students.

Note: The opinions published by The Daily Iowan do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor-in-chief. Letters to the Editor may be sent via e-mail to daily.iowan.ltr@gmail.com or via online form.

Letters will be chosen for print publication when they are deemed to be in and written to and forward public discussion. They will be edited for length and style.

Letters to the Editor may be sent via e-mail to daily.iowan.ltr@gmail.com or via online form. Letters will be chosen for print publication when they are deemed to be in and written to and forward public discussion. They will be edited for length and style.
Local salsa band blends tradition with experimentation today.

By JOANNE BAUTISTA

“Salsa music, it’s all about the dance,” said salsa music student and performer Jennifer Downing. “If you naturally trained or not, move to the beat of the music with deliberate steps and kicks as a trumpet, timbales, and other instruments play an accompanying melody. That’s when, when done right, encourages everyone to get up and move. At the end of the tune there is no clapping, no cheer, just more music and more dancing. The movement is the music.”

“If people just sit there and don’t dancing, that’s because we’re not feeling it,” said Downing, guitar player for Latin jazz band Orquesta Alto Maíz. “Orquesta Alto Maíz will bring its original brand of music, to Iowa City Friday Night Concert Series at 6:30 p.m. today on the Pedestrian Mall. Admission is free.

The band’s name means “Cuell Corn Orchestra,” a tile fitting for a group based in Iowa, where the fact that the word sulla is actually in abundance. The 11-member band is mostly composed of native Iowans, and though the music it plays is a blend of Latin and African, they here have worked these pieces to bring that exotic Caribbean flavor to this land, and the native soil to music lovers from the United States to Guatemala hear us and are impressed to hear a band like this. “Salsa music is a perfect way to express ourselves,” said a band member.

The music in the film displays the determination of Native American culture. An inspiring film shows the determination of Native American youth and advocates for healthier lifestyles.

By Nancy Iverson

When some of them can’t succeed in their endeavors. When some of them can’t succeed, the viewer is left with feelings of sadness but also feelings of pride at their attempts. Iverson has given the world a beautiful picture that displays the determination of the Oglala Lakota and what they have to overcome. The music in the film enhances the Native American heritage of the young swimmers. The melodic sounds of a pipe and the strong beats of a drum give the viewer a taste of the Native American culture. One character even sings a song in his native tongue, that he says, gave him strength to finish the swim.

COMPENSATION AVAILABLE

For information call the UI Ambulance Service 319-356-3420 or Toll free 877-428-0635

$3.99 ALL YOU CAN EAT BREAKFAST

I Love My City

Iowa City, Iowa

887-7078

The University of Iowa Office of the President, the Office of the Vice President for Student Life, and the Office of Campus Recreation & Wellness Center invites you to attend the dedication ceremony for the:

Campus Recreation & Wellness Center
Friday, August 27th 2010 2400 PM - 600 PM

Remarks will be made at 3:30 PM.

*To Watkins Way, Iowa City
(515)252-1700

You’re Invited

MOVIE REVIEW

Swimming to San Francisco

An inspiring film shows the determination of Native American youth and advocates for healthier lifestyles.

Swimming to San Francisco

By Nancy Iverson

When some of them can’t succeed in their endeavors. When some of them can’t succeed, the viewer is left with feelings of sadness but also feelings of pride at their attempts. Iverson has given the world a beautiful picture that displays the determination of the Oglala Lakota and what they have to overcome. The music in the film enhances the Native American heritage of the young swimmers. The melodic sounds of a pipe and the strong beats of a drum give the viewer a taste of the Native American culture. One character even sings a song in his native tongue, that he says, gave him strength to finish the swim.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Friday, August 27, 2010 - 5A
Iowa City's PAULA ratio ordinance history

Several Iowa bars have had their liquor license revoked because of their PAULA ratio.

- June 21, 2009: 38th Street Bar & Grill
- Nov. 15, 2009: The Barn
- July 15, 2010: Lick's

The city said the organization’s founder, Raj Patel.

“Really grass-roots here,” said Nick Westergaard, the Sense, a pro-ordinance campaign manager of 21 Makes Sense.

“I think there’s a bit of a resistance to pare the doors to the point of nothing close to seeming like a job.”

Tom Lenoch, the general manager of One-Eyed Jacks.

They doled out four in July. Since the new regulation went into effect in July 2009, the council has handed out 65 PAULAs.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said.

Sam Hargadine said the Iowa Alcoholic Beverage Division’s ruling in July that determined the current regulation does not comply with state code.

“The city’s reliance on this [PAULA ratio] to deny liquor-license renewals is inconsistent with the present law and code.”

“Hopefully, (councilors) can come up with something we can work together on,” he said.

The PAULA ratio is still in effect. Champion said, previous denials of bars’ licenses will be reversed.

Since the new regulation went into effect in July 2009, the council has handed out 65 PAULAs.

“If the PAULA ratio is overturned, Champion said, previous denials of bars’ licenses will be reversed.

If the PAULA ratio is overturned, Champion said, previous denials of bars’ licenses will be reversed.

With the 21-only ordinance in effect and going to public vote on Nov 2, Iowa City Police Chief Jan Hargadine said the PAULA ratio might not be as significant anymore.

“The big gorilla in the room is the 21-only,” he said. “That makes the PAULA ordinance somewhat moot.”

While Champion said she is reluctant to see the ordinance go, she noted that with every bar in question appealing and the courts ruling against the city, mon the ordinance had very little chance to succeed.

I don’t think it did anything,” she said.

Tom Lenoch, the general manager of One-Eyed Jacks, 18-20 S. Clinton St., said it would be good to see the ordinance overturned and the councilors need a “more plausible” solution.

“Hopefully, (councilors) can come up with something we can work together on,” he said.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

“I don’t think it did anything,” she said.

Tom Lenoch, the general manager of One-Eyed Jacks, 18-20 S. Clinton St., said it would be good to see the ordinance overturned and the councilors need a “more plausible” solution.

“Hopefully, (councilors) can come up with something we can work together on,” he said.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

The walls of the shop are lined with books, home furnishing, antiques, live music and have books, home furnishing, antiques, and more for sale.

“I think it’s important to keep Bill’s going and charging $12 at the door and actually getting people in instead of holding a concert somewhere,” he said.

While they could stage performances at the old location, the new space offers more possibilities.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

The walls of the shop are lined with books, home furnishing, antiques, live music and have books, home furnishing, antiques, and more for sale.

“I think it’s important to keep Bill’s going and charging $12 at the door and actually getting people in instead of holding a concert somewhere,” he said.

While they could stage performances at the old location, the new space offers more possibilities.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

The walls of the shop are lined with books, home furnishing, antiques, live music and have books, home furnishing, antiques, and more for sale.

“I think it’s important to keep Bill’s going and charging $12 at the door and actually getting people in instead of holding a concert somewhere,” he said.

While they could stage performances at the old location, the new space offers more possibilities.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

The walls of the shop are lined with books, home furnishing, antiques, live music and have books, home furnishing, antiques, and more for sale.

“I think it’s important to keep Bill’s going and charging $12 at the door and actually getting people in instead of holding a concert somewhere,” he said.

While they could stage performances at the old location, the new space offers more possibilities.

“Some of the secrets are mundane, some are bizarre, and some might be a little bit eerie,” she said, her eyes wide with excitement.

The walls of the shop are lined with books, home furnishing, antiques, live music and have books, home furnishing, antiques, and more for sale.
The Wisconsin native relishes the opportunity to keep bellies full and give back to her community. "I think it's really good for my family and me to give back — you see it and you feel it," Nowack said. "She's just always smiling," Nowack said.

Making sure the homeless have something to eat is a yearlong commitment for Cunniff. For the past four years, she has assisted with Thanksgiving dinners, and she also participates in similar events during Easter and Christmas. The right to feed and a delicious meal is something that she values dearly.

Cunniff's generous spirit doesn't end there. Besides giving her time to food shelters, she also volunteers at the Salvation Army in her hometown of Milwaukee. "We never had to hand to food shelters in her neighborhood," her mother Nancy Cunniff said, her voice raspy from a cold. "She was the only one of our kids who was like this,"

Even though she has moved from Wisconsin to Iowa City, Cunniff has a strong desire to continue volunteering: beginning Aug. 29, she will team up with Walden Place Retirement Residence to assist in rolling out bingo numbers for residents. Although she has mainly worked with food shelters, she is looking forward to organizing her giving spirit.

"It's a good experience," Cunniff said. "It feels good to make some time for it. I do my best at it." She really good at it, she always try to make some time for it. It do my best at it."
New park sparks ideas

Neighborhood residents hope to see a gazebo, playground equipment, and a basketball court.

By ALLIE WRIGHT

Iowa City residents gathered around tables Thursday evening to discuss the construction of the Frauenholtz-Miller Park during a neighborhood planning workshop on Thursday.

The land for the new park was donated by the Frauenholtz-Miller family, who farmed the land for more than 75 years and would prefer to keep the park amenities to a minimum.

At present, the site is a field of bright-green grass, home to a single wooden sign that reads “Future Site of Frauenholtz-Miller Park,” across the street from the new St. Patrick’s Church, 4330 St. Patrick Drive.

“I think the simpler they keep it, the better it will be,” Miller said.

Residents discussed the construction of the new park will not cause Iowa City resident’s taxes to increase, said Mike Moran, the director of Iowa City Parks and Recreation.

Atene Wheeler, a neighborhood resident, said the park will be a great addition to the neighborhood — not the general public.

“Hope it will have a large park, so people can picnic, and some good shade trees,” Wheeler said.

Resident remarked that the close walk to the café will be a positive perk.

“From what I understand, it’s someplace where I can easily walk to and from,” said UI junior Justin Bucklin. “[There is] plenty of coin-operated rental lockers available to those who were not able to get UI student fees, $225 per semester, to be noted.

“Not a huge park, but okay,” he said.

Residents decided Thursday that the park is different from a city park and should be included to the neighborhood — not the general public.

“I think it will be a wonderful addition to our district,” Wheeler said.

The next workshop is tentatively scheduled for Sept. 16. A neighborhood open house will be held Oct. 7, and the final plan will be presented to the neighborhood Nov. 10.

The next workshop is tentatively scheduled for Sept. 16. A neighborhood open house will be held Oct. 7, and the final plan will be presented to the neighborhood Nov. 10.

Neighborhood services director said they have done some research on the process.

“I think the simpler they keep it, the better it will be,” Miller said.

Residents discussed many ways to do this on Thursday, suggesting a gazebo, playground equipment, and a basketball court.

“From what I understand, it’s someplace where I can easily walk to and from,” said UI junior Justin Bucklin. “[There is] plenty of coin-operated rental lockers available to those who were not able to get UI student fees, $225 per semester, to be noted.

“Not a huge park, but okay,” he said.

Residents decided Thursday that the park is different from a city park and should be included to the neighborhood — not the general public.

“I think it will be a wonderful addition to our district,” Wheeler said.

The next workshop is tentatively scheduled for Sept. 16. A neighborhood open house will be held Oct. 7, and the final plan will be presented to the neighborhood Nov. 10.

People play basketball at the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center on Monday. The UI will hold a dedication for the center today at 2 p.m. to formally introduce the community to the facility.

“I think the simpler they keep it, the better it will be,” Miller said.

Residents discussed many ways to do this on Thursday, suggesting a gazebo, playground equipment, and a basketball court.

“From what I understand, it’s someplace where I can easily walk to and from,” said UI junior Justin Bucklin. “[There is] plenty of coin-operated rental lockers available to those who were not able to get UI student fees, $225 per semester, to be noted.

“Not a huge park, but okay,” he said.

Residents decided Thursday that the park is different from a city park and should be included to the neighborhood — not the general public.

“I think it will be a wonderful addition to our district,” Wheeler said.

The next workshop is tentatively scheduled for Sept. 16. A neighborhood open house will be held Oct. 7, and the final plan will be presented to the neighborhood Nov. 10.

People play basketball at the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center on Monday. The UI will hold a dedication for the center today at 2 p.m. to formally introduce the community to the facility.

“I think the simpler they keep it, the better it will be,” Miller said.

Residents discussed many ways to do this on Thursday, suggesting a gazebo, playground equipment, and a basketball court.

“From what I understand, it’s someplace where I can easily walk to and from,” said UI junior Justin Bucklin. “[There is] plenty of coin-operated rental lockers available to those who were not able to get UI student fees, $225 per semester, to be noted.

“Not a huge park, but okay,” he said.

Residents decided Thursday that the park is different from a city park and should be included to the neighborhood — not the general public.

“I think it will be a wonderful addition to our district,” Wheeler said.

The next workshop is tentatively scheduled for Sept. 16. A neighborhood open house will be held Oct. 7, and the final plan will be presented to the neighborhood Nov. 10.
SPORTS

Volleyball

Iowa will open up regular-season play tonight with the first of three matches in this weekend’s Hawkeye Challenge.

Football

Wolff’s fined for verbal backlash still unclear

Iowa head coach Kirk Ferentz said the possi- bility of retaliation for sarcastic rants about UI head coach Brady Hoke on Twitter last October is possible. Two days later, Hoke was fined for not following the rule on retaliation and the game was canceled. Ferentz said he won’t finesse Hoke for his tweets.

Ferentz also announced Thursday that two other players have decided not to return to the team: junior fullback Wade Leppert and junior offensive lineman Cody Wallace.

The Hawkeyes open up regular-season play Sept. 1 against Penn State in State College, Pa. The Big Ten conference realigned conference, according to the Associated Press.

Boxing

The Klinefelter sisters will compete against the scrappy Hill sisters tonight.

Basketball

Men’s hoops schedule released

The Big Ten has confirmed its men’s basketball schedule includes a visit to the Iowa State Cyclones in Ames on Friday, Jan. 19. The full schedule will be released at a later date.

Volleyball

Some new faces at linebacker

Jeremiah Hunter Leads Iowa’s linebacking corps after the departure of two NFL draft picks.

Football

Iowa Hawkeyes defensive back Jonathan Babineau has confirmed for the 2010 season.

Boxing

The Klinefelter sisters will face Keri Hill, and sisters. Katy Klinefelter and her twin sister, Katy, will face Savanna Hill.

Basketball

Men’s hoops schedule released

The Big Ten has confirmed its men’s basketball schedule includes a visit to the Iowa State Cyclones in Ames on Friday, Jan. 19. The full schedule will be released at a later date.

Sports Preview

Win by KO Promotions presents “No Excuses”

Tickets: Reserve seating $45, general admission $40, kids $5.

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

SCOREBOARD

MLB

Los Angeles Dodgers 7, Milwaukee 1

FOOTBALL

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan

Countdown to Kickoff

Iowa Hawkeye Jeremiah Hunter celebrates with Iowa Hawkeye Jeff Tuerpian after a play in the first half during the matchup against Penn State at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City on Sept. 5, 2009.

Seventh in a 10-part series

The Daily Iowan
Soccer Hawks seek improvement

The Hawkeyes' games against Northern Illinois and Central Michigan in the Iowa Tournament bring new challenges.

BY SETH ROBERTS

Soccer fans, rejoice. It’s tournament time.

The Iowa soccer team will host North Iowa, Central Michigan and the MAC champion Central Michigan in the Iowa Tournament this weekend. The 2009 Big Ten/ACC Challenge, also known as the Big Ten Ten schedule, kicks off Aug. 28.

North Iowa, led by Coach Sharon Dingman, won't have much of a shot in this year’s tournament. Despite dropping both games last year, and along with a number of first-year players and with a young team, North Iowa isn’t just a threeroseroutefor games.

Dingman said her team hasn’t had much experience on the offensive end, which has caused the team to struggle further along than probably any first-year team in 20-plus years.”

Senior captain Rocky Walters agreed with Dingman, saying she thinks this freshman class is hungry for an opportunity to play in the Big Ten schedule.

The Hawkeyes are expected to get some playing time in the matches this weekend. Walters said she can’t wait to see how she performs in the games away from school.

On Saturday and Aug. 30, Hawkeyes will face off against the nation’s best. Walters is excited to see how the team will perform in the matches against the national champion and two Europeans — helps instill a sense of fearlessness and two Europeans — helps instill a sense of fearlessness.

“I’m hoping the message has gotten through,” coach Tracey Griesbaum said. “At the time, it’s tough to go through that and tough to go back to ‘top-down’ fashion.

“We talk about cutting the ball up — we didn’t do that at all against Wake Forest, but that’s okay because we are learning a tempo on the offensive end. We’ve got to find each other early and play on Sept. 24 against the nation-best 19 shutouts. When we do this, too. Many said they didn’t expect it in 2008 because the Hawkayes had to prepare for the matches.

Iowa (0-0) vs. Northern Illinois (1-0)

When: 7 p.m. today

Where: STADIUM OF LIGHTS

Analysis during the game

Iowa will start conference play on the way.

For the matches this weekend, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

The Hawkayes’ season opener against the Panthers in Northern Iowa (0-1-0) in Northern Illinois (1-0-0) at 7 p.m. today and Central Michigan (0-0) vs. Iowa (0-0) vs. Michigan (2-0-0) on Aug. 30.

The Hawkeyes are coming off another volleyball Tournament last year, and they will face the Panthers in Cedar Rapids in Northern Illinois (0-1-0) in the MAC tournament.

The Hawkayes are coming off a 16-match winning streak and will be key in taking down the Mountain Hawks.

“Maybe this year we don’t want to play our games — we don’t want to lose hope that way and adjust to that.”

Walters said the Hawkayes face a challenge in defending national champion Central Michigan, which comes into Iowa City riding a 16-match regular-season winning streak. Fourteen players scored for the Chippewas in 2008, led by senior co-captain Carie Schontz, who had 13 goals in the season.

Despite the pressure of adjusting to a new format for the season, senior co-captain Rocky Walters agreed with Dingman, saying she thinks this freshman class is hungry for a chance to play in the Big Ten Ten schedule.

“I’m hoping the message has gotten through,” coach Tracey Griesbaum said. “At the time, it’s tough to go through that and tough to go back to ‘top-down’ fashion.

“We talk about cutting the ball up — we didn’t do that at all against Wake Forest, but that’s okay because we are learning a tempo on the offensive end. We’ve got to find each other early and play on Sept. 24 against the nation-best 19 shutouts. When we do this, too. Many said they didn’t expect it in 2008 because the Hawkayes had to prepare for the matches.

Iowa (0-0) vs. Northern Illinois (1-0)

When: 7 p.m. today

Where: STADIUM OF LIGHTS

Analysis during the game

Iowa will start conference play on the way.

For the matches this weekend, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

The Hawkayes’ season opener against the Panthers in Northern Iowa (0-1-0) in Northern Illinois (1-0-0) at 7 p.m. today and Central Michigan (0-0) vs. Iowa (0-0) vs. Michigan (2-0-0) on Aug. 30.

The Hawkeyes are coming off another volleyball Tournament last year, and they will face the Panthers in Cedar Rapids in Northern Illinois (0-1-0) in the MAC tournament.

The Hawkayes are coming off a 16-match winning streak and will be key in taking down the Mountain Hawks.

“Maybe this year we don’t want to play our games — we don’t want to lose hope that way and adjust to that.”

Walters said the Hawkayes face a challenge in defending national champion Central Michigan, which comes into Iowa City riding a 16-match regular-season winning streak. Fourteen players scored for the Chippewas in 2008, led by senior co-captain Carie Schontz, who had 13 goals in the season.

Despite the pressure of adjusting to a new format for the season, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

The Hawkayes’ season opener against the Panthers in Northern Iowa (0-1-0) in Northern Illinois (1-0-0) at 7 p.m. today and Central Michigan (0-0) vs. Iowa (0-0) vs. Michigan (2-0-0) on Aug. 30.

The Hawkeyes are coming off another volleyball Tournament last year, and they will face the Panthers in Cedar Rapids in Northern Illinois (0-1-0) in the MAC tournament.

The Hawkayes are coming off a 16-match winning streak and will be key in taking down the Mountain Hawks.

“Maybe this year we don’t want to play our games — we don’t want to lose hope that way and adjust to that.”

Walters said the Hawkayes face a challenge in defending national champion Central Michigan, which comes into Iowa City riding a 16-match regular-season winning streak. Fourteen players scored for the Chippewas in 2008, led by senior co-captain Carie Schontz, who had 13 goals in the season.

Despite the pressure of adjusting to a new format for the season, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

Iowa (0-0) vs. Northern Illinois (1-0)

When: 7 p.m. today

Where: STADIUM OF LIGHTS

Analysis during the game

Iowa will start conference play on the way.

For the matches this weekend, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

The Hawkayes’ season opener against the Panthers in Northern Iowa (0-1-0) in Northern Illinois (1-0-0) at 7 p.m. today and Central Michigan (0-0) vs. Iowa (0-0) vs. Michigan (2-0-0) on Aug. 30.

The Hawkeyes are coming off another volleyball Tournament last year, and they will face the Panthers in Cedar Rapids in Northern Illinois (0-1-0) in the MAC tournament.

The Hawkayes are coming off a 16-match winning streak and will be key in taking down the Mountain Hawks.

“Maybe this year we don’t want to play our games — we don’t want to lose hope that way and adjust to that.”

Walters said the Hawkayes face a challenge in defending national champion Central Michigan, which comes into Iowa City riding a 16-match regular-season winning streak. Fourteen players scored for the Chippewas in 2008, led by senior co-captain Carie Schontz, who had 13 goals in the season.

Despite the pressure of adjusting to a new format for the season, senior co-captain Jessica Smith agreed with Walters, saying “we want to play at home. It’s great to show ourselves well.”

The Hawkayes’ season opener against the Panthers in Northern Iowa (0-1-0) in Northern Illinois (1-0-0) at 7 p.m. today and Central Michigan (0-0) vs. Iowa (0-0) vs. Michigan (2-0-0) on Aug. 30.

The Hawkeyes are coming off another volleyball Tournament last year, and they will face the Panthers in Cedar Rapids in Northern Illinois (0-1-0) in the MAC tournament.

The Hawkayes are coming off a 16-match winning streak and will be key in taking down the Mountain Hawks.

“Maybe this year we don’t want to play our games — we don’t want to lose hope that way and adjust to that.”

Walters said the Hawkayes face a challenge in defending national champion Central Michigan, which comes into Iowa City riding a 16-match
The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

By KYRAN MORPHY

Fans of football don’t have to look far to find tailgaters playing beanbags at something called the Bean Bag Bowl. But on Thursday, that excitement spilled over to Hubbard Park in Hawkeye Stadium.

The intramural beanbag-toss tournament — along with the punt, pass, and kick competition — kicked off the 2010-11 Intramural season. The Defending Champs — former junior Richard Tronolone — took home the male and female division, and Tronolone took home their longest attempt in a best-of-three championship round.

Richard Tronolone unintentionally came back for more sports this year. He played in last year’s Punt, Pass, and Kick competition, but he wanted to prove himself.

“I forgot all about the Punt, Pass, and Kick I saw,” he said. “I thought I was just a one-sport athlete, and decided I needed to do it again this year, so I went back home to get my cleats.”

The event was free and open to anyone who wanted to give it a try to see if they could win.

“I did it because I wanted to give it a try, and I thought I was good at it. I didn’t think I could actually win, I just wanted the experience,” Tronolone said.

The event drew many people who didn’t actually plan on participating but wanted to see how they passed.

UI freshman Megan Moran won the women’s division with a combined score of 160. She was one of two females to participate in the event.

“I actually wanted to try doing it, but my roommate noticed it was a leather ball,” said UI junior Hanna Wiesmayer. “Are these free?” she said in response.

“I decided to give it a try, and I thought it was a free event,” Wiesmayer said. “I thought I could win, and I’m really glad that I did.”

“Next year I just plan to come back and I will bring some friends back next year and do it again.”

The Defending Champs confidently went on to win the tournament.

Colton Coffey single-handedly led the Defending Champs to victory. The team, along with beanbags, kicked off the 2010-11 intramural schedule.

Coffey, a freshman wide receiver, won the college-level competition.

The Defending Champs — consisting of Coffey, junior Ryan Langel, Colton Cason, and Jim Vojahosky — participated in the Intramural Bean Bag tournament in Hubbard Park on Thursday.

The intramural bag toss was one of the 10 intramural sports contested in a best-of-three championship round.

The Defending Champs — members Jer- ron Ryan, Richard Tronolone, and Alex Piatt — participated in the tournament.

“Defending Champs” won the tournament at the Journalism College and won the 21-point threshold.

“The strategy was to win.”

Richard Tronolone pushed for pictures in their black-and-orange shirts after the competition, signifying their status as an intramural champion.

Tronolone said the games of beanbag toss played non-competitively around campus helped hone his skills for this particular intramural competition.

“I’d say it helps, for sure,” he said with a grin.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

By KYRAN MORPHY

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs — consisting of Coffey, junior Ryan Langel, Colton Cason, and Jim Vojahosky — participated in the Intramural Bean Bag tournament in Hubbard Park on Thursday.

The Defending Champs — consisting of Coffey, junior Ryan Langel, Colton Cason, and Jim Vojahosky — participated in the tournament.

“Defending Champs” won the tournament at the Journalism College and won the 21-point threshold.

“The strategy was to win.”

Richard Tronolone pushed for pictures in their black-and-orange shirts after the competition, signifying their status as an intramural champion.

Tronolone said the games of beanbag toss played non-competitively around campus helped hone his skills for this particular intramural competition.

“I’d say it helps, for sure,” he said with a grin.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

By KYRAN MORPHY

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs — consisting of Coffey, junior Ryan Langel, Colton Cason, and Jim Vojahosky — participated in the Intramural Bean Bag tournament in Hubbard Park on Thursday.

The Defending Champs — consisting of Coffey, junior Ryan Langel, Colton Cason, and Jim Vojahosky — participated in the tournament.

“Defending Champs” won the tournament at the Journalism College and won the 21-point threshold.

“The strategy was to win.”

Richard Tronolone pushed for pictures in their black-and-orange shirts after the competition, signifying their status as an intramural champion.

Tronolone said the games of beanbag toss played non-competitively around campus helped hone his skills for this particular intramural competition.

“I’d say it helps, for sure,” he said with a grin.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.

The Defending Champs take home the intramural beanbag-toss crown, with tailgating experience a contributing factor to victory.
BOXING PREVIEW

CONTINUED FROM 1B

From the Associated Press

The New York Post reported on Friday that former world middleweight champion Zab Judah is being investigated by the New York State Athletic Commission over an incident involving child support. The report said Judah, who is accused of failing to pay child support, is being investigated by the commission.

Penn State CONTINUED FROM 1B

defining defense for 5,505-passing yards and 46 touchdowns, allowing 13 interceptions.

The Nittany Lions opened the season with a win over Youngstown State at home. Then in Week 2, they travel to Tuscaloosa, Ala., to play Alabama, the defending national champions and probably the No. 1 team in the country.

We will go out to tell you all about how the Wee Willie Foundation has been able to make golf successful.

He's been going to play well. We've been working on his swing. He's been getting better and better. He was consistent. He just didn't have a lot of chances out there.

And he did.

And he did.

And he did.

An 18-under 50 on the 291-yard fifth hole en route to breaking the 25-year-old course record in his first tournament as a professional golfer.

In his first tournament as a professional golfer, he shot an 18-under 50 on the 291-yard fifth hole en route to breaking the 25-year-old course record in his first tournament as a professional golfer.

His golf hasn't been very good since his divorce, he wasn't saying.

Tiger Woods playing his best golf in over a year.

The 30-year-old British Open champion has played his best round of the year, shooting a 6-under 65 in Ridgewood, the first time he has had more than one birdie in a round since the 2010 U.S. Open.

On the PGA Tour since the 2010 U.S. Open, Woods has not led any tournaments since the 2012 Farmers Insurance Open since his divorce,

At the end of his first round at the 2010 U.S. Open, Woods announced that he would take a break from golf to focus on his personal life. He has not played since then.

And he did.

 cruising the radar for weeks.

Tiger Woods playing his best golf in over a year.

The 30-year-old British Open champion has played his best round of the year, shooting a 6-under 65 in Ridgewood, the first time he has had more than one birdie in a round since the 2010 U.S. Open.

When facing a seasoned foe like parking lot attendant, you just go to compete. You have to see what your opponent is doing and do different things to confuse the crowd.

Everybody feels a little bit nervous being around me, Royster said, “I think that's good that's going to do some good, you know what I mean? We have a lot of guys who are excited to do things a little bit and improve and follow their lead.”

He's been going to play well. We've been working on his swing. He's been getting better and better. He was consistent. He just didn't have a lot of chances out there.

And he did.

Tiger Woods playing his best golf in over a year.

The 30-year-old British Open champion has played his best round of the year, shooting a 6-under 65 in Ridgewood, the first time he has had more than one birdie in a round since the 2010 U.S. Open.

When facing a seasoned foe like parking lot attendant, you just go to compete. You have to see what your opponent is doing and do different things to confuse the crowd.

Everybody feels a little bit nervous being around me, Royster said, “I think that's good that's going to do some good, you know what I mean? We have a lot of guys who are excited to do things a little bit and improve and follow their lead.”

He's been going to play well. We've been working on his swing. He's been getting better and better. He was consistent. He just didn't have a lot of chances out there.

And he did.

Tiger Woods playing his best golf in over a year.

The 30-year-old British Open champion has played his best round of the year, shooting a 6-under 65 in Ridgewood, the first time he has had more than one birdie in a round since the 2010 U.S. Open.

When facing a seasoned foe like parking lot attendant, you just go to compete. You have to see what your opponent is doing and do different things to confuse the crowd.

Everybody feels a little bit nervous being around me, Royster said, “I think that's good that's going to do some good, you know what I mean? We have a lot of guys who are excited to do things a little bit and improve and follow their lead.”

He's been going to play well. We've been working on his swing. He's been getting better and better. He was consistent. He just didn't have a lot of chances out there.

And he did.
condo in great IC

bedroom, three blocks
to buy Iowa football
to buy student season
to buy Iowa football, bedroom with study.

Self Storage

bedroom, basement, car-Desk? Table?

bedroom apartment, W/D,
Classifieds (319) 339-1251

in Iowa City Efficiency, one, and drivers license. Phone only detailers, car washers. Valid

RESTAURANT
4515 Melrose Ave., Iowa City
Chatham Oaks
1st shift, 6am-2:30pm.
Apply in person:
Excellent benefits.
2nd shift, 2pm-10:30pm.

RESIDENTIAL AIDE

CHILDCARE AIDE

you work. (319)936-4014.
Seeking assistants. Great available. Flexible but does Click on surveys.

STUDENTPAWNTS.COM
Iowa City. EOE. M/F/D/V.
transportation and means of driving record, have reliable be 18 with a HS diploma/ GED, in irregularities at client sites. Must port activities, make periodic
Iowa City and Cedar Rapids oriented Security Officers in the

SECURITAS
LOOKING
COMMUNICATION SKILLS
AND

We've got a store full of clean used furniture plus dishes, plastic, factory warranty, can

REPAIR. Free anti-virus
mattlarson22@gmail.com
Matt or email me at
Call (319)530-1413 and ask for
2:45-5:30pm M, T, W and Fri-

FOR SALE
CONDO
2001 MERCEDES BENZ E320
Wheels, sunroof. Call (319) 335-5784 or
(319) 335-5785.

FOR RENT
APARTMENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.

APARTMENT FOR RENT
4671 NE Genesse Ave.
(319) 336-7058

APARTMENT FOR RENT
1-6 Bedrooms

towels, linens, dishes, flatware.
 horoscopes Friday, August 27, 2010 by S Cott Adams

AQUARIUS • You have to take care of business today and you will find that you are quite capable of drumming up your money, and also making extra cash. Don't be shy when it comes to something that you need or want. You may be on the line, and it will be important that you size up the situation correctly and make a promise to a partner that means a lot to you. Make a promise to accommodate someone you care for. An opportunity may appear out of nowhere and it may be the only way you can do this kind of thing.

ARIES • Today you have to make some changes in order to accommodate someone you care for. You may not enjoy the way you have to make this change, but it will happen. You can take a few deep breaths and begin to make the change that is necessary for you.

T A N G O L K A T S Y

S C H E D U L E

Campus channel 4
Cable channel 17
Capital, Oct. 13, 2009
WorldCanvass, lively talk and music, UI International Programs, November 2010
Hols The Windy City, lively talk and music,

Core Fitness corefitness313.com

1 p.m., Free Noonies Program, February 2
6 p.m., Last Call Concert, February 2
4 p.m., Cello and Piano Concert, February 2
4 p.m., Piano Ensemble Concert, Old IMU

Daily Break Time sneak up on you like a windshield on a bug.

dailyiowan.com/pages/calendarsubmit.html

Want to see your super special event appear here? Simply submit the details at:

http://www.meginsberg.com/Pages/submit.png

by Scott Adams

UTV schedule

Aries needs to take their time in believing. Back to your yard, and employ habits that you enjoy and know that you can use. Love is in the stars, so work on your current relationship or the one you want.

Taurus needs to take a pause before they can make any moves. You can't take any more of your partner's behavior, and you may need to have a talk to make things better between you. Don't allow anyone to dictate what you should or shouldn't be doing.

Gemini needs to be patient and wait for your partner to change. Let your energy flow, and do not let it go to waste. You will find that you are quite capable of drumming up your money, and also making extra cash. Don't be shy when it comes to something that you need or want. You may be on the line, and it will be important that you size up the situation correctly and make a promise to a partner that means a lot to you. Make a promise to accommodate someone you care for. An opportunity may appear out of nowhere and it may be the only way you can do this kind of thing. You can take a few deep breaths and begin to make the change that is necessary for you.