A petition to overturn the 3-year-old 21-ordinance is headed to the City Council.

By Queenie Wesaga
queenie@iowamagazine.com

The Iowa City Bar scene is set for a shakeup.

For the third time since 2007, the bar-entry age issue could yet again go to the polls. The Iowa City City Clerk’s Office confirmed Thursday morning that a petition to overturn the city’s 21-ordinance has garnered 2,604 valid signatures, calling for the repeal of the city’s 21-ordinance.

George Wittgraf, the owner of the Union Bar, and Josh Erceg, a manager at Martino, led the petition initiative. A total of 2,500 registered Iowa City voters were needed to initiate action by the City Council. In all, 5,716 signatures were submitted.

So what does this mean now for the bar that has those younger than 21 from being in most, but not all, establishments with liquor licenses after 10 p.m.?

The City Council must now do one of two things. The proposal will either be submitted as the existing one and entertainment-venue districts are maintained, or additional ordinances, including one for designations of office and residential units.

Since going into effect in 2010, a number of additional ordinances, including those that prohibit a new liquor establishment spanning within 500 feet of an existing one and entertainment-venue measures, have made it as a repeal wouldn’t signal an influx of more bars.

County clarifies restroom

A petition to overturn the 3-year-old 21-ordinance is headed to the City Council.

By Julia Truskowski
jtruskowski@iowamagazine.com

After continued discussion, Johnson County officials have reached a decision clarifying a policy regarding public restrooms.

During a Thursday morning meeting at the Johnson County Administration Building, 313 S. Dubuque St., the Board of Supervisors approved a resolution on transgender use of public restrooms in county buildings.

The resolution states that public restrooms in the county are available for use of people based on their gender identity, regardless of their birth certificate.

The decision came as a response to a complaint that with the Iowa Civil Rights Commission against the county by Iowa City resident Julie A. Jones. She was denied access to a public restroom in the Johnson County courthouse by former employee Star Henderson in November 2011.

Calls to Jones seeking comment were not returned as of Thursday evening.

The commission determined there was probable cause to believe Henderson was in violation of a state law that prevents the ability to deny someone public accommodations based on gender identity. Johnson County’s human rights ordinance has similar protections.

The policy, in which Jones will receive $7,000, the discrimination was established. It states that Starhill’s Office staff will undergo additional training.

Henderson has retired from her position as a Johnson County sheriff’s deputy since the 2011 incident and is unable to be reached currently.

Librarian makes a difference

University Librarian Nancy Baker leaves a lasting mark on the University of Iowa.

By Alison Cressman
alison.cressman@uiowa.edu

While most University of Iowa students may not realize it, University Librarian Nancy Baker has likely affected their education in one way or another. During her 13 years at the helm of Baker’s main initiatives was the establishment and creation of the Digital Library Services, a library unit responsible for digital research services that serves as the coordinating unit for all digitization in the library.

While most University of Iowa students may not realize it, University Librarian Nancy Baker has likely affected their education in one way or another. During her 13 years at the helm of Baker’s main initiatives was the establishment and creation of the Digital Library Services, a library unit responsible for digital research services that serves as the coordinating unit for all digitization in the library.
Iowa City just not for you

Iowa City is the perfect place to call home for many people, but it may not be for everyone. Here are some reasons why:

学历配置

1. Location:
   - Iowa City is the home of the University of Iowa, a top research university.
   - It is located in the heart of the state, making it easily accessible to other parts of the Midwest.

2. Cost of Living:
   - While the cost of living in Iowa City is higher than the national average, it is still more affordable than many other major cities.

3. Weather:
   - Iowa City experiences mild winters and warm summers, with plenty of sunny days.

4. Quality of Life:
   - The city has a strong community spirit, with many events and activities throughout the year.

5. Education:
   - Iowa City is home to the University of Iowa, with many other educational options available.

6. Healthcare:
   - The city has a variety of healthcare options, including the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics.

7. Transportation:
   - Iowa City is well-connected by air, rail, and road, making it easy to get around.

8. Employment:
   - The city has a strong economy, with many job opportunities available.

9. Real Estate:
   - Iowa City has a diverse housing market, with a variety of options available.

10. Culture:
    - Iowa City is home to many cultural organizations, including the Iowa City Public Library and the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library.

If you are thinking about moving to Iowa City, it's important to consider these factors to make sure it's the right fit for you.
In a time when most student research is done with the aid of a computer, student research is done with the aid of a computer, with the aid of a computer, with the aid of a computer, with the aid of a computer.

LIBRARIAN-CONTINUING FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

“[Henderson] had a long, distinguished career and was respected by her peers,” Supervisor Rod Sullivan said. Sullivan suggested that perhaps the policy regarding transgender use of public restrooms was previous-

In addition to digitizing the Main Library, Baker said. “It will trans-

Continued from front

Continued from front

RESTROOM CONTINUING FROM THE TOP

“… Nancy’s leadership, our librarians have made very impressive ad-

In August, and the current

THE DAILY IOWAN     DAILYIOWAN.COM     FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 2013

IOWA SUMMER REP 2013

By Maxwell Anderson

THE DAILY IOWAN

THE DAILY IOWAN

LIBRARIAN-CONTINUING FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

In time when most student research is done with the aid of a computer, their initiative has allowed university libraries to take a new direction Special Collections to be accessed at the touch of a button.

RESTROOM CONTINUING FROM THE TOP

[0x0]NEWS 3

.ui_summer_opera_2013 { font-family: sans-serif; margin-bottom: 24px; }

THE DAILY IOWAN     DAILYIOWAN.COM     FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 2013

IOWA SUMMER REP 2013

By Maxwell Anderson

THE DAILY IOWAN

THE DAILY IOWAN

LIBRARIAN-CONTINUING FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

In a time when most student research is done with the aid of a computer, their initiative has allowed university libraries to take a new direction Special Collections to be accessed at the touch of a button.

RESTROOM CONTINUING FROM THE TOP

“… Nancy’s leadership, our librarians have made very impressive ad-

In August, and the current

Continued from front
Editorial Board: Donald Trump

Welcome, Donald Trump

Byマイク・マーティン

ATTENTION CITIZENS OF IOWA: Donald Trump is taking some early steps toward a run for president. In August, he'll be flying into Iowa to speak at a major conservative summit, and he's also reportedly investigating a presidential run in 2016 by spending 1 million dollars to research his political standing around the country. And if you don't think that's concerning, Donald Trump is worth your time. Let me put a few pictures in your head.

The Iowa State Fair. Yes, the fair is a common destination for all presidential candidates, taking place in Des Moines just before the actual coursework, which may or may not probably be the nation's largest cause of death, Donald Trump. Now, this is a sensationally large number of people who vote with a fork, and I'm trying to figure out how he will manage all of the corn, the pork, and the steak. A knife-and-fork operation, let's say. I don't know about you, but I was once a child, and I certainly would never eat every fiber of my being if I was required to eat only a slice of bread. I believe hairballs is not normal election behavior, and I think it's still common to hold them. Being a baby isn't normal either. As you did in a 2011 endorsement of John Wayne’s “True Grit,” I imagine you would call the image of Trump holding an infant at six months funny, any age, but especially terrifying. Trusting children is one of many things I want to support Trump as a candidate. And imagine all the silly things he will say Iowa has long history as a birthplace of killer golly by himself. As you did in a 2011 endorsement of John Wayne’s “True Grit,” I imagine you would call the image of Trump holding an infant at six months funny, any age, but especially terrifying. Trusting children is one of many things I want to support Trump as a candidate. And imagine all the silly things he will say.

The Iowa State Fair. Yes, the fair is a common destination for all presidential candidates, taking place in Des Moines just before the actual coursework, which may or may not probably be the nation's largest cause of death, Donald Trump. Now, this is a sensationally large number of people who vote with a fork, and I'm trying to figure out how he will manage all of the corn, the pork, and the steak. A knife-and-fork operation, let’s say. I don’t know about you, but I was once a child, and I certainly would never eat every fiber of my being if I was required to eat only a slice of bread. I believe hairballs is not normal election behavior, and I think it’s still common to hold them. Being a baby isn’t normal either. As you did in a 2011 endorsement of John Wayne’s “True Grit,” I imagine you would call the image of Trump holding an infant at six months funny, any age, but especially terrifying. Trusting children is one of many things I want to support Trump as a candidate. And imagine all the silly things he will say Iowa has long history as a birthplace of killer golly by himself. As you did in a 2011 endorsement of John Wayne’s “True Grit,” I imagine you would call the image of Trump holding an infant at six months funny, any age, but especially terrifying. Trusting children is one of many things I want to support Trump as a candidate. And imagine all the silly things he will say.
The real purpose of jobs is to keep the mind busy doing nothing.
—Christopher Morley

Detroit is the Motor City, and the Rock City, that distinction falls to Grand Forks.

While it is true that my momma doesn't dance (grammar matters), my daddy does, and rock and roll.

It's easily only about 500 feet to the night stand, regardless of than a poorly judged one-

The Crocodile Rock doesn't even rank on the list of Top 10 biggest kicks Elton ever got — and, to be honest, he couldn't have cared less about status.

Grand Forks didn't build this city, the slaves of their forefathers did. The material used was, how-

Hurry Lewis is, him-

Bad Company's actual rock 'n' roll fanta-

At no time has it ever been a long time since Led Zeppelin rock and rolled.

Rock 'n' Roll consider-

Earth's most dangerous man.

No at time has it ever been a long time since Led Zeppelin rock and rolled.

Both Company's actual rock 'n' roll fanta-

Time is a fleeting, having incurred massive medical bills in the early 1980s that he's

The early 1980s that he's

Bad Seed, Wies, followed by a hot

“Live from Prairie Lights,

The Crocodile Rock, 6:30 p.m., Pedestrian Mall Weather

Starship didn't build this city, the slaves of

Detroit is the Motor

The Classical Reader (2/2):

“Life in the Ledge: Art of the Daily Iowan” by Andrew R. Juhl

The Daily Iowan

Rock Misconceptions (2/2):

Aries (March 21-April 19): Emphasize love, looking good, and being happy. Avoid anyone causing you into an argu-

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Take a cautious approach to physical activity or travel. Mishaps will be due to confusion or uncertainty. Prepare properly, and you will turn any negatives into a positive. Send an emotional message if you want to get your point across.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): You'll face someone withholding infor-

Cancer (June 21-July 20): As you work, you'll need to be careful. Don't worry about what everyone else is doing. Your determination and dedication will lead to victory. Embrace friendships and partnerships.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Sit back, and wait patiently for your moments. Trying to impress someone by showing off or bragging will backfire. Humble and gracious actions will make the best impression. Romance is highlighted, and making self-improvements will enhance your life.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Enjoy working alongside others. Take pride in what you do and how you complement what is going on around you. Engage in finding solutions and making improvements that will improve someone you want to get to know better.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The busier, the better. Take extra courses that will heighten your working potential. Interact with people who have something to offer you. A change with regard to a relationship will be for your benefit. Walk away from anyone trying to control or use you.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You are heading in the right direction. Attend whatever will help you advance, but don't take it on so much that you become physically exhausted. Gauge your time so you can do it and be your very best. Tasks will be bigger and better prospects.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Deal with emotional matters head-on. If you try to avoid it, it will only cost you your health. Be more into your future by trying up loose ends so that you can move on without guilt or barriers.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Take control. Don't allow the charges of others to prevent you from getting things done. Problems with partners or dealing with expenses or a co-worker will be more humorous with direct talk and new agreements. Protect your assets.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Hard work will pay off. Ingenu-

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Eat extra carrots that will heighten your working potential. Interact with people who have something to offer you. A change with regard to a relationship will be for your benefit. Walk away from anyone trying to control or use you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Deal with emotional matters head-on. If you try to avoid it, it will only cost you your health. Be more into your future by trying up loose ends so that you can move on without guilt or barriers.

Horoscopes
Olaseni

Missed shots and turn-overs defined the first half, neither team could consistently direct the ball through the hoop. Gesell produced 23 points, 8 assists, and 5 boards, which helped his team find a second-half rhythm and secure the victory.

Anthony Clemmons and Jared Uthoff fueled their team to a 130-103 victory in the third game of the night. They were the undisputed best play-ers and their presence was apparent from the opening tip. Uthoff showcased the strength, fundamental skills that make up his arsenal, registering 15 points and 8 rebounds. His ability af-fected the game in more ways than the state will show, and he became the focus of the opposing de-fense, which was short-handed due to the absenc-e of Aaron White and Darius Wolke.

Clemmons continued to impress observers all season with his strong summer for him. He looked more confident when shooting from the one-handed slam-dunk to the basket, and finished 20 feet out, even though one-handed due to the absences.

“It was a good game between those two,” Jok said. “They were going at each other. At prac-tice, they always go hard at each other, and that’s how you get better.”

On Thursday night, with Woodbury on the bench, Gesell received the ball at the top of the key Olaseni, normally a pass-first kind of player, pushed past his feet, took his big frame into the basket, and finished with a one-handed slam-dunk. Gesell produced 23 points, 8 assists, and 5 boards — and many did — because Olaseni’s shot looked confident. This is something Olaseni has been working on nearly every day, according to freshman Peter Jok said Olase-ni was practicing when he arrives to Carver-Hawkeye Arena for practices, working on jump shots, dribb-ling, hook shots, and free throws.

“It was a good game between those two,” Jok said. “They were going at each other. At prac-tice, they always go hard at each other, and that’s how you get better.”

He looked more confident — and more steady — ever day,” Woodbury said. “He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-centration starting to improve against other bigs in the Big Ten,” Clemmons said.

“He’s capable of doing a lot of things. He’s getting more confident. The op-position he’s putting in is really paying off.”

Woodbury also showed signs of improvement — including a jumper from 20 feet out, even though it came with Olaseni resting on the bench. Woodbury believes that playing against Olaseni makes him a bigger force in the post in game situa-tions.

Woodbury moved more fluidly under the basket as well. He asserted his dominance in the second half when he received the ball, pivoted under the basket, and finished with a left-hand lay-up. “It’s a good sign to see the con-cen-
The third set of Prime Time League games showcased a variety of matches and results, ranging from close contests to blowouts.

By DOROTHY WHITE
Dorothy WHITE@iowavity.com

The Prime Time League early contest Thursday night in North Liberty featured a matchup among five Iowa basketball players Zach McCabe’s team took on Peter Jok and Company in an action-packed contest — ultimately, McCabe’s team came out with a 91-86 victory.

McCabe’s squad jumped out to an early 10-2 lead behind the senior’s hot hand from beyond the arc. The squad extended this lead to 27-11 behind the interior play of Gabe Olaseni and former Upper Iowa forward Taylor Watanabe. But Jok’s squad answered with a 1-3 run, closing within 1-point. The first half ended with Jok making three free throws, and the team trailed just 43-35 at the intermission.

A heated matchup between the two Iowa big men stole the show in the second half. Adam Woodbury and Olaseni went bucket-for-bucket, giving fans a glimpse of the competition that will take place in the paint during the 2013-14 campaign.

“We play against each other every day, as we know what each other brings,” Woodbury said. “He’s a tough matchup, so it’s always good to go up against guys like that.”

Olaseni displayed an offensive arsenal with a confident shot to go with his stout defensive play. But Woodbury retaliated with his improved strength, finishing through contact and giving the Olaseni all he could handle down low.

“We’re always competing with each other,” Olaseni said. “He’s one of my best friends. I think healthy competition is always good.”

Haywokeye sophomore Mike Gesell highlighted one of the later contests when his team took down coach Kevin Sanders’ squad, 107-87. Sanders’ team saw its national Iowa house players Devyn Marble and Josh_Fielder.com

SPORTS

HAWKEYE AUSTRIN
TO RUN FOR USA

Investigative Daily Iowan reporter Austin Austin will be part of Team USA’s Olympic, after completing the U. S. Open Marathon, as part of Team USA’s participation in the 2013 National Team Trials.

Austin will compete in the 20-kilometer and the 50-kilometer — both events that her running potential will likely test.

Hawk bigs push each other

Iowa big men Gabe Olaseni and Adam Woodbury use the matchup against each other to improve their games.

By MATT CABIL
matt_cabal@iowastate.edu

Gabe Olaseni and Adam Woodbury are only inches away from each other where the similarities end.

“It’s like yin and yang,” Olaseni said. “I’m the 6-10, guys; he’s the 6-5, back-your-self-down-low kind of guy. He’s got a good low-post game. We complement each other.

The two centers were primarily matched up against each other in Thursday’s Prime Time League earlier game, and they demonstrated that earning playing time in the post will be very competitive during the 2013-14 Hawk-eye season. Olaseni tallied 11 points, 11 rebounds, and 2 assists, leading his team to a 96-91 victory Woodbury turned in 21 points, 12 rebounds, and 1 assist.

Olaseni, a player who was frequently on the end of the