Dancing, Indian style at UI

By LILY HENDERSON

The public will have the chance to meet city-manager candidates before the final decision.

By LILY HENDERSON

The newly proposed exemption would apply to live, professional performances, and exclude movie screenings and pre-recorded music, councils agreed.

"If there's a true entertainment venue that seems like a good stand-alone opportunity to promote their cultural background," said Rice, who oversees the process for deciding placement in colleges for the new hirings. "It opens up new ways of looking at humanities, and it is doing so on ways that often engage and inform the public."
God’s word, God’s world
A bout with tachycardia changed Dave Conrades life.

By ALLE WRIGHT

Ten years ago, Dave Conrade helped Iowa City students learn about the social environment around them. He founded a camp that taught local children about different environmental activities and allowed them “bird hunting” or how to track a boa constrictor migration habit.

Now he’s back in Iowa City with a similar mission but a different message.

Conrade, 45, is now the pastor of St. John’s Church, a Baptist church in downtown Iowa City. He’s working on a new project where he will be teaching church planting and more basic church doctrine at the church’s facilities.

“I didn’t even want to be in the ministry,” he said. “I really didn’t have any interest in being a pastor.”

But the church has given Conrade the opportunity to share his message with others and help them grow in their faith.

The church provides him with a large room to use for services and help people learn more about the church and its teachings.

“It’s really been a blessing to be able to share my faith and help others grow in their relationship with God,” Conrade said.

The church has also allowed Conrade to provide resources to people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity.

“I’ve had the opportunity to share some of the resources we have here at the church with people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity,” Conrade said.

The church has also provided Conrade with opportunities to share his faith with others through events and other activities.

“Through events and other activities, I’ve had the opportunity to share my faith with others and help them see the beauty of the Bible and its teachings,” Conrade said.

The church has also allowed Conrade to provide resources to people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity.

“I’ve had the opportunity to share some of the resources we have here at the church with people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity,” Conrade said.

The church has also provided Conrade with opportunities to share his faith with others through events and other activities.

“Through events and other activities, I’ve had the opportunity to share my faith with others and help them see the beauty of the Bible and its teachings,” Conrade said.

The church has also allowed Conrade to provide resources to people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity.

“I’ve had the opportunity to share some of the resources we have here at the church with people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity,” Conrade said.

The church has also provided Conrade with opportunities to share his faith with others through events and other activities.

“Through events and other activities, I’ve had the opportunity to share my faith with others and help them see the beauty of the Bible and its teachings,” Conrade said.

The church has also allowed Conrade to provide resources to people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity.

“I’ve had the opportunity to share some of the resources we have here at the church with people who are interested in learning more about the Bible and Christianity,” Conrade said.

The church has also provided Conrade with opportunities to share his faith with others through events and other activities.

“Through events and other activities, I’ve had the opportunity to share my faith with others and help them see the beauty of the Bible and its teachings,” Conrade said.
MANAGER CONTINUED FROM 1
$14,000 to conduct the search. The total cost will be around $20,000, including housing for the candidates during their visit to Iowa City.
The firm has been conducting the search since June. City councilors said they’re stuck to the expected time frame.
“They’ve delivered as we expected,” Councilor Regge
Bailey said. Slavin has had to prepare lists of candidates and has done critical background checks on all of them.
“They’re things we need to do no matter what is in the room,” the city’s most senior councilor said, Councilor Terry Dickens said. Originally, the city had interviewed 17 candidates; after sorting through background checks and resumes, around five or six remained, Dickens said. Slavin could not be reached for comment.
Next week, the city councilors will start interviewing the candidates. They said they hope to narrow the field to two or three pos-

ANDHI CONTINUED FROM 1
There, women were taught the “holy role” — a well-known term that Inani noted, takes a bit of practice. “Practice turns the practice into habit,” Inani said.
Inani spent an hour and a half in front of the group, diligently teaching the group the entire routine.
Dressed in a manner of sari, shorts, and jeans, women repeated the steps for an hour-and-a-half as Inani counted to eight out loud: count over and over. “I think it is going well,” Williams said during a break on Sept. 14, event lightly holding her brow. “It is really fun and ener-
gic. It’s kind of easy.”

While the leaders were excited about the level of the group, they had some tough cuts. “We did not do a good job,” Inani said. “We had some tough cuts. We did not do a good job.”

SAY "safe and sexy" this year. Call: 319.181.8723 (70AM) or (70PM) or Text: "safesa" to 74696 for free SaferAdventures tips. 20% Clothing, Footwear, & Camping Gear through Oct 31st (Includes tents, sunglasses, backpacks, sleeping bags & more)
Excludes hunting clothing.*See store for details. 125 Highway 1 West • Iowa City (319) 354-2200 Marmot
Fin & Feather
*See store for details.

Clothing, Footwear, & Camping Gear through Oct 31st (Includes tents, sunglasses, backpacks, sleeping bags & more)
Excludes hunting clothing.
*Saw store for details.

Safesa

Saying "safe and sexy" is a statement. It’s a mantra. It’s a way of life. And it’s the goal of Safe and Sexy, an annual shopping event that celebrates the best of fall’s fashions while promoting body positive and inclusive fashion. This year’s shopping event will be held at the Iowa City Center Mall on Saturday, October 31st from 10am to 5pm. The event will feature a wide selection of clothing, accessories, and beauty products, all chosen by leading fashion experts. The event will be open to the public, and will also include a fashion show at 1pm that will showcase the latest looks in fall fashion. Whether you’re looking for the perfect outfit to wear to a party or just want to treat yourself to something special, the Safe and Sexy shopping event has something for everyone. So join us for the ultimate shopping experience and make this year’s Safe and Sexy event one to remember.
Focussed excellence may mean planned meidocidity
By Brian Dolnick

In the spring of 1965, when I was a senior at Iowa City community college, I was very pleased to read that Leonard Lopate’s book How to Create a Vocabulary would be used to supplement our English classes. The book was to have a lasting impact on me, as it continues to influence my writing today. The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.

The book, which was written by a well-educated person such as Leonard Lopate’s opponent, Mary L. Larew, has gone on to win many awards and, as a result, has been translated into many languages. It is not only a manual for the vocabulary-rich, but it is also a guide to the language-rich. The book is widely read and well worth the time to read.
By HANNAH KRUMER
Backpacks next to chairs and people in street clothes, an odd combination, sitting in a lecture hall with their peers, a guy taking notes, instead of listening to the instructor’s directions — it appeared to be a regular college class.

That is, until you notice the string and wind instruments in every student’s possession.

This scene describes a University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra rehearsal. The group will perform at 7:30 p.m. today in the IMU Main Lounge for more arts and culture.

By SAMANTHA GENTRY

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra kicks off the fall semester with a concert full of variety and flavor.

CONCERT

UI Symphony Orchestra
When: 7:30 p.m.
Where: IMU Main Lounge

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra kicks off the fall semester with a concert full of variety and flavor.

As the conductor, Jennifer Long, begins the program, the audience is greeted with a lively and upbeat piece. The music flows seamlessly from one section to the next, creating a sense of cohesion throughout the performance.

The symphony continues to captivate the audience with a diverse range of compositions, including classical and contemporary works. The musicians’ skill and precision are evident in their execution of each piece, demonstrating their mastery of their instruments.

The concert concludes with a vibrant finale, leaving the audience with a sense of awe and admiration for the talent on display.

By DAVE LIES

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.

By JASON MCELHANEY

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.

By JEFFREY MILLER

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.

By JASON MCELHANEY

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.

By JASON MCELHANEY

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.

By JASON MCELHANEY

The University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra opens its season with a concert featuring a variety of compositions, including classical and contemporary works.

The performance includes pieces by composers such as Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The musicians showcase their skills with precision and dedication, captivating the audience with their interpretation of these timeless melodies.

The concert concludes with a lively and festive piece, leaving the audience with a sense of excitement and anticipation for the upcoming season.
Sports

Football

Continued from 10

Broderick Binns emphasized that Iowa has a long season, and he directed them to "rebuke the lie." The season gets under way at 11 a.m. on Sunday in Kinnick Stadium. Kickoff is at 12:14 p.m.

After the Sept. 18 victories, the Hawkeyes’ schedule will continue to be a big challenge. Iowa starts the season at Kinnick Stadium, which will seat 66,550 fans.

Even with all the special-teams matchups, Iowa was tied with Arizona at 27 midway through the fourth quarter. Nick Folks, the Wildcat quarterback, picked apart the Hawkeyes’ defense, driving the team to a 31-14 lead.

Towan, a 6-5, 240-pound defensive end, said Barnett’s attitude was key in the 14th game. Barnett, who leads the teams in tackles, said his confidence was key in the game.

"When your team is in a win or lose situation, we have a practice that we do," Barnett said. "It’s just like a game. It helps us see what we need to work on.

Barnett said his coaches expect him to perform, but he also knows he needs to improve.

"I have to work on my game and work on my confidence," he said. "I want to be a better player, and I want to be a different player than I was last year.

Barnett said he wants to be a leader on the team this year and that he will try to lead by example.

"I want to be a leader on the team this year," he said. "I want to be a leader by example, not just words.

"I don’t care if people don’t believe in me, but I want to be the best player I can be for the team."

Hampton injury update

Sophomore running back Hampton was absent from the Hawkeyes’ practice again Saturday morning after missing Friday’s practice with a hamstring injury.

Sophomore running back Hampton did not practice on Friday, and after he missed the game against the University of Iowa, there was concern for head coach Kirk Ferentz.

"I had a feeling something was wrong when he went out," Ferentz said. "I had a feeling something was wrong.

Ferentz said that Hampton will not practice on Monday and that he will be evaluated on a day-to-day basis.

"I think we’re going to have to take care of him," Ferentz said. "I don’t want him to go out there and get another injury.

"I don’t want him to go out there and get another injury.

"I don’t want him to go out there and get another injury.

"I don’t want him to go out there and get another injury."
The Blumpkins knew coming into Monday night’s Men’s Open League Section J contest against the Grenade Slayers that they would have only six men, as opposed to the usual seven. The squad hoped to overcome this disadvantage and win its first game of the season.

But the Grenade Slayers had other plans and used that T-0 advantage to annihilate the Blumpkins, 48-0, at the Hawkeye Recreation Fields.

The extra-man advantage proved to be a key factor, players from both teams said.

“It was hard; there was always one extra man,” Blumpkins quarterback A.J. Will said.

His statements were echoed by the Slayers’ Casey Schmitz: “It was definitely easier on defense, and on offense, there was one more guy to throw to."

Doing everything quarterback Schmitz led the Slayers, blocking the depleted Blumpkins defense with ease.

He also intercepted the Blumpkins twice, and he even scored the touchdowns.

Schmitz’ first interception was for a touchdown in the first quarter after a lateral to sophomore Chase Wallace. Only two plays later, Schmitz recorded his second interception of the game, setting up a 3-yard touchdown pass to Michael Cooney to give the Slayers a 14-0 lead.

The Blumpkins’ offense tried to rally with a barrage of short passes, which gave the squad its longest drive of the night. Will said the short passing game would become a larger part of the offense in future contests. However, the extra man on the field helped the Slayers to stop a fourth and 3 attempt by the Blumpkins and regain possession.

Schmitz found Jason Keucen on the next play for a 57-yard touchdown and a 24-0 lead. A safety from Cooney gave the Slayers a 26-0 lead.

However, freshman Ross Williams of the Blumpkins intercepted two passes before halftime to keep the score at 24-0.

At 2-0, the Grenade Slayers will face a test next weekend against Teach You How to Throw (0-1) in a critical Section J contest. The Raw Doggers defeated Grabbin TDs 6-on-6 6-0 on Tuesday night.

The Blumpkins’ 6-on-6 was not done yet – Schmitz delivered a strike to Kruzie Couey for a 20-yard touchdown and a 42-0 lead. The scoring was completed with a five-yard interception return by sophomore Tom O’Grady.

The mercy rule kicked in, ending the contest with two minutes left.

At 2-0, the Grenade Slayers will face a test next weekend against Teach You How to Throw (0-1) in a critical Section J contest. The Raw Doggers defeated Grabbin TDs to more to 1-0 in Section J Monday.

The man advantage not withstanding, Schmitz and his team were excited about the victory.

“We all get pretty excited for Monday nights,” he said. “We anticipate this the whole day, so it was nice to get the win.”

The Daily Iowan
The Hawkeyes fell to No. 18 in the polls, but their confidence isn’t shaken.

By SCOTT MILLER

The hyped game is over — at least, it has simmered down.

After a 34-27 loss against No. 14 Arizona in the desert, The HawkeyesDecoration found themselves staggering nine slots to No. 18 in the Associated Press rankings Sunday.

But in the Iowa locker room, a lack of confidence isn’t in their game.

Senior offensive guard Julian Vandervelde said the Hawkeyes were going to be fine even before the year began, saying, “Realistically, things as far as the big picture is concerned, all the team has to tell us two things: One, we’re not going to win the Big Ten championship. That’s just not going to happen. Two, we have a chance to get better every day. And two, we have a chance to rebound in our remaining games of the season.

After Iowa’s 34-27 loss at Arizona, will the Hawks be able to rebound in their remaining games of the season? Is there anything that’s going to change?

Iowa running back Jovon Huff threatened to leave the scoreboard in the final seconds of the humbling loss in Arizona Stadium in Tucson, Ariz. on Sept. 19. Iowa lost, 34-27. The Hawkeyes were ranked No. 9 in the Associated Press rankings before the game, and dropped to No. 18 after the loss to Arizona.

The Hawkeyes didn’t just lose a game this week. They lost something else.

Iowa fans, take a deep breath.

The football team’s trip to the West Coast was supposed to be “the year” for the Hawkeyes, the third year under new coach Kirk Ferentz.

After digging themselves a 14-point first-half deficit in Tucson, Iowa outscored Arizona, 27-14 in the second half. Adam Robinson collected five touchdowns.

But Iowa's special teams continue playing like a team that isn’t making the bowl game at all if the special teams don’t improve quickly.

The O-line didn’t do much to help the running backs.

The defense has been able to make a few tackles, but thedefensive line, though, has been pretty terrible all season, and the Hawkeyes will be lucky to make a bowl game at all if the special teams continue playing like they did against Arizona.

The Whips crushed a punt and a kickoff attempt and opened up about 49.3 yards per kickoff return.

There were also a few positives that came out of the game.

That’s what’s going to change.

ESPN’s Michelle Beadle expects Iowa fans to be loud and passionate during today’s ‘SportsNation’ live broadcast.

Michelle Beadle and Colin Cowherd will be live in Iowa City beginning at 9 a.m. on Tuesday.

ESPN’s Colo. studio will also host a live radio show, “The Herd with Colin Cowherd” at Hubbard Park beginning at 9 a.m.

ESPN's ‘SportsNation’ arrives in IC

Will the Hawkeyes rebound or not?

After Iowa’s 34-27 loss at Arizona, will the Hawks be able to rebound in their remaining games of the season?

Hawks sag in polls but stay upbeat

Hawks sag in polls but stay upbeat

ESPN’s Michelle Beadle expects Iowa fans to be loud and passionate during today’s ‘SportsNation’ live broadcast.

By JORDAN GARRETON

ESPN’s Michelle Beadle and Colin Cowherd are set to hit Hubbard Park Tuesday, a day before the Big Ten opener against Nebraska.

Beadle, a sports-diamond stud who’s picked up a fair share of attention for being the first woman to have her own show on the ESPN network, is coming to Iowa City. The highly unique show is known for being edgy, quick, funny, and would love to have a good golf game.

The program was first introduced in the Wisconsin campus in Madison before Iowa, and the tour will make stops in Michigan and Penn State at Wisconsin on Tuesday.

This week’s episode caught up with Beadle for a phone interview prior to today’s show.

What was your reaction when you first found out about the Big Ten road trip?

Michelle Beadle: Super excited. I think we all have wanted to take the show on the road — the whole team (audience) kind of has wanted to do that. It’s been great for us. There’s been a lot of excitement. It’s something we’ve been looking forward to. It’s not something we’ve been able to do, so it’s great to finally try to take it on the road, but they didn’t work out for one reason or another.

When they said the one off, and they made the schedules, I was like, ‘Wow, that’s very ambitions.’ And then they pulled it off — or at least they did on paper. We’ll see if we pull it off in real life.

What are your feelings during the show in front of a live audience?

Beadle: I think it’s going to be awesome. I think both of us will feel really excited. I think it will be a much better atmosphere. Hopefully, they’ll be loud and boisterous and do all the things we’re expecting.

What: Would you like to see Vince Young be award the 2005 Heisman?

What: How would you react to Reggie Bush not getting the 2005 Heisman?

What: Would you want anyone to move? It would be a bit of a bummer, timing-wise, too, because it looks like Nebraska’s starting to come around.

Beadle: I don’t like it, because that’s a classic game. Okay, honna, Nebraska — those to me are the classic original teams that I like

ESPN’s ‘SportsNation’ live broadcast

What: The second stop on the show’s big terrestrial tour?

Where to watch?

ESPN’s Colo. studio will also host a live radio show, “The Herd with Colin Cowherd” at Hubbard Park beginning at 9 a.m.

Would you like to see Ohio State move up in the polls?

Beadle: I wouldn’t be against that. Oh, and Jewel Hampton got stomped on by Seth Roberts.

Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, let me just say, ‘Dear Watson, please write that sentence in the past tense.”

When I say the second one, and they made the schedules, I was like, ‘Wow, that’s very ambitious.’ And then they pulled it off — or at least they did on paper. We’ll see if we pull it off in real life.