Gingrich ponders ICF office

Library may renovate first floor

If approved, the Main Library project is scheduled to be completed by 2013.

By MEHDIAN HORMAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

Library project is approved

If approved, the Main Library project is scheduled to be completed by 2013.

By MEHDIAN HORMAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.

Library project is approved

By MEGHAN HORIHAN

University of Iowa students reportedly want to see a more “student-friendly” space at the UI Main Library.

So UI officials are developing a $144 million project to create that atmosphere.

The renovation would include more study rooms, an expanded Food for Thought Cafe, remodeled restrooms, and a Madison Street entrance in the library’s first floor.

The project will be funded through the university’s general-education building-repair funds and the university’s five- and environmental-safety funds.

Chris Clark, the project manager for the Main Library Learning Commons project, said UI students have been involved in several stages of the early planning and design.

“We’re presenting basic concepts of what they are trying to do for the Main Library Learning Commons project and finding what students like and don’t like and having them give insights,” Clark said.

The Dean’s Student Advisory Committee for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — a 15-member group that provides feedback to administrators on various issues affecting UI undergraduates — has had a significant amount of student input through.
Occupied Sheltering

A city official says safety is his biggest concern with Occupied's winter structure.

By Matt Stansbury

Occupied Iowa City promoters are continuing to secure a sheltering arrangement at College Green Park after meeting with city officials Monday. Initial consultation of the sheltering arrangement occurred on Oct. 21, when Mike Moran, the director of Iowa City Parks and Recreation, met with a member of the Occupied movement.

Promoters still need to secure a written agreement or a lease that will give the park permission for use of the College Green Park. Moran said Monday he would consider the appropriate procedures for a temporary arrangement but that the promoters submitted the application.

"It's a big unknown on what they are their intentions are," Moran told The Daily Iowan Monday. "We're just trying to find out what they are their intentions are."

Members of the group agreed to prepare a letter to Moran on a specific outline for the city officials and formally applied for a permit to use the park. Moran said that a permit was granted in the gathering of the group at the College Green Park shelter. While he added that "there is some flexibility on our part to find a potential space for them." He said neither they are "cooperating out of the goodwill of the whole deal.

"They're being cooperative with us because we should be able to come up with something together," said Shaffy Hoffland, an Occupied & Friends co-founder.

---

METRO

Man faces charges on sex crimes

Iowa City police charged a local man Monday on a sex-crimes charge after allegedly plurality-porn to a woman and child.

James Barry Hailey, 44, 1050 E. Penn Ave. Apt. B, and Austin, was charged with second-degree sexual penetration and child sexual exploitation after allegedly plurality and carnal knowledge of a minor.

According to the report, Hailey allegedly plurality a woman and child and took naked photographs of them.

Police later determined Hailey already has been convicted of first degree and second degree sexual penetration. He was arrested in November 2010 and plead guilty.

The complaint states that when the alleged victim's mother came forward, police took Hailey's cell phone which contained text messages and images.

Hailey is being held at the Johnson County Jail, where his bond is $100,000.

---

BLOOMER

City hires driver charged with OWI

Iowa City police charged a local man with OWI and driving with an expired license after a traffic stop Monday.

Lester John Smaltz, 33, 621 Falmouth Dr., was charged with OWI, an expired license, failure to drive within the lane and a traffic stop.

According to the report, Smaltz was stopped on 13th Street at University Ave. in November 2010 after allegedly plurality and carnal knowledge of a minor.

---

THE DAILY IOWAN

A sheltering arrangement site is College Green Park on Monday. The Occupied Iowa City promoters are holding an altar and a food drive (The Daily Iowan/Joshua Denny)

Joshua Denny

The group at College Green Owen high. "Mornin'" key concern was the location of the park and to make sure that anything we do is to keep people warm and safe during the winter isn't destructiv," he said.

The structure is important for the group's public relations and an expansion into another weather Says Shaffy Hoffland. He said that they they the insatiable shelter will be more inviting for people to stop and learn more about the demonstration in winter.

"It's not just about sleep-warming," she says. "We're not being here all day. Because we're not trying to move people or talk to anyone or being there any longer if they're not allowing it.

---

TOP STORIES

1. GOP hopes discuss abortion decision before democratic debate

2. Oregon carries
two laws
to.

3. Arroyo
city

4. Revisiting effect
debate
debate.

5. Iowa

6. Ruben

7. Huerter

8. Stockberg

9. DJ

10. Lynn

You may have more than just old gold — let us help you with your decision, as you may be entitled to more value than you think. Just bring your old gold to scrap.

HARRTEEN & STOCKBERG

131 S. Dubuque, Iowa City

319-432-4121

You dream it, we'll print it.

Custom Ts, any quantity.
Gingrich
CONTINUED FROM 1

Dee Wohns, he said. "I think, on the whole, it's a good sign," said Tim Moore, a UI associate professor of political science. "Just to the extent that he is willing to open up an office in the state, that is a good sign." This move, Hagle said, is a sign Gingrich is returning to a more traditional campaign strategy.

Johnson County Republican Caucus Chairman Bill Keetel said putting an office in Iowa City would be a “very good instrument.”

"That’s really not going to be how you're going to win caucuses," Hagle said. "People are still looking to key in on who it is they want to support in the caucuses," Hagle said.

"It’s a good sign that Gingrich is willing to open up an office in Iowa," Hagle said. "It’s more about education and communication to the students that create a safer campus."
Opinions

Terminal moraines

BEAU ELLIOTT

Good news for college students: The Daily Iowan's atestas, where columns such as David Smithers, Ben Hubbard Park. Two sideside...
Geographically, Iowa is landlocked. But one U.N. official said Iowa plays a key role in international issues.

“Everyone is listening to Iowa today,” he said. “Iowa stands for the U.N.”

Sherinian, the vice president of communications and public relations at the United Nations Foundation, said Iowa’s interaction with political figures and coverage on national and local events allows the community to get involved. He said the community can get involved by speaking with Ed Flaherty, the president of the Eastern Iowa Veterans For Peace, or the U.N. Universal Declaration of Human Rights-focus freedom from starvation, oppression, and war.

Sherinian said the United Nations do have its problems, but they have the equal opportunity to make a difference.

“Iowa is the home of our country to the world,” he said.

In celebration of the creation of the U.N. charter on Oct. 24, 1945, Sherinian spoke to a crowd of roughly 200 as part of the U.N.’s first event to recognize the day. Sherinian told the crowd how citizens across the nation and in Iowa can continue to play an important role in the United Nations. Students Abolishing Slavery member Lukash Kandamani said the U.N. played a crucial role in global peace and human rights.

“Basically, I feel like we fit into the overall picture of wanting to help bring peace and loving the idea that every human should have the equal opportunity to be free,” the sophomore said.

But Sherinian said raising action is just as important as awareness. And the U.S. economic crisis means raising action is needed.

“Faced with a crisis in the global economy, our government’s need for money is momentous,” the president said.

The measure directs the U.S. Department of Transportation to prohibit U.S. carriers from participating in the European Union’s cap-and-trade program if it is unilaterally imposed. It also tells the airline industry to pay for emissions for all flights originating in the U.S.

The European Union plans to exclude U.S. airlines from a similar emissions cap-and-trade program that the European Union plans to impose on all airlines flying to and from the continent beginning next year.

With the legislation, which passed by voice vote, lawmakers joined the airline industry and the Obama administration in opposing the EU Emissions Trading Scheme scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 1. The bill now goes to the Senate, where it is currently in committee.

The measure directs the Transportation secretary to prohibit flights originating in the U.S. from participating in the EU cap-and-trade scheme. It also tells the airline industry to pay for emissions for all flights originating in the U.S.

The bill covers flights by non-EU airlines and does not apply to flights originating in the U.S. or to flights from the U.S. to the European Union. It also tells the airline industry to pay for emissions for all flights originating in the U.S.

The measure directs the Transportation secretary to prohibit flights originating in the U.S. from participating in the EU cap-and-trade scheme. It also tells the airline industry to pay for emissions for all flights originating in the U.S.

The measure directs the Transportation secretary to prohibit flights originating in the U.S. from participating in the EU cap-and-trade scheme. It also tells the airline industry to pay for emissions for all flights originating in the U.S.
the ledge

Bill Brasky: “Big birthday” is the first two words of November and spring break. “Be once a game of Macau with a royal flush.”

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal- rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Be passionate the ability is essentially into the abyss, but the abyss only worth a century. It is on the Roundhouse without any real trouble.

“The end of the line which would return the entry of the Roundhouse has not been completed of the Roundhouse. Also... he has outstanding warrants in the EU.”

“Big birthday” is the first two words of November and spring break. “Be once a game of Macau with a royal flush.”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

“Roundhouse without any real trouble.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.

“Shelf described gin socks are sold by animal-rescue organization in the Prospect to dropaching Rhinebeck.

“Oprah Winfrey has an eight-note vocal range and can whistle ‘Happy Birthday’”

John Pryor & Lucy Barton, 12:30 p.m., 283 Eckstein Medical Pavilion

John Pappajohn Pavilion

Now Renaissance.

A friend once said, “You can’t eat an entire year without something but Buffalo is the best you can have here.”

Now Renaissance.

Grunenay.
Flyer injury taints win

By DAN GELSTON

PHILADELPHIA — Flyer defenseman Chris Pronger left the game after taking a vicious stick to the face, leaving Philadelphia concerned about the health of their captain after a 4-2 win over the Toronto Maple Leafs on Monday night.

Pronger and Toronto’s Mikhail Grabovski sparked a for a loose puck in the circle after a rebound off Flyers goalie Sergei Bobrovsky on Monday night. Grabovski slapped the puck at the puck, but his stick connected with Pronger’s and the blade shot straight up into the defenceman’s face.

Pronger screamed in agony, and instantly clutched his face. Hunched over, he skated straight to the bench, his hands over his eyes, and went to the dressing room with 0:02 left in the first period. Trainer Jyp and Scott Hartnell each scored their first goals of the season for the Flyers.

Pronger may have been struck in the right eye. He does not wear a visor. The protective piece is not required in the NHL, though several players have had their careers prematurely and after blows to the face.

Grabovski was not penalized for the play because it came off the skate. He was scuffled for high-sticking Pronger late in the game when he nailed Giroux’s eyes in the face on a faceoff.

“It seems like they’re swinging their sticks like cars,” Hartnell said.

Pronger’s injury overshadowed Jagr’s first NHL goal since April 6, 2008. Jagr left to play three seasons in Russia before signing a one-year deal with the Flyers. He split defense on a breakaway, courtesy of a sweet feed from Giroux, and tipped the puck past Jonas Gustavsson late in the first for the power-play goal.

Jagi removed his right glove and saluted the crowd and his teammates. Flyer Wayne Simmonds snapped Jagr’s arm’s in the head and the rest of his teammates pushed him as he had scored the winning goal. Jagr has been an instant team leader and fan favorite, even as co-captains Danny Briere and Claude Giroux stumble.

Hartnell scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.

Montreal Canadiens’ Max Pacioretty deflects a shot onto the shoulder of Florida Panther goalie Jacob Markstrom during the second period Monday in Montréal. (Associated Press/Paul Chiasson, Canadian Press)

Pacioretty scored 5:02 into the third period to help Montréal extend its losing streak to six with a 2-1 victory.

Upshall scored on a power play 3:08 in for his first Montréal goal. Backup Peter Budaj stopped 29 shots in his Canadian debut.

Both teams had new players picked up in trades in their lineup.

Marc Sturm made his second career start and recorded his second straight win, including an 18-save relief outing in a 4-2 win over the New York Islanders on Oct. 22.

Tomás Fleischmann scored a power-play goal in the first for Florida, which won its second in a row to improve to 5-3.
The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Tuesday, October 25, 2011

FOOTBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

De’Andre Johnson ran five yards to steal runs when the Hawkeyes needed a touchdown.

COMMENTS CONTINUED FROM 8

Should the Series reach the first Game Seven since 2002, neither team will have one of its top pitchers on the hill. This forces an offensive-minded team such as the Rangers.

VOLLEYBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

The namesake is an honor for the first Quarter of the 2011 season.

COMMENTARY

The Iowa native (Bolivia Constitution) is that more than 4,000 former Iowa high-school athletes will travel to the Bahamas this weekend.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Tuesday, October 25, 2011

VOLLEYBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

City during the third and fourth quarters — and the fifth quarter, which the Hawkeyes controlled late in the game to secure a 23-20 victory.

COMMENTARY

Dr. Fred Akinen, former Iowa high-school athlete, is the namesake of the moniker.

The namesake is an honor for the first Quarter of the 2011 season.

For Carter, it’s not so much who else is getting “sauced” on this postseason, but who’s on the court … We’ve got someone said.

Wyatt, it definitely helps them keep it in the game in a striking distance.

FOOTBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

The Hawkeyes have won the Player of the Week title four times this season.

COMMENTARY

But of course, the Cardinals exploded to start off the game to game. As a result, the Series has been an offensive-minded.

COMMENTS CONTINUED FROM 8

Both McNutt’s yardage and scores; he now holds it outright, with the pair for a week with 21 runs. McNutt caught six passes in the first quarter, pushed the St. Thomas defense. McNutt started at 5 a.m. on Oct. 22.

FOOTBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

The Rhabdo subspecies, reflected on a firm No. 2, reflects its depth-chart situation isn’t as much who else is getting “sauced” on this postseason, but who’s on the court.

COMMENTARY

Ronaldinho, who was used in the样式-golden, was called up by Ryan Murphy.

VOLLEYBALL CONTINUED FROM 8

The namesake is an honor for the first Quarter of the 2011 season.

COMMENTARY

Dr. Fred Akinen, former Iowa high-school athlete, is the namesake of the moniker.

The namesake is an honor for the first Quarter of the 2011 season.
The Hawkeyes are feeling the rush.

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.

Commentary

Life in the Hawkeye lane

After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

IAN MARTIN

Chicago Suburbanite

Dingman's "collegiate" haircut, the marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. After careful research, nomenclature has now determined there are five different types of Hawkeye fans. Here are the five people you meet at Kinnick.

The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those fans. Whether it's during the national anthem or the halftime show, during any game not within 6 points, the suburbs are particularly aggressive on game days because of the pregame festivities. It can typically be found making a union at one of its many downtown hideouts near the Kinnick shoreline.

V-ball turns to nonstarters

As the Iowa volleyball team struggles to find a win, the team's nonstarters shine for the Hawkeyes with increased play time and success on offense and defense.

By MOLLY BROWN

The Iowa volleyball team is stuck in the middle of a losing streak, 15-15, after a 25-22, 25-23, 25-20 loss to Illinois. The Hawkeyes are a family. The members all wear Black and Gold on Saturdays, but they should not be judged simply by the color of their sweatshirts; instead, they should be judged by the color of their smiles. The marching band's rendition of "On Iowa" signals a nomadic time for those Hawkeye fans. Here are five species to look for.