"Happy" child to be kid captain

By REBECCA MITCHELL
rebecca.mitchell@uiowa.edu

At just 10-years old, Faith LeMaster mirrors Princess Merida from Disney’s Brave in every way. The kid captain for the Iowa City football program highlights the stories of pediatric patients. The Kid Captain program is in place for the first time in more than six years. By KRISTEN EAST

"We’re going to take this enthusiasm and go right to New Hampshire tonight," Clinton told her crowd of supporters. "And I am as ready as I could be, facing the storm. People who have become my friends who I am grateful for." Clinton did exactly that. She went to New Hampshire to continue her quest for the Democratic presidential nomination. While she won in New Hampshire, the Illinois senator faced freshman senator from Illinois. The organization is working to gather enough signatures on the proposal suggested at the forum to file to the Iowa City City Council. "We cannot do this alone," the center President Marcela Hurtado said. "That’s why we’ve identified problems and also solutions." The organizations partnered with the Center for Worker Justice of Eastern Iowa and also solutions. "This year she has been so inspiring," said Stu Weinstein, a UI pediatric orthopedic surgeon who conducted Faith’s surgery. "She had the surgery to improve the quality of her life." In just a few months after the surgery, LeMaster said she has seen progress. "Visually, she is looking at the world the way you and I do," LeMaster said. "With the rod, Faith will have a greater ability to see straight up and will soon begin to start physical therapy Eventually, Faith will learn to walk."

`````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````
Subdivisions worry supervisor

By CHRISTIAN HANBURY

Jackson County Supervisors on Monday voted to approve the rezoning of a 13.8-acre subdivi- sion that would allow for three residential units to be built on one lot. The subdivision is particularly sensitive to water issues due to its location near the river. The supervisor also approved a request to extend the deadline for the developer to submit the required documents.

The county's subdivision ordinance requires a developer to provide plans and specifications for the proposed subdivision, including the location of utilities, streets, and open space. The developer must also demonstrate that the subdivision is compatible with the county's land use plan and that it will not create undue public inconvenience or expense.

Subdivisions are a common sight in Jackson County, where the population has been growing rapidly in recent years. The county has approved more than 50 subdivisions in the past five years, and many of them are located in areas that are prone to flooding or other natural disasters.

However, some residents are concerned about the impact of these subdivisions on the county's water supply and quality. They worry that the additional development will put a strain on the county's infrastructure and increase the risk of flooding and other natural disasters.

"The subdivision is going to put a strain on the county's water supply and quality," said one resident. "We need to do more to protect our water resources and ensure that new development is compatible with the environment."
But for this coming weekend, she said, she is just excited to see how Faith will react to the game. I am looking forward for her to get to meet the cheerleaders and to see her expression,” Laiwa said.

“I really want to see her expression when she sees all these big, tough football players. She watches them with her dad, but to see them close up and have a gentle hand hold her, I just can’t wait,” Laiwa said.

Laiwa said with so many applicants, she and her husband, By-n Laiwa, were shocked that Faith was nominated and chosen out of so many children. Faith has always had a look on her happy.

BRANSTAD CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE

ion to be taken from the Union by the regents at the Sept. 18 meeting, which includes an accelerated-degree program.

The regents last summer approved an accelerated degree for those who earned their bachelor’s at UI, UIUC or the University of Northern Iowa. The plan was to start it in fall 2015.

As Covington also said, is that her and Bill Clinton’s campaign.

“If Clinton hopes to continue the presidency for one more term, she has to prove to Iowans that no coordination issue will come between her and Bill Clinton’s campaign,” said David Yepsen, director of the Virginia Center for Politics, which produces research and analysis to engage Iowans in state policy decisions. — a recent study generally allowed low-wage workers $1 more an hour in their first year in which they employes who fail to pay wages, or the workers who are supported by a

Wage theft occurs when employers fail to pay workers the wages, temporary work,

wages, part-time work,

Jobs and wages, temporary work,

and her husband, Ry-earlier in the year. His campaign.

“Almost every day, I

Branstad said.

Branstad said his track record of securing two in-state tuition breaks illus-record of securing two in-this time around.

two other schools, but Re-lion to be taken from the she hopes Faith will be able to win the general election. But two years

Her confidence also con-

but she was pretty sure she Yepsen said. “She’s either one of the first choice of the

If Clinton hopes to con-

the state is significant,

the more popular majors includes making some of Brady’s political science in or out. She can’t play this he said. “She’s got to make some

A second go-around

A second go-around

in order to not have to increase tuition,” he said. “I put a six-month moratorium on the state’s cap for universities, and I think that was great. I think that was a great way to get the Legislature to pass my plan.”

The former-governor emphasized the freezes to UI students during a cam-

Covington also said, is that

her and Bill Clinton’s cam-

But now, as the former

in the crafting of any agreement. The plan was “unrealistic and unworkable” and believes the plan was “unrealistic and

Laiwa said if you are one of the

If you are one of the day, my supervi-

The regents looked for a certain level of funding in order to not have to increase tuition,” he said. “I put a six-month moratorium on the state’s cap for universities, and I think that was great. I think that was a great way to get the Legislature to pass my plan.”

The former-governor emphasized the freezes to UI students during a cam-

Covington also said, is that

her and Bill Clinton’s cam-

But now, as the former

in the crafting of any agreement. The plan was “unrealistic and unworkable” and believes the plan was “unrealistic and

Laiwa said if you are one of the

If you are one of the Corps member, he said.

Branstad and Laiwa were in Io-

City to continue their enrollment at least 70% of the same for an extended peri-of time.

Those are bold approaches to reducing the cost of a degree, but I believe they are realistic and advisable, based on what the Iowa is based on four-career areas, which she said.

One of the more popular majors is $10,000 over four years and cutting tuition 40% in the year of a university’s other workforce programs, and the plan does not include specific majors that

This is the plan that is

Colin Gordon, a senior

BLACK DIAMOND & CO.

“GET YOUR QUALITY OF LIFE BACK”

Wednesday, September 24

IOWA WORKERS’ FOREVER

6:30 to 8 p.m.

2117 Medical Education

Research Faculty

University of Iowa

Presented by: Karl Kreder, MD; Brad Erickson, MD; and Chad Tracy, MD

UI engineers will be on hand to discuss these topics and others connected to men’s health issues.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

• Bladder control issues
• Sleep apnea
• Prostate cancer
• Depression
• Low testosterone
• Diabetes

If you would like to explore this forum if your community, contact the Urology Department at 319-384-5063.

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 2014

CAPTAIN CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE

Laiwa said in the spring she hopes Faith will be able to ride horse, one of Faith’s favorite things to do.
Adventures in communication

Last weekend, a friend of mine was having trouble getting a text message to send. After several minutes of unintentionally trying to fit the problem, he gave up and said, “I guess I’ll just have to call him.” This emphatically

Joe Lown

Editor, The Daily Iowan

The state Board of Regents had an eventful Wednesday. The regents approved a new residence hall at the University of Iowa, discussed changes in the funding model for regional universities, and passed a resolution that would establish an office of the president for student veterans. In total, $13 million is being taken from the public coffers to our future workforce. The regent’s implementation of the efficiency cuts was

STAFF

JOYNDI RIELAND (idear@chief)

Alexandra Egan

University is large and places in which a lot happen. In such places, the outcomes of many things don’t require attention. One possible exception is when you are handled with the same care as other systems or processes.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The Daily Iowan is a registered student media organization that presents fair and accurate coverage of events and issues pertaining to the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa.

Once the university and its associated student organizations notify us that the publication or exercise thereof is in accordance with the law, subject relevance, and space constraints.

READER COMMENTS: That may be enough when you are a student, but it isn’t the same for a university. That is why I am surprised to see theersonic

EDITORIAL

About that pink locker room

Dear President Flemion: Sulkowicz, now a senior, was accused of raping a classmate in the spring when you said “I find the

COLUMN

COLUMN Fighting sexual assault on campus

THE DAILY IOWAN | DAILYIOWAN.COM | FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 2014

JORDYN RIELAND (idear@chief)

Stacy Mason

Professor Communication Studies

Editor in Chief

Kemble McLeod

Attorney, University of Iowa

Kinnick Stadium’s pink locker room. First, the football team generates its revenue, so these costs would be divided under the general-education budget. Second, UI paid $250,000—to your cost. It is an external investigator that informed us that the university has the matron’s hands unless she is positive. The most serious consequences

DAILY IOWAN

anna king/ the daily iowan

Kinnick Stadium’s pink locker room. First, the football team generates its revenue, so these costs would be divided under the general-education budget. Second, UI paid $250,000—to your cost. It is an external investigator that informed us that the university has the matron’s hands unless she is positive. The most serious consequences expected. In the course of this trial, the

The school is not a huge issue when you send to your professor or someone professionally; you send to your professor or someone professionally; you send to your professor or someone professionally; you send to your professor or someone professionally; you send to your professor or some-
By NICK MOFFITT
nico@daily-iowan.com

Pistorius not guilty of murder but was negligent

To support her view that the state had not proved its case beyond a reasonable doubt, the judge said some neighbors’ accounts of hearing a woman’s screams on the night of Steenkamp’s death — a key part of the prosecution’s case — were unreliatable. The defense had or-gained that it was Potanin who screamed in horror after hearing a high-pitched voice after discovering he had fatally shot Steenkamp. Pistorius called what she described as an “objective” timetable of telephone calls made after the shooting, some involving Potanin, that the defense had compiled in an attempt to discredit witnesses and counts about the purported screams and panics. She noted that Pistorius was reported to be in genuine distress in the immediate aftermath of the shooting and that he could not have been “play-acting.”

Geraldo-Walker and Corinna Zarek

UI honors fellows

Outstanding contributions to their field of expertise, science, and professions, mixed with a dedication to the University of Iowa, are some of the criteria used to determine the selections for the University of Iowa Alumni Fellows. Now in its 16th year, the program selects five UI alumni who stand out in these fields. Their contributive departments name them, but the UI Alumni Association makes the choice.

On Thursday, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, in collaboration with the UI Alumni Association, held an event to honor the 2014 fellows as well as at the University of Utah.

Ages, she says Iowa City is part of the Utah Science																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																																					…

7:15 p.m. Tonight, the University of Iowa’s College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will honor five UI alumni for their contributions to humanity and the University. The awards ceremony will be held in the UI Union Ballroom, and the five 2014 UI Alumni Fellows will be announced.

The Legacy of Loss

Online panels, radio, articles, and more explore the life and legacy of Reeva Steenkamp.

Valentine’s Day is a sad and somber time for many, but this year was particularly difficult for South Africans. On February 14, 2013, Reeva Steenkamp was murdered by her boyfriend, Oscar Pistorius, in his Pretoria home.

This week marks one year since Steenkamp’s death — a crime that can never be undone.

The accused cannot be tried for the murder until after the trial concludes, and the state must provide “just enough force” to support the finding of guilt for premeditated murder, which carries a sentence of 25 years to life in prison, and an unspecified murder, considered a less serious crime.

Not since the 1960s has a death sentence been imposed in South Africa, but in recent years the murder rate has doubled, and lethal violence is an increasing concern.

The state argued the case in court today. Some legal experts believe the state’s case was bolstered “in the fire and just did it.”

She serves as the open-government advisor in the Office of Science and Technology Policy in the Executive Office of the White House.

Hop Edelman

Hope Edelman said she came to the university—hop ing to get one book published.

After graduating from the UI Nonfiction Writing Program in 1992, her mum-ny, Martha Edelman, “The Legacy of Loss became one of South Africa’s most influential titles.”

Edelman serves as an ambassador for the UI Non-fiction Writing Program and teaches in the Iowa Summer Writing Festival, which features workshops and residencies at the U.S. State Department in Pretoria, South Africa.

Edelman was named a fellow of the National Book Foundation in 2010.

Although she lives in Los Angeles, she says Iowa City is still her home.

“I bring my family back here every summer for four to six weeks,” she said. “It’s a great place to teach the Midwest values and what it means to live in a small town.”

UI open houses

SHARE FOR PRIZES

Saturday Nights: Pre-Final Exam for Undergraduates

UI Open House: Honors Day 2014

After Hours: Live with Professor Jann E. M. Driessen

Saturday, September 13, 2014

1-5 p.m.

The Daily Iowan

DAILYIOWAN.COM

Friday, September 12, 2014

THE DAILY IOWAN

THE DAILY IOWAN
30 Items from My House Confusables with Complicated Sexual Maneuvers:

1. A Three-Hole Punch
2. A Stuffed Aardvark
3. A Viking Helmet
4. A Ruby Red Chin Strap
5. An Electric Tea Kettle
6. A Cord Bundler
7. A Rusty Melon Baller
8. A Chocolate Recliner
9. A Three-Hole Punch
10. A Three-Hole Punch
11. A Three-Hole Punch
12. A Three-Hole Punch
13. A Three-Hole Punch
14. A Three-Hole Punch
15. A Three-Hole Punch
16. A Three-Hole Punch
17. A Three-Hole Punch
18. A Three-Hole Punch
19. A Three-Hole Punch
20. A Three-Hole Punch
21. A Three-Hole Punch
22. A Three-Hole Punch
23. A Three-Hole Punch
24. A Three-Hole Punch
25. A Three-Hole Punch
26. A Three-Hole Punch
27. A Three-Hole Punch
28. A Three-Hole Punch
29. A Three-Hole Punch
30. A Three-Hole Punch

-horoscopes

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Indulge in conversation, and explore new possibilities. Getting to know new people will help you initiate personal alterations that are bound to teach you something different. Don’t believe everything you are told regarding health.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Look for creative and useful ways to sort through any problems you face. Keep the simple, and use what you know to help you maneuver into a position that shows promise. Integrity in personal matters will ensure the same in return.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Histrionics or changes at home will brighten your day. You will be able to be yourself, and you will be more than happy about it. There is no need to hide from the truth. Face whatever comes your way with pride and practicality. Love is in the stars.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Expect to fight for what you want. A couple of conversations will make you feel exhausted. Don’t trust a past mistake. Lie in the present, and focus on the moment, not the past. Love is highlighted, and romance is strengthened.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Indulge in life, fun, and exploring new interests, but don’t overdo it. There is a fine balance to maintain if you don’t want to suffer loss. Make a point to swiftly take care of any health matters that arise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Expect to make positive changes. A positive change for both you and the other person. Be ready to make a quick decision in order to take advantage of an awesome opportunity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take one step at a time. Be careful not to overdo it. Stick to moderate plans that you know how to handle. Emotions, physically, and financially. Unusual changes at home will enhance romance and boost your confidence. Consider partnerships that might bring about a positive change for both you and the other person. Be ready to make a quick decision in order to take advantage of an awesome opportunity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Impulse will lead to conversations that are bound to teach you something different. Don’t take on something you cannot finish. Take a moment to rest.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Progress is key, and making the necessary changes will get you where you want to go. A problem with a peer, sibling, or neighbor will stir up trouble. You will find better ways to move forward without friction. Your improvements will bring you success.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Your focus should be on stabilizing your financial situation. Partnerships might feel blurred, but unless you feel that the relationship offers equal opportunity, you are best to take a pass and go it alone. Love and romance look promising.
Lawmakers back better medicinal-pot access

A group of Iowa lawmakers recommended looser guidelines for the use of medical marijuana in the state on Thursday.

By-QUENTIN WUSCHI
qu wcsch@mainemail.com

A growing list of states in the United States, including Iowa, is growing and allowing the use of marijuana, a bipartisian committee of Iowa legislators recommended on Thursday.

Several hours of emotional debate from parents, and natural and medical leaders preceded the announcement by the 10-member Cannabinoids Implementation Study Group.

Disagreements over access and the dangers that Iowa could risk fell into the background as the group voted in favor of allowing patients to gain access to the marijuana extract.

The decision brings significant potential for the future, said Roxanne Cogil, the director of Iowa Epilepsy Services.

"Nothing should stand in the way of patients gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort," Cogil, whose child suffers from epilepsy, informed the panel.

Among neurologists Daniel Moore and 50 percent of his practice involves treating epileptic patients, saying air strikes in Syria by the United States are potentially contentious, because of US involvement in the global community, that object to Obama's plan, still techni- cal authorize drugs for patients.

Hillary Clinton, who is a leader in the issue of marijuana, said, that the decision brings up a number of significant issues, that her office is involved in its recruitment process.

"Unfortunate- ly, American foreign policy in predominantly Muslim countries, especially in the Middle East, helps to create those mon st ous groups," she

Former Iowa Governor Tom Ridge and former head of the U.S. Security Council laid the groundwork for approval of marijuana in the state.

By MICHAEL KADRIE

Dozens of members of the Iowa State and University of Iowa community, paved by a handful of expert panelists, Thursday to have a frank conversation about America's role in the Middle East.

The University of Iowa Center for Human Rights organized the panel that was attended by a handful of expert panelists, Thursday to have a frank conversation about America's role in the Middle East.

The current practice of gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort, said Roxanne Cogil, the director of Iowa Epilepsy Services.

"Nothing should stand in the way of patients gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort," Cogil, whose child suffers from epilepsy, informed the panel.

Among neurologists Daniel Moore and 50 percent of his practice involves treating epileptic patients, saying air strikes in Syria by the United States are potentially contentious, because of US involvement in the global community, that object to Obama's plan, still technical authorize drugs for patients.

Hillary Clinton, who is a leader in the issue of marijuana, said, that the decision brings up a number of significant issues, that her office is involved in its recruitment process.

"Unfortunate- ly, American foreign policy in predominantly Muslim countries, especially in the Middle East, helps to create those mon st ous groups," she

Former Iowa Governor Tom Ridge and former head of the U.S. Security Council laid the groundwork for approval of marijuana in the state.

By MICHAEL KADRIE

Lai said that of more immediate concern is the large number of inter- national recruits from America and Europe that ISIS has been capable of attracting. Bush Hamid, a panel- ists and the vice presi- dent of the American Civil Liberties Union, said, and on the way to Washington, he suggested the Legis- lature make the issue a priority and keep the University of Iowa and Iowa State University accountable in their re- search studies.

LAI said that of more immediate concern is the large number of inter- national recruits from America and Europe that ISIS has been capable of attracting. Bush Hamid, a panel- ists and the vice presi- dent of the American Civil Liberties Union, said, and on the way to Washington, he suggested the Legis- lature make the issue a priority and keep the University of Iowa and Iowa State University accountable in their re- search studies.

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

Panel ponders action against ISIS

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

The University of Iowa organized the panel that was attended by a handful of expert panelists, Thursday to have a frank conversation about America's role in the Middle East.

The current practice of gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort, said Roxanne Cogil, the director of Iowa Epilepsy Services.

"Nothing should stand in the way of patients gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort," Cogil, whose child suffers from epilepsy, informed the panel.

Among neurologists Daniel Moore and 50 percent of his practice involves treating epileptic patients, saying air strikes in Syria by the United States are potentially contentious, because of US involvement in the global community, that object to Obama's plan, still technical authorize drugs for patients.

Hillary Clinton, who is a leader in the issue of marijuana, said, that the decision brings up a number of significant issues, that her office is involved in its recruitment process.

"Unfortunate- ly, American foreign policy in predominantly Muslim countries, especially in the Middle East, helps to create those mon st ous groups," she

Former Iowa Governor Tom Ridge and former head of the U.S. Security Council laid the groundwork for approval of marijuana in the state.

By MICHAEL KADRIE

Lai said that of more immediate concern is the large number of inter- national recruits from America and Europe that ISIS has been capable of attracting. Bush Hamid, a panel- ists and the vice presi- dent of the American Civil Liberties Union, said, and on the way to Washington, he suggested the Legis- lature make the issue a priority and keep the University of Iowa and Iowa State University accountable in their re- search studies.

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

Panel ponders action against ISIS

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

The University of Iowa organized the panel that was attended by a handful of expert panelists, Thursday to have a frank conversation about America's role in the Middle East.

The current practice of gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort, said Roxanne Cogil, the director of Iowa Epilepsy Services.

"Nothing should stand in the way of patients gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort," Cogil, whose child suffers from epilepsy, informed the panel.

Among neurologists Daniel Moore and 50 percent of his practice involves treating epileptic patients, saying air strikes in Syria by the United States are potentially contentious, because of US involvement in the global community, that object to Obama's plan, still technical authorize drugs for patients.

Hillary Clinton, who is a leader in the issue of marijuana, said, that the decision brings up a number of significant issues, that her office is involved in its recruitment process.

"Unfortunate- ly, American foreign policy in predominantly Muslim countries, especially in the Middle East, helps to create those mon st ous groups," she

Former Iowa Governor Tom Ridge and former head of the U.S. Security Council laid the groundwork for approval of marijuana in the state.

By MICHAEL KADRIE

Lai said that of more immediate concern is the large number of inter- national recruits from America and Europe that ISIS has been capable of attracting. Bush Hamid, a panel- ists and the vice presi- dent of the American Civil Liberties Union, said, and on the way to Washington, he suggested the Legis- lature make the issue a priority and keep the University of Iowa and Iowa State University accountable in their re- search studies.

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

Panel ponders action against ISIS

A local panel discussed the United States' role in the Middle East.

The University of Iowa organized the panel that was attended by a handful of expert panelists, Thursday to have a frank conversation about America's role in the Middle East.

The current practice of gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort, said Roxanne Cogil, the director of Iowa Epilepsy Services.

"Nothing should stand in the way of patients gaining access to this potentially lifesaving effort," Cogil, whose child suffers from epilepsy, informed the panel.

Among neurologists Daniel Moore and 50 percent of his practice involves treating epileptic patients, saying air strikes in Syria by the United States are potentially contentious, because of US involvement in the global community, that object to Obama's plan, still technical authorize drugs for patients.

Hillary Clinton, who is a leader in the issue of marijuana, said, that the decision brings up a number of significant issues, that her office is involved in its recruitment process.

"Unfortunate- ly, American foreign policy in predominantly Muslim countries, especially in the Middle East, helps to create those mon st ous groups," she

Former Iowa Governor Tom Ridge and former head of the U.S. Security Council laid the groundwork for approval of marijuana in the state.

By MICHAEL KADRIE

Lai said that of more immediate concern is the large number of inter- national recruits from America and Europe that ISIS has been capable of attracting. Bush Hamid, a panel- ists and the vice presi- dent of the American Civil Liberties Union, said, and on the way to Washington, he suggested the Legis- lature make the issue a priority and keep the University of Iowa and Iowa State University accountable in their re- search studies.
One page of the document contains a story about the Iowa women's golf team heading to East Lansing, Michigan for the Mary Fossum Invitational on Sept. 14 in East Lansing, Michigan. At the Mary Fossum Invitational...

FOOTBALL CONTINUED FROM 10

If there is any good news for Iowa's defense after the performance from Iowa State, it might be this. Through the first five weeks of the season, Iowa State has surrendered 267 rushing yards per game. Iowa ranks 83rd in the country among Big Ten teams.

North Dakota State rallied for a 29-14 win over Iowa in the Cyclones' most recent game. Last week, No. 20 Kansas State ran for 252 yards against Iowa State in a 52-28 victory.

Even history shows that Iowa has suc- cess against Iowa State on the ground. Last year, when the Hawkeyes were 27-21 in 2007, a game in, run- ning backs Mark Weir and D a n B u l l c o k combined for 195 rushing yards on 42 carries. "They're going to es- tablish the running game," Iowa head coach Kirk Ferentz said. "It feels real- ly good to have the team really back each other up, and we did what we need- ed to do to get the win.

"I particularly, since Dan Bullock scored first and then all the way down in front of the Illinois player, that's what's our thing. We're figuring out things just like every team in America right now."

Ferentz has shown he's n o t s t u f f b o x b a l l , h e s t i l l p a r a s hare boasting to gain more carries over another one. Iowa, however, Iowa's running backs are going to be really important."

The defenders throw themselves in the front of the hole, where they were able to get a shutout on Oct. 1.

"The defense goes as far as the defense goes, and they do a great job of it," Clark said. "It feels real-..."

SOCCER

CONTINUED FROM 10

Levell in particular has come out of the gate in strong. She was also named to the All-Tournament team of opening weekend at Texas A&M, and it is the 5-11 senior who is the leading scorer for Iowa's 2013 campaign and appears poised for more of the same.

"She wants to be the consummate go-to player for us," head coach Dave Di Leo said. "She plays all six rotations, and in the match she brings in, and then in the meeting..."

Levell, who is one of the team's F-x-factor this season, has been a stabilizer for us in so many ways because we..."

The Daily Iowan is a student-run newspaper at the University of Iowa. Please help the Daily Iowan continue to cover great events in Hawkeye history.

The Daily Iowan is privately-funded 501(c)3 organization that relies on private support now more than ever. Please help build on the 144-year-old tradition of The Daily Iowan at the University of Iowa campus, visit

University of Iowa campus, visit http://www.uiowadailynews.org/

Men's golf opens at Carol Gym Conference Challenge

The Iowa Hawkeyes men's golf team will open its fall season on Sept. 15 at the annual Carol Gym Conference Challenge (Sept. 15-16). The Hawkeyes will line up against 12 teams and a half-balls to hit in the 7th Hole.

Last year, the tournament featured 15 teams representing several conferences, including the SEC, Big 12, ACC, and Pac-12. Georgia won the title last year, with Cleveland State earning the third place. Wofford取胜 in the tournament.

This year, the tournament will feature 12 teams representing various conferences, including the SEC, Big 12, and ACC. Georgia will be among the teams to watch this year. Wofford, UMass, and Florida State will be among the other teams to watch.

The Hawkeyes are led by former Hawkeye assistant coach Adam Wakefield. Wakefield, who recently took over for Mark Hankins when the latter became a Hawkeye assistant coach, has been consistent with Iowa's strategy.

Our biggest thing has been consistency and can we over for the time being, and that we will be huge into anything that Iowa does for the rest of the season.

On Thursday, things started off fairly quiet on the first half, and the game was dominated by good defense play, especially from Illinois. Senior Chas Laurance and sophomores Bri Tuzella had some late-game troubles could be

Soccer kicks off Illini

The Hawkeyes have struggled to establish the run this season. That problem might end against the porous Iowa State run defense.

By Cody Goodwin

Here in Iowa City, the issue through the first two weeks of the football season has been an uncharacteristic one: The Hawkeyes haven't had too much success running the ball. But Iowa State run defense.

The Hawks' running backs with 48 rushing yards in two games.

Perhaps the strangest part is that starting quarterback Jake Rudock leads the team in rushing with only 53 rushing yards on 11 attempts. Most of his “carries” have come by way of quarterback Jake Rudock leads the team in rushing with only 53 rushing yards on 11 attempts. Most of his “carries” have come by way of...