A group of University of Iowa students writes to offer an insight on political unrest experienced in their home country of Egypt. Alisa Hassanein is a UI junior who lived in Egypt until the age of 5 and later moved to the United States with her family. Hassanein said she has a unique perspective on life under constant threat of violence in Egypt and visits on an almost annual basis.

However, Hassanein said, if Field Marshal Abd el-Fattah el-Sisi becomes president, she may not visit her family as often. She mentioned Wednesday he will run for the Egyptian presidency. His transition is expected to be smooth. Hassanein said she thinks the future of Egypt would be in danger if Sisi were to become president.

"The country will go in no way more forward," she said, "He's an excellent military leader and knows how to plot and execute, however, that also makes him a horrible leader. We do not need someone to see the same force and violence on our people as he does on our enemies.

Former President Mohamed Morsi, who was a member of the Muslim Brotherhood, was forced out of office just one year after Egypt's first democratic presidential election. Gerald Sorokin, the executive director of Hijab in Iowa City and former University of Iowa faculty member in the Political Science Department, said Sisi is regarded as being a representative of the old system of Egypt, affiliated with the military and not the Muslim Brotherhood.

"In Egypt, the military did a better job meeting the economic needs of the people and being an anti-democratic figure," Sorokin said. "The simple inability to deliver goods and provide public service is one of the major reasons Morsi was pushed out."

Sorokin said that would have to answer the question of what he will need to do for the Islamicists, who were the major supporters of the Islamic Brotherhood.

"They will not support him unless he can promise something that can meet their concerns," Sorokin said.

He also needs to make a credible economic and political development plan.

Sorokin said he believes Sisi has the "inside track" of winning the election this summer because he has a large military support, however, he says Sisi has to take a few more actions to show he can be the leader.

UI sophomore Sandy Gaber, who is also from Egypt, said she also believes some people in Egypt may be a little vulnerable and want a leader to follow.

"I feel so bad for the people there because how much worse can it get? So many people have died," Gaber said."

"The violence going on in Egypt was happening through the military, and he was the head of the military," Gaber said. She hopes that Sisi does not become president because many of her family members would not want to stay in Egypt but would not have the resources to leave.

Hassanein said she believes throughout Egypt's history people have run against the government, would usually be forced out by military rule. She said even though she does not support Sisi, she said she thinks he will be hard for Egypt not to have a military-based government.

"I don't think Egypt will see a day it is not run fiercely by the military," Hassanein said.

By ALISA HAASNEIN

THE DAILY IOWAN

Additional security for Courthouse

The Board of Supervisors focused their discussion on security and hazard mitigation on Thursday.

By LILY ARMSTRONG

THE DAILY IOWAN

Camera and key-card swipe systems will be the norm as a part of the security update in place for the Johnson County Courthouse. "It's an 1800s building that wasn't built for modern society," students have come to implementing security as much as possible.

"We can," Supervisor Jackell Rollig said.

The Board of Supervisors unanimously approved the new security plan, on Thursday meeting after previous efforts failed to protect the county from "fire of the steps,

Rollig said the plan includes

Demonstrations held in Egypt's capitol

Throughout the time Mohamed Morsi was elected as president of Egypt in 2012, protests continued from the Arab Spring. The protests, which eventually led to the Egyptians removing Morsi, took place in Tahrir Square in Cairo.

By DANILO SEID

THE DAILY IOWAN

Students drive up local rents

Many students at the University of Iowa have to pay rents every month, but they may not realize the effect they have on the cost of living.

By DANIEL SEID

THE DAILY IOWAN
Archaeology bug bites city

Bill Whitaker of the Office of the State Archeologist detailed important archeological sites in the Iowa City area Thursday.

The Daily Iowan

Volume 143
Issue 142
100 North Market St.
Iowa City, IA 52240
319-335-1200
www.daily-iowan.com

Bill Whitaker, a project archeologist in the Office of the State Archeologist, said there are more than 200 archeological sites in a 3 mile mile area of the Museum of Natural History campus. Two of the most recently discovered sites - Hickory Park, discovered in February, and the site of the new University of Iowa music facility, discovered in 2015 - have played public interest in archeology, Whitaker said.

"For the 1800s, people have been conducting archeologizing in and around the Iowa City area," he said. "For a while, at least." Whitaker credited the Office of the State Archaeologist's location at the University of Iowa as a major factor in the increase in archeology interest in the area. There are more than 50 sites in Iowa City, including the Hickory Park site, which also has archeologists to date the site to 1830 or later.

Whitaker said the location allowed greater visibility for students and researchers who were conducting archeologic research dating as early as 1851 or involved in the 1860s.

The news in 1861 depicted a labor of love for the local community, which included sites found in the area and included in the 1880s.

Whitaker said the archeologists will return to the site in the future, but as the same elements could still be there.

Another site accidentally discovered by construction crews was a foundation in a sidewalk that may have belonged to a resident.

met-

Metros

Council may tweak entertainment-venue exception

For years via a special exception for entertainment venues, the city could build more entertainment-venue applications in the last few years. The Council of the City of Iowa has been considering changes to the development of entertainment venues, which could take place in the next few years, as they would be considered exceptions to certain city ordinances.

Limit the building of entertainment venues. - Steve Dwyer

Consider to go

Gateway design

The Council of the City of Iowa has been considering changes to the development of entertainment venues, which could take place in the next few years, as they would be considered exceptions to certain city ordinances.

Consider to go

Gatewood"
safety,” she said. Much of the meeting was also dedicated to a presentation detailing the multi-jurisdictional hazard.

Dave Wilson, the John- son County emergency management director, pre- sented the details of the plan and said that the plan is the result of the team’s work and that it includes numerous jurisdictional.

Wilson said steps in- clude creating local plan- ning teams, determining possible hazards and evaluating them, as well as creating action plans for implementation. Each hazard is then assessed for probability, magnitude or severity, and duration. Addition- ally, the team determines whether to use a reasonable amount of time to allow for warning the public of the upcoming hazard. Wilson said the plan is adopted every five years, and the process will begin again in 2016.

“It seems like a repeti- tive task, but it is because things evolve,” he said. Supervisor Pat Harney noted this specific cycle was coming just in time. “Timing on this is just about right [as] we’re coming into severe-weather season,” he said. “When we got into winter and early summer … we have to have plans adopted.”

Even though he said the public is most likely unaware of the plan, they will be grateful for it in the event of a natural di- aster, such as the 2006 flood. The plan will cost about $50,000, all of which came from Homeland Security grant funding. Currently, numerous school districts and com- munities are in the pro- cess of adopting the strat- egy.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Girls’ decision misguided

As an alum of the University’s Creative Writing Program, I was deeply saddened to see the recent announcement that the much-anticipated expansion of the Literature Institute will be the last big show on campus. It seems that this is the last chance for sensitive social change in our culture — the last opportunity for white people to finally, really be open about race.

Please provide the following feedback to the creative writing department: What’s the point of this expansion if it’s not for social change? The media is full of discussions about race and prejudice all the time, so is this really necessary? How can the University continue to call itself the ‘University of Iowa’ when it has a literature institute that excludes family and friends of color from the curriculum?

I feel no urge to kill or even to harm anyone, but I do want actors and actresses of color to have more options. I do want actors and actresses of color to have more options. The show truly needed to be about diversity, diversity, diversity.

Inclusive media isn’t enough

Jordyn Overton

STAFF

Columnists

COLUMN

Lydia make sense to keep non-trust, then it would certainly be a source of solidarity and views, belief arguably to the community. Its relationship with good moral exemplars has that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?

The Handbook of the social one, though there that moral exemplars have that. What seems more that God to be moral?
Purdue entered the game as the host team in the Big Ten, having won seven games in a row before its final road trip to Iowa City. The Matt Painter-led Boilermakers throttled Iowa in the teams’ previous meeting that season, 75-64.

“We had a bad taste in our mouth from the first time,” Cartwright said. “We had nothing to lose at the time, and they were No. 6 in the country.”

JaJuan Johnson was atop the box and scoring and led the Boilermakers into Iowa City. Iowa countered Purdue’s loaded lineup with Cole, junior Matt Gatens, Cartwright, and two freshmen: D.J. Byrd of Purdue hit a 3-pointer with 4:42 left to regain the lead at 55-54. Cartwright had played as well as he had all season, tallying 9 points and 6 assists in the first half alone.

The Hawkeyes committed only 2 turnovers through 15 minutes of the second half. D.J. Byrd of Purdue hit a 3-pointer with 4:42 left to regain the lead at 55-54. Cartwright had played as well as he had all season, tallying 9 points and 6 assists in the first half alone.

“I told people it was the first game of the Big Ten Tournament, of the Big Dance, players were determined,” Cartwright said. “They never let us forget how important we were to that team. They did so much and ‘Jarred Cole,’ you were part of the turnaround,” Cartwright said. "I talk to Coach Sherman from time to time, and they showed their gratitude.

Cartwright had played as well as he had all season, tallying 9 points and 6 assists in the first half alone.

“I told people it was the first game of the Big Ten Tournament, of the Big Dance, players were determined,” Cartwright said. “They never let us forget how important we were to that team. They did so much and ‘Jarred Cole,’ you were part of the turnaround,” Cartwright said. "I talk to Coach Sherman from time to time, and they showed their gratitude. They never let us forget how important we were to the program heading into the NCAA Tournament this season for the first time since 2006. Although the team lost in the first round of the Big Dance, players such as Bryce Cartwright knew how important their time in a Hawkeye uniform meant to the program.

“Jarred Cole,” and the party day of my life before [the Iowa went on to make its first game against a Hawkeye loaded lineup with Cole, junior transfer Bryce Cartwright, and two freshmen: D.J. Byrd of Purdue hit a 3-pointer with 4:42 left to regain the lead at 55-54. Cartwright had played as well as he had all season, tallying 9 points and 6 assists in the first half alone.

“I told people it was the first game of the Big Ten Tournament, of the Big Dance, players were determined,” Cartwright said. “They never let us forget how important we were to that team. They did so much and ‘Jarred Cole,’ you were part of the turnaround,” Cartwright said. "I talk to Coach Sherman from time to time, and they showed their gratitude. They never let us forget how important we were to the program heading into the NCAA Tournament this season for the first time since 2006. Although the team lost in the first round of the Big Dance, players such as Bryce Cartwright knew how important their time in a Hawkeye uniform meant to the program."

"It's kind of surprising to have the opportunity any more."
the ledge -

THEME: The good news is that you’re learning how to deal with difficulty. The bad news is that you’re learning how to deal with difficulty.

— Julia Cameron

Doonesbury

by Garry Trudeau

I HAVEN’T SLEPT SENSE OCTOBER. BECAME A CULTURE OF CONSULTING FIRMS IN ANTI-HEALTH.

I AM FLAT-LINING.

by Scott Adams

FAKE NEWS, I’M BACK WHO LEADS TO MAKE SOME

GRAPHS.

today’s events

— Twilight Brown Bag Lunch, 12:30 p.m., 115 University Capital Center
— Summer Undergraduate and Science Seminar, ‘Building upon previous learning for future talk on sub-edge platelets’ Pediatric Research Center, 10 a.m., 115 University Capital Center
— Biology Seminar, “Running hot and cold: Mechanisms of thermoregulation in C. elegans,” Piali Sengupta, Davidson Hall, 8:30 a.m., 205 Biology Building
— Biomedical Seminar, “Children with a Family Responsibility,” with Ann Krysan, 1 p.m., 106 Capital Science Center
— School of Music Presents: Chang-xin Guan, piano, 7:30 p.m., IMU Iowa Theater
— University Presents: Corpus Quartet Recital and Performance, University Capitol Center Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m., Recital Hall East, 300 East Washington Street
— Environmental Engineering and Science Graduate Seminar, 3:30 p.m., 102 Chemistry Building
— Fulbright Brown Bag Lunch, 12:30 p.m., 1124 University Capitol Center
— Writers’ Workshop Reading, Robert Hass, 7 p.m., IMU Iowa Theater
— WorldCanvass, “Isolation of Vinyl-chloride Assimilating Bacteria for Stable-isotope Probing Analysis,” Carly Lintner, 3:30 p.m., 3503 Seamans Center
— School of Music Presents: Corpus Quartet Recital and Performance, University Capitol Center Recital Hall, 7:30 p.m., Recital Hall East, 300 East Washington Street
— Home, UI Theater Honors Projects, 8 p.m., IMU Iowa Theater
— American Hustle, 7:30 p.m., Riverside Recital Hall
— Bijou After Hours, 11 p.m., FilmScene, 118 E. College Street
— The Jewel Case, 7 p.m., Dey House Frank Conroy Reading Room
— School of Music Presents: Chang-xin Guan, piano, 7:30 p.m., IMU Iowa Theater

Submit your event here: dailyiowan.com/pages/calendarsubmit.html

horoscopes

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Not everyone will agree with you, but that is no reason not to voice your opinion. Once you have all the facts, you will be able to make some of personal or financial situation that is bothering you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Make a point to get involved and participate in events that can affect your community. Don’t be afraid to speak up and offer your solutions. Express your concerns, and expand your ideas to your audience. Make an impression.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It won’t be easy to think clearly or be realistic when emotions are running high. Talk things out with a cooperative and interaction with others. Emotional blackmail is likely to cloud a decision. Stick to the truth, and ask for the pure reasons.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You have more to think for you than you realize. Set your goals high, and focus on what you know and do best. Your successes will far outweigh any problems caused by someone choosing to go in a different direction.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Money, contracts, and medical issues are likely to surface. Try not to get caught up in what others see or say. False information abounds. Research will reveal that you are better off making a decision based on your intuition.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Relationships will confuse you. Getting out and interacting with people who can share light on your situation will help keep you grounded. Emotions could be misleading. Rethink your strategy, and plot your next move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Look for unique ways to change your life. Making new friends or getting involved in a hobby or venture will help you rejuvenate. A special relationship will grow if you are attentive. You’ll find a great bargain if you go shopping.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): An unusual interest will help you expand your knowledge and your friendships. Live your creative imagination, and you will find solutions to the problems that require your attention. Change isn’t always the right choice. Let your intuition guide you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Nothing will be as it appears. Double-check any information you receive before getting involved in a giant venture. Keep your money tucked away in a safe place, and focus on your home and comfort and making changes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Moderation and practical applications should be your strategy. If you want to come out ahead, you will have to do what makes you comfortable. Don’t go in just to avoid an argument.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Changing the way you do a job will turn out well if you follow through. Don’t procrastinate when it comes to contracts, negotiations, or financial matters. Do the best you can, and explore any opportunity that may lead to improvement.

PILES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Keep your thoughts and feelings to yourself. Let your emotions lead you down the path of least resistance. Re-evaluate your relationships, and consider your options. Attend a reunion, and let experience help you move forward now.

The saddest aspect of life right now is that science gathers knowledge faster than society gathers wisdom. — Isaac Asimov

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 2014 6
Gymnastics

Continued from 10

MATT MCGRATH said, “We’ve just done a ton of sets. We could do those things in our sleep at this point.” Comfort is key for a successful gymnastics program. While many teams are capable of being successful, the hard part of it is putting it all together in front of the judges.

“For the first time once I’ve been at Iowa, I am actually really comfortable with what we’ve done,” Reive said. “Our work is done in the fall and leading up to the season. If we don’t put the work in then, we aren’t going to be ready to go, but we’ve done the work, and we have to go earn it, we’ve done the work, but we’ve done the work.”

The Hawkeyes worked through spring break, focusing on some of the finer details of their routines. “The past four days proved college basketball doesn’t need stars to be entertaining,” Ziller said. “Either give unpaid and underappreciated stars a chance to stick around campus, or step complaining when they jump at the opportunity to secure a stable financial future.”

Wiggins and Parker, based on the limited sample we’ve seen from their four seasons prior to Kansas and Duke, are exactly the type of All-Americans the NCAA needs in the NBA for at least the next decade. But one could argue that whether that potential is realized is more dependent on whether they realize the self-serving NCAA head coaches who try to guilt players into believing they have the ability to become All-NBA team. Three of those the league’s top 15 players are.” Ziller wrote. “Out of the 13 NBA players in the NBA last season, we have a total of one of those real stars, four Final Four, and eight Sweet 16. Tell me again why we’re supposed to be down on Wiggins and Parker?”

“Look at last season’s AD-NBA team. Those are the league’s top 15 players. Ziller wrote. “Out of the 13 NBA players in the NBA last season, we have a total of one of those real stars, four Final Four, and eight Sweet 16. Tell me again why we’re supposed to be down on Wiggins and Parker?”

“We did two intrasquad meets, and they were 438.000 still counting misses. We have room to grow and they are capable of putting up a 440.000 this weekend.”

“I know we can hit 440.000, but we still haven’t done it,” Reive said. “We did two intrasquad meets, and they were 438.000 still counting misses. We have the capability to hit 440.000, but we cannot count any falls or major deductions anymore.”

For assistant coach Ben Ketelsen, this should be one of the more exciting championship seasons he has been a part of. Iowa did not have much success when he was a Hawkeye gymnast, but now he is experiencing it as a coach. “The guys are more focused than they have ever been going into our team score this week. Ketelsen, this should be one of the more exciting championship seasons he has ever been a part of. Iowa did not have much success when he was a Hawkeye gymnast, but now he is experiencing it as a coach. “The guys are more focused than they have ever been going into the season,” Ketelsen said. “The guys are more focused than they have ever been going into the season,” Ketelsen said.

“We did a little more in terms of routine numbers but just more focus on individual detail,” Reive said. “We’re really looking at some miniscule amounts of deductions that we can add to our team score this weekend.”

After posting a season high of 437.350 in Nebraska two weeks ago, the Hawkeyes want to continue to have their success continue. They believe that they still have room to grow and they are capable of putting up a 440.000 this weekend.

Continued from 10

Commentary

Continued from 10

NCAA and its institutions make millions every March.

And those who believe in the basketball lottery to jump to the pros. The irony of it all is that NBA teams are trotting out laughable rosters just to ensure they have the best possible chance at finding those “unappreciated and unenrolled” superstars in this year’s draft.

The ironic aspect of it all is that NBA teams are trotting out laughable rosters just to ensure they have the best possible chance at finding those “unappreciated and unenrolled” superstars in this year’s draft. And those who believe in the basketball lottery to jump to the pros. The irony of it all is that NBA teams are trotting out laughable rosters just to ensure they have the best possible chance at finding those “unappreciated and unenrolled” superstars in this year’s draft.

Four years ago, 18-year-old Joel Embiid walked across the floor mat throwing the field house on Tuesday. With no real expectation of any of the things he said, “I was just coming in the gym every day and working hard. It turns out that I should’ve.” The Daily Iowan/Callie Mitchell

16th Annual Jakobsen Graduate Conference, March 29th 2014

Building Tomorrow Through Graduate Research Today

For more information go to the Graduate Student Senate Website http://gss.grad.uiowa.edu/jakobsen-conference

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires a reasonable accommodation to participate in this program, please contact Graduate Student Senate in advance at (319) 335-3269.
Men's track heads to Arizona

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Hawkeye trackers to escape the cold confines of Iowa City for a weekend to head out West.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore

Iowa senior Jonas Dierckx reflects on his past four years in the Hawkeye uniform.

By JORDAN BUCKER

President J. Bruce Todd

The Daily Iowan

Dierckx forges to the fore
Hawks turn it around

It took a long time for men's basketball to get back to the national spotlight, and it all started with an upset in McCaffery's first season as head coach.

By KEVIN GLOECK

kevin-glueck@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men's basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team's trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

SPORTS

Hawks turn it around

It took a long time for men's basketball to get back to the national spotlight, and it all started with an upset in McCaffery's first season as head coach.

By KEVIN GLOECK

kevin-glueck@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men's basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team's trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

COMMENTS

Free to fly away

Those who believe Andrew Wiggins and Jabari Parker owe the NCAA and their respective schools another year of unpaid labor are shortsighted and selfish.

By JACK ROSSI

jack-rossi@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men's basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team's trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

MEN HEAD FOR BIG TENS

Iowa is more prepared than ever for Big Ten championships this weekend.

By JACK ROSSI

jack-rossi@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men's basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team's trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

UPCOMING HAWKEYE SCHEDULE

Today

Baseball vs. Michigan, 2 p.m. in Iowa City

Women's tennis vs. Michigan, 2 p.m. in Iowa City

Men's swimming at NCAA championships, 6 p.m. in Iowa City

Saturday

Baseball vs. Michigan, 2 p.m. in Iowa City

Women's tennis vs. Michigan, 2 p.m. in Iowa City

Men's swimming at NCAA championships, 6 p.m. in Iowa City

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA DAILY IOWAN

Volume 119 Number 30

March 28, 2014

SPORTS

FINISH-UP TO DATE COVERAGE OF HAWKEYE SPORTS. FOLLOW US ON TWITTER AT #DI, #SPORTS, #DESK

DAILYIOWAN.COM

Baseball preps for Michigan

The Iowa baseball team will look to clinch its second Big Ten series win of the season when it faces Michigan State this weekend.

By RYAN PROKACKE

ryan-prokacke@uiowa.edu

The Hawkeyes will need to improve from their series opening loss to the Spartans last weekend if they are to win the series.

Hawks turn it around

It took a long time for men’s basketball to get back to the national spotlight, and it all started with an upset in McCaffery’s first season as head coach.

By KEVIN GLOECK

kevin-glueck@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men’s basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team’s trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

COMMENTS

Free to fly away

Those who believe Andrew Wiggins and Jabari Parker owe the NCAA and their respective schools another year of unpaid labor are shortsighted and selfish.

By JACK ROSSI

jack-rossi@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men’s basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team’s trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)

MEN HEAD FOR BIG TENS

Iowa is more prepared than ever for Big Ten championships this weekend.

By JACK ROSSI

jack-rossi@uiowa.edu

The Iowa men’s basketball team had a disappointing season, but the team’s trip back to the Big Dance for the first time in nine years has proven to be the best of all possible worlds for the Hawkeyes. (The Daily Iowan/File Photo)