The UI Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter faced complaints of hazing in 2008 and 2009.

By JORDYN RELAND

The University of Iowa’s Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter isn’t alone in its face of allegations of hazing, several experts said Tuesday.

Tracy Maxwell, the executive director of HazingPrevention.org, said despite fraternity and athletics organizations having the highest rates of hazing, the issue is a general concern in society.

“All those people are recognizing that it is a big problem,” she said. “We’re hearing the issue is a general concern in society.” Maxwell said.

Violations of hazing in fraternities and athletics organizations is on the rise, with more than 70 percent of social fraternity or sorority members said they experienced at least one instance of hazing.

“More people are recognizing that it is a problem,” she said. “We’re hearing more about it a lot more, which is a good thing. When we shine a light on the problem, it can do something about it.”

According to a statement the national fraternity released Monday, the UI chapter will be suspended and the charter will be closed following a four-week investigation focusing on hazing and misconduct violations.

“Members have been expelled from the fraternity, and those living in the house will have two weeks to find an alternative living space. According to a 2008 National Collaborative for Hazing Research and Prevention survey of 53 colleges nationwide, more than 70 percent of social fraternity or sorority members said they experienced at least one instance of hazing.”

But David Stollman, the president of CampusSpeak, said he believed the level and number of chapters that have people gone down, as well as the amount of tolerance.

“They have been better at aggressively addressing the issues,” he said, referring to hazing on a national level. “Sigma Al-
Socialist hopeful provides choice

BY LAUREN COFFEY

Socialism is not a typi-ically popular position among voters, but the 2022 midterm elections have brought it to the forefront. President Biden and supporters have been pushing for changes that many Americans hope socialists will be able to enact.

In a speech at the Peoria Masonic Hall on Tuesday, Socialist Party candidate Arne Arneson addressed the demand of what we need. The list included free education, free health care, and more.

“Arneson is a socialist, and his program is very bold and constitutional,” said Arne.

First Lady, Jill Biden, also spoke about the socialist movement at a rally held in Pennsylvania last month.

“Jill said that people need to be aware of the benefits of socialism, and how it can help those less fortunate,” she said.

Joe Biden also spoke about the socialist movement at a rally held in Pennsylvania last month.

“Joe said that people need to be aware of the benefits of socialism, and how it can help those less fortunate,” he said.

Finally, Arne Arneson provided a list of what socialists are working towards in a way that the two-party system is not. “The socialist movement is more likely to have complete government control with two political parties,” he said.

Lindsey and her canpaign manager remain committed to the socialist party will help the American people better understand their platforms and remove any stigma typically associated with the party.

"Socialism should be popular in the United States because it is the only way we can enact what the American people want," said John Readman, Socialist Party candidate for the District 6 seat.

"People deserve to have free

socialism. In order to do so, a different type of economic system is needed," said
John Readman.

The movement led by the Socialist Party continues to grow, with many Americans joining the ranks to fight for what they believe in.

"The socialist movement is more likely to have complete government control with two political parties," said John Readman.

"People deserve to have free

socialism. In order to do so, a different type of
economic system is needed," said
John Readman.
A new entry way to the hospital and the new Children's Hospital is the first piece of a very, very long-term plan for complete restructuring of the front of the hospital.

The in-state rivalry brings out the crowds of fans and creative trash pickup ideas. In fact, the town of Melrose Ave. is cleaning up nicely — maybe because of fraternities. The in-state rivalry is related to the kickoff times, regardless of kickoff time, regardless of kickoff time and the opponent, he said.

The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of garbage. The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of garbage. The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of garbage.

The 2012 UI Dean of Student Organizations' report on hazing includes “compulsory alcohol or drug consumption, physical brutality, and financial confinement.”

It is unclear whether the investigation is related to the suspension. Iowa City police declined comment on any of these projects in mid-otherwise games is greater than during the evening games because of the time people spend tailgating, Mason said. The fans start tailgating at the same time, regardless of kickoff and therefore create more trash during the afternoons.

The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of trash. The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of trash. The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of trash. The three-consecutive home games have allowed the foundation to come in like a chariot for those sporting events, and Doug Boothroy, the director of building inspection and support staff, has to wonder the reason for the heaps of trash.
The real time for ‘hope and change’ is now

By Zach Tilly

The president’s trip to Iowa City a few weeks ago may appear to be insignificant to the shallow 15,000 students of the University of Iowa. But, many students cannot help but remember the visit as a defining moment for hope and change at our school. The president was a huge hit and it is now past time for change to sweep college campuses across the nation.

When the president is addressing the nation, it is important that we do not allow the media, along with the general public, to stop hounding him. But it’s not news. You’ve beat it to death, you’ve had it on over and over and over.

The University of Iowa broke in the numbers of students who are without jobs. Many of my friends have been looking for work, and the smaller increase in tuition since 1980 was by far the President Obama’s campaign.

Though addressing alcohol abuse should remain a priority, there is nothing wrong with the university to work at coffee shops and restaurants in order to make ends meet. Now, many who believe in limiting government waste and helping the federal government to be as transparent as possible. But, in this case at least, it’s also dishonest.

The reimbursable event costs are likely costing the government to stop incurring cost where it doesn’t belong. The UI is undeniably one of the more transparent universities in the nation.

It’s an outrageous but still a lot. Well, it turns out that the Obama event cost $15,000 to $25,000 in non-police labor, and the cost to police the event was over the Obama event. In total, $500,000 or more was spent on the Obama event. If that were to be put towards smaller increase in tuition since 1980 was by far the President Obama’s campaign.

But, in this case at least, it’s also dishonest.

The reimbursable event costs are likely costing the government to stop incurring cost where it doesn’t belong. The UI is undeniably one of the more transparent universities in the nation.

It’s an outrageous but still a lot. Well, it turns out that the Obama event cost $15,000 to $25,000 in non-police labor, and the cost to police the event was over the Obama event. In total, $500,000 or more was spent on the Obama event. If that were to be put towards smaller increase in tuition since 1980 was by far the President Obama’s campaign.

But, in this case at least, it’s also dishonest.
New UIHC clinic almost ready

By Anna Theodosis

Local officials said they are anticipating benefits ranging from less traffic congestion to more money spent at local businesses as the opening approaches of the Iowa River Landing Clinic on Oct. 5.

The grand opening of the clinic, which is First Avenue on the Old Capital Mall, Oct. 5. Designers will begin welcoming patients.

One official from the UIHC said the clinic is an important part of the region.

“The Iowa River Landing project will catalyze regional economic growth in the area,” said Nicole Nihy, UIHC’s managing director of development and external relations.

Mayor Jim Fausett said the clinic will be a positive change to the social landscape of Coralville because of the increase in the number of people traveling through the town.

“There will be a huge number of out-of-area — even out-of-state people — who will be coming here,” he said. “It’s definitely going to be a boost to our economic development.”

UI junior Scott Goedken said he was excited to see the clinic open.

“UIHC is very convenient,” he said. “It’s the closest hospital to campus, and it’s available to UI students, so it’s great.”

UI President Bruce Harreld said that the clinic is an important Developmental milestone for the region.

“We love doing services like this,” he said. “We’re not just here to treat the patient, we’re here to treat the community.”

City, said he’s pleased with the university’s efforts to bring a boom to the town.

“I think there are a number of people who find it much easier to go to a small place, right off the interstate, easily park,” she said. “It’s much less intimidating than this giant hospital with a thousand doctors. So I actually think it’s a really wise move.”

Mason said the clinic’s opening will help move other projects surrounding the UIHC forward because of the decrease in traffic congestion.

“The clinic’s opening is really the reason we can tear down the parking ramp and start the [new] Children’s Hospital with the configuration of the parking underground,” she said. “We had to find a way to decongest things, or it just wouldn’t have been feasible to still have all the traffic of all the people coming every day to the hospital and at the same time trying to do major construction projects right in front of the hospital.”

Mason is one of the patients who will make the move to Coralville for a checkup.

“When I go for my next checkup with my doctor, I’ll drive out to Coralville,” she said.

The grand opening of the clinic is Oct. 5. Designers will begin welcoming patients.

One official from the UIHC said the clinic is an important part of the region.

“The Iowa River Landing project will catalyze regional economic growth in the area,” said Nicole Nihy, UIHC’s managing director of development and external relations.

Mayor Jim Fausett said the clinic will be a positive change to the social landscape of Coralville because of the increase in the number of people traveling through the town.

“There will be a huge number of out-of-area — even out-of-state people — who will be coming here,” he said. “It’s definitely going to be a boost to our economic development.”

UI junior Scott Goedken said he was excited to see the clinic open.

“UIHC is very convenient,” he said. “It’s the closest hospital to campus, and it’s available to UI students, so it’s great.”

UI President Bruce Harreld said that the clinic is an important Developmental milestone for the region.

“We love doing services like this,” he said. “We’re not just here to treat the patient, we’re here to treat the community.”

City, said he’s pleased with the university’s efforts to bring a boom to the town.

“I think there are a number of people who find it much easier to go to a small place, right off the interstate, easily park,” she said. “It’s much less intimidating than this giant hospital with a thousand doctors. So I actually think it’s a really wise move.”

Mason said the clinic’s opening will help move other projects surrounding the UIHC forward because of the decrease in traffic congestion.

“The clinic’s opening is really the reason we can tear down the parking ramp and start the [new] Children’s Hospital with the configuration of the parking underground,” she said. “We had to find a way to decongest things, or it just wouldn’t have been feasible to still have all the traffic of all the people coming every day to the hospital and at the same time trying to do major construction projects right in front of the hospital.”

Mason is one of the patients who will make the move to Coralville for a checkup.

“When I go for my next checkup with my doctor, I’ll drive out to Coralville,” she said.
6 The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, September 26, 2012

Puzzles

The Daily Iowan
www.dailyiowan.com

SUDOKU

Complete the grid so all rows, columns and 3x3 boxes contain the numbers 1 - 9. See sample solutions online at www.dailyiowan.com

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

4 7 3 8 9 1 5 1 2

9 2 5 6 1 4 8 6 3

8 1 7 2 4 3 9 5 6

6 3 4 5 2 9 7 8 1

5 9 6 7 3 8 4 2 1

2 4 8 9 7 5 1 3 6

3 6 9 1 5 2 4 7 8

7 5 1 4 8 6 3 9 2

DAILY BREAK

The days go on but the years go by. The future that we look to for some sort of goal.

Greg Brown, “The Wrong Turn”

HUNGRY?

Check out the Daily Iowan Dining Guide only at dailyiowan.com

today’s events

• Food Assistance Program for Seniors, 10 a.m., Senior Center, 282 Linn

• President/Story Time, 10:30 a.m., Iowa City Public Library, 221 S. Linn

• Senior Standing Room Only: Presents a Political Party, 2:30 p.m., Senior Center

• Anatomy and Cell Biology Seminar, 3:30 p.m., Hy-Vee, University of Iowa

• Jovis’ Unbreak My Fart, 4:30 p.m., Salsa Practice Group

• Homecoming, Basketball Games, 4:30 p.m., Burge basketball court

• Homecoming, volleyball Games, 4:30 p.m., Burge ballroom

• Backyard Abundance Educational Sessions, 5 p.m., Chaos Theory Park

• Farmers’ Market, 5 p.m., Central Iowa composting yard

• Homecoming, Sports Night, 6 p.m., Karr Athletics Hall of Fame

• Wednesday Workshop Series, Making Molds, 6 p.m., Supreme Court Chamber, Old Capital

• Grey Knights Chess Club, 6:30 p.m., Senior Center

• Sales Practice Group, 6:30 p.m., Donna Center

• Al Weinfurt: Neuer Sury, 7 p.m., Iowa City Club

• Rustled Root, 7 p.m., Yacht Club

• Salsa Practice Group, 7 p.m., Upson tailor, 710 S. Dubuque

• Zirnia, 9 p.m., Bijou

• Jam Session, 9 p.m., Yacht Club

Go to dailyiowan.com for full slideshow
The problem with the Creedmoor Stadium is not the running surface itself but the lack of a grandstand — or, more appropriately, the lack of any kind of grandstand. That said, a new stadium would not change the course of the track. It would, however, provide more comfort for the athletes and spectators.

The stadium is currently being renovated, with the goal of completing the project in time for the upcoming season. The renovation includes improvements to the running surface, bleachers, restroom facilities, and concession stands. The total estimated cost of the renovation is $2 million.

The stadium is located on the campus of the University of Iowa. It is a multi-purpose facility that is used for a variety of events, including track and field competitions, concerts, and commencement ceremonies.

The stadium was originally built in 1924 and has undergone several renovations over the years. The most recent renovation was completed in 2012, which included the installation of new running surface and bleachers.

The stadium is home to the University of Iowa Track and Field program, which has produced several Olympic medalists and world champions. The stadium is also used by the University of Iowa women's soccer team, which plays its home games at the stadium.
guys who are really good now, I think we have two what we had, and right August we weren't sure complement him.
the Hawkeyes need more sense, but Ferentz said
performances in their abperatures hovering in the lowing one run in two in-(5-3) got the win after al-won a matchup of two 94-hits for the Rockies, who Tuesday night.
of the cycle, Wilin Rosario finished a home run short LeMahieu had 3 hits and ally well.”
Boyce said. “I think we issues. Throw the stats out practice, it would appear a grand total of 9 saves tenure as a Hawkeye, is definitely different.”
boy is a little bit sion is a little bit different,
tus to do … every concusregular losses shy of its first 100-McGraw looks to Boyce.
for guidance, Mct’s particularly between the two seniors goes McGraw’s particularly the program dramatically and of the field One’s from the East, the other from the West, and organizational stereotypes. Cal-diuran McGraw is more nearly lost to its first 100-Vandenberg, Martin-managed to do that. That’s why he Rockies rock Cubs

FIELD HOCKEY CONTINUED FROM 10 over the last four years that they’ve worked to-What McGraw has holed with her balance
The connection they McGraw with her balance and

Bayne and Bayes have helped her Graw with her balance organize the defense, and

McGraw is more graphic stereotypes. Cal-California McGraw is more the friendship to grow into what it is today.
McGraw’s particularly McGraw is a little

Although, is the effect the both embody their geo-other than as much as they do on it.
the tenures as a Hawkeyes, and she’s come in to make that coach for guidance, Mc-Graw to help our when defending the net.
But Ferentz said, referring performances in their ab-moves toward being in the 5.5. The game was delayed in the middle of the seven and called 48 hours later, McGraw-the other field just as much as they do on it.
... it’s one of the West, and

McGraw to help our practice. They complement each other of the field just as much as they do on it.

The key will be
the development of the
to help them that way.
wait, take a look at their game against the Bayes said. “It’s just a together.
It’s been very positive to do it as a whole, to have both of them,” Giese-

McGraw to help our

what it is today.

At McGraw’s
toledo hosts the Central

McGrady’s home run

McGraw has struggled

her weight forward,

McGraw to help our

The key will be
the development of the

McGraw to help our

what it is today.

At McGraw’s
	рен Rounds of play-offs 2012-2013
	Wednesday 12 September, 2012

total offense while only allowing its op-above performance in their ab-Ferentz said.

When the senior quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.

Vanderbilt and Mar-

Martin-Meyer lament

misstated opportunity

on North-

down-and-four in the sec-

quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.

Vanderbilt and Mar-

Martin-Meyer lament

misstated opportunity

on North-

down-and-four in the sec-

quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.

Vanderbilt and Mar-

Martin-Meyer lament

misstated opportunity

on North-

down-and-four in the sec-

quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.

Vanderbilt and Mar-

Martin-Meyer lament

misstated opportunity

on North-

down-and-four in the sec-

quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.

Vanderbilt and Mar-

Martin-Meyer lament

misstated opportunity

on North-

down-and-four in the sec-

quarterback, under pressure from a blitz, threw a short incom-
complete pass to receiver Keenan Davis.
Nash shines as a tennis aide
Tennis assistant plans to be the head of a program.

By KEVIN GUECK

Steve Nash might look like a football coach with his muscular build, shaved head, and goatee. Nash’s specialty is not a contact sport, but the Drake graduate still brings a physical brand of coaching to the Iowa men’s tennis team.

Very few get the opportunity to have their first coaching job in the Big Ten. But that’s not the case for Nash. Just a few years ago, he wasn’t even coaching at all.

“Everything I am doing now is to learn as much about this craft as I can,” Nash said. “I want to go on to become a head coach.”

Nash had been a tennis instructor for 13 Recreational Services. Houghton noticed his coaching style and asked him to be a part of the coaching staff in 2009 when assistant coach Matt Brecht left his post for the head-coach position at DePaul.

Nash has developed into a complete assistant coach. He’s into mixed martial arts and tries to draw from his own experience to plan practices.

“Just a few years ago, he wasn’t even coaching at all,” Michael Swank said. “He tries to incorporate sprints and a plethora of pushups. Practice are really intense,” junior Michael Swank said. “He tries to incorporate his footwork into the form. He’s into (mixed martial arts) and fitness. He tries to instill toughness on us.”

Sophomore Matt Hagan was nervous when asked to describe Nash’s coaching style.

“Not only physicaly. Every single day, he’s been pushing us to our furthest level mentally and physically.”

Ball, expected back

Ferentz said on Tuesday running back D doesn’t expect to play. Ball was listed as questionable at the beginning of the week.

“Ball is hopefully be cleared by Thur- day or Friday.”

Ball had 380 yards on the season, even after missing the last four games.

“Wisconsin running back Montee Ball had his second concussion of the year last week and left the game in the sec- ond quarter against UTEP. But the run- ning back isn’t expected to miss the Badgers’ showdown against Nebraska this weekend. Ball, ‘hopefully be cleared by Thurs- day or Friday,’ Wisconsin head coach Bret Bielema said at Big Ten teleconfer- ence on Tuesday.

Bielema said Ball will continue to condition and run with his teammates throughout the week, following the team’s ‘normal standard procedures’ for head in- juries.

The 2011 Heisman finalist suffered a concussion Oct. 1, 2011, that is being respect- fully attacked in Madison, but neither Bielema nor the running back worry too much about the severity of the most re- cent concussion.

“I told all that Montee was going to be cut, and I turned around, and he was standing right next to me checking as loud as anybody,” Bielema said. “He was pretty engaging.”

Ball has rushed for 380 yards on the season, even after missing the last four games. And 1 touchdowns against UTEP. Prior to

Opposites balance in goal
Iowa’s backup field-hockey goalie provides a complementary balance to one of the conference’s elite goalies.

By CODY GOODWIN

Before the Iowa field-hockey team takes the pitch on game days, there’s a smaller reality that’s noticeable even by the goal- keeper’s eye.

The first athlete in goal, is arguably, one of the Big Ten’s best at the position. It’s Michigan, MACC, California native who has collected four shutouts in nine games this season and has allowed the fewest goals in the conference, 12.

The other senior who comes in after her is one of the reasons for McGraw’s success. Allyce Stoyn, the goalie behind McGraw, missed the Big Ten lidner daily.

A lot of our skill rosters are opposite, so we can really help each other out,” McGraw said. “(Bevo) has been really supportive this whole time.”

Bevo’s name is rarely announced during an Iowa field hockey game. She’s only played in five matches during her

Nash had taken over the responsibility of being the on-the-shoulder practice coach, while Houghton gave direction from the sideline. In fact, Houghton trusts his assistant coach so much that he sits on a lawn chair on the side of the court and simply cheers. With this format, practices don’t seem typical.

“He’s very creative in the types of your quarterback, and it doesn’t allow them down at all,” Iowa head coach Kirk Ferentz said Tuesday. “They go on to win the Western game and come back last week and win a big as well. That’s an impressive thing.”

Gray passed for 193 yards and ran for 62 against Iowa last season. That’s an impressive thing.”

But the Hawkeyes know they can’t ex- pect 4-0 Minnesota to miss a beat. Shortell’s passing skill.

“I was told that Montee was going to be cut, and I turned around, and he was standing right next to me checking as loud as anybody,” Bielema said. “He was pretty engaging.”

Ball has rushed for 380 yards on the season, even after missing the last four games. And 1 touchdowns against UTEP. Prior to

Opposites balance in goal
Iowa’s backup field-hockey goalie provides a complementary balance to one of the conference’s elite goalies.

By CODY GOODWIN

Before the Iowa field-hockey team takes the pitch on game days, there’s a smaller reality that’s noticeable even by the goal- keeper’s eye.

The first athlete in goal, is arguably, one of the Big Ten’s best at the position. It’s Michigan, MACC, California native who has collected four shutouts in nine games this season and has allowed the fewest goals in the conference, 12.

The other senior who comes in after her is one of the reasons for McGraw’s success. Allyce Stoyn, the goalie behind McGraw, missed the Big Ten lidner daily.

A lot of our skill rosters are opposite, so we can really help each other out,” McGraw said. “(Bevo) has been really supportive this whole time.”

Bevo’s name is rarely announced during an Iowa field hockey game. She’s only played in five matches during her

Nash had taken over the responsibility of being the on-the-shoulder practice coach, while Houghton gave direction from the sideline. In fact, Houghton trusts his assistant coach so much that he sits on a lawn chair on the side of the court and simply cheers. With this format, practices don’t seem typical.

“He’s very creative in the types of Drills we do,” Houghton said. “I think he has a good sens of what we need to get at.

Nash uses his background in strength and conditioning to plan practices. Players start off every training session with sprints and a plethora of pushups.

“Practice are really intense,” junior Michael Swank said. “He tries to incorpo- rate fits into the form. He tries to instill toughness on us.”

Sophomore Matt Hagan was nervous when asked to describe Nash’s coaching style.

“Not only physicaly. Every single day, he’s been pushing us to our furthest level mentally and physically.”

Ball, expected back

Ferentz said on Tuesday running back D doesn’t expect to play. Ball was listed as questionable at the beginning of the week.

“Ball is hopefully be cleared by Thur- day or Friday.”

Ball had 380 yards on the season, even after missing the last four games. And 1 touchdowns against UTEP. Prior to

Opposites balance in goal
Iowa’s backup field-hockey goalie provides a complementary balance to one of the conference’s elite goalies.

By CODY GOODWIN

Before the Iowa field-hockey team takes the pitch on game days, there’s a smaller reality that’s noticeable even by the goal- keeper’s eye.

The first athlete in goal, is arguably, one of the Big Ten’s best at the position. It’s Michigan, MACC, California native who has collected four shutouts in nine games this season and has allowed the fewest goals in the conference, 12.

The other senior who comes in after her is one of the reasons for McGraw’s success. Allyce Stoyn, the goalie behind McGraw, missed the Big Ten lidner daily.

A lot of our skill rostors are opposite, so we can really help each other out,” McGraw said. “(Bevo) has been really supportive this whole time.”

Bevo’s name is rarely announced during an Iowa field hockey game. She’s only played in five matches during her

Nash had taken over the responsibility of being the on-the-shoulder practice coach, while Houghton gave direction from the sideline. In fact, Houghton trusts his assistant coach so much that he sits on a lawn chair on the side of the court and simply cheers. With this format, practices don’t seem typical.

“He’s very creative in the types of