Mock Trial gets credit

Mock Trial is the first UI club to give its members credit.

By MARIA GIBBS
mgibbs@uiowa.edu

The UI’s Mock Trial club has an edge in helping pre-law majors, now offers two credit hours a semester. Members receive the credit from the Honors Program and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process, if approved, would involve collaborative funding for UI student organizations the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process involves collaborative funding for UI student organizations.

By ALLIE WRIGHT
awright@uiowa.edu

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process involves collaborative funding for UI student organizations.

By ALLIE WRIGHT
awright@uiowa.edu

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process involves collaborative funding for UI student organizations.

By ALLIE WRIGHT
awright@uiowa.edu

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process involves collaborative funding for UI student organizations.

By ALLIE WRIGHT
awright@uiowa.edu

Each of the more than 400 student organizations at the University of Iowa may be required to submit applications in order to receive collaborative funding from the University of Iowa Executive Council of Graduate and Professional Students and UI Student Government starting this year.

The graduate council approved the new process Oct. 5, but UISG will not vote until its meeting next week. The new application process, if approved, will provide more transparency between student organizations and student government, said UISG President John Elges. “The application process gives government the opportunity to be pre-law majors, the Honors Program, and they can participate for up to eight semesters, said Megan Lowe, the head of competitive activities and while we are competing and getting rewarded [for those competitions], it feels more like a summer day, “Cut taxes, cut spending, create jobs,” said Marianne C. Miller-Meeks, the Republican nominee for Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District. “Allow us to move and empower people toward self-reliance.”

The new process involves collaborative funding for UI student organizations.
Ponsetti Method lives on

BY ALICIA KRAKEM))).

Five-year-old Travis Thompson was born in a national gymnastics competition last year. The quiet, unassuming girl is known for her strength and for her ability to win. The daughter of two successful gymnasts, she has been a star since she was a toddler. Her parents, former Olympic athletes, have been her biggest supporters. They have taught her everything they know about the sport, from the basic moves to advanced routines.

Travis was born with clubfoot, a condition in which the foot and ankle are twisted inward, and was participating in the second Ponsetti Clinic National Competition in Florida.

The race was in its second round and Travis was one of the youngest competitors in the field. She had already completed two rounds and was well on her way to a gold medal.

METRO

Man pleads guilty in home invasion

A Coppell, Texas, man pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of making a death threat and burglarizing a home during a wife-stalking incident.

POLICE BLOTTER

Emmanuel Andrade, 24, 1109 W. Chestnut St., was arrested Wednesday on a charge of making a death threat and two counts of burglary. He was booked into the Lake County Jail.

Shanye Baker, 22, 808 N. Chestnut St., was charged Wednesday with two counts of burglary. She was booked into the Lake County Jail.

NEWS

The Daily Iowan

Volume 170
Issue 98
Published by the Daily Iowan

REGISTRY

Creating a Better Iowa

THE DAILY IOWAN

Phone (319) 335-3843
Email daily@dailyiowan.com

REPRINTS

Call (319) 335-3843
Fax (319) 335-3849

ADVERTISERS

Call (319) 335-3843
Fax (319) 335-3849

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Call (319) 335-3843
Fax (319) 335-3849

CLASSIFIED

Call (319) 335-3843
Fax (319) 335-3849

ADVERTISER SATELLITE OFFICES

Des Moines: 515-259-8949
West Des Moines: 515-259-8949

daily@dailyiowan.com

2000 University Ave.

Iowa City 52242

Mailing address: Iowa City, Iowa 52242

This content is protected by international copyright laws;
not to be reproduced without permission.

REGISTRY

Creating a Better Iowa
Barbecue

Continued from 1

“I think that it is always important to touch with your base,” she said. “Those people who have supported you, have been a resource for volunteers, so they stay inspired and motivated.”

The crowd, which was made up mostly of older community members, was roused more than once by speakers’ calls to cut, spread, and create more local jobs.

“I think that we as American citizens need to take our country back, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.

Currently a resource for volunteers, the event was attended by community members, was made up mostly of older American citizens need to take back our country, we need to be in control instead of the government,” said Iowa City resident Robby Wheeler, 52.

“Making our own decisions, instead of the government,” she said. “We have our own version of hope and change.”

Local Democrat Robyn Wheeler, 52.
Students: Vote ‘yes’ to retain Iowa justices

I assume that many students will be going to the polls on Nov. 6. But I want you to know that if you are registering to vote, you are enhancing your city’s and region’s political voice. This election cycle, you and I have the unique opportunity to elect all 14 of the state and local judges who serve the people of Iowa. I encourage you to support the candidates that I am endorsing, because I know personally that these candidates will work hard for you. I have spent the past several years working as a legal aid lawyer and student workers and have had the opportunity to observe the kind of excellent work that these candidates choose to do.

I have therefore endorsed nine candidates for the 2013 Iowa State Bar Association election and I am urging you to support my choices. I am especially proud to support the following candidates:

Robert Brantstad, 8th Judicial District

Brantstad is a veteran trial lawyer who has been practicing law for more than 40 years. He was an Ohio State University law professor and has served as a federal judge. He is currently a partner in the law firm of O’ Fallen & Brantstad in Des Moines. Brantstad is a member of the American Bar Association and the Iowa State Bar Association. He is also a former chairman of the Iowa Bar Foundation.

In a recent case, Brantstad was appointed as a special master to hear evidence in a case involving the validity of a state law. In this case, he ruled that the state law was unconstitutional and that the plaintiff had a right to receive his day in court. Brantstad is a respected and well-respected member of the legal community.

In addition, Brantstad has served the community in numerous ways. He has served as a member of the Iowa Bar Foundation, the Iowa Bar Association, and the Iowa Bar Association’s Committee on Professionalism. He is also a member of the Iowa Bar Association’s Committee on Professionalism and Ethics.

Brantstad is a strong supporter of the rule of law and is committed to upholding the highest standards of professional ethics. He is a respected member of the legal community and has served the community in numerous ways.

I urge you to support Brantstad for the Iowa State Bar Association election. He is a strong advocate for the rule of law and is committed to upholding the highest standards of professional ethics. He is a respected member of the legal community and has served the community in numerous ways.
MOVIE REVIEW

Life, love, and all that jazz

By JOSIE JONES

I've been waiting for this. I've craved a movie that makes me laugh and cry. I've wanted a movie that addresses my life in a meaningful way. I've needed a message. I've needed a romance. I've needed a comedy. I've needed a drama. I've needed a family. I've needed a message. I've needed a romance. I've needed a comedy. I've needed a drama. I've needed a family.

Katherine Heigl and Josh Duhamel shine in the comedy about a couple on the brink of divorce. After their best friends unexpectedly die, the two must put their differences aside to jointly care for their goddaughter, Sophie. The film shows us the value of friendship and the importance of family. It's inevitable. There's no point in even trying to keep it a secret, because everyone knows it's going to happen.

Of course the two are going to fight with each other because they are forced to cope with the hardships of juggling a new life while still trying to hold on to the old life they loved. Life as We Know It proves to be a successful comedy because of the message behind the plot. It's not just a bunch of lifeless and cheap jokes; there's actual feeling in the movie.

The film offers classic acting and a predictable ending thing working for the two. But if you put the whole story together, you get a successful comedy.

Life As We Know It is a romantic comedy, scores big thanks to its meaningful plot.

Josh Duhamel and Katherine Heigl star in the romantic comedy, Life As We Know It. After their best friends unexpectedly die, the two must put their differences aside to jointly care for their god-daughter, Sophie.

By JOSIE JONES

Meet Your Councilors

By ANTONY J. NELSON

Antonya Nelson will read from her latest novel, Bound, and discuss her life as a serial killer. Nelson to read at Prairie Lights Books, 13 S. Dubuque St., at 7 p.m. today. Admission: free.

Nelson’s writing explores the lives of serial killers, and is known for her innovative approach to the genre. Her work has earned high praise from both readers and critics alike.

Nelson’s latest novel, Bound, is a captivating tale that explores the complex psyche of a serial killer. It follows the story of a young woman who becomes entangled in a web of murder and mayhem, as she struggles to come to terms with her own desires and the consequences of her actions.

Nelson’s short-story collections have been widely praised for their unique and thought-provoking characters. She has received numerous awards and accolades for her work, solidifying her place as a prominent voice in the world of fiction.

Nelson is a United States Artists Fellow in 2009. She teaches creative writing at the University of Houston and the University of Arizona. She has been the subject of numerous interviews and articles, often discussing her approach to writing and her perspectives on the craft of storytelling.

Nelson’s latest novel, Bound, is receiving critical acclaim and is praised for its unique and thought-provoking approach to the genre. It is a must-read for fans of serial killer novels and for anyone interested in exploring the complex and often twisted minds of those who terrorize society.

Nelson’s novel is a perfect example of why she is a United States Artists Fellow in 2009. Her writing is distinctive and thought-provoking, and her approach to the genre is both challenging and illuminating.

The novel explores the life of a serial killer in a way that is both unsettling and thought-provoking. It is a sobering reminder of the darkness that can exist within us all.

In addition to her writing, Nelson is an active member of the Iowa City Writers’ Workshop, and is known for her dedication to fostering the creative community of the region.

His teaching and writing have earned him a reputation as a respected figure in the world of literature, with his work being read and studied by students and scholars alike.

Bound is available for purchase at Prairie Lights Books, or online at your local bookstore. Don’t miss out on the chance to experience the unique and thought-provoking world of Antonya Nelson’s latest novel.
Attacks on gays shocks Bronx area

By KAREN MATTHEWS

NEW YORK — Allegations that a gang member was held captive for two days last week because the gang suspected he was gay are raising fears that the nation’s housing crisis has reached a new level of violence.

One teen even called the police.

Several of the suspected attackers were involved in documented violence or legal problems, Quinn said. "I’d say that there’s no beef," he said.

The suspects, all of whom were 23-year-old friends, said they were trying to evict the man from the Bronx’s gay neighborhood. They had been petitioned by doing so, the New York Times reported.

The suspects were attributed to antigays, said, "I wouldn’t call it

They were chill. There

They were very, very

One of those they knew

We’ll have guest speak-

They were holding a

They wanted to get

We have given speeches

the group drank heavily,

"There’s no beef," Natty Mar-

"He’s not rude; he’s quite

They were convicted

One of the suspects

"It is a serious problem," said

"I wouldn’t call it

"Bryan is not a bad kid,"

"If we could do it I’d defi-

"But there are a lot of

We think they’re on the

"They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

"It is a serious problem," said

"It is a serious problem," said

"We think they’re on the

"They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

"It is a serious problem," said

"They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

They were holding a

"It is a serious problem," said
 Magical mystery class

Donna Parsons teaches World of Beatles class.

By EMILY CLARK

Parsons

Proctor of the University of Iowa’s student chapter of the Beatles Society, Parsons has an encyclopedic knowledge of the band. "I grew up listening to the Beatles, so I’ve been able to acquire a lot of information about them," she said.

Parsons said she’s been teaching the class for 12 years, and that she believes it helps students learn the importance of collaboration. "The Beatles were all about working together," she said. "They needed each other to make great music."
CARLY CORNELI

You know it is time for a study break when...

1. You start talking to your disability accommodations, especially to the ones without smiles...
2. You attempt to Bieber-ize running...to the ones without smiles...
3. You start talking to your disability accommodations...to the ones without smiles...
4. You are holding a beer in your hand...
5. You're doing your Alcohol Awareness Day Goshit ...
6. You have ingested so much Bar B Q that you are unable to breathe, but resist...to the ones without smiles...
7. You are holding a beer in your hand...to the ones without smiles...
8. You are holding a beer in your hand...

• You attempt to Bieber-ize running...to the ones without smiles...
• You're doing your Alcohol Awareness Day Goshit ...
• You have ingested so much Bar B Q that you are unable to breathe, but resist...to the ones without smiles...
• You start talking to your disability accommodations...to the ones without smiles...
• You start talking to your disability accommodations, especially to the ones without smiles...

Today's events

• Time: 3 p.m., Douglas Gym, 140 University Blvd.
• Topic: Environmental Action, and UISG. Following the rally, a 3.5 mile bike ride and walk occurred.

The Daily Iowan

For home delivery, phone 33-57383

The New York Times Crossword

Edited by Wil Shorton

No. 0096
The Hawkeyes faced a lot of tough competition at the Head of the Oklahoma.

The Hawkeyes have had some tough competition, but they have been able to come out on top. The Head of the Oklahoma is a big event for the team, and they have qualified two boats for the regatta. The team is confident going into the race, and they are looking to produce another strong showing.

The Hawkeyes have been working hard to prepare for this competition. The team has been practicing every day, and they have been focusing on their technique. The Hawkeyes are looking to produce another strong showing, and they are confident that they can do it.

The Head of the Oklahoma is a big event for the team, and they have qualified two boats for the regatta. The team is confident going into the race, and they are looking to produce another strong showing.

The Hawkeyes have been working hard to prepare for this competition. The team has been practicing every day, and they have been focusing on their technique. The Hawkeyes are looking to produce another strong showing, and they are confident that they can do it.
The women’s swimming team beat Truman State in the team’s season-opener.

By MAGGIE CUNNINGHAM

The Iowa women’s swimming and diving team posted a score of 139 for a strong victory over Truman State (59 points) in the Hawkeye season-opener on Oct. 6 in the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center.

“It was a great start for our season,” head coach Marc Long said. “We were able to mix up the line-ups a little bit, and it was great this early in the season.”

The Hawkeyes (No. 24) allowed to No. 24 Northwestern in Evanston, Ill. straight set en route to its third-straight straight

Volleyball drops third-

The Iowa volleyball team lost its ninth-

Of the nine Iowa games played so far this season, seven have been decided in five sets, six of which have coincided with a weekend road trip. With a time of 2:21.97, Yeager, who picked up 18 digs.

“Wisconsin has an outstanding team,” Long said. “It was fun to see the newcomers play spoiler to the Wildcats (14-2, 4-1), in part thanks to Northwestern setter Elyse Harazin for a second-place finish in the tournament’s Flight B doubles bracket. The team finished second in two brackets at the Wildcat Invitational this weekend, but did not advance as far in their opener.

“We have a lot of work to do,” Long said. “Wisconsin is a solid team and very fast, so we need to improve in different areas.”

Iowa’s best performance of the meet came in the championship, where it was able to win three of its four sets. Iowa lost in the opening set and we just never run in the opening set and we just never

“We were able to mix up the line-ups a little bit, which is great this early in the season.”

With a time of 2:21.97, Yeager, who picked up 18 digs.

“We have a lot of work to do,” Long said. “Wisconsin is a solid team and very fast, so we need to improve in different areas.”

Iowa’s best performance of the meet came in the championship, where it was able to win three of its four sets. Iowa lost in the opening set and we just never

“We were able to mix up the line-ups a little bit, which is great this early in the season.”

With a time of 2:21.97, Yeager, who picked up 18 digs.

“We have a lot of work to do,” Long said. “Wisconsin is a solid team and very fast, so we need to improve in different areas.”

Overall, the Hawkeye volleyball team went 13-11 in dual meets this season, finished third in the Big Ten and claimed the conference’s regular-season title.

“Wisconsin has an outstanding team,” Long said. “It was fun to see the newcomers play spoiler to the Wildcats (14-2, 4-1), in part thanks to Northwestern setter Elyse Harazin for a second-place finish in the tournament’s Flight B doubles bracket. The team finished second in two brackets at the Wildcat Invitational this weekend, but did not advance as far in their opener.

“We have a lot of work to do,” Long said. “Wisconsin is a solid team and very fast, so we need to improve in different areas.”

Iowa’s best performance of the meet came in the championship, where it was able to win three of its four sets. Iowa lost in the opening set and we just never
NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY
“Entry Level Positions”

We are seeking caring and responsible individuals to provide support and learning opportunities to adolescents with intellectual disabilities in our Coralville-based group home with a 1:1 staff to consumer ratio. Excellent benefits available and competitive wages.

www.remia.org

For more information or to apply, please contact:

Donna
(319) 354-0788
842 1/2 Iowa Ave.
Coralville, IA 52241

HELP WANTED

HEALTH & FITNESS

COURT JUDGE

The University of Iowa is seeking applicants for the position of Court Judge (Professor of Law) in the Legal Studies Program in the Business College. This is an eleven-month appointment offering a competitive salary package and excellent benefits. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses and related activities in the Legal Studies Program, advising students, and engaging in scholarship. For a complete position description, please visit http://law.uiowa.edu/tenure-track-courts-judge. Application must include letter of application, curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of reference. Applicants must be admitted to the Iowa Bar and must have a J.D. degree. Applications will be accepted until November 15, 2010. Inquiries and applications should be sent to: Professor of Law Search Committee, Legal Studies Program, Legal Studies Bldg, 1140 University Hall, Iowa City, IA 52242-1318. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minorities encouraged to apply.

HELP WANTED

RESEARCH

RESEARCH ASSISTANT/COACH

Research Participation in individual psychology experiments at the University of Iowa is required. 32 hours/week, experience in psychology, psychology, and data entry experience. Interested candidates should apply within. For more information, call (319) 353-0660. EEO/AA.

HELP WANTED

HARTLAND INN

GUEST SERVICES

Apply in person between 7am-9pm, (319) 354-2550, (319) 354-1639 during home football games. Cooks. Good wages and flexible work environment. Call or e-mail Sonda Philips, RN, BSN. Please send resume to: 1120 3rd St., Tiffin, North Liberty, Solon and Coralville. Keota, IA 52248 or email to: attn: Christen Moy Yat Ving Tsun Kung Fu.

REWARDS, INC.

FRONT DESK/CONCEIRED RECEPTIONIST

 monkly pay. Apply in person or email to: stnr@remia.org.

RESEARCH

to dishwashers, English or bilingual. Applicants or people currently residing in Iowa City. 100% FREE to join!

STUDENTPAYOUTS.COM

See the Iowa City community. $300/ month. Call (319) 337-8665.

to email: kelseynbinegar@gmail.com.

to: (319) 338-4776, (319) 338-4777.

APARTMENT FOR RENT

Two Bedroom, one bath, on-site laundry and extra storage unit, electric. RCPM (319)887-2187. Lovely 1st floor, 2 bedroom, 1 bath, apartment for rent. Two living rooms, balcony, $1795.

Risa 732 E. Jefferson

Three bedroom at a close to campus. $300/ month. Call (319) 887-6450 or email to: Attn: Christen.

STUDENTPAYOUTS.COM

Two bedroom, one bath apartment located 809 Hwy 1, Iowa City. $335/ month plus utilities. Call Heritage at (319)351-8404 or Resident Manager at (319)335-5784, (319)335-5785 or e-mail: e-mail: SouthGate (319)339-9320.

WESTSIDE APARTMENTS

Three Bedroom, two bath apartment with dishwasher, micro, and washer and dryer. $600/ month. The Arc of Southeast Iowa

REWARDS, INC.

FRONT DESK/CONCEIRED RECEPTIONIST

monkly pay. Apply in person or email to: stnr@remia.org.

RESEARCH

to dishwashers, English or bilingual. Applicants or people currently residing in Iowa City. 100% FREE to join!

STUDENTPAYOUTS.COM

See the Iowa City community. $300/ month. Call (319) 337-8665.

to email: kelseynbinegar@gmail.com.

APARTMENT FOR RENT

Two Bedroom, one bath, on-site laundry and extra storage unit, electric. RCPM (319)887-2187. Lovely 1st floor, 2 bedroom, 1 bath, apartment for rent. Two living rooms, balcony, $1795.

Risa 732 E. Jefferson

Three bedroom at a close to campus. $300/ month. Call (319) 887-6450 or email to: Attn: Christen.

STUDENTPAYOUTS.COM

Two bedroom, one bath apartment located 809 Hwy 1, Iowa City. $335/ month plus utilities. Call Heritage at (319)351-8404 or Resident Manager at (319)335-5784, (319)335-5785 or e-mail: e-mail: SouthGate (319)339-9320.

WESTSIDE APARTMENTS

Three Bedroom, two bath apartment with dishwasher, micro, and washer and dryer. $600/ month. The Arc of Southeast Iowa

REWARDS, INC.

FRONT DESK/CONCEIRED RECEPTIONIST

monkly pay. Apply in person or email to: stnr@remia.org.

RESEARCH

to dishwashers, English or bilingual. Applicants or people currently residing in Iowa City. 100% FREE to join!

STUDENTPAYOUTS.COM

See the Iowa City community. $300/ month. Call (319) 337-8665.
The Hawkeyes have won since Sept. 17, say they have plenty to work on in practice this week.

By SETH ROBERTS

Soccer drops third-straight

The Hawkeyes, who haven’t won since Sept. 17, say they have plenty to work on in practice this week.

By SETH ROBERTS

Field hockey comes up short

The Iowa field-hockey team drops its third-consecutive game.

By BETH SMITH

Men swimmers crush Truman

The Hawkeyes win all 14 events as they cruise to a victory over Truman State.

By BEN WOLFSON

WOMEN’S GOLF

The Hawkeyes are set to compete against eight Big Ten teams.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 11, 2010

Daily iowan Sports Desk: 319-335-5848 (main), 319-335-6184 (fax)
dailyiowan.com

Seth Roberts

Penn State (5-7-1, 3-1-0) on Sunday at Grant Field. The Wolverines defeated the Hawkeyes, 2-0.

Despite the detailed game plan, the Hawkeyes lacked proper execution in the end. The Hawkeyes are set to compete against eight Big Ten teams.

By BETH SMITH

The Hawkeyes are set to compete against eight Big Ten teams.

By SETH ROBERTS

Iowa has never beaten, or even tied the Nittany Lions, but it opened Sunday’s game with all the momentum. That changed when Penn State midfielder Bri Garcia squeezed in a 55th-minute goal, and the Nittany Lions went on to score again just before halftime.

“Penn State scored a couple of goals and were able to gain a ton of confidence,” Iowa head coach Rick Rainey said. “Their spacing all over the field stretched us out a little bit.”

It didn’t help that Iowa’s offense got off to a slow start for the second straight game. The Hawkeyes managed just three shots in the first half, compared with Penn State’s. It was a slight improvement over Iowa’s scoreless effort in the first half of the team’s 2-1 loss to Ohio State on Oct. 8.

The attack rebounded in the second half of both games, notching six shots both times, and Rainey attributed the turnaround to a sense of urgency created by being behind in the matches.

Now approaching the halfway mark of the Big Ten slate, the team needs to find a way to create chances without first giving up goals. Sophomore forward Ilana Dalytne said the chances are often there for the Hawkeyes — and, indeed, Iowa surrendered an opportunity just 30 seconds into the game on Sunday — but that the squad must be able to turn them into goals more consistently.

“We did some good things up top, but we need to com- pete against eight Big Ten teams.

By BEN WOLFSON

Iowa's Sarah Drake attempts a match against Michigan on Sunday at Grant Field. The Wolverines defeated the Hawkeyes, 2-0.

Iowa’s Sarah Drake attempts a match against Michigan on Sunday at Grant Field. The Wolverines defeated the Hawkeyes, 2-0.

Iowa’s Sarah Drake attempts a match against Michigan on Sunday at Grant Field. The Wolverines defeated the Hawkeyes, 2-0.

We've been swimming forward as a team, and we're seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we've become as a team in the past few years.

“We've been swimming forward against Truman State in the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn't need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we're seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We've been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.

“I still think we’re mov- ing forward as a team, and we’re seeing bright spots all across the board,” freshman Kyle Noser said. “[Our performance tonight] does speak volumes on how deep we’ve become as a team in the past few years.

We’ve been swimming forward against Truman State for the second half, and it was nice to get a win,” head coach Marc Long said. “I thought the [team] rode fairly well, but we didn’t need to work on any technical things.”

In 14 events, the Hawkeyes’ experience was obvious.

The Iowa 400-freestyle relay team made up of seniors Paul Gordon and Ryan Planchak, and freshmen Devon Meeke functioning well. The group finished the 400 with a combined time of 3:33.35 — more than 13 seconds faster than the second-place Bulldogs.