New salon serves North Side

HABA will emphasize quality, the owners say.

By LEAH WOOLERY

Hair scissors now sit where soft serve used to enrol.

The HABA hair salon now occupies 212 E Market St., where the North Side Dairy Queen was located for 30 years. HABA is an acronym for hair, art, beauty, and architecture, said co-owner Leah Ostby.

“It was certainly a whole lot of work renovating it and getting it to look like this,” she said. “It’s also just a new little name.”

The salon held its grand opening on April 11 after being established in Iowa City earlier this year.

Figuring out the ownership end of starting a business was “more annoying than I realized,” said Ostby, who partnered with her husband, Dan Schappert, to open HABA. The couple was motivated to start their business in Tiffin because of a non-competition agreement, but they have now returned to Iowa City.

“My husband and I both worked at Buzz salon for years, and they wanted us to get out on our own and start our own business,” Ostby said.

Co-owner Nichole Schappert works on a client’s hair at Haba Salon on Tuesday. HABA Salon is on East Market Street next to Pizza Pit. (The Daily Iowan/Joshua Housing)

Jodi Connolly said she buzzed her hair at Buzz salon on Sunday, April 12. She was cutting her hair off for a給定的单词。Buzz owner Jodi Connolly said she buzzed her hair at Buzz salon on Sunday, April 12. She was cutting her hair off for a

“Over the last two years, I’ve been transitioning to the business side of the,” Ostby said. “It’s a lot more in-depth than I realized.”

Ostby and Schappert were both employed by Buzz salon and started their business in Tiffin because of a non-competition agreement, but they have now returned to Iowa City.

New salon serves North Side

by ALESSANDRA VULIC

Book bags sitting on the Pentacrest, typically held by members of the UI Active Minds chapter, were left abandoned, wrapped in clear plastic and bags donated by friends or family members across the country who have been affect

DAILY IOWAN TV

• WATCH UITV AT 9 P.M.
• GO TO DAIL YIOWAN.COM
• SCAN THIS CODE
• CHECK OUT ALON BABA

ON FACEBOOK FOR MORE CONTENT.
ON TWITTER AND LIKE US FOR UPDATES AND ONLINE EXCLUSIVES. FOLLOW

SEND SILIENCE PACKING

The University of Iowa President’s Student Advisory Committee held its initial meeting with UI President Sally Mason and other UI officials on Monday. The committee, which is being formed from a 175-person applicant pool to conduct a two-year term on the committee, will be charged with appointing a student Grant Laverty as the chairperson and graduate student Kiera Pasquesi as the vice chairwoman.

“The committee was created as a part of Mason’s six-point plan to combat sexual assault on the UI campus. The plan includes cracking down on offenders, increasing support for survivors, improving prevention and education, improving communication, adding funding, and listening more and reporting back.

This year, there have been 12 reported sexual assaults on the UI campus. Thus far, Mason has added funding to provide an additional 14

“Mostly cloudy, windy, 60% chance of rain/T-storms.”

The owners say.

by BRYCE HAMILTON

Hair scissors now sit where soft serve used to enrol.

The HABA hair salon now occupies 212 E Market St., where the North Side Dairy Queen was located for 30 years. HABA is an acronym for hair, art, beauty, and architecture, said co-owner Leah Ostby.

“It was certainly a whole lot of work renovating it and getting it to look like this,” she said. “It’s also just a new little name.”

The salon held its grand opening on April 11 after being established in Iowa City earlier this year.

Figuring out the ownership end of starting a business was “more annoying than I realized,” said Ostby, who partnered with her husband, Dan Schappert, to open HABA. The couple was motivated to start their business in Tiffin because of a non-competition agreement, but they have now returned to Iowa City.

“My husband and I both worked at Buzz salon for years, and they wanted us to get out on our own and start our own business,” Ostby said.

Co-owner Nichole Schappert works on a client’s hair at Haba Salon on Tuesday. HABA Salon is on East Market Street next to Pizza Pit. (The Daily Iowan/Joshua Housing)
School projects progressing

BY CITY READER

Ivanhoe Enterprise

Three school districts in the Iowa City School District were clearing the way for completing renovations and constructions.

The Iowa City School Board approved the next steps for numerous building projects in the district, some of which are under budget.

"We had a lot of Appen- diX projects, which is a sign that things are going well," said School Board Presi- dent Bobbi Rolston.

"We have talked about it for so long, it’s nice to see it happening."

The projects discussed included construction on the new North High School and new elementary schools.

"I want to see development on the Huang Elementary," said the director of the Physi- cal Plant, presented the board with information on the projects and said they were costs for construction.

He said while renovations at Hoover Elementary would include replacing carpet and paint, the major addi- tion will be adding non-academic space in every classroom. The rooms will be renumbered to allow for any future changes.

The project is estimated at $1.8 million, and vocational officials said the project was designed to meet ADA standards instead — half the origi- nal estimate.

"Sometimes, the mar- ketplace can sell itself," he said. And we treaty- estimate projects on the higher side as we go.

Also on the agenda was approval of the next steps in the Two-Child Project.

The project involves adding an additional gym and music room, as well as upgrades to the rest of the building.

Board member Chris Gruithuis said the project was moved to add to the time- line.

Board member David Johnson said he was pleased with the changes in the renovation process, which will shift the current three rooms into two larger rooms, which could include.

"The Kindergarten loca- tion was something the school board for — and we get it in the ways, and it’s still on budget," he said. "That’s what we’re looking for.

Vocational officials said the next step for Van Allen will bring its closer to two additions to the build- ing, which will include extra rooms for teacher preparation and special- ed services.

Additionally, the board and construction on South High is also on schedule and "right on target for the costs," said board member Cyle Fleeman.

Motorcyclists: Do you know?

University motorcycle permits will be needed in July to avoid being towed and park at the University Union.

There will be motorcycle lots on campus.

Motorcycles and mopeds are restricted to specific bicycle racks.

"How many motorcyclists are using campus, and per- mission to use bikes on campus," said the director of the Iowa City Police Department.

"I want to see development on the Huang Elementary," said the director of the Physical Plant, presented the board with information on the projects and said they were costs for construction.

He said while renovations at Hoover Elementary would include replacing carpet and paint, the major addi- tion will be adding non-academic space in every classroom. The rooms will be renumbered to allow for any future changes.

The project is estimated at $1.8 million, and vocational officials said the project was designed to meet ADA standards instead — half the origi- nal estimate.

"Sometimes, the mar- ketplace can sell itself," he said. And we treaty- estimate projects on the higher side as we go.

Also on the agenda was approval of the next steps in the Two-Child Project.

The project involves adding an additional gym and music room, as well as upgrades to the rest of the building.

Board member Chris Gruithuis said the project was moved to add to the time- line.

Board member David Johnson said he was pleased with the changes in the renovation process, which will shift the current three rooms into two larger rooms, which could include.

"The Kindergarten loca- tion was something the school board for — and we get it in the ways, and it’s still on budget," he said. "That’s what we’re looking for.

Vocational officials said the next step for Van Allen will bring its closer to two additions to the build- ing, which will include extra rooms for teacher preparation and special- ed services.

Additionally, the board and construction on South High is also on schedule and "right on target for the costs," said board member Cyle Fleeman.

Motorcyclists: Do you know?

University motorcycle permits will be needed in July to avoid being towed and park at the University Union.

There will be motorcycle lots on campus.

Motorcycles and mopeds are restricted to specific bicycle racks.

See imaging as narrative

BY KATLIN DONVIL

The Iowa River is about to have a new lease on life. The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action, have chartered a ship to do so. The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The Iowa River will be a focus for the University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.

The University of Iowa, Office of Sustainability, and residents bringing together action.
Robert's initially joined the student organization as a way of staying with the product she had after losing a friend to suicide in her senior year of high school. “It’s a friend for everyone,” Roberts said. “It’s someone new they can talk to. It’s someone who understands suicide.”

Today, Roberts works with Wilson to encourage students to speak up and seek resources if they are caught in similar situations. “The more people that can talk about and realize what they’re going through, the better off everyone will be,” she said.

The Campus Activities Board. He said the initial meeting was “pretty straightforward.” The committee did not set up a formal schedule for the rest of its meetings, but Abrams said he believed it would meet monthly beginning in the fall.

The committee will speak to students in various areas of involvement to hear reactions to the issues and policies.

“We’re going to be the eyes and ears of the campus,” Abrams said.

Parquin was appointed by the Executive Council of the Professional Students and will serve a two-year term on the committee.

“Our main purpose is to advise the president in relation to prevention and response,” Parquin said. “President Mason wants us to solicit and monitor progress of the six-point plan and have a voice in what happens with decision making moving forward.”

She said she felt a sense of commitment to the campus, as she had lost a friend to suicide, which prompted them to take action and raise awareness about the issues.

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 2014

BACKPACKS Continue from front page and being separated from the rest of the world.

Wilson said the group’s mission was to provide a safe space for discussion on mental health issues, which included decreasing the stigma associated with the illness and increasing awareness about stress, anxiety, depression, and suicide on college campuses.

Wilson and chapter Vice President Emily Roberts both have lost friends to suicide, which prompted them to take action and raise awareness about the issues.

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 2014

MICDONALD CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE
to Roles van, expelled one student for sexual misconduct, revised timely conduct, and warning notices sent to students on campus, and future plans.

“I think everyone’s looking forward to the work of the committee in the near term,” said UI Dean of Students David Grady. “It’s our voice to downtown,” said UI Chancellor Bruce Harreld. “I think everyone’s looking forward to the work of the committee in the near term,” said UI Dean of Students David Grady. “It’s our voice to downtown,” said UI Chancellor Bruce Harreld.

Campus Activities Board. He said the initial meeting was “pretty straightforward.” The committee did not set up a formal schedule for the rest of its meetings, but Abrams said he believed it would meet monthly beginning in the fall.

The committee will speak to students in various areas of involvement to hear reactions to the issues and policies.

“We’re going to be the eyes and ears of the campus,” Abrams said.

Parquin was appointed by the Executive Council of the Professional Students and will serve a two-year term on the committee.

“Our main purpose is to advise the president in relation to prevention and response,” Parquin said. “President Mason wants us to solicit and monitor progress of the six-point plan and have a voice in what happens with decision making moving forward.”

She said she felt a sense of commitment to the campus, as she had lost a friend to suicide, which prompted them to take action and raise awareness about the issues.

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 2014

HUH HABAL SALON CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE

owe to strangers. HABA adds to the pool of more than five other salons in Iowa City.

Ostby said she hopes HABA can bridge the gap between expensive and cheaper salons while maintaining high quality and cheaper salons while maintaining high quality.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained high quality stylist for 18 years, and $40 for men.

$40 for men.

“Some people that come here do long hair, but one of the main benefits of HABA is education,” Ostby said. “We needed to add educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained high quality stylist for 18 years, and $40 for men.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.

Staying at the new salon, the HABA will send one of its educational materials. Ostby said they will emphasize having highly trained highly-educated stylists, and so far, many of them have liked the results.

“At some point, all of this hair is going to fall off my head,” said Antho- ny Cinquepalmi, a grad- uate student in creative writing and a client of the salon. “But for now, I might as well make it look good.”

Cinquepalmi said a friend referred him to the salon because he was looking for a place to trust his hair. “You have to trust the person who’s doing your hair for months at a time. This is the only place I trust with that kind of care,” he said.

To have his hair cut as a child, and it makes me sad to get that done,” said Cinquepalmi.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Janet Lynes and me

In a recent letter, Paul Cleasby referenced the botched execution of Janet Lynes, which he said was a "matter of priority," that "there is no mercy in this case," and that Mr. Lynes had been denied a "new trial" by the Supreme Court. We believe he is right.

Mr. Cleasby's letter is certainly not the only one to misrepresent the facts in this case. We have been sent letters which we believe are more than a little shocking; however, we have not been able to find any other newspapers which have written about the case, other than the Des Moines Register, a newspaper whose editor writes many more articles for this paper than anyone else in Iowa.

I believe the history of this case is as follows:

1. Mrs. Lynes was convicted of murder in 1986.
2. In 1991, she was granted a new trial by the Iowa Supreme Court.
3. In 1996, she was convicted again.
4. In 1997, she was granted another new trial.
5. In 1999, she was convicted again.
6. In 2000, she was convicted again.
7. In 2002, she was convicted again.
8. In 2004, she was convicted again.
9. In 2006, she was convicted again.
10. In 2008, she was convicted again.
11. In 2010, she was convicted again.
12. In 2012, she was convicted again.
13. In 2014, she was convicted again.
14. In 2016, she was convicted again.
15. In 2018, she was convicted again.
16. In 2020, she was convicted again.
17. In 2022, she was convicted again.
18. In 2024, she was convicted again.
19. In 2026, she was convicted again.
20. In 2028, she was convicted again.
21. In 2030, she was convicted again.
22. In 2032, she was convicted again.
23. In 2034, she was convicted again.
24. In 2036, she was convicted again.
25. In 2038, she was convicted again.
26. In 2040, she was convicted again.
27. In 2042, she was convicted again.
28. In 2044, she was convicted again.
29. In 2046, she was convicted again.
30. In 2048, she was convicted again.
31. In 2050, she was convicted again.
32. In 2052, she was convicted again.
33. In 2054, she was convicted again.
34. In 2056, she was convicted again.
35. In 2058, she was convicted again.
36. In 2060, she was convicted again.
37. In 2062, she was convicted again.
38. In 2064, she was convicted again.
39. In 2066, she was convicted again.
40. In 2068, she was convicted again.
41. In 2070, she was convicted again.
42. In 2072, she was convicted again.
43. In 2074, she was convicted again.
44. In 2076, she was convicted again.
45. In 2078, she was convicted again.
46. In 2080, she was convicted again.
47. In 2082, she was convicted again.
48. In 2084, she was convicted again.
49. In 2086, she was convicted again.
50. In 2088, she was convicted again.
51. In 2090, she was convicted again.
52. In 2092, she was convicted again.
53. In 2094, she was convicted again.
54. In 2096, she was convicted again.
55. In 2098, she was convicted again.
56. In 2100, she was convicted again.

We believe that if the facts of this case were properly represented, then the only reasonable conclusion would be that Mrs. Lynes is innocent of murder.

We have been asked by the Iowa Supreme Court to offer our views on the matter. Our views are as follows:

1. We believe that Mrs. Lynes is not guilty of murder.
2. We believe that the evidence in this case is sufficient to warrant a verdict of "not guilty."
Miller-Meeks visits IC

By CHRIST HIGGINS

Grand Old Party beer cans were off to the side as a congressional candidate stood in front of attentive conservatives.

Mariannette Miller-Meeks, an eye doctor and a former director of the Iowa Department of Public Health, held a roundtable discussion with University of Iowa College Republicans on Tuesday night as part of the organization’s Grand Old Party Week outreach efforts.

Miller-Meeks is seeking Iowa’s 2nd Congressional District seat for the third time. She is running against Rep. Mark Lofgren, R-Muscatine, and Matthew C. Waldren, from Eddyville, in the June Republican primary. She previously ran against Rep. Dave Loebsack, D-Iowa, in 2008 and 2010, both resulting in defeat.

Officials from the Miller-Meeks campaign reached out to the group, particularly to speak to students about the Affordable Care Act. Miller-Meeks has focused her campaign on her negative reaction to the health-care bill.

“I think it’s very important that you meet people on their ground and on their turf, so part of this is learning and listening from and then also explaining what I’m about and what my candidacy is about and hopefully to get young people on board with the campaign,” she said, “I think it’s important to know that you can keep your health care and you can lose your congressman.”

Miller-Meeks said she is pleased with her campaign’s progress since it began about two months ago.

College Republicans President Quentin Marquez said group members can be valuable to Miller-Meeks’ campaign by providing support as interns and volunteers.

“We are an excited workforce both for the candidates and for the party,” he said. “We have a lot of opportunities to get our college really involved in campaigns and on the party level, and we’ve done a very good job at seizing those positions for our members.”

Senate candidates Mark Jacobs, a businessman, and Sam Clovis, a professor at Iowa State University, have also visited the College Republicans. Senate candidate Rep. Bruce Braley, D-Iowa, Sen. Jack Hatch, D-Des Moines, and Loebsack have kept in touch with the UI Democrats.

Miller-Meeks devoted much of her discussion to the Affordable Care Act and how she believes it affects college students. She gave examples of people she spoke to who had health-care costs raised or lost plans.

“The UDems support the president’s agenda, so we support the (the health-care law) and are tired of Republicans fighting a losing battle over what is the law of the land in addition to bringing their own issues to the table.”

Miller-Meeks also gave time to the subject of gener- al politics. Iowa has never sent a women to Congress. The congressional candidate said she hopes the first will not be a Democrat.

Bell said she would like to “break the gender glass ceiling in Iowa politics” with a Democrat.

“However, I do not consider this to be a competition with Republican women,” Bell wrote. “If Republicans think this is a battle to ‘take’ the first congressional seat held by a woman, then they should start by supporting a pro-woman platform, instead of promoting a slate of anti-reproductive rights, repeal of the [health-care law], and cuts to education.”
The Constitution only gives people the right to pursue happiness. You have to catch it yourself.

— Ben Franklin

The daily iowan | Dailyiowan.com | Wednesday, April 23, 2014
Men's tennis seeks the elusive doubles point

The Iowa men's tennis team has fallen a few times this season.

By JORDAN BUCHER

Men's tennis seeks the elusive doubles point

The 2014 Iowa men’s tennis team was dealt the same card as last season, graduating only one senior from its 2012-13 roster and gaining just one newcomer. There's only so much that can be done with a hand of aces and against teams that easily have kings and aces. The future didn’t look so bright for the Hawkeyes — and it wasn’t.

But in their defense, the Hawkeyes are a better team than what the final scores indicate, and only one of Iowa's four losses to nationally ranked opponents could justify that claim.

At a glance, Iowa’s schedule is commensurate with a strand of Lo that appears on the right-hand side. As head coach Dave Houghton said, the team is wake-better in matches that matter. Seven wins have become losses to the Diamondbacks on Tuesday, a 9-2 victory over the Arizona Wildcats clinched the Hawkeyes' 9-7, to win the decisive doubles point.

In the span of just over a week, the Hawkeyes ultimately failed to clinch a decisive doubles match in doubles play against Indians, were swept by Northwestern three days later in tight matches, and lost two of the games.

On April 13 in a match the Hawkeyes could have put as easily as was a win if it weren’t for — you guessed it — the double point.

Once again, the No. 3 duo of Chase Tomlinson and Joey White found themselves in a decisive 7-point tiebreaker, which teams must win by 2. The duo was just one point away from claiming the match at 8-7, but the end result wasn’t there, just as it wasn’t against the Hoosiers and Buckeyes, and the Wildcats clinched the tiebreaker, 9-7, to win the match and claim the doubles point.

It’s been a close but no cigar type of season for the Hawkeyes this spring, but Iowa will have one more chance to make its own luck with the Big Ten Tournament taking place this week. One thing is certain, though — the Black and Gold will have to play its cards wisely if they hope to pull off an upset and change the expectations for the program when next season rolls around.

Men’s tennis seeks the elusive doubles point

The Hawkeyes fell into their old ways, stumbling down the stretch to a 9-14 conference play, earning all nine of their losses to nationally ranked opponents.

The main issue for the Hawkeyes this season in conference play has been their inability to come through in the decisive doubles point. In the span of just over a week, the Hawkeyes ultimately failed to clinch a decisive doubles match in doubles play against Indians, were swept by Northwestern three days later in tight matches, and lost two of the games.

On April 13 in a match the Hawkeyes could have put as easily as was a win if it weren’t for — you guessed it — the double point.

Once again, the No. 3 duo of Chase Tomlinson and Joey White found themselves in a decisive 7-point tiebreaker, which teams must win by 2. The duo was just one point away from claiming the match at 8-7, but the end result wasn’t there, just as it wasn’t against the Hoosiers and Buckeyes, and the Wildcats clinched the tiebreaker, 9-7, to win the match and claim the doubles point.

It’s been a close but no cigar type of season for the Hawkeyes this spring, but Iowa will have one more chance to make its own luck with the Big Ten Tournament taking place this week. One thing is certain, though — the Black and Gold will have to play its cards wisely if they hope to pull off an upset and change the expectations for the program when next season rolls around.

The future didn't look so bright, though — the Black and Gold will have to play its cards wisely if they hope to pull off an upset and change the expectations for the program when next season rolls around.

Cubs hammer D-Backs

By JOHN JACKSON

The Chicago Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.

The Cubs broke through in the third inning, scoring a home run to lead the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-0. The Cubs went on to win the game 9-2.

Brandon McCarthy (0-4) allowed just 1 run and 4 hits in seven innings to lower his ERA to 2.60. He allowed 5 runs — 1 earned — and 7 hits in 6 innings. Arizona dropped its fourth straight and has the worst record in the major leagues at 5-18.
season, having most recently dropped a 9-4 extra-innings heartbreakary to Western Illinois on April 18.

The big thing with those minor league games is the energy level and the effort," he said. "We've had a lot of guys who have battled for us. "Ev-even though they didn't play much, they have battled for us."

Erstad said. "Along with the toughness, that mentality is crucial during your next game, and it will be tough to win.

"They play hard every day, and if we win, I believe the fact that we've seen so many good teams so far benefits us."
MEDICAL

Program Director, Bariatrics - Mercy Iowa City

Mercy Hospital is seeking a Program Director to lead its Bariatrics program. The ideal candidate should be responsible and accountable for over-seeing the operations of the Bariatric program. Responsibilities include developing clinical and programmatic goals and objectives, planning and implementing strategies to achieve those goals, and monitoring and evaluating the impact of those strategies. The candidate should have strong leadership and management skills. Experience managing a large medical practice is essential. This position requires a minimum of 5 years of Bariatric Program experience. The candidate should continue to attend ongoing educational experiences to maintain their knowledge of the latest trends, products and services in the field.

To apply, please visit Mercy Iowa City’s career page at www.mercyic.org.

HELP WANTED

DOMESTIC

Housekeeper - Full-time, overnight shift

An established law firm in downtown Des Moines is looking for an energetic, detail-oriented individual to join our housekeeping staff. The ideal candidate will be the type of person who enjoys having a clean, positive working environment and is able to work independently, as well as part of a team. Hours are 4pm - 9pm, Monday through Friday. Experience required.

Must apply online at www.terraceat742.com

EDUCATION

My Health is a program designed by the Iowa City Community School District District to help students track their health and wellness goals. My Health connects students and their families to activities and organizations in the community that promote healthy habits.

www.myhealthic.org

LOCAL HOSPITALS

SouthEast Iowa Regional Medical Center open house.

You are invited to a Health and Wellness Expo on Wednesday, April 23rd from 5-7 pm in the lobby of SouthEast Iowa Regional Medical Center in Burlington. Join us as we celebrate the center’s 10th anniversary! Browse information and activities from local health care providers. Hors d’oeuvres and refreshments will be served. Free.

Admission is free, but space is limited. Please call (319) 752-3614 for more information or to RSVP.

APARTMENT FOR RENT

1 Bedroom apartment in downtown Iowa City-

This 1 bedroom, 1 bathroom apartment is located downtown in the heart of Iowa City. The apartment includes a washer/dryer, a refrigerator, a stove, a water closet and a bathroom sink. The apartment is available now.

Contact 319-357-9850 for more information.

1 Bedroom apartment in Coralville-

This 1 bedroom apartment is located in Coralville. The apartment includes a washer/dryer, a refrigerator, a stove, a water closet and a bathroom sink.

Contact 319-357-9850 for more information.

Fall River Heritage Property Management (319) 357-1010 or www.360i.com

APARTMENT FOR RENT

900 Orange St., West Branch - $390

Spacious 2 bedroom, 1 bath apartment located in a quiet neighborhood. Includes an enclosed front porch, central air condi- tioning, and deck. The rent includes water, sewer, and basic cable. The apartment is available immediately. Contact 319-275-7632 for more information.

For a full list of Iowa City and Coralville’s Best Apartment Values, click here:

www.barkerapartments.com

CLASSIFIED READERS When answering any ad that begins with or any ad that requires payment, please check them out before responding.

DO NOT SEND CASH, CHECK, MONEY ORDER OR CREDIT CARD NUMBER until you know what you will receive in return. It is impossible for us to investigate every ad that requires cash.
No night games for Iowa

For the second straight season, the Hawkeyes will not play a night game under the lights of Kinnick Stadium.

While missing out on CBS Sports’ prime-time selections for the Big Ten last year, the Big Ten Network announced Tuesday that the Nebraska and Ohio State games will get the prime-time slots and highlight as the best contests on the network’s prime-time schedule for the fall.

The Big Ten teams played five prime-time games last season, when the Hawkeyes hosted Penn State, 38-14, in what was the first of four straight losses to end the 2012 season.

— By Joshua Dukelow

Fedorovicz meets with San Francisco

Iowa’s best tight end this season reports on a new career, former Iowa tight end C.J. Fiedorowicz visited the San Francisco 49ers as recently as Monday.

The 6-5, 250-pound Fiedorowicz has been working out in San Francisco, and New York Giants facilities too, as work starts now toward the draft in April.

If selected, Fiedorowicz will be the fourth Iowa player to play for the 49ers. (The Daily Iowan/Tessa Hursh)

Huff visits, to add to announcement

Former Nemanja power forward Cole Huff will visit on May 2, and Iowa will host on May 5.

Iowa forward Kyle Meyer, who played for an uptempo Team Thoff in high school, will visit on May 3.

Former Iowa forward Adam Woodbury, a member of the program’s “3-2 crew,” will visit with the team.

Huff scored 24 points for Iowa this season.

— By Joshua Dukelow

Getting with S.L.I.M.E.

‘Whatever you’re doing, you can do it at a high level and be successful.’

By JAYON SODERER

jaysoderer indexed

Melosh Basabe didn’t give Hawkeyes head coach Fran McCaffery much of an option. The 6-7, 230-pound senior grabbed the reins he had followed more than 1,000 miles to Iowa City, pulled him onto the court where his teammates were celebrating and lifted a black helmet from behind McCaffery, red in the face and laughing, jumped and turned around.

“Melosh is a great kid, he played for us last year and will be a junior next season and be back,” McCaffery said of Basabe’s double-double led the Hawkeyes to an 84-74 win, a brand new Hawkeye.

One hundred forty-four career blocks and 1,132 points — that’s the legacy that senior forward Melosh Basabe made during his two years in Iowa City. Basabe is the third player to return for the 2014-15 season. Huff would still have a problem at point guard.

“Whatever you do, you can do it at a high level and be successful,” Basabe said.

Iowa forward Melosh Basabe during an interview on the Practice Court at Iowa City. Basabe says the second S.L.I.M.E. acronym is “making an impact in the Big Ten as well.” (The Daily Iowan/Francis Hincks)

Melosh Basabe is determined to make a difference after his time in Iowa City.

“I became aware of how many people supported me, and I really appreciated that,” Basabe said. “I want to be for now, but all of us are maintaining excellence. Basabe has plans to expand his brand and merchandise.

“Whatever endeavor I take part in, I want S.L.I.M.E. to be it, that’s my brand. That’s what I represent.”

— Melosh Basabe

Hawks next stop: limelight

At home in the minors

By YOHAN KANSE

There is no special publicity when Cedar Rapids Kernels’ Chad Christensen comes to bat for his home team. Nothing special from the PA announcer or any sort of music that would let the half-capacity crowd of around 1,300 know that the guy at the plate is one of the finest prospects in baseball.

He is just another minor league baseball player focused on trying to take that next step up in the ladder to the majors.

“I just think it’s a great way for student-athletes to take advantage of the benefits they work so hard for through their own brand,” Basabe said.

The neon shirt is the first, and currently the only shirt Basabe is selling.

“I know of a time when that game was, and you put them in the woods and they turn into another shirt that you didn’t even buy, two sizes too small, shrinks in length, tripled in width,” Basabe said.

Melosh Basabe

The Hawks baseball team head to Omaha to take on Creighton.

By RIYAN ROGELIO

The Iowa baseball team will get a taste of the spotlight this season when it travels to Omaha to take on Creighton.

Not only will the game be televised live on the CBS Sports Network, it will also be played in TD Ameritrade Park for the College World Series.

The Black and Gold are 3-2 in midweek games this season.

Winner takes Iowa/Iowa State on Friday at 6:30 p.m. which stands for successful life involves maintaining excellence.

“I became aware of how many people supported me, and I really appreciated that,” Basabe said. “I want to be for now, but all of us are maintaining excellence. Basabe has plans to expand his brand and merchandise.

“Whatever endeavor I take part in, I want S.L.I.M.E. to be it, that’s my brand. That’s what I represent.”

— Melosh Basabe

Hawks next stop: limelight

Iowa at Creighton

When: Today
Location: Omaha
Time: 6 p.m.

Iowa will take on Omaha in the first game of the series against Creighton and looks to ride its 7-1 midweek win streak into the tourney.

“I just think it’s a great way for student-athletes to take advantage of the benefits they work so hard for through their own brand,” Basabe said.

The neon shirt is the first, and currently the only shirt Basabe is selling.

“I know of a time when that game was, and you put them in the woods and they turn into another shirt that you didn’t even buy, two sizes too small, shrinks in length, tripled in width,” Basabe said.